SURVEY OF INDIA.

NOTIFICATION.

Calcutta, the 10th March 1909.

No 367.—An examination for admission to the Provincial Service of the Survey of India will commence on the 30th August next at Calcutta, Dehra Dun, Mussooree, Bangalore, Poona and Maymyo.

The number of vacancies offered for this year's examination will probably be four, of which one will probably be for native candidates.

Applications for rules (a copy of which is printed below) should be addressed to the Assistant Surveyor-General, in charge Surveyor-General's Office, 13, Wood Street, Calcutta.

No application to appear as a candidate for the examination will be entertained after the 30th June 1909.

Nominations will only be given to candidates most highly recommended by their Head Masters and supported by personal recommendations of well-known European and native gentlemen.

It is probable that this special departmental examination will not be held in future.

T. F. B. RENNY-TAILYOUR, BT.-COLONEL, R.E., for Surveyor-General of India.

SURVEY OF INDIA.

(Vide R. & A. Department No. 53—157-2, dated the 4th January 1901.)

MEMO. OF INSTRUCTIONS FOR APPLICANTS FOR THE PROVINCIAL SERVICE OF THE SURVEY OF INDIA.

1st.—Every candidate for the Survey of India must forward his application in writing to the Surveyor-General accompanied by such certificates as to age (Baptismal Certificate required in case of European and Eurasian Candidates), moral character, education, soundness of health, and good eyesight as will clearly establish his suitability for employment. The application must further be accompanied by specimens of Plan and Freehand drawing.* The candidate's name having been registered, he will be informed of the time and place of examination, when decided on. The examination papers will be issued from the Trigonometrical Branch Office in Dehra Dun.

2nd.—No application can be entertained from any individual whose age at the date of the completion of the examination will be under 18 or above 22 years, except in the case of Natives whose maximum age is fixed at 24 years. The Surveyor-General, however, has the power to extend the age limit to 30 years in the case of those candidates who are at the time in pensionable service in the subordinate grades of the Survey of India. No person who is married or is likely to be soon married will be admitted unless of pure Asiatic origin. Candidates, if of European parentage, must be Statutory Natives of India and have at least passed the High School Pass examination or First Arts examination at an Indian University having qualified in Algebra as one of the subjects, and if Natives the F.A. Pass examination.

3rd.—Candidates must be prepared to undergo the examination detailed below, which will give them entrance to the Training School at Dehra; no candidate will be considered to have qualified unless he gets 50 per cent. of the marks in Mathematics and 30 per cent. of the total marks in Drawing.

4th.—Examinations will be held in August as a rule. The most suitable of the candidates who qualify will be selected.

5th.—When under examination for the Department, the candidate must sign the Bond printed on the reverse of this paper.

6th.—The selected candidates will enter the Department as Probationary Sub-Assistant Superintendents, 3rd grade, on a salary of Rs. 120 per mensem, and they must pass out of the Training School within a maximum limit of two years. They will not be confirmed in their appointments until they have served at least one year in a field party and have been well reported on.

7th.—As Surveyors are liable to much exposure and to work in trying climates, the medical certificate should particularly specify that the candidate is of good physique, and is likely to stand hard work, such as riding and walking long distances. The medical certificate should be in the form as given overleaf signed by a Medical officer in Government employ not lower in rank than Lieutenant. During his course at the Training School should he prove to be, in the opinion of the Superintendent, Trignometrical Surveys, physically unfitted for the Department, that officer may demand a further certificate of fitness.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 3388.R.—The 2nd April 1909.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 2 of the Indian Salt Duties Act, 1908 (X of 1908), the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to make the following rules providing for the payment of duty on salt (manufactured in or imported into or transported within Bengal) within a period not exceeding six months from the date on which payment is due, and for the furnishing of security for such payment.

Rules.

1. The payment of duty on salt manufactured in or imported into or transported within Bengal may, subject to the following rules, be postponed for any period not exceeding six months from the date on which such payment is due.

2. Any person who desires such postponement must deposit adequate security for such payment, and must execute an agreement in the form appended to these rules.

3. Such security shall take the form of—

(a) Government promissory notes,

(b) Treasury loan acknowledgments,

(c) Treasury Bills,

(d) Calcutta Port Trust Bonds,

(e) Calcutta Municipal Bonds,

(f) Government Savings Bank Pass-books, or

(g) Post Office Savings Bank deposits of the kind referred to in clause 42 in rule 333 of the rules contained in the Indian Postal Guide of April 1908, which must be endorsed over to and deposited with the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, or a District Collector empowered by the Board of Revenue in this behalf.

4. (1) Whenever securities are so deposited, the Collector shall grant to the depositor a receipt therefor, showing the amount of duty and charges for which the depositor will receive credit in respect of such securities.

(2) The said amount shall be fixed according to the probable marketable value of the securities, after making such deduction as the Collector may think fit to meet the contingency of depreciation in such value during the currency of the credit.

5. The Collector shall open a credit account for the amount shown in the aforesaid receipt: Provided that no account shall be opened for a less sum than Rs. 500.

6. (1) A depositor may have more than one credit account opened in his name at the same time, upon depositing separate securities and executing a separate agreement in respect of each account.

(2) Any deficit arising upon any such account may be realized from securities deposited on any other such account.

7. (1) Where a credit account is opened by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, applications by the depositor for the clearance of salt must be made upon a Bill-of-Entry bearing the words "Credit Account" in red ink on its face, and the depositor must in all other respects conform to the Customs procedure for the time being in force in Calcutta.

(2) Where a credit account is opened by a District Collector, applications by the depositor for the clearance of salt must be made in the prescribed form, and the Collector shall then pass the necessary orders for the issue of the salt.

8. (1) All payments due upon credit accounts opened in Calcutta must be made to the Collector of Customs, Calcutta.

Provided that the Collector may permit any such payment to be made at any Treasury outside Calcutta.

(2) All payments due upon credit accounts opened in any district outside Calcutta must be made to the Collector of that district.

9. Any interest accruing on securities during the time they remain in the custody of the Collector shall be paid to the depositor on presentation of interest warrants.

10. (1) Each current account shall be adjusted at the expiration of a period of six months from the date on which the account is opened.

(2) Whenever an adjustment is made, the Collector shall either—

(a) allow the account to be continued and the balance thereof carried over, after requiring additional security to be deposited if necessary, or

(b) if he thinks fit, direct the account to be closed.

11. (1) If any depositor fails to pay upon demand, the balance found to be due by him to the Government upon the final adjustment of his account, he may be charged with interest on such balance from the date on which the credit expired, at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum, and the Collector may proceed to realize the amount due for principal and interest by the sale of the depositor's securities or any of them.

(2) Any surplus accruing on such sale shall be paid to the depositor, and any loss consequent on the securities not realizing the sum due from the depositor for principal and interest must be met by him.

(3) For the purpose of making good any such loss, the Collector may credit to the Government any interest that may have accrued on any of the securities.

12. When an account opened in respect of any securities has been settled, such securities shall be returned to the depositor, upon his presenting the receipt which the Collector granted therefor.

13. (1) A depositor may have an account closed at any time before the expiration of the period of six months referred to in rule 10, upon paying, amount shown to be due by him.

(2) When such payment is made the securities shall be returned to the depositor, upon his presenting the receipt which the Collector granted therefor.

FORM OF AGREEMENT.

An agreement made the day of one thousand nine hundred and between the Secretary of State for India in Council of the one part and of the other part. The said having fully endorsed and deposited with the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, (or the Collector of) for the time being the securities hereinafter mentioned, that is to say, for securing the payment by him, the said , his executors, administrators or personal representatives, to the said Secretary of State, his successors or assigns, of all money which may at any time or times become due or owing from the said , his executors, administrators or personal representatives, to the Government of Bengal, on account of all duties interest and other charges on salt removed from on credit under the rules regulating such credit (a copy whereof is hereunto annexed) or which shall at any time or times be at the debit of the said in his account or accounts current with the said Government in respect of such removals of salt on credit. It is hereby agreed between the said parties hereto, the said Secretary of State agreeing for himself his successors and assignees, and the said for himself, his executors, administrators and personal representatives, that the said securities so deposited as aforesaid shall be subject and liable to all the provisions of the said rules and to such sale and appropriation of proceeds as therein provided and that any interest which shall accrue due on the said securities while they remain in deposit with the said Collector shall be paid to the depositors, when due, on presentation of interest warrants, subject to the power of the Collector to retain such interest to meet any sum that may be due by the depositor on his credit account; and lastly that each of the said parties hereto shall adhere to the said rules and shall be bound thereby and by every stipulation and provision therein contained. In witness whereof Esquire, Collector of Customs, Calcutta, (or Collector of the district) has by order of the Government of Bengal set his hand and the seal of his office hereto for and on behalf of the said Secretary of State and the said has hereunto set his hand the day and year first above written.

The Yearly Examination of Candidates for fourth grade of Accountants.

The early Examination of candidates for fourth grade of Accountants, Public Works Department, will be held at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on Monday and Tuesday, the 7th and 8th June 1909, both days:—

SUBJECTS.

	Full marks.	Minimum pass marks.
Writing (neatness, clearness, and rapidity) ...	100	50
Dictation (spelling, punctuation, etc.) ...	100	50
Arithmetic (the whole)	240	160
Mensuration (a) (the whole)	60	30
Book-keeping (b), mercantile	100	50
Total ...	600	...

Minimum required in all papers collectively, 400.

(a) Todhunter's Mensuration for Beginners
(b) "Book-keeping" by Ball and Hamilton.
"Book-keeping," by double and single entry, by W. Inglis (Chambers's Educational Course).

1. The examination is held annually at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on the 1st Monday in June. The examination will be conducted, either at the College, or by an Examiner, Public Works Accounts (including Railway and Telegraph), in Bengal, Assam and Burma only. The examination will be ipso facto vitiated, if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed; but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements, in regard to the place and hour of examination, with the candidates.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination, even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship if he passes it; but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be eligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies, if such is pensionable by the British Government.

The candidate should apply to an Examiner of Public Works Accounts, not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination, and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs 10 and the following certificates, and must be forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Examiner.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but none will be returned:—

(1) Certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior, or by the instructor under whom he has been educated, or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed, or to whom he may be well known. (This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediately preceding the application.)

(2) Certificate of age (baptismal or of birth) not required, if the candidate is already in permanent Government employ.

(3) Certificate that the application is in the candidate's handwriting.

NOTE.—A candidate already in Government service should, in like manner, submit his application, through his immediate official superior, to an Examiner of Accounts qualified to hold the particular examination, and should state whether he desires to be examined at the office of the Examiner of Accounts concerned or at the College.

It will rest with the Examiner of Accounts, to whom the candidate submits his application, to decide, on a consideration of the certificates submitted, whether the candidate should be allowed to appear for the examination, or whether his application should be rejected. The Examiner of Accounts will then forward to the Principal for registration the names of the accepted candidates. The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses, and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the College or at the office of the Examiner of Accounts. This statement, together with the fees, should be transmitted to the Principal not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of applications of candidates.

3. Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion, must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh fee and certificates.

5. If from any cause a candidate fails to appear for the examination, the fee paid will not be refunded.

6. Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department, but direct to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

7. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments, preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

8. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the 4th grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

9. Candidates for the 4th grade Accountantship examination, who are not Government servants and over 25 years of age, are allowed to appear at the examination at the Sibpur College centre only, but, even if successful, they are debarred from employment in the service of Government, and their names will be excluded from the list of passed candidates which is furnished to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department.

10. Candidates over 25 years of age should apply in writing to the Principal of the Civil Engineering College not later than 30 days previous to the examination; the application to be accompanied by the fee of Rs. 10.

Uncovenanted Service Family Pension Fund.

NOTICE.

NOTICE is hereby given that, in pursuance of a requisition of twelve qualified subscribers to the U. S. F. P. Fund (resident in England), a special meeting of the subscribers to the Fund will be held in the Town Hall on Saturday, the 12th June 1909, at 3 P.M. to consider the advisability of referring again to the general body of subscribers the revision and amendment of the proviso added to Rule 54 by Circular No. 1 of the 10th April 1907.

Under the above proviso every subscriber's share of surplus at the commencement of each year was restricted to an amount not exceeding his registered annual subscription, any surplus in excess of this limit being held over for addition to the surplus to be distributed in the following year, instead of being available for refund to the subscriber concerned in cash or for enhancement of the pension assured.

The requisitionists propose that the above proviso be repealed in view to a reversion to the practice of treating excess surplus as available for refund in cash or for enhancement of the pension assured.

Subscribers who cannot attend the above meeting have the right to vote by proxy; the votes to be valid should be stamped with a one-anna stamp and registered in this office not later than the 9th June 1909.

THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS.

Published in FOUR SERIES, viz.

CALCUTTA MADRAS, BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court.

The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt; and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—the Officer in charge, Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, Calcutta, or

the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or the Superintendent, Government Central Press, Bombay, or the Curator of Government Books, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Allahabad.

AUSTRALIA, EAST COAST.

Wide bay bar—Alteration in channel; Directions for crossing.

No. 154 (first publication).—The Portmaster, Brisbane, has given notice (No. 2 of 1909) that when crossing the Wide Bay Bar the square beacons on Hook Point must now be kept in line bearing S 75° W. until the triangular beacons on Inskip come in line bearing S. 45½° W., which will give a minimum depth of 17 feet at L.W.O.S.T. (this line will lead 150 feet east of the red buoy, which will shortly be removed). A mid-channel course must then be steered until the front triangular beacon at Inskip Point is passed, then proceed as heretofore.

Mariners are cautioned that the North Channel, Wide Bay Bar, is in a dangerous condition, and the greatest care should be exercised when crossing during bad weather. Strangers to the locality are cautioned not to attempt the channel unless during fine weather and daylight.

No. 138 (third publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 301 of 1909), are republished:—

Subject.—A recent survey has ascertained the positions of certain reefs off the west coast of Sumatra to be as given below:—

(a) Reef situated between Sikarbau and Dua reefs:

Lat. 0° 6′ N., long. 99° 25′ E., on chart No. 2760.

Remarks.—This reef, consisting of 2 rocks with a least depth of 6 feet over them, is not marked by surf.

(b) Haai reefs:

Northern reef, lat. 0° 30′ S., long. 99° 46′ E., on chart No. 709.

Remarks.—These reefs are about half a cable and one cable in extent, respectively.

(c) Ingaris reef:

Amended position.—About three-quarters of a mile north-westward from position now shown on chart, as undermentioned—

Lat. 0° 29′ S., long. 99° 51½′ E., on chart No. 709.

Remarks.—This reef is about two-thirds of a cable in extent, and has a least depth of 1½ fathoms over it.

Caution.—Between the Haai reefs and the reef recently discovered in lat. 0° 28½′ S., long. 99° 31½′ E., several reefs exist, the positions of which will be published in a further Notice. "Foul ground" should be marked on the chart temporarily.

LIBERALITY OF BABU VIHARI LALA MITRA OF BAGBAZAR.

No. 793Medl., dated Calcutta, the 1st April 1909.

From—C. E. A. W. OLDHAM, Esq., Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Municipal Dept.,
To—The Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 239L.S.-G., dated the 24th March 1909, in which you report that Babu Vihari Lala Mitra of Bagbazar has placed at the disposal of Government the sum of Rs. 10,000 to be utilized either as a contribution towards Her Excellency Lady Minto's Indian Nursing Association, or towards any work of public utility as Government may think best.

2. In reply, I am to request that you will be so good as to convey to the donor an expression of the Lieutenant-Governor's warm acknowledgments for this further demonstration of his liberality and public spirit. His Honor desires that the money be made over to the Committee of the Bengal Branch of Her Excellency Lady Minto's Indian Nursing Association.

RESOLUTION ON THE SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT REPORTS FOR THE YEAR ENDNG THE 30TH SEPTEMBER 1908.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

RESOLUTION—No. 1874L R.

The Survey and Settlement Reports for the year ending the 30th September 1908, with the remarks of the Board of Revenue thereon.

The Survey and Settlement Reports for the year ending the 30th September 1908 have been prepared generally in accordance with the orders of Government, and are within the prescribed limit of pages. They have, however, been submitted to Government nearly two months late. This is due to delay in the submission of the Report of the Superintendent of Provincial Surveys, who has had to devote much time to the framing of a scheme for the organization of a separate Survey Department for Bengal, and to arrangements for the division of the Survey Office between this Province and that of Eastern Bengal and Assam. This scheme has recently received the sanction of the Secretary of State, and each Province will henceforth have a Survey Department of its own. Major R. T. Crichton, C.I.E., is now in charge of the Survey Department in this Province under the designation of Director of Surveys, Bengal, and Captain Hirst has been deputed to the Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam.

2. The main work of the Survey and Settlement Departments during the year was carried on by the Bihar and Chota Nagpur parties in the districts of Patna, Shahabad, Monghyr, Bhagalpur, Purnea, Ranchi, Manbhum and Singhbhum. In addition, the settlement of certain zamindari estates in the Sonthal Parganas, that of the Majnamutha and other estates in Midnapore, the resettlement of Angul, the revision settlement in Cuttack and Balasore, and the topographical survey of the Khulna Sundarbans were operations of considerable importance. For the most part, the year's programme was fully carried out by both Departments. The following comparative statement shows the amount of work done in the year under review and in the preceding year :—

		Square miles.	Square miles.
(1)	Survey Department—
	Traverse survey	6,309	5,107
	Topographical survey	1,591	1,313
(2)	Settlement Department—
	Cadastral survey	4,176	4,477
	Record-writing	5,249	5,491
	Attestation	4,497	5,194
	Final publication	5,145	4,981

In addition, 1,003 square miles of revisional cadastral survey were completed in Orissa. The decrease in traverse survey was due to the completion of the Sundarbans work. With 4,158 square miles completed during the year under report, the total area in respect of which a record-of-rights has now been prepared in Bengal, under the control of the Director of Land Records, amounts to over 44,000 square miles.

3. The cost-rates during the year for traverse survey in different major areas, as reported by the Superintendent of Provincial Surveys, are compared below :—

	Rs.	Rs.
Monghyr	35·9	40·8
Patna	34·2	41·0
Shahabad	...	37·3
Ranchi	37·3	34·3

The cost-rate in Manbhum was Rs. 41·6 per square mile.

The rates for 1907-08, so far as they relate to the Bihar districts, include the payment of grain compensation allowances on account of the high price of food-grains in those districts. The high rate of Manbhum is ascribed to the smallness of the area (638 square miles in pargana Barabhum) and its remoteness from the main work. The cost of cadastral survey and record-writing in Patna amounted to Rs. 204 per square mile, as against Rs. 165 in South Monghyr. The high rate in Patna was due to the smallness of the average field. Khewat writing was also found difficult owing to the minute and complex division of proprietary interests and to defects in the Collectorate Land Registration registers. The work of recording particulars about irrigation was also a heavy task. The Director of Land Records has observed that, as the cost-rate varies constantly according to the size of plots, the number of disputes and other contingencies, "it would be highly unsafe to adopt less than Rs. 180 as a normal basis for the cost of cadastral survey and khanapuri in Bihar settlement operations" In Ranchi, there was a large increase to Rs. 105·61 per square mile, from Rs. 86·24 and Rs. 89·52 in the two previous years. This has been ascribed to the increase in the percentage of the cultivated area and to the comparative smallness of the average field. The employment of Kanungos to help the Assistant Settlement Officers in inspecting cadastral survey and khanapuri was also responsible, to a certain extent, for the increase. The cost-rate in Dhalbhum fell to Rs. 105·53; and, but for the unhealthiness of the tract, a still lower figure might have been attained.

4. The important administrative change, inaugurated by the transfer of the cadastral survey and initial record-writing in Chota Nagpur from the Survey to the Settlement Department in October 1905, was completed by a similar transfer in Bihar at the beginning of the year under report. All cadastral work in the Province is now conducted by the settlement staff, the Bihar and Chota Nagpur parties having each an officer of the Survey Department as a professional adviser. It is a matter for considerable satisfaction that the results obtained under the new system have received the cordial praise of the Superintendent of Provincial Surveys. Mr. Reid and his assistants in Chota Nagpur set an excellent example in the production of maps of great accuracy, admirably suited for the purpose of reproduction; and the Bihar officers have done very well indeed in their first season.

5. Of the larger operations in progress, the traverse and topographical survey of the Government reserved forests in the Khulna Sundarbans, which was commenced in February 1907, was completed during the year. The total area dealt with is 2,264 square miles, and the total expenditure incurred Rs. 2,18,040. The survey of the Sundarbans of the 24-Parganas and Khulna has now been completed. It was a very difficult operation, presenting many features of a novel kind, both technical and administrative, and for the success obtained in this work, Major Crichton is entitled to great praise. The survey and the preparation of a record-of-rights of the district of Purnea was brought to a close. The resettlement of the Angul Government Estate, comprising an area of 669 square miles, was completed. The increase of revenue derived from the resettlement amounts to Rs. 21,000, while the operations have cost Rs. 1,42,277, or As. 5-4 pies an acre. In fixing the new rates, special consideration has been shown in the case of new cultivation. The survey of the suburbs of Calcutta, including the Panchannogram Government Estate, was begun in February 1903, and has proved a complicated and difficult task. It is now all but completed. In paragraph 100 of his Report, the Superintendent of Provincial Surveys has made various suggestions in regard to the publication and maintenance of the maps prepared, and to the maintenance of the records, which will be communicated to the Corporation of Calcutta for consideration.

6. In the attestation proceedings of the year, in the district of Ranchi, 30 per cent. of the raiyats dealt with had to be recorded as non-occupancy raiyats, in accordance with the provisions of Act I (B.C.) of 1879. The great majority of these will now become occupancy raiyats under the new Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act (Bengal Act VI of 1908), which has been passed in order to remove the many serious defects of the old law, which, already notorious, had been much emphasised by the exact information obtained in the course of the settlement operations. In South Bhagalpur and South Monghyr, a prominent feature of the work was the extent and serious character of the disputes about rent. Illegal enhancements had been made on an extensive scale, but in most cases the disputes were amicably settled under the provisions of the new section 109C of the Bengal Tenancy Act, introduced by the amending Act I of 1907. The work done by the officers, who were employed in this matter, was far from easy, but has resulted in such improved relations between landlords and tenants as promise to give peace and contentment over a large area. That this new provision has so soon been generally and successfully employed is a subject of congratulation to its authors. The settlement of fair rents, under section 105 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, on application from the landlord or tenant, was made on an extensive scale in South Bhagalpur. Rents were settled for 15,684 tenants, the average enhancement decreed amounting to 9½ per cent., due partly to excess area and partly to the rise in prices.

7. On this latter ground, an enhancement of three annas in the rupee was sanctioned by Government for the Majnamutha, Jalamutha and other temporarily-settled and Government estates in the district of Midnapore, although the actual rise in prices since the former settlement would have justified an enhancement of eight annas or more. The rents settled have actually resulted in an enhancement of 17·91 per cent. only; and a large portion of the additional revenue has been ear-marked for the improvement of the drainage channels and embankments of the estates. The operations in this district are carried on under conditions particularly trying to the officers engaged, and Mr. Hodson and his assistants have done well.

8. So far as district operations are concerned, recoveries on account of the cost thereof were postponed in Ranchi in consequence of the recent scarcity, and were carried on only in South Bhagalpur. The total amount recoverable there was Rs. 9,00,658, of which 98·8 per cent. was collected, coercive measures being found necessary only for 2·1 per cent. of the demand. As usual, the tenants throughout the area showed the greatest eagerness to obtain their maps and extracts from the record-of-rights, and almost the whole amount due from them was collected at the time of distribution of these papers.

9. The revision settlement of Orissa, as a preliminary to the continuous maintenance of the records, made good progress, notwithstanding the dislocation of work caused by heavy floods. It is satisfactory that the changes in procedure, organisation and staff, made in accordance with the experience of the previous year, have been successful. The statistics furnished by the attestation proceedings have clearly illustrated the necessity of keeping the settlement records up to date. The number of holdings dealt with was 352,872, and it was found that, during the ten years which had elapsed since the last settlement, ownership had undergone alteration in as many as 73 per cent. of the holdings, while the number of boundary changes was 33 per cent. of the number of plots. The Director of Land Records has reported that the revision is very popular with the raiyats, and he has forwarded with his report the following interesting extract from the report of the Settlement Officer (Mr. Taylor):—

"A large number of zamindars still regard the operations with some disfavour. The revision is, on the other hand, evidently welcomed by the tenants for the reasons given in the Director's Annual Report last year. This was strikingly shown during the past season's khanapuri operations in Cuttack. I have previously described how we were forced to select special areas in Cuttack in order that unnecessary harassment should not be caused to tenants holding lands in the flooded tracts. Thus, in thana Tirtol, certain areas in which considerable losses had occurred were excluded. When Mr. James, the Assistant Settlement Officer in charge, was inspecting the work in the adjoining protected area, a large number of tenants from the flooded portion came to him and begged that operations should start at once in their tract. They went so far as to deny loss of crops, and thereby ran the risk of losing the takavi advances sanctioned by the Collector. The Chakla Kanungo happened to be with Mr. James at the time, and assured him that there had been serious loss of crops, and the latter did not, therefore, accede to the tenants' request.

10. The maintenance of land records in the district of Sambalpur went on satisfactorily. It has a special interest from the light it throws on similar problems awaiting solution in the districts of Cuttack, Balasore and Puri. The year's work of the mutation offices established at Bettiah, Hajipur and Mahnar, under the Land Records Maintenance Act of 1895, gave further proof of the failure of the system introduced by that Act. The maintenance of records and the inspection of rent-rolls in Government and wards' estates show a slight improvement. It is hoped that the general rules, which have recently been issued by the Board of Revenue, will lead to better results.

11. For some years Government has carefully watched the progress of the utilisation of the settlement records in the different branches of the administration, and in paragraph 9 of last year's Resolution (No. 2136L.R., dated the 9th April 1908), some improvement was noticed. The present Report of the Director of Land Records furnishes evidence of a more extended appreciation of the usefulness of records-of-rights, village cadastral maps and thana index maps. This appreciation is naturally far more marked in districts fully surveyed and settled than in those of which only small and isolated areas have been dealt with; but it is evident that District Officers do not even yet make the fullest use of the records and of the maps prepared in the survey. The experiment of employing Munsifs on settlement work, which is being made with the approval of the High Court, continues to be successful, and the Settlement Officers have reported very favourably on the quality of their work.

12. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that District Officers paid greater attention than before to the important subject of the inspection and maintenance of boundary marks. In Government and private estates taken together, about 95 per cent. of the total number of marks were inspected, but of the damaged or missing marks, only 37 per cent. were restored. The deficiency was greatest in wards' estates, the Bettiah Estate in Champaran being conspicuous in its failure to restore lost or damaged marks. It is desired that District Officers should not relax their activity in this branch of their work.

13. The Director of Land Records has brought to the notice of Government the services of those of his subordinates who have done conspicuously good work, and his remarks will be noted in the Appointment Department. The Lieutenant-Governor's acknowledgments are due more especially to Messrs. Murphy, Reid and Taylor, who have held charge of the most important of the settlements. The Report of Mr. T. S. Macpherson on the Porahat settlement is a work of permanent value. The Director of Land Records, Mr. H. McPherson, has managed his Department with great thoroughness, and he has so controlled the various settlements as to secure the efficient performance of their work.

The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are also due to Captain Hirst for his efficient supervision of the Survey Department, and he notes with satisfaction the praise given to Messrs. R. B. and A. W. Smart and Mr. Berkeley. Captain Hirst's duties during the year were rendered specially arduous by the impending partition, which, by his care and attention, has been carried out without disturbance to the progress of field work.

14. Extracts from the two Reports are published for general information.

ORDER.—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and that a copy of it, with copies of the two Reports and the Board's note, be submitted to the Government of India.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

F. W. DUKE,

Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Extract from the Annual Report on the Survey Operations in Bengal during the year ending the 30th September 1908.

CHAPTER I.

General Remarks.

3. The outturn of the year, namely 5,107 square miles of traverse survey and 1,313 square miles of topographical survey, is considerably less than last year; the main reason for this deficit is the final transfer, which culminated in handing over the cadastral portion of No. 4 Party (Bihar) to the Settlement Department, on 1st October 1907, of all Cadastral survey to the control of the Director of Land Records.

The programme assigned to me was, in all cases, completed.

Changes during the year.

4. On 1st October 1907 the two cadastral sections of No. 4 Party (Bihar) were handed over bodily to the Settlement Department. The change was made with the utmost smoothness.

* * * * * *

5. The traverse sections of Nos. 4 and 5 Parties were amalgamated with the head-quarters sections of those parties at the beginning of this survey year; these amalgamations were the first steps in the direction of the placing of all Traverse work in Bengal under one executive officer. Numbers 4 and 5 Parties are now in process of being formed into one charge, the final organization of which will be completed by November 1st, 1908.

CHAPTER II.

Patna District.

25. An area of 1,141·72 square miles falling in thanas Islampur, Hilsa, Fatua, Patna, Phulwari, Dinapur, Maner, and Bikram was traversed for cadastral survey. This area includes 23·90 square miles of Government and Tikari Estates as well as the Dinapur Cantonment; credit has been taken for this 23·90 square miles in this report, as it is made up of small scattered areas.

* * * * * *

31. The demarcation was well done, and the comparison with the Revenue Survey maps shows little difference between the old and new boundaries.

* * * * * *

Shahabad District.

33. An area of 347·15 square miles falling in thana Arrah was traversed for cadastral survey; this includes 2·26 square miles of the municipal lands already surveyed. The diara areas of the thana were omitted and will be surveyed later.

34. Of the 762 villages traversed, some were very small in extent; the smallest was about a quarter of an acre; it would appear to be advisable that such small villages be amalgamated with their neighbours, for they are very apt to become lost altogether. The Settlement Officer will deal with this point next year.

40. The demarcation by the inhabitants was good.

* * * * * *

RANCHI DISTRICT.

Traverse Survey.

42. In this district an area of 1,208 square miles remained for completion. This area was traversed during the year; it covers thanas Barma, Mandar, Ranchi (including Urumanjhi), Angara and portions of Rahe and Silli. About one-third of the area consists of high hills covered with jungle; the balance is open and undulating.

43. Practically no demarcation was done by the inhabitants, and the traversers were guided by lists of villages obtained from the Deputy Commissioner. Although demarcation was not attempted by them, the inhabitants freely gave help in other directions.

* * * * * *

46. In the hilly area the subtense bar was frequently used; here the health of the establishment was indifferent; seven men died of malarial fever and its effects, and one from snake-bite.

* * * * * *

MIDNAPUR DISTRICT.

Traverse Survey.

52. The Jhargram and Chiara Estates, falling in thanas Jhargram and Gopiballabpur respectively, covering an area of 210·59 square miles, were traversed for cadastral survey in the same year.

53. In spite of a considerable portion of the area surveyed being covered with jungle, the area embraced 595 villages.

54. The demarcation was carried out by a kanungo appointed by the Collector; in open country it was well done, but in the jungle it was, not unnaturally, defective. The inhabitants gave a reasonable amount of voluntary help.

* * * * * *

SINGHBHUM DISTRICT.

Traverse Survey.

63. In the Bengal Government's Notification No. 2684T.—R., dated the 29th October 1907, orders were issued for the survey of the following villages, which in area cover 14·18 square miles and fall in the tenure of Babu Abhiram Taung, in Thana Monoharpur:—Duribuli, Nandapur, Manharpur, Dukurdih, Patharbassa and Sarigidi.

64. The country is very rough and jungly, and the frequent use of the subtense bar was necessary.

65. The preliminary demarcation was not good.

* * * * * *

MANBHUM DISTRICT.

Traverse Survey.

72. The programme comprised the traverse survey of Pargana Barabhum, and covered an area of 638 square miles. More than half of this area consists of hills with a maximum height of 3,060 feet; the remainder comprises undulating plains; the country is wild and the scenery is, in places, magnificent.

73. Demarcation by the inhabitants was conspicuous by its absence; although at a later stage some help was given, the attitude of the people was almost hostile.

* * * * * *

DISTRICT KHULNA (SUNDERBANS).

Traverse Survey.

83. The programme, which coincides with the Topographical programme reported in paragraph 92 et seq., consisted of the completion of the survey of the Government Reserved Forests in the Khulna (Sunderbans) on the 2″ scale, and the survey of Lot 165 of district Khulna on the 4″ scale. The area traversed was 1,311 square miles, of which 310 represent water. The remainder consists of forest land intersected by innumerable khals or water-channels.

* * * * * *

89. The flotilla employed on this work consisted of 2 steam-launches, 2 flats and 86 country boats. All fresh water and all food had to be carried for the whole establishment (about 500 men). One boat foundered in nine fathoms of water in a storm, but the occupants were saved, although they lost all they had with them.

90. The difficulties experienced in previous seasons were encountered, but in a much smaller degree. This was partly due to the establishment having become more accustomed to the circumstances attendant on work in the Sunderbans.

91. Cholera carried off six men, and there were six other deaths from fever and dysentery. On the whole the establishment kept good health; this was perhaps due to the streams carrying more fresh water than those met with in previous seasons.

Topographical Survey.

92. The area referred to in the preceding paragraphs was topographically surveyed on the 2″ scale (excepting Lot 165). The maps fall on 41 sheets and cover 1,257 square miles.

* * * * * *

94. Trace maps of the entire area have been prepared for the Deputy Conservator of Forests.

* * * * * *

98. The survey of the Sunderbans forest reserves has now been finished and this camp is being broken up; it has been a work of very great difficulty accompanied by considerable danger. This is the first accurate survey made in this area, and for various reasons it would be advisable that a special report be published; this I hope to be able to take in hand shortly and the report will be submitted to the Board of Revenue in due course. It will be sufficient to say here that the completion of the work reflects the very highest credit on the whole establishment employed, and particularly on Mr. A. W. Smart as the officer in charge of No. 6 Party and Mr. P. F. Delaney as his chief assistant. Although food and water have had to be carried for several seasons to an establishment of about 500 men, it is pleasant to be able to record that not a single man has died by failure in this most intricate bandobast, and that only on one or two occasions has any member of the establishment been reduced to anything approaching a serious shortage of supplies.

* * * * * *

Calcutta Surveys.

99. The work done during the year falls under the following heads:—

(a) Preparation of fair maps of the suburban area on receipt of attested records.

(b) Preparation of Revenue maps in skeleton form by sub-divisions and grand divisions of the Panchannogram Estate.

(c) Completion of records so far not despatched to the Collector for attestation purposes.

(d) Settling boundary disputes outside the Calcutta Municipality and the giving of attention to miscellaneous references regarding boundaries.

(e) Completing the survey required for the Land Acquisition operations going on under Mr. Duval, I.C.S. This includes the demarcation of holdings both inside and outside municipal limits as well as the demarcation of the holdings in 1,400 bighas lying within municipal limits. The lastmentioned area was not included in the original estimates.

(f) Preparation of maps of the sheets drawn up to margin of the area outside municipal limits for the Chief Engineer to the Port of Calcutta.

(g) Tracing old maps of Simm's survey for the Collector of Calcutta; the traces were required to save the old maps from total destruction.

(h) Surveying the area known as the square mile, situated in Dhappa, and the area acquired by the Corporation outside and adjacent to the square mile.

(i) Preparation of a wall map on the scale of 16″ to 1 mile by municipal districts of the suburban area.

100. It was hoped that during the year considerable way would have been made in the revision survey of Calcutta town; unfortunately orders have not been received to take up this work; the case has been under discussion for many months; some time back I sent to the Board a detailed note on the existing situation of the Calcutta surveys; the note was intended to show how very miscellaneous and intricate this section of Bengal surveys had become, and was also intended to show what further expenditure was absolutely essential if full results were to be obtained from the work already completed.

No such operations such as those carried out can have any lasting value unless the following items are arranged for:—

(a) The publication of maps prepared.

(b) The maintenance of those maps, both fiscally and topographically.

(c) The maintenance of all records prepared.

Previous surveys of Calcutta have met with disapproval within a short time of their completion for the following reasons:—

(a) They have been mainly topographical and not fiscal as well as topographical maps.

(b) Records have been conspicuous by their absence or by inaccuracy or insufficiency in detail.

I will take this opportunity of placing on record the fact that the work which we have recently done in Calcutta will be of little value in the very near future unless provision is made to meet the points I have mentioned in the earlier part of this paragraph; if the provision is not made it cannot be said hereafter that a remedy for the recurring re-surveys of Calcutta has not been pointed out by the surveyors to whom Government entrusted the work we have all but completed in the suburbs of Calcutta. In the past surveyors have been blamed for producing maps which were only found to be of a temporary advantage. No work in Calcutta hitherto has been carried out in anything like the detail of that now under completion, and the warning conveyed in this paragraph applies with very much greater force to-day than it would have applied in the past. I can only hope that the Calcutta Corporation will see its way to prevent the expense of re-surveys in the future by insisting on a proper maintenance scheme at a moderate annual expenditure; for I firmly believe that the yearly cost of maintenance will be less than the interest calculated at the existing borrowing rate of the Calcutta Corporation, on the capital involved in the work now reported on.

The remarks above apply with equal force to both the suburban and the town areas of Calcutta, and for that matter, to any large town in India or elsewhere.

101. The only traverse work done was that involved in the splitting up into minor blocks of the area under acquisition by the Port Commissioners, and the work required to carry out item (h) of paragraph (99) above.

102. The detail survey done was as follows :—

(a) Boundary correction in the Punchannogram made necessary by attestation proceedings.

(b) In the area exterior to municipal limits surveyed on the scale of 32″ to 1 mile, it was suggested by Mr. R. B. Smart some time back that the detached lands should be marked with stones; the Collector first vetoed this proposal on the score of expense, but was later on convinced that the expenditure would be warranted by the result; some progress has been made during the year under report, and it is hoped to complete it shortly after the rains cease.

(c) Two thousand seven hundred and seventy-three bighas were surveyed for the Port Commissioners on the scale of 50 feet to 1 inch.

(d) The Dhappa work embraced the detail survey of 1,715 acres.

Demarcation.

103. (a) The demarcation of the whole area of the suburban survey was completed by the end of May, but all the records and maps have not yet been made over to the Special Land Acquisition Officer (Mr. Duval).

(b) In the Dhappa area much trouble has been experienced by the Corporation in pointing out its boundaries; the difficulties of the Corporation were reflected on the Surveyor, and the work was completed much later than it should have been. It is very essential that all land acquired should be properly marked with permanent boundary pillars at the time of acquisition; if this had been done the difficulties mentioned above would not have been experienced.

Comparison of old and new maps of the Port Commissioners' acquisition area.

104. The acquisition notification gives the names of whole and portions of villages to be acquired; in order to identify these a 4″ congregated plan was made from the Revenue Survey volumes, and the amins were ordered to keep separate khasras of each village as given by the owners; the result was far from satisfactory, and it may be remarked here that when the cadastral survey of 24-Parganas is taken up difficulties in regard to village boundaries must be expected because the zamindars pay much respect to tauzi-holdings and little or none to village limits; recent changes in the Bengal Tenancy Act will doubtless reduce the troubles anticipated here, but I doubt if those changes will minimize the troubles of the traverse officer to any great extent.

Boundary disputes.

105. (a) In the suburbs the work of adjusting these was completed in the last year, but owing to appeals further adjustment was found necessary; again applications were often received for reviews of judgment; these latter have been a source of considerable worry.

(b) In the Port Commissioners' acquisition area there were a certain number of disputes. These were shown on the trace made over to the Land Acquisition Officer, and have been presumably dealt with by that officer.

Attendance of owners.

106. The interest of owners in our work has apparently increased; this was anticipated in my last report, and it is very satisfactory to find that such copies of the maps made, as we have been able to issue, have been bought up with avidity. The sales to be expected from the published maps, when they are published, will be greatly in advance of the sales resulting from previous surveys.

Area calculation.

107. The work done inside the municipal limits to be acquired by the Port Commissioners is as follows:—

The areas of the holdings of 1,440 bighas (480 acres) were extracted. The extraction was very complicated owing to the demands of Mr. Duval, caused doubtless by the high value of the interests with which he is dealing. In 654 holdings, 1,524 minor divisions were found necessary; in these minor holdings the areas of 4,092 huts, walls, drains, etc., had to be calculated. If these details show nothing else, they emphasize the intricacy of the acquisition now proceeding.

Outside the municipal area of the Garden Reach and South Surburban Municipalities, the areas of 2,427 holdings were extracted for the Port Commissioners. These holdings again had to be greatly subdivided.

Fair Mapping for the Corporation.

108. Out of 397 maps, 297 are ready for the press and the balance will be ready very shortly. At present there are no orders regarding the publication of these maps, but it is hoped that there will now be little further delay. Constant applications are received for copies of the maps, but these can seldom be supplied; the demand for the maps is certain to be considerable, and this is only to be expected because they are the first real fiscal and topographical maps that have been made of this area.

Fair Mapping of Revenue Maps.

109. Last year I reported that there were 469 of these maps to be dealt with on the 50-foot scale, and 29 on the 32-inch scale; the former is now increased to 480. The reason is that the 50-foot sheets are to be in skeleton form whereas the 32-inch maps must show full details. In addition an extra 32 inch sheet has been produced by the location of extra detached lands. The total number of sheets is therefore 510 and to these must be added the 14 index maps of the several grand and subdivisions of the Panchannogram Estate. We must, therefore, be ready for the printing of 510 sheets in colours and 14 in black.

Of the 510 sheets all are drawn and about half have been examined, and the 14 index maps are at present in hand.

Orders regarding the printing of these maps should be issued at once because it will be necessary to obtain the paper on which they are to be printed from England, since the size we require is not stocked in India except in paper not suited to these maps.

Wall Map of Calcutta.

110. The so-called wall map is really a 16" map of the suburbs, it was commenced last year and according to the wishes of the Corporation at that time the pentagraphing is completed; the Corporation now wants further details shown and so 12 of these maps will require further pentagraphing work. It is a pity that the first wish of the Corporation could not be adhered to, or that its secondly expressed wish could not have been expressed originally; a result of the change is that delay will occur in production of these maps.

Attestation in the Panchannogram Estate.

111. The 27 khasras left over at the end of the last year were received back from the Attestation Officer in due course, and final comparison has now been made with the maps and the municipal registers. Owing to the difficulties of attestation, a special officer was employed. The last khasra was received on the 6th June 1908.

112. Mr. R. B. Smart, who has been in charge of the work detailed above throughout the year, suggests that the limits of all holdings in Subdivision S, Division 5 of the Panchannogram Estate should be marked with stones. It was in this area that attestation troubles were most serious. I approve of Mr. Smart's suggestion, and will estimate for the work if required to do so.

MONGHYR DISTRICT.

JAMALPUR HILLS.

Topographical Survey.

121. One hundred and eighty-three square miles of the above hills were surveyed in detail on the 2″ scale to supplement Standard Sheets No. 72$\frac{K}{9}$, $\frac{K}{8}$, $\frac{K}{11}$ and $\frac{K}{12}$.. The area falls in thanas Monghyr, Jamui, Kharagpur and Surajgarha.

122. This small tract of country is most inhospitable; what water exists, except certain hot springs, is generally unfit to drink; there are very few inhabitants, the hills are of quartzite and very unpleasant to climb over even for those who wear boots, and fever of a very virulent type exists. Beyond timber cutting (chiefly male bamboos) and slate quarrying, the hills seem to be of little value economically.

Two khallasies died of fever and the whole establishment had to be frequently changed. The origin of the fever appears to be the decay of leaves in such water as exists, and it is particularly noticeable just after the bamboos begin to shed their leaves; it almost seems as if the decayed bamboo leaves have a peculiar effect on the water into which they fall.

* * * * * * *

126. Considerable credit is due to Mr. J. H. Johnson, Sub-Assistant Superintendent, for the way in which he carried out the work although suffering constantly from fever himself.

127. The Settlement Officer of Bihar has been supplied with traces showing water-courses, paths and the limits of cultivation. He required these traces to help him in the attestation of the area.

MONGHYR DISTRICT.

Ganges Diara.

128. An area of 42·5 square miles, lying between the area previously surveyed and the southern high bank of the Ganges, lying in thana Surajgarha, was traversed for cadastral survey at the request of the Settlement Officer of Bihar.

* * * * * *

Bengal Drawing Office.

145. The work of the office falls under the following main sections:—

(1) General (supervision).
(2) Standard mapping which includes District mapping on the scale of 4 miles to 1 inch.
(3) Traverse charts.
(4) Thana and Trijunction Mark Maps.
(5) Map reproduction.
(6) Budar (map correction).
(7) Map record.

Standard Mapping Section.

146. This section has been doing work for Bengal and Eastern Bengal; its total outturn has been very satisfactory indeed. Out of a total of 20 standard maps (scale 2″=1 mile), consisting of 50 sections, submitted for publication during the year, 14 maps belong to Bengal; these are as follows:— Nos. $72\frac{N}{3}$, $\frac{N}{4}$, $\frac{N}{7}$, $\frac{N}{8}$, $\frac{O}{1}$, $\frac{O}{2}$, $\frac{O}{3}$, $79\frac{C}{2}$, $\frac{C}{10}$, $\frac{C}{15}$, $\frac{C}{16}$, $\frac{G}{1}$, $\frac{G}{2}$, and $\frac{G}{6}$. In addition sheets Nos. $72\frac{O}{5}$, $\frac{O}{6}$, $\frac{O}{7}$, and $\frac{N}{11}$ are in hand and good progress is being made on them. Sheet No. $72\frac{K}{11 \text{ and } 15}$ (old numeration No. 203) is in hand and awaits the inclusion of the block of hills south of Monghyr Town; the detail survey of those hills was done during the year under report, and on account of stress of work induced in the Bihar Party (No. 4) owing to the proposed reorganization of Bengal Surveys, I have transferred the 2-inch fair drawing to the Bengal Drawing Office so as to avoid unnecessary delay in the completion of this sheet. It should be noted however, that after publication, the sheet will not show all the hills which fall on it, because only the hills in the northern portion have been topographically surveyed by us; this point is of importance to those who, hereafter, carry out supplementary or re-survey operations in this district.

147. In addition to the above work, the section has coloured, for the head-quarters office of the Survey of India, the fiscal limits and cultivation on 31 unpublished proofs of 16 standard sheets; it has carried out the final examination and correction of 13 unpublished proofs of 6 standard sheets, and one district map, fiscal limits being at the same time coloured on the latter. Ninety-seven published proofs of 70 standard sheets and 13 district maps have been completely coloured for use in the office. Lastly, small additions and corrections have been made on 8 published proofs of 2 standard sheets and 2 district maps.

148. The following miscellaneous work has been dealt with:—

(a) District index maps of Shahabad and Manbhum have been prepared.

(b) A coloured mujmili of the Sarkari Hata Estate has been made for the Deputy Commissioner of Hazaribagh.

(c) A comparative map showing the boundaries of villages Ramdiri and Sihawan, according to the Revenue, Diara and Cadastral surveys, has been produced for the Collector of Monghyr.

(d) Two sets of specimen thana maps have been prepared at my orders, in connection with a scheme, referred to in paragraph 14 of this report, for the improvement of thana maps of the province.

(e) Three maps for the annual report of the Director of Land Records have been prepared.

* * * * * *

Traverse Charts Section.

150. This section has been increased somewhat during the year; its outturn has been 36 charts of Orissa and 43 of Bihar. Twenty-two other charts are nearing completion. The charts for Ranchi will be taken up early in the next year.

151. Traverse charts show permanent boundary marks which will be of use during topographical surveys which follow cadastral surveys; they are prepared according to orders issued by the Surveyor-General. The limits of charts are geographical and not fiscal and a marks serial is adopted throughout each unit, the numbering being done from the north-west corner of each chart. As we work by fiscal units it is very often impossible to draw the charts up to margin all round.

In addition to traverse charts we also prepare in the Bengal Drawing Office trijunction mark mujmilis by thanas, for the use of District Officers. The unit of the latter is fiscal, the serial numbering commences at the north-west corner of each map, and the scale used is 2 inches to 1 mile; the unit of the traverse chart is geographical, its numbering commences from its north-west corner, and its scale is, according to circumstances, $\frac{1}{2}$″ or 1″ to one mile.

Trijunction Mark and Thana Mapping Section.

152. Where standard sheets are prepared, the making of trijunction mark maps is easy because the sections of standard sheets are drawn on the 2" scale; of such maps two were made of thanas in North Bhagalpur. Where, however, standard maps are either not under preparation or are not sufficiently advanced to admit of traces from the 2" standard mapping being used, mujmilis reduced from the 4" rough plots used for the comparison of modern boundaries with Revenue Survey boundaries are used; of such maps those of 5 thanas (397 copies) of South Bhagalpur were produced and of 9 thanas (189 copies) of Purnea, thana Banki, (400 copies) of Cuttack were also dealt with. In addition 200 copies of the trijunction mark maps of 9 thanas of Ranchi were supplied to the Settlement Officer.

Thana Maps.

153. As in the case of trijunction mark maps, either 2" standard work or mujmilis may be used as basis of the map. Two thanas of North Bhagalpur were completed from standard maps; and 5 thanas of South Bhagalpur, 7 of Purnea and 1 (Banki) of Cuttack from mujmilis. Two hundred copies of each of the above maps were printed and supplied.

In addition 200 prints of each of 9 thana maps of Ranchi were produced.

178. The total issue of copies of maps during the year has been 689,613. This excludes work done for Eastern Bengal. The gross supplies have been 861,401 copies. A small portion of this outturn was dealt with out of office hours.

It will be noticed that this outturn is better than that of last year, and when the very miscellaneous nature of the programme is taken into account, it is clear that the outturn reflects the greatest credit on Mr. L. F. Berkeley and his staff. As soon as the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam starts its own reproduction office on a scale large enough to meet the demand of its Province, the Bengal Drawing Office will obtain considerable relief; it is only because pressure has been maintained for some time past that serious hitches in reproduction programmes have not occurred. In addition matters have been complicated by the attempts which have been made to wipe off all arrears. The Director of Land Records and I have recently gone into this matter and programmes have now been so arranged that the near future will see the office working normally; the future normal outturn for Bengal is something between 750,000 and 1,000,000 copies of maps, but there are indications that the office will, before long, increase considerably in other directions than its suggested normal programme. If this occurs, considerable enlargement will be required, and I would strongly advise the moving of the office from Calcutta to Ranchi or Hazaribagh as soon as a permanent increase of work is shown to be likely.

Extract from the Annual Report of the Department of Land Records for the year ending 30th September 1908.

CHAPTER I.

SECTION A—GENERAL SUMMARY AND GENERAL REMARKS.

Extent of the year's operations.

2. Survey and Settlement operations were in progress during the year in 14 districts belonging to the 6 Divisions of the Province. The area cadastrally surveyed during the year, including 1,003 square miles of revision survey in Orissa, was 5,480 square miles. Preliminary records were written for the same area. Records were prepared for attestation in 5,491 square miles, attested in 5,194 square miles and finally published in 4,931 square miles. The rents of 257,733 tenants were settled. The expenditure of the year amounted to Rs. 15,21,082.

Total area settled in the Province up to 30th September 1908.

The total area for which a record-of-rights has now been completed under the control of the Department is 44,007 square miles. Of this, 4,158 square miles (excluding Orissa revision work) were completed during the year under report. Progress during the last twenty-two years has averaged 2,000 square miles a year.

Settlement Staff.

3. The largest number of Settlement and Assistant Settlement Officers employed during the field season was 9 and 125 against 12 and 99 of the preceding season. The staff question for field operations is becoming an increasingly difficult one. The number of Sub Deputy Collectors required has risen considerably since Government discouraged the employment of outsiders as Assistant Settlement Officers. The difficulty of providing the present staff requirements has, in the course of the year, been represented to the Government of India, and it is hoped that some increase in the cadre of the provincial and subordinate executive services will be sanctioned to meet the demands of settlement work.

Settlement completion reports.

4. Considerable progress was made during the year in the writing of settlement completion reports Mr. Coupland's report on North Monghyr, Mr. Dewar's report on Sambalpur, and Mr. T. S. Macpherson's report on the Porahat record-of-rights were reviewed by me during the Darjeeling recess. Mr. Connolly's report on Seraikela and Kharsawan was forwarded through the Commissioner of Chota Nagpur, but has been detained pending an enquiry to be made at the instance of the Deputy Commissioner during the present cold weather regarding certain objections of proprietors and raiyats. Mr. Byrne was placed on special duty for three months of the hot weather to write the final report of Purnea. He has completed the report, but it has not yet been received in its final shape from the Press. The Phulhatta report, written by Babu Sharat Chandra Mukharji, was submitted to the Board in November 1908. Rai Narayan Chandra Naik, Bahadur, submitted his report on the Angul Settlement just completed before making over charge at the close of the year.

Cadastral maps

7. The total number of copies of cadastral maps reproduced in the course of the year for administrative purposes and distribution or sale to the public was 576,486. Of these, 8,200 were of North Monghyr, 290,347 of Purnea, 12,180 of North Bhagalpur, 177,280 of South Bhagalpur, 23,040 of Ranchi, 32,612 of Midnapore, 2,680 of Koderma (Hazaribagh), 5,950 of Cuttack (Dompara and Banki), 24,837 of Murshidabad (Beldanga and Fatehsingh) and 360 of Patna (three villages

Constitution of a new Survey Service in Bengal.

8. The decision of the Government of India to remove Revenue surveys from the field of operations of the Survey of India, has led to important changes in the organization of local survey work. In the Annual Report of last year it was noted that cadastral surveys had been transferred throughout the Province to the direct control of the Settlement Department.

The decision has further rendered it necessary to arrange for the constitution of a Provincial Survey Service working under the supervision of one or more officers of the Survey of India, who will act as a connecting link between Imperial and Provincial Surveys, and be a guarantee that the standard of the latter will be kept up to a high level. A Conference presided over by Mr. R. W. Carlyle, C.I.E., Secretary to the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agriculture Department, was held in Calcutta on the 16th December 1907, to determine the main features of the new scheme and to ensure that Bengal and the sister Province should work on homogeneous lines. According to the proposals that have since been elaborated in keeping with the views of the Conference, the new service of each Province will consist of two officers of the Survey of India, a senior officer to be called Director of Surveys, and a junior officer to be in training as Assistant Director, and of 14 Provincial officers who will be employed on traverse and diara surveys, as professional advisers in the cadastral camps, and in the Bengal Drawing Office. The terms which have been proposed for the new survey service have attracted to it a number of the Provincial officers of the Survey of India, who have done much of their service in Bengal and furnish us with a satisfactory working nucleus. The proposals of the Local Government, which were generally approved by the Government of India, have not yet received the sanction of the Secretary of State. When the proposals have been sanctioned, it is expected that Major Crichton will be Director of Surveys for Bengal and Captain Hirst, Director for Eastern Bengal and Assam. Both Provinces obtain officers who are fully acquainted with their Revenue-survey work, and continuity of policy is thus secured for both.

Applications under section 105 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, which raise issues under section 105A.

9. The question whether issues under section 105A of the Bengal Tenancy Act may be raised by applicants for fair-rent settlement under section 105, and, if so, what fees are payable on the applications, was brought up by the Settlement Officer of Bihar, and after consideration referred to the Legal Remembrancer. His opinion agreeing with mine, that applicants under section 105 are bound to sue on the record as finally published, and are debarred from raising simultaneously issues under section 105A to contest its accuracy, was accepted by the Board and has been incorporated in the revised Settlement Manual about to issue.

Revision of the Survey and Settlement Manual, 1900.

10. The new Survey and Settlement Manuals have been completed and have issued from the Press during the present month. I went over the draft Manuals carefully during the last field season, and considered, in consultation with the Settlement Officers of Bihar and Chota Nagpur, what changes should be made in them to bring them fully up to date and into line with one another. As cadastral survey was taken over by the Settlement Department in Bihar from October 1907, I thought it undesirable to publish the new Survey Manual before we had had further experience of the system of single control in Bihar. During the recess the forms of monthly and annual returns were also recast, and it was necessary to incorporate the revised forms in the Manuals. This, together with the preparation of indices and the correction of proofs, rendered it impossible to get out the new Manuals before the close of the settlement year.

Price lists of staple food crops.

11. To remove difficulties experienced by Settlement Officers in obtaining the prices of staple food crops in connection with proceedings under section 50 (b) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, statistics of the prices of staple food crops for the last 20 years (1888—1907) have been compiled from the lists periodically prepared and published under section 39 (5) of the Bengal Tenancy Act. The statistics are being printed in pamphlet form, and copies will be submitted to the Board when ready. The pamphlet is not intended for sale to the public, and will merely serve as a guide and aid to revenue officers who, in rent and revenue proceedings, require information regarding the course of prices during the past twenty years.

Conversion of areas from local measures into acres.

15. To improve the transfer tables included in the annual volume of Agricultural Statistics and to facilitate the conversion of areas from local measures into acres, a list of the local measures obtaining in the different thanas of all the districts of Bengal, accompanied by conversion tables, has been compiled with the help of District and Settlement Officers. The work, which received very careful supervision and scrutiny, was done under the orders of Government conveyed in No. 2551, dated the 27th July 1907. The statements and tables were submitted to the Board with my letter No. 152T., dated the 20th May 1908, and it is understood that they will be circulated by the Revenue Department to all Sub-Registrars and to other local officers, who may require them for statistical purposes. It may be interesting to note that no less than 90 standards of local measures were found to obtain in the Province, varying from ·2531 of an acre to 3·4917 acres. The acre-decimal notation has taken root in the following districts:—Balasore, Cuttack, Puri, Angul, Darjeeling and Sambalpur, and it is confidently hoped that with the progress of settlement work its use will continue to extend. In order to achieve this result it has been proposed, wherever it is possible to do so without inconvenience to the public, to insert areas in the finally published settlement records according to the acre-decimal notation only.

18. The year that has just closed has been distinguished by two important advances in the agrarian legislation of the Province. The progress of the Ranchi settlement had brought to light many serious defects in the landlord and tenant law of Chota Nagpur. After years of deliberation a new Code of Agrarian law has been drawn up for the Division. Mr. W. H. Vincent, I.C.S., Judicial Commissioner of Chota Nagpur, was placed on special duty in the last quarter of the year to prepare the new Tenancy Bill, and under his guidance the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act (VI of 1908) was finally passed in Council on 19th September 1908. It has received the assent of the Governor-General in Council since the close of the year and the rest of the settlement work of Chota Nagpur will now be conducted under its provisions. One of the most important features of the new measure is the extension to Chota Nagpur of the principle of the settled raiyat which is already in force in all the other parts of Bengal.

A new Sonthal Parganas Regulation (III of 1908) has almost simultaneously been sanctioned by the Governor-General in Council. It removes from the existing settlement regulations of the Sonthal Parganas (III of 1872 and II of 1886) various defects that were disclosed by the progress of the settlement operations in that district during the past 10 years and specifically affirms the incident of non-transferability which has in the course of the settlement been found to attach to raiyati lands over more than nineteen-twentieths of the district.

19. The main items of work included in the programme were—(i) the cadastral survey and khanapuri of the Jhargram estate together with the preparation of records for attestation and as much of the attestation as could be completed during the recess; (ii) settlement of fair rents, preparation of rent schedules, copying and final publication of the Majnamutha and Jallamutha estates; and (iii) office work and case-work of the Nayabasan estate.

(a) Note.—The operations in Jhargram and other zamindari estates have for convenience been dealt with here, though they properly come under Chapter III.

21. Jhargram.—The cadastral survey of Jhargram started late in the season as its traverse survey was not completed till about the middle of January. The work was carefully organized and every precaution was taken to ensure that the standard of accuracy should not fall short of the Survey of India standard. The survey of 210 square miles was checked by 464 linear miles of personal and independent partal, giving an average of 2·2 linear miles per square mile, which appears to be adequate. The total number of plots khanapuried was 94 733, giving an average of 451 to the square mile, or an average field of 1·4 acre. There is a good deal of jungle interspersed with the cultivation, which accounts for the large size of the average plot. 25,816 plots, or 26 per cent. of the whole, were checked by superior and subordinate agency. Assistant Settlement Officers checked 2,505, or 2·6 per cent. As the estate consisted largely of villages held by Santhals, internal disputes were not numerous and the work of khanapuri was, on the whole, very simple. There was 155 boundary disputes, many of which were settled amicably. Internal disputes numbered 860 only, or 4 to the square mile. Attestation was started in July and 102 square miles, or about half the estate, had been completed before the close of the year. Draft publication is in progress, and 256 objections were pending on 30th September.

22. Majnamutha and Jallamutha.—The rent settlement of these temporarily-settled estates engaged the attention of the Settlement Officers and most of his staff throughout the year. As noted in last year's report, orders were passed by Government on Mr. Taylor's Rate Report of pargana Doro in No. 3539, dated the 20th November 1907. The work of rent settlement in accordance with these orders was taken up from the beginning of the field season, and I was hopeful that most of it would be completed before the end of September 1908. Our calculations were upset by the unexpectedly large number of objections that were filed under section 104E. These took up about half of the rent-settling officers' time Rents were proposed during the year for 103,495 tenants and 13,490 objections were disposed of. The work was carried on throughout the hot weather and rains, and it reflects credit on the officers concerned that they got through more than half of the work. Rents remain to be settled for about 70,000 more tenants, and the work is expected to continue till June 1909.

A large number of objections referred to disputes about the identification of homestead and rent-free lands, which were not properly identified by the raiyats at earlier stages. Throughout the operations the tenantry have attended badly. It is only now when we have come to the last stage that they appear to realise the importance of having their rights correctly recorded. The rent settlement orders involve an enhancement of 3 annas in the rupee except on homestead and unprotected lands, and this enhancement is based on the rise of prices that has occurred since rents were last fixed. It would have been easy to prove that on this ground an enhancement of 8 annas or more was justifiable, but Government has been content to take 3 annas in the rupee and to guarantee that the major portion of the enhancement shall be devoted to improvement of the drainage channels and embankments of the estate. An attempt was made at the beginning of rent settlement to work up an agitation against the enhancement and printed petitions were filed wholesale by the raiyats of certain villages. There was an idea that the example of the last settlement might be followed in which the assessments of Mr. Price were attacked in the Civil Courts, and the Board of Revenue reduced the rents by compromise. The Civil Courts has, under the present law, no jurisdiction over the settlement of rent in Government or temporarily-settled estates. This was explained to the petitioners, as also the leniency displayed in the present assessment, and nothing more has been heard of the agitation. Government has meanwhile shown by its efforts to improve the drainage conditions of the estates and particularly by the important drainage scheme inaugurated in what is known as the Argoal circuit that the promises made in the orders on the Rate Report of Doro are intended to be fulfilled. There will never be any difficulty in realising the settled rents if these promises are kept steadily in view. Should they ever be forgotten or neglected, the tenantry will have cause to murmur.

A considerable interval must, under the law, elapse before the rents that are proposed are finally confirmed. The proportion of rents confirmed within the year was therefore small. Rents for the whole of the parganas should be confirmed without difficulty before the close of the present year, and the new rents should be realisable over the whole of the estates from October 1909.

23. Nayabasan and Rohini.—Two officers were employed for the greater part of the year in the section 105 and section 106 cases of these private estates. They settled rents for 13,737, tenants, raising an existing rental of Rs. 34,280 to Rs. 45,517, or by 33 per cent. The enhancement was partly on the ground of excess area, and partly on the ground of rise in prices. Nayabasan includes a considerable jungle area in which there has been much reclamation. The same officers disposed of 752 of section 106 cases. There still remains about six months' work for one officer to complete.

ANGUL ESTATE IN ANGUL.

Area, 669·15 square miles; Villages, 633; Plots, 338,729; Tenants, 31,275; Holdings; 32,159.

25. The programme of the year consisted of the assesment of rent, publication of the rent-roll, copy and distribution of records, correction of vandyke copies of maps and preparation of traces for reproduction by the Bengal Drawing Office, check of trijunction stones and writing of the final report.

* * * * * *

26. The most important question was that of rent-assessment. It had been proposed that assessment should be made on the basis of classification, rice lands being assessed at the following rates:—first class Rs. 2-5-6 per acre, second class Re. 1-9-0, third class Re. 1-2-9; and uplands at lower rates corresponding with their comparative fertility. It was also proposed that the increase of rent should be taken in three instalments, the first for the first five years of settlement, the second from the sixth year, and the third from the 11th year, and further that there should be no enhancement beyond 100 per cent. The Commissioner of Orissa (Mr. Greer) suggested, as an alternative, that an enhancement limit of 50 per cent. should be fixed. Government called for a report as to the amount of reduction that would be involved in the fixing of the lower enhancement limit. The information could not be furnished till the rents of all tenants had been calculated at the proposed rates, and with the limited establishments available this work took several months to complete. The result showed that the fixing of the lower limit would involve an additional rent abatement of Rs. 8,461. On an examination of the figures, I was not satisfied that the assesment proposals were altogether fair to the tenants, and I suggested in my No. 3429, dated the 30th November 1907, that the rate of third class rice land should be lowered to annas 12·6 per acre, and that of the total increase of assessed rent, one-half should be taken for the first five years and two-thirds from the sixth year, the remaining one-third being remitted for the period of settlement as compensation to the raiyats for the improvements in their lands effected by them. These proposals were accepted by Government in No. 289P., dated the 22nd January 1908, and the work of rent assessment was at once started. The acceptance of the proposals necessitated the re-calculation of all the rents, and it was the end of April before the new rents had all been assessed, explained to the raiyats and draft published. The proposals of rent settlement included the grant of concessions to Pans and other privileged tenants.

* * * * * *

The total cost of the Angul settlement operations up to date has been Rs. 1,42,277, which, spread over an area of 669 square miles, yields a cost-rate of Rs. 213 per square mile or annas 5, pies 4, per acre. As a result of the resettlement operations in Angul, the land revenue demand of the estate has been increased from Rs. 1,04,294 to Rs. 1,19,955 for the first five years of settlement and to Rs. 1,25,175 from the 6th year.

28. Fatehsingh.—The programme for the year consisted of attestation and draft publication of 33 villages, disposal of 508 objections under section 103A, final publication and disposal of case-work under sections 105 and 106 for the whole area. The programme could not be completed, because the proprietors applied on a large scale for the settlement of fair rents under section 105. They have sued for enhancement of rents on the ground of rise in prices and have furnished figures to justify an enhancement of 6½ annas in the rupee. Most of the cases are being amicably settled, the enhancement allowed averaging less than 3 annas in the rupee. Rents have been settled during the year for nearly 8,000 tenants. The cost of the operations up to the close of the year has been Rs. 91,943 and the estimated net expenditure to the end of March 1909, after deducting Court-fees and other receipts, is Rs. 1,00,000, yielding a cost-rate of Rs. 2·2 per acre. Proposals for the apportionment of cost were submitted to the Board with my letter No. 419T., dated the 4th August 1908. It has been decided that annas 8 per acre shall be levied from the raiyats as their share of the costs.

29. Beldanga.—The work remaining to be done in Beldanga consisted of fair copying and final publication of the records, case-work, recovery of cost and compilation of the final report. The records were copied, checked and finally published by January 1908. It was noted in last year's report that the main subject of dispute in this settlement was the enhancement of rent that had taken place from 1891 to 1895, and that the enhancement had been found to be illegal and had been disallowed by the Settlement Officer. It was hoped that after publication the proprietor would apply for settlement of fair rents under section 105 and come to terms with his raiyats. Instead, he filed 611 suits under section 106 in support of the illegally enhanced rents. These were heard at length by the Settlement Officer and decided against the proprietor. Some fair rents were settled for lands of settled raiyats declared liable to assessment. The total net cost up to the end of the year amounted to Rs. 10,790, averaging Re. 1·7 per acre. Proposals for apportionment were submitted to the Board in my letter No. 2193, dated the 3rd August 1908. It has been suggested that costs should be recovered in equal shares from the proprietor and raiyats.

30. Mahisar.—The attestation, section 103A work, fair copying and final publication of this area were completed during the year, and there only remains case-work under section 105 and section 106. The number of attestation disputes was no less than 1,688, and of section 103A objections, 384. The disputes, as explained last year, were due to the distribution of the lands of the village over 10 estates. The estimate of cost had, in consequence, to be raised from Rs. 2,057 to Rs. 4,300. Thirty-five applications for the settlement of rents of 834 occupancy raiyats have been filed by the proprietors.

Dihi Bhadra Estate in Khulna.

Area, 70 square miles; Villages, 70; Tenants, 29,905; Plots, 114,490.

31. The programme consisted of the completion of khanapuri recess work left over from the previous year, attestation, draft publication and disposal of objections under section 103A for the whole area and office work. Computation was subsequently included in order that the work of final publication might go hand in hand with recovery of the raiyats' share of the cost.

33. Attestation of the records of the entire area was finished by June. The large number of rent-free claims and the very complex nature of the subinfeudation of tenures, coupled with the unhealthiness of the area, rendered the attestation work extremely arduous. At khanapuri neither facts nor claims could be fully ascertained, as the parties failed to attend properly or did not watch the proceedings with sufficient closeness. The insufficiency of the information gathered at khanapuri necessitated a re-writing of Khewat, Part III, and of the terij attestation. The amount of subinfeudation was great, and cases were found where it ran to 13 degrees. Much of the area is swampy country where field boundaries were indistinct, and this gave rise to a large number of attestation disputes.

34. Of the 4,096 objections under section 103A, 34 per cent. were allowed. The bulk of the objections related to revenue-free and rent-free claims. Some of the proprietors filed numerous objections to the entries of raiyats and tenure-holders at fixed rents, but the majority of these objections were disallowed for want of evidence.

35. A sum of Rs. 10,000 was deposited during the year towards the cost of the operations.

36. As in the previous year, the Settlement Officer continued to do simultaneously the partition work of Dihi Babulia, which has an area of about 15 square miles, and includes lands that are intermixed with those of Dihi Bhadra. The Settlement Officer was much handicapped in the work of the year by sickness among his staff, which led to frequent desertions, and it is a matter of credit to him that he has carried through his programme in spite of all difficulties.

BHAGALPUR DIVISION.

Purnea District.

Area, 3,737; Villages, 4,048; Tenants, 479,989; Plots, 2,548,356.

37. The programme for the year was—

(a) The completion of the office work and final publication of the records of 181 villages which had been left over from the previous year, and the disposal of the balance of the section 105 and section 106 cases.

(b) The recovery of cost and distribution of village maps throughout the district.

38. Final publication and case-work —All records have been finally published and all case-work disposed of. A small number of appeals is still on the file of the Special Judge. The nature of the section 106 work was much the same as in previous years, except that among the applications for fixing fair rents were some from the landlords of villages attested in 1906-07, in which rents were paid on the utbanai or halhansali system. According to this the rents vary each year with the area cultivated. In some of these cases the system was by compromise altered and a fixed annual rent settled. In some, again, the rates were altered and fair rates fixed, to be paid for the area which may be found on measurement to be cultivated each year. In none of these cases does it appear that any appeal was filed. On the whole the enhancements allowed were small, the average being less than that of last year. Most of the enhancements were allowed on the ground of prices of staple food crops having risen during the currency of the present rent, and in very few cases indeed could any other ground for enhancement be shown. The results of the appeals to the Special Judge are satisfactory. In most of the cases remanded for rehearing the Judge differed from the original finding, only to the extent of holding that a few of the defendants had not proved their right to hold at a fixed rate of rent.

39. Recovery of costs.—The total amount of costs recoverable was Rs. 9,00,658, and the total number of copies of the village maps which had to be distributed to the landlords and tenants was 550,530. Of the demand, 96·7 per cent. was collected without the issue of certificate. By the issue of certificates 2·1 per cent. has been collected, bringing the total collections up to date to 98·86 per cent. of the total demand. Of the amount due from landlords, 96·7 per cent. has been collected, and of that due from occupiers, 99 99 per cent.

Most of the balance is due from a few important landlords, and proceedings are being taken to realize the amounts by the sale of their estates.

40. Reproduced copies of the village maps were generally distributed to the landlords and tenants when they came to pay their settlement costs. In the case of some of the bigger landlords special arrangements were made by which their maps and copies of the finally published records were made over to them at Purnea. The tenants throughout the district showed the greatest eagerness to pay their costs and take their maps and khatians.

* * * * * *

SOUTH BHAGALPUR.

Area, 1,630 square miles; Villages, 2,949; Tenants, 150,510.

42. The programme for the year was the attestation, draft publication, objection work, completion of records and final publication of thana Katauria (524 square miles), together with the disposal of commutation and fair rent applications and of cases under section 106 for the whole area of 1,630 square miles.

* * * * * *

44. The area under attestation is mostly in the possession of proprietors who are the successors in interest of the old ghatwals of the Khargpur Raj. Some of them now hold direct from Government and some under the Banaili Estate. The latter have mostly given up their ghatwali rights and have accepted in lieu thereof mukarrari tenures under the proprietors. The country is, for the most part, hilly and jungly and the lands are poor. The tenants consist mainly of low-caste raiyats, Santhals and other aborigines, and are said to be absolutely under the thumb of the landlords. The jungles were reclaimed by these tenants on leases granted to the headmen of the village communities. There was an implied understanding that the rights conveyed by the leases were permanent and hereditary, but in course of time as the rate of enhancement exceeded the rate of reclamation and the burden of rent began to press heavily on the original reclaimers, their headmen were gradually replaced by outsiders and the present thikadari system was established under which the villages are held by farmers liable to periodical enhancement of rent that bears no proportion to the increase of cultivation.

45. Those lessees who are descendants of the original reclaimers have, in the present proceedings, had their rights safeguarded by being recorded either as raiyats or as permanent tenure-holders, according to the circumstances of the cases. Those who are outsiders and mere farmers have been recorded as temporary tenure-holders.

46. Rent enhancements, which had been imposed without any regard to the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act, were carefully scrutinized throughout the area. Where they exceeded 2 annas in the rupee or had been imposed more than once in 15 years, and were not justified by the extension of cultivation, they were disallowed and the legal rents recorded. In many villages rents were amicably settled under section 109C. 852 tenants had their rents thus settled, the landlord's rental of Rs. 7,240 being reduced to Rs. 6,747.

47. During attestation irrigation records were separately prepared for every village and were draft-published with the other village records. The draft publication was carefully supervised, surprise visits being paid.

48. The number of objections to the published records was only 1,054 for 491 square miles, a very low average, and the disputes involved were mostly trifling.

49. The two most important items in the year's work were the fair rent settlements under section 105 and the commutation cases under section 40. 1,284 applications under section 105, affecting 15,684 tenants, were disposed of, and a former rental of Rs 3,08,672 has been enhanced to Rs. 3,38,103, or by 9½ per cent. Some of the enhancement was decreed on the ground of excess area, but the major portion of it is on the ground of rise in prices. The Settlement Officer reports the curious fact that the Banaili Raj has reserved for the Civil Court proceedings for the enhancement of rents of tenants holding lands in excess of the areas entered in the zamindar's papers.

50. There were no less than 1,957 commutation cases disposed of. They were taken up at convenient centres, and, wherever necessary, local enquiry was made. The result in most cases was to fix a rent higher than the average cash rents of the vicinity, but lower than the average rent previously paid by the tenant. The Board have decided that appeals lie to the Commissioner, and not to the Settlement Officer, from orders passed in commutation proceedings by Assistant Settlement Officers, and numerous appeals filed by the Banaili Raj in these Bhagalpur cases are now pending before the Commissioner.

51. An incident of the year, which is of importance to the whole Bihar Settlement, has been the establishment of the head-quarters office at Bhagalpur in the buildings vacated last year by the Police Training School. The whole of the enormous office and field establishments of the Settlement can now be accommodated within the walls of the compound throughout the busy months of recess. Supervision has thus been facilitated and the inconvenience caused by the separation of the cadastral and settlement branches of the office avoided. Babu Nilmoni Dey, Assistant Settlement Officer, was in charge at head-quarters for the greater part of the year.

South Monghyr.

Area, 2,156 square miles; Villages, 2,336; Tenants, 251,876; Plots 2,069,179.

52. Programme.—The programme for the year consisted of (1) attestation, draft publication, objection work and preparation of records for final publication in 1,244 square miles, which were surveyed and khanapuried in 1906-07; (2) the cadastral survey, khanapuri and recess work of 912 square miles. These two areas together make up that portion of the district which lies south of the Ganges.

* * * * * *

54. Attestation.—The feature of the year's work in South Monghyr was the very extensive use that was made of the new section 109C of the Bengal Tenancy Act to effect an amicable settlement of the long-standing rent disputes between landlord and tenant in the southern portion of the tract and more especially in the estates of the Maharaja of Gidhour and the Kumar of Khaira. It was extremely difficult at the outset to get reliable information regarding legally payable rents in these estates, because both proprietors dealt with their tenants through the medium of thikadars, some of whom were mere farmers, while others were long-established tenure-holders and others again, in aboriginal tracts, village headmen or representative raiyats. It was known, however, that there had been numerous enhancements of rent which were passed on by the thikadars to the raiyats and which on account of their frequency and amount were, under the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act, illegal and only in part justified by any extension of cultivation that had occurred. The illegality of the enhancements was proved, in many instances, by papers produced by the raiyats or recovered from the thikadars and proprietors. Special credit must be given in this connection to two Assistant Settlement Officers, Babu Surendra Nath Banarji (No. II) and Babu Suresh Chandra Chakrabarti. After much negociation between the Settlement Officer, Mr. Phillip, and the two proprietors, I met them in camp and drew up terms of compromise according to which Gidhour agreed to have rents settled for all his raiyats under section 109C at rates one anna in the rupee less than the rents actually collected, foregoing all claims to extra rent for excess areas, while Khaira agreed to a reduction of two annas in the rupee, reserving a claim to extra rent for excess area in exceptional cases. The work of carrying out this amicable settlement protracted attestation to the end of June and in some areas was not completed till the recess had far advanced, but it has been a beneficent piece of work of which the Settlement Department may well be proud, as it had placed the relations of landlord and tenant in South Monghyr on a sounder basis than has existed for many a long year, and it is to be hoped that all parties will honourably observe the settlement that has been effected. A good deal of trouble was experienced in getting the Gidhour raiyats, whose legally payable rents had prior to the compromise been ascertained and recorded, to agree to the compromise rents, though the former would have been open to enhancement by the Civil or Settlement Court, while the latter are settled for 15 years. Ultimately out of 15,296 Gidhour tenants, 9,080 compromised on a rent of Rs. 1,16,530 in place of a former rent of Rs. 1,24,111, and out of 6,774 Khaira tenants, 5,513 compromised on a rent of Rs. 92,789 in place of a former rent of Rs. 1,05,804. The non-compromise raiyats of Gidhour were chiefly the tenants of the Ghatwali Estate of Chakai, regarding the proprietorship of which a suit has been brought by a relative of the former ghatwals. A larger number of section 105 applications have been filed in respect of this area.

Some section 109C work was also done among the smaller proprietors. 3,037 tenants of these minor landlords whose former rent was Rs. 42,663 compromised on a rental of Rs. 39,705. In all, nearly two and a half lakhs of rupees of rental have thus been settled during the year in South Monghyr, under section 109C.

In the jungly parts of South Monghyr, an attempt was made to define in the record the forest rights of landlord and tenant and the status of the village headman.

In the north-eastern portion of South Monghyr attestation was more simple, because rents were not generally found to have been illegally enhanced. The chief landlords are three—Darbhanga, Banaili and Mr. Grant of Sagrampur. Whatever enhancements had occurred in the Darbhanga Raj were justified by the irrigation improvements effected while the estate was under the Court of Wards. In the other two estates, a large area was found to be held on the bhaoli system. In the portion of thana Monghyr attested, many petty landlords were found. Disputes were numerous and difficult of decision, because of the facility with which fabricated evidence, oral and documentary, was manufactured.

55. Draft publication and section 103A objections.—Draft publication was carefully supervised and the raiyats of thanas Khargpur and Monghyr are reported to have taken a great interest in the work. Seven thousand three hundred and eleven cases under section 103A were filed and disposed of. In areas dealt with under section 109C, the 103A cases were mostly withdrawn, and few were filed in areas in which the compromise settlement preceded draft publication.

56. Commutation of rents.—1,050 applications, mostly from Mr. Grant's villages, were disposed of. There are still over 1,600 pending. Rents were commuted mainly on the basis of the landlord's realisation papers which were well kept and could be relied upon. It was difficult and would have been unfair to have adopted any other basis for commutation in this area.

57. Office work.—There was an unusually large programme of work to get through and there is a small residue uncompleted, because of the delay caused by the section 109C work in certain villages.

Cadastral Survey and Khanapuri.

58. As this was the first year in which the Bihar settlement staff ran its own cadastral survey, the progress of the work was watched with a certain amount of anxiety. It gives me pleasure to report that the new system of work was a complete success, and that the Superintendent of Provincial Surveys, who tested some of the maps, was of opinion that there had been no deterioration of quality under the new regime. Much credit is due to the Settlement Officer and to Messrs. Hubback and Cullis for the careful and detailed organisation which rendered the success of the year's working possible.

* * * * * * *

61. Preliminary training.—During September and October revised cadastral rules were drawn up on the model of the Ranchi rules, and the Assistant Settlement Officers and Kanungos were trained in survey, survey check map passing, camp organization and accounts.

62. Map and record check.—The maps were tested by 3·81 linear miles of survey check per square mile, of which 1·46 mile was independent check, 17 miles, personal check by Assistant Settlement Officers and ·53 miles, personal check by Head Inspectors and Kanungos. The check of record-writing amounted to 15·4 per cent. of the total number of plots. Of this check, ·6 per cent. was done by Assistant Settlement Officers, 2·4 per cent. by Head Inspectors and Kanungos, and 12·4 per cent. by Inspectors. The Settlement Officer does not consider the amount of superior check to be adequate, but disputes are so numerous that they very soon absorb most of the officer's time, and it must be remembered that in the process of deciding disputes, the Assistant Settlement Officer checks the khanapuri simultaneously.

63. Proprietory interests.—The writing-up of khewats was done by Inspectors, and their work was most carefully supervised by Assistant Settlement Officers and Kanungos. The Settlement Officer does not think that Inspectors have anything like the same opportunity for making illicit gains in this branch of their work under the system of single control as they had under the old system of dual control. The work is too laborious in these Bihar districts to be done entirely by Assistant Settlement Officers with their own hands.

64. Disputes.—There were 381 boundary disputes which were disposed of with the exception of 6 for which revenue survey maps could not be procured in time. The Settlement Officer of Bihar is at one with the Settlement Officer of Chota Nagpur in suggesting that there should be some provision in the Survey Act for the discouragement of frivolous boundary claims. There were 38,275 other disputes, averaging 42 per square mile. The majority of these were concerned with the system of rent, cash or produce, and a detailed enquiry, plot by plot, had often to be made. Apart from disputes as to whether land was held on cash or produce rent, a further dispute as to whether the produce rent was collected on the appraisement (danabandi) or division (batai) system, was very frequent. In many cases it was found that the usual system was appraisement, but that the raiyat had the option of division if he considered he had been over-assessed. Other difficulties experienced at khanapuri were the suppression of raiyats and claims of landlords to hold land in their own estates or tenures as raiyats. These last where particularly common in the north of thanas Sheikhpura and Lakhisarai, where many of the landlords are small men who have acquired fractional shares in estates or tenures after having held raiyati lands for many years.

65. Other features of the year's survey and khanapuri—

(i) Cadastral survey was completed for the whole of a circle before khanapuri was taken up. The Settlement Officer thinks, and I agree with him, that on the whole the disadvantages of this arrangement outweigh its advantages. He proposes to try a modified plan in the present season.

(ii) Some of the Assistant Settlement Officers were not sufficiently trained before the beginning of the season to be competent to pass maps after check. This threw much work on the Professional Adviser and is to be avoided, if possible, in futuro. The difficulty is that we do not always get the new officers deputed to Settlement early enough to give them the necessary training.

(iii) Much difficulty was experienced in linking up the cadastral survey of the villages on the south high bank of the Ganges with the work of previous seasons. I have referred to this point below. (Vide para. 71.)

(iv) Maps were inked up according to the Ranchi system by special draftsmen at the head-quarters of each camp. This arrangement turns out maps that look better and reproduce better than maps inked up by the amin himself. The inking up of plot numbers was rendered difficult by the extreme smallness of the plots.

(v) The revenue survey unit was modified in several instances under the new provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Large revenue survey villages, some of which covered 20 to 30 square miles, were divided into sub-villages, and insignificant revenue survey villages were amalgamated where possible.

(vi) Besides the preparation of the ordinary record-of-rights it was necessary to prepare a record-of-rights connected with irrigation. For the majority of the villages of the area, a simple record of the sources of irrigation in the village was prepared by the amin. This gave the plot numbers of irrigation works and indicated roughly the area served by each. It also showed the date of construction, the name of the constructor and the name of the person responsible for the upkeep of each work, and described succinctly the method of irrigation.

(vii) The payment of the large field staff including amins, tindals and coolies required very careful organization, both in the circle camps and in the head-quarters office. The Settlement Officer has described in his report the main features of the system and the general excellence of its results. Mr. Hubback is entitled to special credit in this connection.

66. Recess work.—The whole of the recess work which was this year of unprecedented magnitude was concentrated at Bhagalpur. Between the two districts (South Monghyr and Patna) no less than 26 lakhs of plots had to be dealt with in the Cadastral and Khanapuri recess office, a number which was more than 50 per cent. in excess of the previous average. The work was completed in good time in spite of a late start.

* * * * * *

Patna District.

Area, 1,966 square miles.

68. Programme.—The programme for the season of 1907-08 was the cadastral survey and khanapuri of thanas Barh, Mokamah and Bihar, including the outpost of Silao. These cover 811 square miles. In addition to this, it was found necessary to survey topographically about 19 square miles of diara.

70. Survey and Khanapuri check.—Cadastral survey started early in November and lasted until the end of January. Khanapuri was not completed in all circles till the middle of June. The survey was adequately tested by 4 linear miles of check per square mile, of which 1·5 linear mile was independent check, ·17 mile personal check by Assistant Settlement Officers and ·54 mile personal check by Head Inspectors and Kanungos. The average number of plots per square miles was 1,764, giving an average field of ·36 acre. The percentage of plots checked in khanapuri amounted to 14·4, of which ¼ per cent. only was checked by Assistant Settlement Officers and 2 per cent. by Head Inspectors and Kanungos. The check by gazetted officers is very small, but the decision of the numerous disputes of the area acted as an additional check.

71. Diara areas.—Considerable inconvenience was caused to the survey and khanapuri of villages on the northern edge of the district by the failure of the traverse party to plot on the cadastral sheets the stations of the previous surveys of North Bihar which were supposed to have extended South to the right high bank of the Ganges. The steps taken to rectify this omission considerably delayed the work of the field season. It was also discovered that the bed of the river lying between its high banks had not been completely covered by the traverse survey, and the ascertainment and survey of the gaps brew additional work on the settlement staff. Rules have since the close of the year been framed by the Superintendent of Provincial Surveys which will prevent the recurrence of such difficulties.

72. Urban and Municipal areas.—The non-municipal bazars of Mokamah, Bakhtiarpur, Soh and Silao were surveyed on the 64″ scale. Many congested village sites were also surveyed on the 32″ or 64″ scale. There are two municipalities in the area, Barh and Bihar. Both declined to have a survey made at their own expense and were dealt with on the lines laid down in the Board's letter No. 477A., dated 4th April 1893. The agricultural lands were surveyed in detail and the urban areas in block.

73. Irrigation records.—A work of considerable magnitude was involved in recording particulars of irrigation under the new sub-section 102 (gg) of the Bengal Tenancy Act. The record of irrigation of individual fields was well done by the amins, but very few proved equal to the task of preparing village notes and this had to be done mainly by Inspectors. The accuracy and value of the record remains to be tested at attestation. Irrigation records were also prepared for some of the larger canals. These were accompanied by sketch maps and were explained to the parties concerned.

74. Proprietary interests.—Khewat-writing presented considerable difficulties on account of the extreme subdivision and complexity of proprietary interests and the very defective state of the Collector's registers which appear in this district to be based not on the revenue survey village, but on the detached parcel of land belonging to an estate. In many instances nobody could point out the so-called "Collectorate mauza" which forms the basis of registration. The full measure of the difficulty will not be ascertained till the Land Registers come to be revised on the basis of the settlement records.

75. Disputes.—Boundary disputes numbered 460 and were mainly for small areas. Many were frivolous. All have been disposed of save a few to which Government was a party. Internal disputes numbered 39,436, and averaged 49 per square mile. The vast majority of the disputes dealt with produce rents.

It is obvious that the produce rent question in Patna will be the chief difficulty of attestation, and that a very grave problem of the settlement will be to decide the general line that should be followed in dealing with applications for commutation of produce rent.

76. Cost.—The cost of cadastral survey and record-writing worked out to Rs. 204 per square mile in Patna as compared with Rs. 165 in South Monghyr. Over the whole area of 1,742 square miles covered by the year's survey the average comes to Rs. 114 per square mile. The difference between the two districts is mainly due to the excessive minuteness of the average plot in Patna, where plots averaged 1,764 to the square mile as against 1,234 in Monghyr. The Settlement Officer has shown from the figures of previous Bihar settlements that the cost rate varies more or less constantly according to the size of the field. It varies also according to the number of disputes and other factor which it would be difficult to enumerate. I have shown in my letter No. 3008, dated 26th October 1908, submitting the estimates for 1909-10 that the previous Bihar cost rates found in annual reports cannot be safely relied on for comparison or as a foundation for future estimates. The experience of the past year in Bihar shows that it would be highly unsafe to adopt less than Rs. 180 as a normal basis to the cost of cadastral survey and khanapuri in Bihar settlement operations.

* Note.—This has been detached from the rest of the Division to keep the Bihar settlement work together.

80. A Second-half of the Second Programme.—All the pending objections to the published records were disposed of. Mr. Allanson passed orders in 116 appeals and applications for revision. In the 198 appeals and applications for revision disposed of by the Commissioner during the year, the Settlement Officer's orders were upheld in 150, modified in 10 and reversed in 25 cases, while 13 were otherwise disposed of.

81. B.—Third Programmes (Second-half).—The area, 824·66 square miles, cadastrally surveyed and khanapuried during the year lay in the subdivisions of Dumka, Pakaur, Godda, Jamtara and Deoghur. In order to complete the work as early as possible it was divided amongst 7 Assistant Settlement Officers, each circle having 6 Inspectors and 60 to 65 Amins. The circles were not all in compact blocks, as the areas were scattered.

The average size of the field was ·70 of an acre.

The check of cadastral survey averaged 5·26 linear miles per square mile, made up as follows: ·47 mile by Assistant Settlement Officers, ·74 mile by Head Inspectors, 2·73 miles by Inspectors, and 1·28 mile of independent partal, Khanapuri was also adequately tested. The subordinate staff checked 274,061 out of the total of 762,146 fields, or 36 per cent., while the number of plots checked by Assistant Settlement Officers was 238,788, representing 31 per cent. of the total number of plots khanapuried. Of the plots checked, 194,747 were checked in classification only and 44,041 throughout. The Settlement Officer and Mr. Robertson together inspected khanapuri in 119 villages and checked 16,516 plots.

As in the first-half of the programme the former classification was marked on Mr. Craven's maps, and was referred to in checking the present classification. On the whole, the new classification is slightly higher than Mr. Craven's, which was found in many cases to be unduly low. The change is mostly due to improvements effected within the past 15 years.

The number of internal disputes at khanapuri averaged 12 per square mile against 14 in the previous season. There were only 217 boundary disputes, many of which were merely revivals of disputes decided by Mr. Craven.

82. C.—Third Programme (First-half)—The area of 754·63 square miles under attestation lay in the subdivisions of Dumka, Godda, Deoghur and Jamtara. The work generally presented no special difficulties except in taluk Pabia of the Jamtara subdivision where the following three points received special consideration :—

(1) Mukarrari leases were found to have been granted by the zamindar to individuals for the reclamation of waste lands. Where they constituted encroachments on the headman's right of settlement or the raiyats' right of reclamation, or secured a rent in excess of the village rates, they were disallowed and appropriate orders passed.

(2) At last settlement considerable areas of forest lands were excluded from village boundaries under section 15 of Regulation III of 1872, and constituted forest reserves of the zamindar. The zamindar instead of preserving them as reserves has allowed the raiyats to reclaim them, and the question is now under consideration whether they should not be re-included in the villages from which they were carved.

(3) There are very large areas of chakran land in many villages. The holders of these lands were almost all recorded as jamabandi raiyats at last settlement and rents were settled for them with a note that instead of paying rent they render service to the zamindar. The nature of the services to be rendered is ofter uncertain, and it is being considered how the record should be framed so as to protect the increasts of the raiyats in the event of the zamindar attempting to resume the lands.

Rents were settled throughout the tract according to the instructions prescribed by the Settlement Officer in 1903 04. On the whole, the classification agrees very fairly with Mr. Craven's classification. For the whole area, the proportions of the several classes of rice land at the last settlement were 18, ·24, 57, 1, respectively, as against ·18, 23, 58 and 1 at the present settlement. At last settlement the total assessed area was 205,726 acres against 262,699 acres of the present. The increase in cultivation is 28 per cent. Rice lands have increased by 32 per cent., and bari (or upland) by 24 per cent. Of the total cultivated area, 49 per cent. is under rice and 51 per cent. under other crops as against 47 per cent. and 53 per cent., respectively, at last settlement.

The last settlement rate-rent was Rs. 2,47,150. The present rate-rent is Rs. 3,18,914, an increase of 29 per cent., as against an extension of cultivation of 28 per cent. Out of the last settlement rate-rent, a sum of Rs. 2,29,108 was finally settled. The present settled rents are Rs. 2,79,809 for the first five years and Rs. 2,85,227 from the sixth year. These rents are 22 and 24 per cent., respectively, over the last settlement settled-rent. The rents at present paid by the raiyats were found to amount to Rs. 2,34,144, an increase of Rs. 5,035 over the last settlement rents. The present settled-rents for the first five years show an enhancement of 19 per cent. over existing rents, and from the sixth year, of 21 per cent. The settled rents may, therefore, be considered fair and equitable.

83. The following additional matters may be noted—

* * * * *

(b) The reproduced sheets of former programmes had been made over for sale to the Subdivisional Officers.. As the sales proceeded very slowly, it was thought desirable to appoint a special establishment to take the maps to the spot and sell them to the villagers. The experiment has met with considerable success. The maps sold well, especially in the aboriginal tracts, and it is hoped that the greater part of the expenditure on reproduction will eventually be recouped from the sales.

* * * * *

(e) The gross cost-rate of the Second Programme has been Rs. 304 per square mile. After deduction of miscellaneous receipts in the shape of court-fees, etc., the net cost-rate is Rs. 261 per square mile. The gross cost-rate is divided as under over the main heads of expenditure:—(1) cadastral survey and khanapuri, Rs. 64; (2) preparation of records for attestation, Rs 33; (3) attestation, rent settlement and publication, Rs. 37; (4) disposal of objections under section 24, Rs. 37; (5) share of control Rs. 79; (6) Contingencies, Rs. 40; (7) Miscellaneous, Rs. 14. The cost-rate of the Third Programme now in progress has up to date been Rs. 150 per square mile distributed as follows:—Cadastral survey and khanapuri Rs. 59; preparation of records for attestation, Rs. 30; attestation and rent-settlement, Rs. 13: disposal of objections, Rs. 7; share of control, Rs. 24; and contingencies, Rs. 17.

(f) Costs are recovered in the Sonthal Parganas settlement exclusively from the proprietors, who derive considerable increase of income from the rent enhancement. Of the. Rs. 4,08,632, due from the proprietors of the Second Programme, all except Rs. 25,895 due from insolvent ghatwals of Deoghur and covered by certificate, has been recovered. Deposits of cost are being made by the proprietors of the Third Programme in instalments. Rupees 1,04,047 was recovered during the year, and there is an arrear of Rs. 47,901 which is mostly covered by certificate.

ORISSA DIVISION.

Dompara Estate in Cuttack.

Area—84 square miles; Villages, 28; Tenants, 8,557; Plots, 38,294.

84. The case work of this area which comprised the settlement of fair rents for 439 tenants in 23 cases under section 105 and the decision of 440 suits under section 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act was completed before the end of December, 1907.

* * * * *

It was decided in Government order No. 821, dated the 10th February 1908, that costs should be recovered on the following lines:—Waste lands were assessed at 2¾ annas per acre and cultivated and occupied lands at 10 annas per acre. For the latter the raiyats paid one-half of the costs and the zamindar the other half. These proportions were varied in the case of privileged raiyats and tenure-holders. The recovery of costs from raiyats has been postponed for a year on account of the distress and scarcity of the past season.

* * * * *

JAGIR MAHALS, INCLUDING PARIKUD, IN PURI.

Area—140 square miles; Villages, 128; Tenants, 13,996; Plots, 57,864.

85. * * * The programme for the year consisted of attestation, draft publication, disposal of objections under section 103A, copying and final publication of the records for the entire area and the disposal of cases under sections 105 and 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. The full programme was carried out with the exception of the case-work, the amount of which far exceeded anticipation. Forty-three cases under section 106 and 8,716 cases under section 105 were filed towards the close of the year, and it will take at least six months to dispose of them. Save in Parikud, a hitch has arisen regarding the section 105 cases, as one of the Jagir Mahal proprietors has refused to join.

86. The existing cash rents of the raiyats were lump rents for all lands held by them. With the approval of the Commissioner, the rents were split up and separate jamabandis were prepared for each village. These were followed in recording rents at attestation. Considerable difficulty was experienced in deciding produce rent disputes as the tenants combined to conceal the facts and the landlords had no reliable accounts nor agents. There were also numerous disputes about status and title, chiefly as regards lands held at quit-rents or rent-free by relatives and servants of the proprietors.

87. Draft publication followed attestation with commendable promptitude, and was well supervised by the Settlement Officer. One thousand and eighty-six objections under section 103A were filed and disposed of. Three copies of the khatians were as usual prepared, one for the Collector, one for the Court of Wards (Parikud) and the Receiver of the Jagir Mahals and a third for the raiyat. A fourth copy was prepared for the common Manager of Bhingarpur on his depositing the cost.

88. Rupees 116 per square mile was expended on the operations during the year, bringing the cost rate up to date to Rs. 232 per square mile. Proposals for appointment have been submitted by the Settlement Officer, and will be considered after the section 105 cases have been disposed of and the resulting enhancement, if any, is known.

CHOTA NAGPUR DIVISION.

RANCHI DISTRICT.

Area—7,128 square miles.

90. The programme of the year consisted of (i) the cadastral survey, khanpuri and recess work of 1,127 square miles in thanas Lohardaga, Lapung, Sisai, Karra, Mandar and Ranchi; (ii) attestation, disposal of objections and fair copying of records for 856 square miles in thanas Ghagra, Chainpur and Lohardaga; (iii) final publication of the records throughout an area of 1,618 square miles in thanas Gumla, Palkot, Kurdeg, Kochdega and Basia; (iv) disposal of suits under section 9A (8 of the Chota Nagpur Commutation Act for an area of 1,048 square miles in thanas Karra, Kolebira, Khunti, Kochdega and Basia; (v) computation of costs in respect of an area of 1,618 square miles in thanas Gumla, Palk Kochdega, Kurdeg and Basia; and (vi) identification of bhuinhari lands in the maps of the present survey for 1,127 square miles in thanas Lohardaga, Lapung, Sisai, Karra, Mandar and Ranchi. The whole programme was completed with the exception of bhuinhari identification. The number of villages in which there were bhuinhari lands was much greater than in previous seasons, and as the work could not be begun till Vandyke copies of the new maps were received from the Bengal Drawing Office, a portion of the work remained uncompleted at the end of the year.

92. The survey was completed in three months and the quality of the work was good. The incidence of survey check was 2·1 linear miles per square mile. The quadrilaterals, which are the basis of the field survey, were further checked by 1·7 linear miles per square mile. The daily outturn of amins was about 30 acres of survey or 50 khanapuri numbers. The cadastral maps, which were inked up by draftsmen attached to the khanapuri circles, reproduced very well.

93. The preliminary record-writing, including the decision of internal disputes, was completed by the middle of April. There were 21,006 disputes or an average of 18·6 per square mile, as against 21,134 previously recorded, or an average of 4·5 per square mile, for the area of 4,771 square miles previously surveyed. The increase of disputes is due to the fact that in the vicinity of Ranchi and Lohardaga surveyed in the past year, population is dense and cultivation more intense than in areas previously dealt with. The average size of a plot was 1 acre as against 1·7 acre in previous areas. Out of 685,637 plots, 76,876, or 11 per cent. were checked. The percentage is slightly below the prescribed standard of 12 per cent.

94. The number of boundary disputes decided during the year was 371, or an average of one dispute to every two villages under survey. Many of them were frivolous, and the Settlement Officer has suggested an amendment of the Survey Act to prevent the institution of groundless claims. His suggestion, which is supported by the Settlement Officer of Bihar, will receive consideration.

95. Three officers were employed on attestation work. Disputes were not numerous and prædial conditions were the only noteworthy subject of contention. There was considerable dispute about the amount of compulsory labour or begari renderable by the raiyats. It is found that in Christianised areas very little begari had been rendered for many years, and landlords' claims were generally disallowed. In the Bishunpur portion of thana Ghagra the principal landlord, Guru Prasad Singh, claimed as much as 60 days' begari per annum. On examination his claim was reduced to 12 days.

As in previous years, it was found that many of the bhuinhars whose tenures were surveyed under the provisions of Act II of 1869, had lost their lands, having either sold or mortgaged them or been forcibly dispossessed by their landlords. The restrictions on the alienation of bhuinhari tenures which have been imposed in the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act will, it is hoped, put a stop to these undesirable transfers.

Non-occupancy raiyats recorded as such under the provisions of Act I of 1879, account for 30 per cent. of the whole. As the principle of the settled raiyat has been embodied in the new Act, VI of 1908, the great majority of these will automatically obtain occupancy rights.

The average rates of rent per acre prevailing in the area attested were found to be as follows :—

	Occupancy holdings.			Non-occupancy holdings.
	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.
Thana Ghagra	1	14	8	2	15	2
„ „ Bishunpur outpost ...	1	14	10	3	3	4
„ Chainpur	1	7	0	2	0	6

Considering the poor quality of the land, particularly in the remote and jungly areas of Bishunpur and Chainpur, these rates are very high, and the rents will require to be carefully scrutinised in the event of a general settlement of fair rents being undertaken under the provisions of the new Act.

On the subject of forest rights the Settlement Officer writes as follows:—

"The area attested consisted largely of jungle. Throughout the three thanas it was found that the raiyats possess the customary right to take wood for fuel and domestic purposes. This customary right is, however, subject to well-recognized restrictions, viz.—

(a) The raiyats are entitled to take only so much wood as is required for bond fide domestic purposes.

(b) They cannot cut valuable trees, or trees larger than a certain girth, i.e., about 27 inches in circumference.

"Both the customary right and restrictions have been carefully recorded. In the area attested and in the area under khanapuri, there was much evidence forthcoming to show that raiyats do habitually abuse their rights, and that they are generally extravagant in the matter of felling trees and clearing jungle.

"The restrictions now recorded, which are in accordance with admitted custom, may enable the local authorities to check this wanton extravagance in some cases. But it is obvious, if a large portion of the jungle is to be preserved, legislation is urgently needed. The difficulties in the way of such legislation are almost insuperable, as nothing effective can be done without interfering with the proprietary rights of the landlords, and curtailing the customary rights of the villagers to some extent. Many of the landlords favour a scheme for the partition of the jungles, one part being reserved for the raiyats, and the other reserved for the landlord. This, of course, is a simple solution of the difficulty, but it is likely that the jungle reserved for the raiyats would rapidly be cleared, if no measures for preserving it, and checking extravagance were devised. I think, however, that it is possible to devise such measures, and it is likely that a solution of the question will be found on those lines ultimately."

96. The computation programme was completed, but owing to the prevailing scarcity recovery operations were suspended

97. The area statistics compiled in recess show that out of a total of 548,194 acres in thanas Chainpur, Bishunpur and Ghagra the don, or low land, comprised only 11·2 per cent., the tanr or uplands comprised 34·8 per cent. and the jungle and uncultivated lands comprised 54 per cent. The area cropped every year amounted to only 142,893 acres, or 26 per cent. of the whole. The important food crops are rice, gondli, marua and urid and the only important non-food crop is surguja.

98. The cost-rate for the survey and khanapuri of the area worked out to Rs. 105 61 per square mile as against Rs. 86·24 and Rs. 89·52 for the two previous years. The increase in the cost-rate is explained by the greater than normal percentage of cultivated lands and the comparative smallness of the average field. There was an additional item of expenditure in the salary of kanungos who were employed to help the Assistant Settlement Officers in the inspection of cadastral survey and khanapuri. The cost-rate of Rs. 105·61 was divided over main heads as follows:—Cadastral survey, Rs. 34; khanapuri, Rs. 25·63; completion of maps, Rs. 15·18; area extraction, Rs. 9·47; and completion of records and statistics, Rs. 21·33. For the total survey and settlement charges over an area of 5,898 square miles the Settlement Officer anticipates an average cost-rate of Rs. 184 per square mile, or annas 4·7 per acre.

Dhalbhum Estate in Singhbhum.

Area—1,200 square miles.

99. The programme of the year consisted of (i) the cadastral survey, khanapuri and recess work of 5,80·77 square miles; (ii) attestation, objection work, office work and ghatwali land identification for an area of 586·67 square miles. The programme was carried out with the exception of a small residue of fair copying work which could not be completed on account of the dearth of Bengali muharrirs.

* * * * *

101. The survey of the area was completed in about three months and was carried out mainly by up-country amins, as owing to the unhealthiness of the tract and the difficulty of the work among the Atkosi hills, Bengali amins were found to be of little use. The survey check was adequate, averaging 2 linear miles per square mile in addition to 1 linear mile of quadrilateral check. As about half the area was jungle, the check per square mile of cultivated land was about 4 linear miles.

102. One of the most notable features of the preliminary record-writing was the small number of internal disputes which amounted to only 739 in all, or little more than one per square mile as against an average of 18·6 per square mile in the Ranchi area. The cause of the paucity of disputes is partly that there is abundant land available for reclamation and partly that the whole pargana is owned by a single proprietor holding direct, unlike Ranchi, where there are numerous proprietary tenure holdors.

The average size of a plot was 1·6 acre. Over 11 per cent. of the total number of plots was checked. There was a great deal of illness among the inspectors, and this accounts for the slight shortage from the 12 per cent. standard. The average daily outturn of amins' work was about 20 acres of survey or 25 khanapuri numbers. This is considerably less than the average for Ranchi district, and was due to the inferiority of the staff and the inability of the up-country amins to do khanapuri in the Bengali language.

The recess work finished early and the maps reproduced very well. Each khanapuri circle had a draftsman to ink up maps. Uniformity and a fair standard of excellence were thus secured.

103. At the attestation stage there were few disputes about rent and predial conditions. The main subjects of dispute were the rights of headmen and jungle rights. In the majority of the attested villages there was a headman or pradhan, who collected rents and represented the village community in its dealings with the State and the zamindar. A special record of their rights and obligations was prepared in the form sanctioned in the Board's order No. 1230A.—T., dated the 8th November 1907. The original pradhans belonged nearly all to the aboriginal races, who cleared the tract, viz., Sonthals, Bhumijes and Mundas. The statistics now collected show that the aboriginal headmen are being rapidly supplanted and that unless the protective measures which have just been embodied in the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act meet with success, their total disappearance is only a matter of time. Aboriginal headmen have usually been replaced by non aborigines, but there has been of late a tendency to resume pradhani villages and keep them khas. The ghatwals have fared no better than the aboriginal pradhans. Their rights have been sold up in about 70 per cent. of cases, and only 30 per cent. have succeeded in preserving their tenures intact. The Ghatwali compromise of 1885 which was intended to preserve the ancient rights of the ghatwals is reported to have proved a failure. The people who have supplanted the aboriginal pradhans and ghatwals are mostly Bengalis from Midnapore and other adjoining districts. The main subject of dispute with regard to the pradhani tenure and office was its heritability, and the right of the pradhan to take fresh settlement. Pradhans belonging to the original family of reclaimers were all found to have hereditary rights. Twenty per cent. of the other pradhans were also proved to have hereditary rights, and the remainder were found to have a right of resettlement on the expiry of their leases during their lifetime. All lands reclaimed in the village by pradhans or their ancestors, or otherwise acquired by them before the acquisition of pradhani rights were recorded as their raiyati lands, and will be preserved for them in the event of their dispossession from office. No objections were made to these entries.

104. It was found that by custom all raiyats as soon as they took settlement of land, became ipso facto occupancy raiyats and that the 12 years' criterion, therefore, did not apply. The number of raiyats recorded as having khuntkatti rights was 943. Their tenancies are usually large ones, and the amount of land included is not less than 5 per cent. of the whole cultivated area. The provisions of the new Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act on the subject have defined and will protect their rights.

105. Throughout the area attested it was found that the resident raiyats of villages possessed the customary right to take wood for fuel and domestic purposes. This right is subject to certain well-recognized restrictions which have been duly recorded. A jungle cess of 6 pies per rupee of rent which was found to have been levied from the raiyats for the last seven or eight years was held by the Settlement Officer to be illegal, after full consideration of the objections of the proprietor. The Settlement Officer reports that there is the same amount of wasteful destruction of jungle practised in Dhalbhum as in Ranchi. It is doubtful whether the restrictions that have been recorded will be successful in preventing a continuance of these practices. The probability is that nothing but special legislation will be effective in arresting the deforestation of the country."

106. Artificial irrigation was found to be practised to a considerable extent from water reservoirs constructed by the throwing of dams across valleys. It is remarkable that there were very few disputes about the use of water for irrigation.

107. There were very few disputes also about rent. The average rate per bigha of rice land found to prevail was 11 annas. In about one-third of the attested area the system of produce rent was found to prevail. It is probable that most of these produce rents will be commuted under the provisions of the new Act.

108. The raiyats' right to reclaim lands from scrub jungle or waste and to bring them under cultivation without the landlord's or even the pradhan's consent is universally admitted. It was further found that by local custom, the pradhan alone was entitled to settle new raiyats on the lands included within the periphery of the village.

109. Out of a total area of 375,757 acres in the area attested, rice lands covered 23·52 per cent. gora or up-lands 14·72 per cent., and jungle and waste-lands the remaining 61·76 per cent.

110. The cost-rates for the cadastral survey and khanapuri of the area work out to Rs. 105·53 per square mile as against Rs. 124 44 for the previous year. The cost-rate for that year was abnormally high owing to the heavy initial expenditure on tents, instruments, etc. The distribution of the cost-rate over main heads is as follows:—Cadastral survey, Rs. 25·80; khanapuri, Rs. 29·21; completion of maps, Rs. 15·10; area extraction, Rs. 8·83; completion of records and statistics, Rs. 22·59.

CHAPTER IV.

(See Appendices I to X.)

REVISION SETTLEMENTS AND MAINTENANCE OF LAND RECORDS.

Initial revision of the record-of-rights in Orissa.

111. In the annual report of the last year a full account was given of the initiation of the revisional settlement operations in Orissa. The progress of the first year was disappointing. The causes of the failure to work up to the original programme were examined, and considerable changes of procedure, organization and staff were effected before the opening of the year now under report. The results attained during the year prove that the changes have been effective, and that under the new regime the revision settlement has made very satisfactory progress.

* * * * *

113. The tabular statement below compares the expenditure of the year with that of the previous year, and shows the progress made, by lakhs of plots where possible, in the different stages of the work:—

Expenditure	1906-07. Rs. 1,40,636	1907-08. Rs. 2,24,753
Items of work.	No. of plots.	No. of plots.
Initial copying of records	22¼ lakhs	28¾ lakhs
Khanapuri	11 „	20¾ „
Attestation	7 „	12¼ „
Section 103A objections ...	7 „ (5,659 cases)	12¾ „ (14,934 cases).
Check and Terij writing ...	4¼ lakhs	13¾ lakhs.
Fair copying	1½ „	13¾ „
Comparison	½ „	13¼ „
Final publication	...	10¼ „
Cases under section 105 ...	...	3,578 cases.
Ditto 106 ...	...	167 „

While the expenditure has been about 60 per cent. heavier than in the previous year, the progress has been more than twice as great. The achievement has also been in accordance with the revised programme of the year which has been fully worked up to. During the coming field season it is expected that an even faster rate of progress will be attained because last season the khanapuri programme was upset by the exceptional floods which devastated the southern portion of Balasore and the northern half of Cuttack, while the progress of attestation was impeded by the fact that for the first half of the season it had to be done in patches, and frequent moves of circle camps were necessary.

Initial copying.—This work has been done mainly at Cuttak where a second office had to be opened after completion of the bulk of the Balasore work. The initial copying of records is now about 20 lakhs in advance of khanapuri, and provides material for the programme of the present field season.

Khanapuri.—This work was in charge of Mr. James, who was aided by 4 Assistant Settlement Officers and later by four kanungos transferred from the attestation camps. The original idea was that khanapuri should be left to the supervision of Inspectors or kanungos, but it was very early found that responsible gazetted officers were necessary for its supervision. The alterations of procedure introduced at the beginning of the season raised the average outturn of recorders from 70 plots per diem to over 100. During the closing months of the year, the average had risen to about 120 plots. The chief business of the khanapuri officer is to see that his field staff records all changes correctly. It was found that some officers paid more attention to disputes than to check work, and it has been decided that in the present season they will enquire into those disputes only in which the facts of possession are at issue, leaving purely title disputes, as for example claims to shares, to be decided at the attestation stage. The rules have been slightly modified in order to concentrate attention as far as possible on the waste land plots and other areas in which encroachments, reclamation, etc., occur most frequently. The number of disputes dealt with at khanapuri was 13,606 which gives an average of about 13½ per square mile.

Attestation.—Nearly 13 lakhs of plots were attested during the year. The average monthly outturn of plots improved from 9,500 in the previous year to 15,190 in the year under report. The outturn was adversely affected by the patchy nature of the first half of the programme. Towards the close of the year the average outturn had risen to nearly 20,000 plots per officer. It has been found desirable in the interests of the programme not to take up attestation too soon after khanapuri. Khanapuri goes on till the end of May or later, and the attestation of at least half of each season's work must be postponed till the opening of the next field season, as otherwise it would have to be done in patches. With about 10 lakhs of plots in hand, the attestation circles of the following season can be arranged compactly. It is impossible to carry on attestation throughout the rains for climatic reasons, as well as for the reason that late attestation would throw out section 130A work and the preparation of records in recess for final publication.

Draft publication and section 103A objections.—Draft publication followed closely on attestation and was found on inspection to be carried out satisfactorily. The number of objections filed per 100 plots was 1·16 as against ·90 in the previous year. Of the 14,934 cases, 14,400 were applications for mutation work to which the landlords gave consent after publication.

Office work and final publication.—Office work was well organized and excellent progress was made. The Bihar rules were followed with local modifications. At final publication copies of the records were distributed free to landlords and tenants in revenue-paying areas. Khatians and khewats of revenue-free proprietors and their tenants were sold to them at 2 annas a sheet, and as the number of such persons is very great in Orissa, the amount realized was Rs. 6,934 which will be credited to the cost of settlement.

Case work.—Eighty per cent. of the section 105 cases disposed of were suits filed by raiyats for the settlement of fair rents on lands reclaimed by them since the last settlement, which their landlords would not let them have except on produce or rack rents. Some landlords did not put in an appearance, and it is said to be their intention to sue for khas possession. Others have appealed to the Special Judge against the rents settled. I will deal further with this question below.

114. Annual maintenance.—No annual maintenance was attemped during the year, but arrangements were completed to experiment in this direction from the present field season. Recorders nominated by the local panchayats worked as mubarrirs during the past field season and were trained in their duties. They were put through a special course of survey training during the recess. A programme was prepared for the maintenance of records in about 1,000 square miles of north Balasore, and detailed proposals were submitted by the Settlement Officer which have been provisionally approved by the Board. The draft maintenance Bill was received back from the Government of India in the course of the year with certain criticims for consideration, and it was suggested that the experiment should be tried this year of maintaining records without resort to legislation. The work that has been initiated in north Balasore will supply the necessary basis for a reply to the Government of India. The draft Bill has been circulated to selected officers and local bodies, from most of whom replies have been received, and are now under the consideration of Government. Mr. Garrett has written a voluminous report containing a history of revenue law in Orissa and a criticism of the Bill. One result of this has been the deputation of Mr. Maddox, I.C.S., on a special enquiry which embraces the whole of the agrarian conditions of the division.

115. General programme and estimates of the Revision Settlement.—After we had gained some experience of the working of the revised procedure of the revision settlement, I examined the general programme and estimates in detail with the help of the Settlement Officer in March 1908 and drew up a comprehensive scheme for the completion of the operations. It had long before become evident that the operations would cost a great deal more than originally anticipated. In my report No. 1060, dated the 31st March 1908, as modified in No. 2931, dated the 15th October 1908, I have shown that there is no hope of completing the operations before September 1912, and but little chance of keeping the expenditure lower than 11¾ lakhs of rupees instead of 6½ lakhs as originally estimated. The estimated cost-rate for an area of approximately 5,800 square miles is practically Rs. 200 per square mile. This may seem high for a revision settlement, but it has to be remembered that from the stage of khanapuri onwards, the operations differ in no way from those that have to be undertaken in original settlements. The attestation, draft publication section 103A objections, office work, final publication and case-work are just the same as in Bihar, where in our latest programmes we have had to allow Rs. 160 for cadastral survey and khanapuri and Rs. 210 for settlement stages of work.

116. Some special features of the year's work.—(a) Extent of changes in the old records.—The number of plots attested was 1,283,591. The number of khatians was 352,872, so that each khatian contained on an average less than four plots. The number of changes in the ownership of holdings was 257,338 equal to a percentage of 73 on the number of holdings. This proportion seems very high. It is due to the fact that in a very large number of khatians there are several co-sharers, and it rarely happens that no change has occurred in 10 years' time. The number of boundary changes was 421,950 equal to 33 per cent. of the number of plots. Boundaries are being omitted from the finally published records as their entry entails numberless unessential alterations. The number of changes in the description column which includes plot-subdivisions was 167,885 equal to 13 per cent. of the total number of plots. The number of changes in fields was 80,292 equal to 6·3 per cent. of the whole. The number of these would have been much greater if we had attempted to amalgamate fields, but this sort of alteration was vetoed after the first year's experience. The number of alterations due to mistakes in area extraction was 1,506 or ·12 per cent.

(b) There are three prominent difficulties in the relations of the landlords and tenants of Orissa which will have to be settled by Government before long. They are (1) the respective rights of landlord and tenant in newly-reclaimed lands, (2) the transfer of holdings and the amount of mutation fee demandable by the landlord, and (3) the right of the landlord to bar occupancy rights.

(1) Reclaimed lands.—The raiyats claim the right to hold lands reclaimed with the tacit or implied consent of their landlords at fair and equitable rates determined with reference to the prevailing rates of the village. The landlords wish to treat the reclaimers as trespassers unless they will consent to accept whatever terms the landlords choose to impose, and many zamindars appear to think that all reclaimed land should be recorded as their private land to be cultivated on produce rents by mere tenants-at-will.

(2) Transfer of raiyati rights.—The practice of transfer has undoubtedly become everywhere very common. Whether it is on the whole beneficial or mischievous to the tenantry is a point that may be open to dispute, but the landlords accept the practice, and as between them and their tenants the only question is what amount of mutation fee should be paid by the tenant for the purchase of his landlord's consent. The ordinary zamindar of the reasonable type is content to accept one-fourth of the consideration money as a mutation fee and the purchasing raiyat gladly pays this. The unreasonable and grasping zamindar endeavours to bleed the purchaser, and I am told that in some cases as much as 100 per cent. of the consideration money has been demanded. The result of course is that the raiyats conceal the true purchase-money or disguise the transfer by calling it a perpetual sub-lease or mortgage. Government, I think, should prescribe a definite limit to the mutation fee and should record the transferee as soon as he tenders payment of the amount fixed by law.

(3) Bar of occupancy rights.—This is intimately connected with the question of reclamation rights, but extends also to nij-chas lands or land that would be recorded elsewhere as bakasht malik. It has lately been discovered by some proprietors that section 178 of the Bengal Tenancy Act is not one of those that have been extended to Orissa, and under cover of the argument that in the absence of section 178, section 7 of Act X of 1859 has not been repealed by the extension to Orissa of sections 20-21 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, they have been taking kabuliyats from the cultivators of reclaimed and nij-chas lands in bar of occupancy rights. The argument is not accepted by the Settlement Courts. It remains to be seen whether it will be accepted by the Civil Court. If it is held by the latter to be sound, legislation will at once become necessary. I proposed in the course of the year the extension of section 178 to Orissa, but the proposal has been held in abeyance pending the report of Mr. Maddox on this and other questions discussed by Mr. Garrett. That zamindars are rapidly increasing the area held in their own cultivating possession is obvious from the figures collected at attestation, for while the nij-jot area remained exactly as before, the nij-chas area was found to have increased from 14,787 to 17,639 acres or by nearly 20 per cent. The figures seem to dispose of the complaint of the zamindars that they are being ruined by the revision settlement's disregard of their nij-jot and nij-chas rights.

(c) Attitude of the people towards the operations.—I have not the slightest doubt from what I have personally seen in the khanapuri and attestation camps that the revision settlement is eagerly welcomed by the raiyats of Orissa, and that when certain persons say that the operations are harassing to the poor raiyats, they are talking nonsense. The only people who object to the settlement are oppressive landlords whose misdeeds are brought to light by it.

The Settlement Officer writes as follows on this subject :—

"A large number of zamindars still regard the operations with some disfavour, specially those who are oppressive or grasping. The revision is, on the other hand, evidently welcomed by the tenants for the reasons given in the Director's Annual Report last year. This was strikingly shown during the past season's khanapuri operations in Cuttack. I have previously described how we were forced to select special areas in Cuttack in order that unnecessary harassment should not be caused to tenants holding lands in the flooded tracts. Thus in thana Tirtol certain areas in which considerable losses had occurred were excluded. When Mr. James, the Assistant Settlement Officer in charge was inspecting the work in the adjoining protected area, a large number of tenants from the flooded portion came to him and begged that operations should start at once in their tract. They went so far as to deny loss of crops, and thereby ran the risk of losing the takavi advances sanctioned by the Collector. The Chakla kanungo happened to be with Mr. James at the time, and assured him there had been serious loss of crop and the latter did not therefore accede to the tenants' request.

From time to time paragraphs appear in various papers purporting to be reports of meetings of landlords and tenants protesting against the revision operations. There is little doubt that the writers of these reports are entirely influenced by the landlord."

Maintenance of Land Records in Sambalpur.

118. During the year the limits of Revenue Inspectors' circles in Sambalpur were re-arranged so as to correspond, as far as possible, with the boundaries of police-stations as revised by the Inspector-General of Police. The conduct of the Patwari staff was on the whole satisfactory. Three were dismissed for incompetence, and 1 for dishonesty, while 6 were suspended and fines amounting to Rs. 821 were imposed, chiefly for non-residence. The Deputy Commissioner has proposed, and I have sanctioned, the distribution of sums realised in the shape of Patwari fines amongst the most deserving of the staff. Patwaris are compelled to live within their circles. During the year the number of non-resident patwaris was reduced from 37 to 6. Twenty-one patwaris and 27 candidates for appointment received survey instruction in the classes opened during the rains at Revenue Inspectors' head-quarters. The pay of patwaris at present varies from Rs. 9 to Rs. 11 per mensem. In these days of rising prices it is impossible to procure the services of competent men on the wages offered, and the Deputy Commissioner is considering whether there should not be three grades on Rs. 10, Rs. 12 and Rs. 15. The pay of a patwari according to the new system would not vary according to his circle, but according to his position on the list. The proposal deserves serious consideration.

The testing of khasra entries by Revenue Inspectors was adequate. It covered 122,149 plots in 1,930 villages, or 10 per cent. of the total khasra entries of the whole district. The Superintendent of Land Records checked 4,605 plots in 230 villages, and in addition enquired into 423 miscellaneous applications. The Assistant Superintendent checked 3,989 plots in 245 villages, besides correcting the records of 74 villages and doing some miscellaneous work. The Tahsildars of Sambalpur and Bargarh tested 772 entries in 120 villages and the additional Tahsildar of Bargarh 206 entries in 21 villages. The Deputy Commissioner tested 237 khasra entries in 14 villages and examined the Patwari papers of 147 villages, while the Subdivisional Officers tested 209 entries in 38 villages. The jamabandis of 1,899 villages were filed punctually before the due date and those of the remaining 31 villages were filed before the close of the year. The number of jamabandi entries checked by kanungos was 132,028 and the average percentage of inaccuracies discovered was only ·34 per cent. of the total number tested. The office of the kanungo, Sambalpur Tahsil, was inspected by the Superintendent of Land Records once, and that of Bargarh Tahsil once by the Deputy Commissioner and twice by the Superintendent of Land Records. The result of inspection was found to be on the whole satisfactory.

119. The inclusion of Sambalpur within Bengal has been a very great advantage to the Province from the help that its system of land maintenance has been to us in considering the details of the annual maintenance scheme proposed to be introduced in Orissa. I paid a visit to Sambalpur during the last cold weather in order to study the Central Provinces system on the spot and familiarize myself with its working. The Deputy Commissioner (Mr. Moberly) who takes a keen interest in the work of his patwaris and Revenue Inspectors, gave me every help in obtaining the information I wanted. He has submitted proposals for the issue in codified form of those Central Provinces circulars which, as they stand or as modified, are applicable to Sambalpur. Another question which was discussed was the feasibility of a general revision of the trace maps of settlement, which though based on a cadastral survey made by the Survey of India some years ago and kept up to date by the Patwaris, have, through defects of tracing, in many villages ceased to be absolutely accurate. I have deferred consideration of the question till the present cold weather, when I hope to visit the district along with the Superintendent of Provincial Surveys and get the benefit of his advice.

120. The returns of the Mutation offices established at Bettiah, Hajipur, and Mahnar under the Land Records Maintenance Act, VII of 1895, show a slight improvement in their working, the number of mutations registered being 3,028 as compared with 2,950 in 1905-06 and 2,771 in 1906-07. The amount realized in fees was Rs. 320 against Rs. 295 in the previous year. The total receipts including these fees amounted to Rs. 1,570, while the expenditure incurred in maintaining the offices was Rs. 3,335. The system is obviously far from a success.

The results of the working of the Mutation offices.

121. The figures embodied in Appendices VII to X indicate the results obtained in the record of mutations and the inspection of rent-rolls in Government and Wards' Estates for which a survey and record-of-rights have been completed. The standard of mutation report estimated as normal in Board's Circular order No. 11 of April 1903, was attained or exceeded in the Government Estates of five districts only. It was approached in two districts, while in the remaining seven districts the percentage fell considerably short. Taking the Government Estates as a whole, the percentage attained was 6·26 against 4·42 and 4·07 in the two preceding years.

Maintenance of Land Records and inspection of rent-rolls in Government and Wards' Estates.

In the Khurda Estate of Puri, a complete record of mutations was affected in the Milan khasra operations, which were inspected by me in the course of the year. I am unable to give detailed information regarding them, as the final report on the operations has not yet been furnished by the officer in charge. In the Government Estates of Kotdesh and Kodhar, in the same district, the applications filed for mutation were small on account of the failure of crops. In the Banki Estate the low percentage of mutations is attributed by the Collector to the inefficiency of the mutation staff and steps have been taken to improve it. In Balasore the low percentage is only nominal, as the greater portion of the area was covered by the revision settlement which will supply a complete record of mutations, and the remainder was temporarily omitted from the scope of the revision operations because of the distress caused by exceptional floods. In Chota Nagpur the mutation work of Palamau appears to have been well carried out. The returns for other districts are blank.

122. As regards the Wards' Estates referred to in the Appendices, the prescribed standard was reached only in four estates, namely, Bahadurpur in Monghyr, Delang and the Garh Ghoradiah and Kalupara sarbarakari estates in Puri and Janampiri Estate in Ranchi. As stated in previous years, the percentage of mutations is very low in the Hathwa Estate on account of the system of usufructuary mortgage being in force by which the tenants avoid absolute alienations while obtaining the temporary accommodation required. No mutations were recorded in the Dompara Wards' Estate as the settlement operations there have just been completed. In the Delang Estate of Puri the satisfactory results are due to the detection of unreported mutations by the tahsil staff at the time of rent collection. In the Sonthal Parganas the percentage of mutations recorded is nominal, because the estate managers and tahsildars have to deal chiefly with headmen and in few villages only with raiyats. In future years it would be sound to show in column 3 of the return only a figure which would be composed of the number of headmen in pradhani villages added to the number of raiyats in khas villages.

123. The results of inspection of rent-rolls are shown in Appendix X, the form of which was altered this year (vide paragraph 18 above), to distinguish the check of superior agency from that of subordinate agency. These two were formerly mixed up and it was impossible to say how far the inspection was really effective. The returns which have been received this year are not very complete, because in many cases no separate record of superior and inferior check was kept. It is hoped that in future years there will be an improvement in the returns. The advantage of the new form may be illustrated from the case of Banki, where the rent-roll of 16,421 tenants out of 31,029 was inspected by subordinate agency and 243 unreported mutations were detected, while the rent-roll of 864 tenants was inspected by superior agency and no less than 179 unreported mutations detected. This seems to show that the check by subordinate agency was wanting in thoroughness. The former standard of check prescribed in Board's Circular Order No. 11 of April 1903 was 50 per cent. I should like to see this made the standard for the subordinate agency and 5 or 10 per cent. set as a standard for superior agency. Prominent attention may be drawn in this respect to the work done systematically in the Sambalpur district under the Central Provinces system.

124. The Bhagalpur reports were received late and are incomplete because the managers of the major Wards' estates of that district have either no papers or incomplete papers or have not submitted returns. The reports of the Patna Division were also received late. The Commissioner is dissatisfied with the mutation work of the Patna, Gaya and Shahabad districts and is taking steps to ensure that the subject will receive more adequate attention in the present year. The Midnapore report also received late explains that all the major Government and Wards' estates of the district are still under process of settlement and that mutations are being incorporated in the records by the Settlement Department.

CHAPTER V.

Utilization of Land Records.

125. I have been favoured by all District Officers with extracts from their Land Revenue Administration Reports for 1907-08 dealing with the subject of the utilization of Land Records and it is encouraging to find that appreciation of the usefulness of settlement records, cadastral maps, and thana index maps in all branches of the administration continues to grow apace. A settlement is gradually spreading over fresh areas of the Province, District Officers are more and more able to testify to the help they and their subordinates have received from the settlement records in criminal and revenue cases and in the general work of administration. The difference that exists from this point of view between a district that has been fully surveyed and settled and one that has not yet been touched by settlement operations may well be illustrated by a contrast of the reports of the Collectors of Muzaffarpur and Hooghly. The former writes :—

In criminal cases survey plot numbers of the disputed lands are furnished by the Police in most of the cases investigated by the Police. At Sadar the Magistrate in charge of receiving petitions insists of the survey plot numbers being given by the parties in direct cases also. This is chiefly done in cases under sections 107, 133, 144 and 145, Criminal Procedure Code. The survey plot numbers are noted by him in the proceedings drawn up in such cases. The parties are called upon to file copies of the survey and settlement records as evidence in support of their statements. In some cases cross petitions of complaint have been disposed of then and there on the evidence of the khatians produced. Mr. Rowland Chandra (the senior Magisterial officer) has made the fullest use of such records during the year under review. The other Magistrates have also used these records freely in cases arising out of land dispute before them, and in chaukidari matters the survey maps are found to be of great utility.

The survey and settlement records have been equally freely used in revenue work during the year. They are referred to in every case under section 40, Bengal Tenancy Act. In land acquisition cases valuations are made on the basis of these records. They have also been referred to by the Certificate Officer to verify the rent payable to Wards' estates. The record-keeper has referred to these records in certificate cases when there is any doubt about the present proprietor. The record-keeper has also verified the local names of the villages from the settlement records where there has been a doubt about the correct publication of a sale notification. The Excise Deputy Collector has used the survey maps for the extension of the distillery area. The settlement records have also been used in income-tax inquiries and in writing the Fishery Report. These records have also been used during the year in most of the Land Registration contested cases. In matters connected with the administration of the Courts of Wards, references are made freely to the survey and settlement records. They are also generally used in partition cases and in disposing of cess revaluation objections.

On the other hand, the Collector of Hooghly writes:—

Survey and settlement records were not utilized in any way in this district during the past year, and hence the section under that head in this office Land Revenue Administration Report for 1907-08 was blank. There has been no regular survey and settlement yet in this district.

126. To a keen District Officer good maps and accurate land records are absolutely necessary to do justice to the task of administering his charge and it is because I am fully alive to this that I have pressed on the attention of Government the necessity of so increasing settlement establishments and re-arranging the general provincial programme as to enable the deltaic districts of Bengal to be tackled at an earlier date than originally proposed. According to the sanctioned programme districts like Jessore, Khulna, 24-Parganas, Howrah, Hooghly, Midnapore, Bankura and Burdwan will not be touched for ten or fifteen years yet. Most of them are districts which more than others require to be submitted to the scrutiny of survey and settlement and would have their administration lightened and improved by the existence of good maps and records. The advantages derived by District Officers from settlement records are for the present most apparent from the reports of the Collectors of the North Bihar districts, the Orissa districts, and the Deputy Commissioners of the Sonthal Parganas, Singhbhum and Ranchi. From the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions there is little to report, because little has yet been accomplished.

127. Regarding the use made of settlement records by Civil Courts there is little information. It was brought to my notice by Mr. Byrne, I.C.S., when officiating as District Judge of Midnapore, that the Munsifs' Courts of that district paid less attention than they ought to those provisions of the amended Bengal Tenancy Act which prescribe the inclusion in rent-suit plaints of information extracted from the settlement records, and he suggested that the Settlement Officers should keep the Civil Courts regularly informed of the progress of final publication in districts wholly or partially under settlement. A circular has been issued on the subject to Settlement Officers, and District Judges have been requested to forward extracts from the Settlement Officer's quarterly statements of areas finally published to the subordinate courts concerned.

128. From the District Officers' reports it is clear that in documents affecting land, presented for registration, the maps and records of settlement are playing an increasingly important part. It was considered in the course of the year whether a rule could be framed under the Registration Act to make the insertion of areas according to the settlement records obligatory, and though legal opinion was against this, steps have been taken on the executive side, as far as possible, to bring the description of lands in documents fully into line with their description in the settlement records.

Maintenance of Boundary Marks.

129. In order to secure greater uniformity in the treatment of the subject of boundary marks in district reports, a special circular was issued from this office in May 1908 containing instructions for the guidance of District Officers in the preparation of their reports. The reports that have been received this year show that the subject has, on the whole, received more careful attention than usual and that District Officers are fully alive to the importance of taking proper steps for the inspection and maintenance of boundary marks. In areas that came under survey and settlement considerable sums are spent on the erection of these marks and as their disappearance cannot but be seriously prejudicial to the interests of raiyats, proprietors and Government, the labour that is spent on their preservation is not labour lost. The notes below summarize the work that has been done in each Division. Fuller details will be found in tabular form in Appendix XI.

RESOLUTION ON THE WIDER DISTRIBUTION OF QUININE IN PICE-PACKETS.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MEDICAL.

RESOLUTION—No. 796Medl.

THE continued prevalence of malarial fever in this Province has of late attracted the anxious attention of Government. In considering, last year, what further measures should be taken to counteract the severe epidemics that have been devastating large portions of the Province, the late Lieutenant-Governor was strongly impressed with the necessity of adopting more vigorous measures for extending and popularising the use by the people of quinine, the efficacy of which has now been thoroughly established, not only in India but in other parts of the world. With this object a Committee, composed of the Financial Secretary to Government, the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, the Inspector-General of Prisons, the Sanitary Commissioner and the Government Quinologist, was convened to formulate definite proposals. This Committee has dealt thoroughly with the subject in its various aspects, and has submitted certain definite recommendations. These have been carefully considered by the Lieutenant-Governor, and His Honour has now decided to issue the following orders to give effect to them:—

(1) That a central depôt be established in each district under the control of the Civil Surgeon, to which supplies of quinine in packets will be sent direct from the Jail Depôt. A special allowance will where necessary be given to one of the Civil Surgeon's clerks for performing the extra clerical duties involved; and an allotment will be made to cover the contingent expenditure;

(2) that supplies of pice-packets be distributed from these district depôts to post-masters and other retail vendors to be selected by the Civil Surgeon, in consultation with the District Officer. In selecting such vendors, an endeavour should be made to utilise the services of men who have passed through the compounder's classes at the Government Medical Schools, and who are now practising on their own account in different localities; of vaccinators, school masters and other suitable persons;

(3) that District Boards be asked to bear the charges incidental to the distribution of the packets from the central depôts to the vendors in different parts of the district;

(4) that the quantity of quinine in each packet be increased from 7 grains to 10 grains, the same price, namely, one pice, being charged per packet, and that the increased cost involved be borne by Government;

(5) that the quinine be made up not only in the form of powder, but also, and chiefly in small tablets of $3\frac{1}{3}$ grains each, which is recommended as a suitable dose for a child.

(6) that the pice-packets be made up in parcels of 100 packets each, instead of 102 as at present; and

(7) that a profit of 4 annas per parcel of 100 packets be allowed to the retail vendors.

2. Taking the sales at the average of past years, it has been roughly estimated that the loss to Government that will be involved by these orders will amount to about Rs. 20,000: the loss will increase as the sale expands. Sir Edward Baker considers that this extra expenditure should be gladly borne by Government, if the suffering of the masses can thereby be appreciably relieved.

3. Government has from time to time urged upon local officers the importance of promoting the pice-packet system in fever-stricken areas, and of noticing the success attained in their annual reports. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to find that little has been done in this direction hitherto; and His Honour desires to draw the special attention of Commissioners and District Officers to the orders now passed, and he expects their hearty co-operation in making the scheme a real success. District Officers and Civil Surgeons should be called upon to take early measures to arrange for a sufficient number of suitable retail vendors in all malaria-stricken localities. Local officers are also requested to make a point of looking into the working of the system during their tours. The action taken to give effect to the present orders, and the results thereof, should be clearly, though concisely, described in the Annual Divisional Reports.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. A. OLDHAM,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

GENERAL SUMMARY.—Light showers fell in parts of the Presidency, Orissa and Chota Nagpur Divisions and also in Midnapore and Howrah. Preparation of lands for the next season's crops continues. Sowings of early crops have commenced in some districts, but more rain is urgently wanted both for ploughing and sowing. The planting of sugarcane is still going on in some places. The harvesting of rabi crops is nearly completed Prospects are poor in the unirrigated tracts of North Bihar. The mahua crop is good in Hazaribagh and in Sonthal Parganas, and vegetables are doing well in Orissa. The price of common rice has risen in Burdwan, Birbhum, Jessore, Shahabad, Muzaffarpur, Monghyr, Darjeeling, the Sonthal Parganas, Cuttack, Balasore, Sambalpur and Ranchi, and has fallen in Nadia, Gaya and Saran. Elsewhere it is stationary. Cattle-disease exists in Bankura, Midnapore, Nadia, Murshidabad, Jessore, Gaya, Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Monghyr, Purnea, Sambalpur, Hazaribagh, Ranchi and Palamau. Reports of insufficiency of fodder have been received from Midnapore, Jessore, Khulna, Gya, Champaran, Monghyr, Purnea and the Sonthal Parganas. The water-supply is becoming scarce in parts of North Bihar and in the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions. Measures are being taken for the excavation of tanks and for the boring of wells in North Bihar. 3,232 persons attended test-works in Muzaffarpur and Bhagalpur. The famine relief-works in Darbhanga were attended by 56,263 persons. Gratuitous relief was given to 23,956 persons in Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Bhagalpur, Purnea and Palamau and to 558 in Puri.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL AND IN EASTERN BENGAL AND ASSAM FOR THE MONTH OF JANUARY 1909.

DURING January the pressure was below normal over the whole reporting area. Maximum temperature was about 2° in excess, while the mean minimum was somewhat below normal over a region at the base of the hills.

On the whole, the air was drier than usual over the two Provinces. Rainfall in Assam was 36 per cent. in excess, while in Chota Nagpur the excess was as much as 397 per cent. A marked defect in precipitation was experienced in Orissa, which had only 3 per cent. of its usual allowance of rain.

At the beginning of the 2nd week a depression from North-West India rendered the weather rather unsettled, but the principal effect was a rise in temperature in Bihar. Conditions continued to be rather disturbed up till the 25th, when several days of fine dry weather were experienced. During the last week a cold weather depression passed east across Chota Nagpur and South Bengal, giving rain in Bihar and Chota Nagpur.

Summary of temperature.—The highest temperature recorded was 90°·9 at Cuttack, and the lowest 38°·3 at Motihari.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Provinces of Eastern Bengal and Assam and of Bengal for the month of January 1909:—

METEOROLOGICAL DIVISIONS.	TEMPERATURE.

Summary of rainfall.—The rainfall work of the Province has been placed in the hands of the Director of Agriculture, Bengal, and the usual data regarding the actual and normal rainfall during the month are published by that officer. A short table, however, is attached to this report, giving the rainfall recorded during the month at the head-quarters of the various districts of the Province.

Actual and average rainfall and departure from normal for the month of January 1909.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

M.A. and M.Sc.—

The College has affiliation only for the M.A. degree in English, and Mathematics Group A.

Classes will, however, be formed under University Lecturers on the staff of the College in Political Philosophy for the M.A. and in Physics, Chemistry and Geology for the M.Sc. Graduates will be admitted to these classes on application, if approved by the Lecturers. As a rule such graduates must have obtained Honours in their subjects.

3. Admissions will be unrestricted (subject to the above conditions) so far as considerations of space and efficient teaching admit of it. As there is probability of the applications in some departments exceeding the accommodation available, preference will be given to applications received before 15th June in this order—

(a) To applicants who have passed the Matriculation or Intermediate Examinations in the First Division.

(b) To applicants who have passed the Matriculation or Intermediate Examinations in the Second Division.

(c) To applicants who are sons of old Presidency College students or have other special claims, and as regards the Intermediate Examination in each of the cases distinguished to students who have passed from the Presidency College.

4. Applications received after 15th June can only be entertained if the considerations necessitating restriction above set forth admit of it.

The session opens after the long vacation on Monday, the 28th June. Lecture courses begin Tuesday, the 29th June.

Principal, Bengal Engineering College.

The Yearly Examination of Candidates for fourth grade of Accountants.

The early Examination of candidates for fourth grade of Accountants, Public Works Department, will be held at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on Monday and Tuesday, the 7th and 8th June 1909, both days:—

SUBJECTS.

	Full marks.	Minimum pass marks.
Writing (neatness, clearness, and rapidity) ...	100	50
Dictation (spelling, punctuation, etc.) ...	100	50
Arithmetic (the whole)	240	160
Mensuration (a) (the whole) "	60	30
Book-keeping (b), mercantile	100	50
Total ...	600	...

Minimum required in all papers collectively, 400.

(a) Todhunter's Mensuration for Beginners.
(b) " Book-keeping " by Ball and Hamilton.
" Book-keeping," by double and single entry, by W. Inglis (Chambers's Educational Course).

1. The examination is held annually at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on the 1st Monday in June. The examination will be conducted, either at the College, or by an Examiner, Public Works Accounts (including Railway and Telegraph), in Bengal, Assam and Burma only. The examination will be ipso facto vitiated, if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed; but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements, in regard to the place and hour of examination, with the candidates.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination, even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship if he passes it; but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be eligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies, if such is pensionable by the British Government.

The candidate should apply to an Examiner of Public Works Accounts, not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination, and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates, and must be forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Examiner.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but none will be returned :—

(1) Certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior, or by the instructor under whom he has been educated, or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed, or to whom he may be well known. (This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediately preceding the application.)

(2) Certificate of age (baptismal or of birth) not required, if the candidate is already in permanent Government employ.

(3) Certificate that the application is in the candidate's handwriting.

NOTE.—A candidate already in Government service should, in like manner, submit his application, through his immediate official superior, to an Examiner of Accounts qualified to hold the particular examination, and should state whether he desires to be examined at the office of the Examiner of Accounts concerned or at the College.

It will rest with the Examiner of Accounts, to whom the candidate submits his application, to decide, on a consideration of the certificates submitted, whether the candidate should be allowed to appear for the examination, or whether his application should be rejected. The Examiner of Accounts will then forward to the Principal for registration the names of the accepted candidates. The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses, and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the College or at the office of the Examiner of Accounts. This statement, together with the fees, should be transmitted to the Principal not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of applications of candidates.

3 Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion, must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh fee and certificates.

5. If from any cause a candidate fails to appear for the examination, the fee paid will not be refunded.

6. Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department, but direct to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

7. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments, preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

8. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the 4th grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

9 Candidates for the 4th grade Accountantship examination, who are not Government servants and over 25 years of age, are allowed to appear at the examination at the Sibpur College centre only, but, even if successful, they are debarred from employment in the service of Government, and their names will be excluded from the list of passed candidates which is furnished to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department.

10. Candidates over 25 years of age should apply in writing to the Principal of the Civil Engineering College not later than 30 days previous to the examination; the application to be accompanied by the fee of Rs. 10.

THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS.

Published in FOUR SERIES, viz.

CALCUTTA, MADRAS, BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court.

The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt: and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—the Officer in charge, Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, Calcutta, or

the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or

the Curator of Government Books, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Allahabad.

The Hon'ble MR. C. W. N. GRAHAM.

BENGAL FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR 1909-10.

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said:—"I wish the Members to follow the practice which was introduced last year, and to call upon Hon'ble Members who have given notice of their intention to speak in their order of juniority; the non-official Members will speak first, and then the official Members to the right of the President, and then the official Members to the left of the President, ending with the Financial Secretary."

The Hon'ble MR. GRAHAM said:—"Your Honour, as the Financial Statement which we are to-day discussing all too plainly shows, we have just come through a bad year, and not only Government but Commerce, which I more particularly represent on this Council, has the same tale to tell, and can therefore all the more readily sympathise with the position which that Statement unfolds. In fact, the Budget, to a great extent, suffers from and reflects the general condition of trade during the past year.

"Under the circumstances, it would be worse than folly for me to press for more liberal grants for this or that item or project, seeing I should be asking for what is not there to be given.

"I will therefore confine myself to tendering the thanks of those I represent here, and my own, for the grants which it has been found possible to make towards those items in which we are more particularly interested.

"In the first place, it has been found possible to make a grant of Rs. 6,81,000 towards two schemes in which Calcutta trade is much interested. I refer to the Ultadanga-Bamanghatta Canal and the Madaripur Bhil route schemes, and I am certain that had we been discussing a prosperity budget, instead of the reverse, we should have found a considerably larger amount devoted to the opening up and improving of the great inland waterways of Bengal.

"Secondly, I note under the heading of Medical, the very greatly increased grants made to the hospitals and dispensaries, namely, Rs. 9,01,000, as against the budget estimate of last year Rs 8,33,000, and in thanking Your Honour's Government for thus again so materially increasing these grants, I am only expressing the sentiments of the whole Calcutta community.

"While on this point, I would like to refer for a moment to the report of the Committee appointed by Sir Andrew Fraser to go into the question of the position and working of the Hospital Nurses' Institution. That Committee recommended, among other things, the raising, if possible, of an additional sum of between Rs. 50,000 and Rs. 60,000 annually from the public. Now I do not want to seem pessimistic, but my feeling is that certainly, as far as the European commercial community is concerned, something near the limit is being already subscribed. The figures show that while out of the total of about Rs. 36,000 subscribed by the public last year, 97 per cent. was subscribed by that community, and only 3 per cent. by the Indian community. I bring this forward, so that should it be expected that this large annual increase in subscriptions is likely to be raised from the European community, too much faith may not be pinned on those expectations. On the other hand, I feel sure that the true state of the case, as shown by the figures in the report, has only to be realized by the Indian community at large, to be immediately rectified.

"I do not feel I should be justified in passing over entirely without comment the item on the Dr. side of the account, under the heading 'Law and Justice.' The estimate has been largely exceeded, and this is due to the proceedings necessitated by the outbreak of Anarchical crime in Bengal. It is scarcely necessary for me to say with what intense interest the Commercial community have followed the history of Anarchy and Sedition in the Province during the last year, and the means which Government have been employing to stamp them out. Throughout the trying time we have ever been ready to give Government our utmost support, and have ever been ready to strengthen their hands in their endeavours to put down this form of crime. We welcomed the special legislation, which was adopted in December last, and trust there will be no relaxation of the means now being employed, until the Province can be truly said to be free of every vestige of Anarchical conspiracy and crime.

"There is one more point which I should like to mention, if I do not lay myself open to a charge of irrelevancy, but such a great question, as has recently been raised by the proposals of the Bengal and North-Western Railway Company to lease the Eastern Bengal State Railway, is so mixed up with Calcutta trade generally, and consequently with the financial questions of Bengal, that I think I am justified in referring to it here to-day. These proposals have been referred by the Railway Board to the Chamber of Commerce for their opinion, and the Chamber has been consulting its members and allied Associations very fully before replying to the Railway Board's note. The result has shown a very unanimous opinion, as expressed by all the different branches of trade in Calcutta, hostile to those proposals, and I can only hope, Sir, that you will find yourself in agreement with that opinion, and that your Government may see its way to add the weight of its support to our opposition to that scheme."

The Hon'ble the NAWAB BAHADUR of Murshidabad, AMIR-UL-OMRA, said:—

"YOUR HONOUR, I do not think I need take up the time of Hon'ble Members with any lengthy observations such as usually has been the practice on the last day of the Session. The present Budget offers few points of controversy; and though the idea of the absence of a balance at the close of next year is far from encouraging or gratifying, it must be remembered how generously has expenditure to be provided for schemes of absolute necessity, how largely the resources of Government have been taxed by unforeseen events and what difficulties those responsible for a proper adjustment, adjudication and allotment of funds must necessarily feel to meet pressing demands and urgent requirements on all hands.

"When one considers that the actual expenditure on Public Works has increased enormously, I do not say unnecessarily, and has aggregated more than the amounts assigned by the Government of India by over 107 lakhs of rupees; that expenditures under the heads of Police and Education have rapidly increased; that heavy charges have been made upon our finances for paying grain-compensation allowances by reason of a succession of bad agricultural years, consequent on want and unequal distribution of rain on the one hand and high floods on the other, resulting in the destruction of crops and a poor and insufficient outturn much below the normal—circumstances which have to a large extent affected seriously many parts of the Province and have necessarily affected the growth of Government Revenue and caused heavy drain upon the resources of Bengal, our closing balance, or rather its want, is easily explicable, and it is no wonder that from a substantial balance of nearly a crore in 1903-04 the balance at the close of the year will be nil.

"It is much to be regretted that anarchism and sedition should not only injure the reputation of the country but also affect its resources and absorb its revenues. Your Honour, one can very well see that it is these and other unavoidable charges which have contributed to sweep away what would have been a much desirable balance at the end of the year, notwithstanding the special grant of about 17 lakhs of rupees which the Government of India have been pleased to make and for which we must all be grateful. I sincerely hope with my hon'ble friend in charge of the estimate that we shall not be confronted with a recurrence of bad seasons, untoward events or unlooked-for contingencies, and that our financial outlook will be better and more hopeful in the future so as to enable Government to provide for large new schemes and works, such as are of a pressing nature and undoubted importance and utility.

"It is, however, a matter of congratulation that, notwithstanding this position of things, the Hon'ble Mr. Oldham has been able to provide for the normal expansion of the administration in many departments, besides making provision for special items of a recurring nature amounting to 11 lakhs of rupees.

"The allotment for the increased salary of ministerial officers will be most welcome and will be thankfully received by a deserving and hard-worked class of public servants. I trust the provision for the improvement of the Calcutta Madrassa is but the first instalment of special Government patronage and will, I have little doubt, be appreciated by my co-religionists. The demands for its improvement were forcibly voiced at the Town Hall Meeting, and the claims of the Madrassa would not escape the notice and the treatment of a sympathetic Government.

"Your Honour, there are several other allotments in the Budget which call forth public appreciation and acknowledgment. The special allotment of over 10 lakhs for various objects, including charges for Guru training school buildings and training schools for female teachers, will be most welcome, as also the provision for the celebration of Empire Day in schools and colleges.

"Turning to the head of Medical Expenditure, I find an allotment of over a lakh of rupees for the Campbell Hospital alone, besides large grants to several hospitals. Your Honour, considering how largely that hospital is resorted to and how its resources are unfortunately taxed at times, any allotment to improve and increase its accommodation, staff, scope and usefulness would be money very well spent.

"There has, I observe, been a marked falling off in the receipts under the head of Irrigation, i.e., Minor Works and Navigation in charge of the Public Works Department. I find that decrease is chiefly in Navigation receipts from, among others, the Nadia Rivers. I have more than once urged the importance of dredging the Bhagirathi so as to keep open a navigable channel, and its importance is by no means lessened, much less removed, by reason of our having at no distant date lines of Railways on both sides of that river. The receipts under this head would, no doubt, increase if a channel with sufficient water could be kept open for navigation throughout the year. But the importance of the work is apparent from another point of view. The banks of the Bhagirathi are studded with important towns and villages, and as the river is the principal source of their water-supply, it is absolutely necessary that a current, unavoidable for a supply of good drinking water, should be kept up during the dry months, which will greatly improve the sanitation of those places. Already a dredger has, I understand, been ordered to be worked and is, I am informed, working at the mouth of the river, and I hope the labours of the Public Works Department will be maintained in the direction of continuing the work of dredging and of inducing into the stagnant rivers of the Nadia Division an ample supply of fresh water from the Ganges.

"I trust also that the labours of the Malaria Commission will not be allowed to rest till there is material improvement in the health and sanitation of the people of Bengal, especially the malaria-stricken districts—a subject which, along with the question of improving the water-supply of our villages, will, I trust, always engage our serious consideration.

"On the whole, therefore, considering the circumstances I have alluded to above, I think the Province has reason to be thankful that immediate and urgent needs, such as our financial position would allow, have been satisfactorily made in this the first Budget of Your Honour's administration."

The Hon'ble MR. DAS said:—"Your Honour, on a previous occasion when I represented Orissa, from my seat in this Chamber I said that a non-official Member of this Council was an interpreter between the Government and the people. On that occasion my interpretation of a non-official Member's position was endorsed by our illustrious countryman who now is an Hon'ble Judge of the High Court—the Hon'ble Justice Ashutosh Mukherjee. My duties are to bring to the notice of Government the views and the feelings of the people and to explain to the people of Orissa the reasons which influence Government in their action, the object Government have in adopting particular measures, and how such measures are calculated to affect the interests of the people.

"My personal views and opinions I should not allow to ride over those of the millions whom the Budget affects. I read the budget as the people of Orissa would read it.

"Looking at the allotments in the budget under the several sub-heads of education, a disparity in the distribution of the funds is visible. The people were hitherto under an impression that Orissa was left in the cold because her claims had not been eloquently advanced. That of the three children, Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, the most eloquent commanded the attention of the paternal Government. But Your Honour's salutary advice given at the last sitting of the Council with regard to speeches in Council is calculated to remove that impression, and we have reason to hope that whatever reasons might have guided the Bengal Government in the past in the allotment of funds to advance education in the three provinces under that Government the 'most eloquent and the most clamorous should be first attended to' (which is the rule some parents go by) will not be the rule of Your Honour's Government.

"In Bengal the people appreciate the advantage of high education. High education has been a long-standing plant in Bengal; it has struck a root in the province; it has borne fruits. The private colleges testify to the appreciation of the benefits of high education by the people. Colleges have been run on commercial lines. They are in some cases a source of income to the proprietors.

"Add to this the fact that the permanent settlement has raised a rich aristocracy. The condition of the people is more prosperous. Of the three provinces under this Government, Orissa has been under British rule during the shortest period. She is the youngest and the poorest child, yet Orissa has made progressive contributions to income under Land-revenue. The people of Orissa think that their claims ought to have preferential attention. But the Budget allotments point the other way.

"I find in the Budget under discussion an allotment for Law classes at Bankipore but none for Orissa. I hold in my hand a letter which contains a promise for Law classes in Orissa should the number of students be sufficient. We are thankful to Government for having awarded six scholarships to students from Orissa who come to Calcutta to read Law, but that has already been found insufficient. I know that already ten applications have been made and by the time the result of the B. A. Examination now being held will be published there will be fully another ten applications.

"The number of students in a class is not a proper test of the appreciation of education among a people in the early stage of a foreign education. B. L. candidates from Orissa have in past years distinguished themselves in the University. One year a student of the Cuttack Law classes stood at the top of the successful B. L. candidates.

"The principle which ought to guide the Government in giving backward Orissa facilities for education ought to be sought in the budget allotments of Bengal during the few years which followed the first introduction of law as a subject of study in Bengal.

"There is another test by which to judge whether people appreciate high education or not. This is the contribution by the people towards this object.

"There are some colleges in Bengal where Government scholarships are given in recognition of private donation towards the funds of the college. An inquiry will disclose facts in support of this statement. The Government College at Cuttack and the hostel attached to it has received private donations to the extent of nearly Rs. 38,000. This is not in any way discreditable to a poor province. But there has been no recognition by Government of this private liberality as in Bengal. The College at present is inadequately equipped, the details of which are given below:—

Wants of the College.

I. Affiliation:—

(a) In History for Intermediate and B
(b) In Physics for B. A. or B. Sc.
(c) In Botany for B. A. or B. Sc.

II. Strengthening the staff—

(a) A Lecturer-demonstrator for Chemistry (Immediate).
(b) A third Lecturer for English (Immediate).
(c) Two Professors for History.
(d) A Lecturer-demonstrator for Physics.
(e) A Lecturer-demonstrator for Botany.

III. Building accommodation—

(a) Eight or nine rooms for the Arts classes, of which two should be at least 40′ × 25′.
(b) Rooms for Library, Reading room, Students' common room, etc.
(c) Examination Hall.

IV. Special grants for the—

(a) Library.
(b) Chemical, Physical and Botanical Laboratories.
(c) Water-supply for the Laboratory.

V. Playground.

"The Cuttack Collegiate School is the only one under Your Honour's Government which counts among its students ruling Chiefs. The Maharaja of Mourbhanj was educated there. The importance of education of these Chiefs who are destined to rule over large populations cannot be over-estimated from a political point of view.

"Besides the Cuttack College counts among its students many Bengalis who accompany their guardians who are transferred on public service or who are drawn there by considerations of cheap living and healthy climate. Every one who had something to do with the students of the Cuttack College will support me in my statement that in the case of Bengali students the cause of discipline, the interests of good manners have not suffered, if not gained, by their education out of Bengal, and the interests of the British Empire in raising up loyal subjects among the educated class have not suffered.

"On a consideration of the advantages which Bengali students get by attending the College at Cuttack, I hope my appeal to Your Honour on behalf of that College will receive the support of the Hon'ble Members who represent Bengal proper.

"For some time past the people of Orissa have been promised an Engineering School. This was promised on condition that the people contribute Rs. 20,000 towards the initial cost. I remember having visited suitable sites in the company of a former Lieutenant-Governor and of a Director of Public Instruction, now retired. Only a few weeks ago I was asked by the Commissioner whether I was willing to raise twenty thousand rupees as I had promised. I moved in the matter and I got promises from friends. But I do not see any allotment for it in the Budget before us.

"Under the head of Female education I find provision for training schools for female teachers at Bankipore and Calcutta, but no provision for Orissa. Female education has as good prospects in Orissa as it has in any other part of the country under Your Honour's Government. The absence of early marriage among the higher classes is not an insignificant factor in judging of the prospects of female education. It is true that female education in Orissa has not made the same progress that it has done in Bengal, but no attempt has been made on proper lines. Female education is a delicate subject and a most difficult matter to deal with. There is no subject which imposes on Government officials greater obligation of consulting the feelings of the people.

"Rules made for grants-in-aid to boys' schools ought to be modified. The powers of Magistrates who never visit a girls' school, never give a moment's thought to the subject of female education, to interfere with its management merely for love of interference ought to be curtailed. The management ought to be left in the hands of the people who support a school or send their daughters to the school and not to European Magistrates who delight in disturbing harmonious working on grounds unintelligible to the non-official public, and therefore apt to be misconstrued.

"The last census figures show that the percentage of literate population among females in Orissa is double that of Bihar.

"Government sent to England a Bengali lady to study the system of female education in England. She studied as a Government scholar. Orissa sent a lady the costs of whose education were paid from private resources. Since this lady's return from England a girls' school has been taken in hand. The Director of Public Instruction calls it 'the first really successful effort in the way of Uriya female education.' But to make female education successful in Orissa we must have trained female teachers. The teachers must be trained in the vernacular of the Province. I do not know what rule Government goes by in providing for training female teachers in Bihar and Bengal and disregarding the claims of Orissa. If the extent of public contribution is the test, I feel sure the people of Orissa will not lag behind Bihar in that matter, but no opportunity has been given to them. My hopes of public liberality in this matter are based on the liberal support which the girls' school referred to above received at the hands of the Orissa public—the public having subscribed about nine thousand rupees towards the funds of the school in one year.

"I am not in favour of mendicancy, and I shall be the last person to teach it to my people. I believe in the old saying, 'Heaven helps those who help themselves,' and I hope Government appreciates the principle underlying this old saying.

"The Medical School at Cuttack from the date of its foundation has received support of public liberality. The latest donation was a sum of rupees twenty-five thousand towards the construction of a female ward. The School is attended by a large number of Bengali boys, and therefore any grant towards the better equipment of this School will not be an advantage to Orissa exclusively. I am thankful to Your Honour's Government for the provision of scholarships for Uriya students and for a grant of Rs. 3,000 when Your Honour visited the School.

"The Budget does not represent a state of financial prosperity, and therefore, my demands in the interests of education might not meet with Government approval, but, as I said at the commencement, I am here to lay before Your Honour the views and feelings of the people of Orissa.

"Revision of Land-settlement.—There is a large allotment for maintenance of land records and revision of settlement.

"It would be irrelevant to enlarge here on the unpopularity of the revision of settlement work. There is a marked difference of opinion between the people and the Government on the utility of the measure. Any one anxious to ascertain which view is correct may do so by visiting without previous notice a settlement camp as a distinguished English Journalist did. He visited some camps at 11 o'clock at night, saw the people and ascertained their views.

"It is admitted that the main object of this measure is to reduce the costs of the next revenue settlement of Orissa which comes about twenty years hence. The Hon'ble Member in his explanatory remarks said that 'Government has been advised that this is a work of much urgency and that it will be much more economical to push it through rapidly than spread it over a considerable number of years.' Revenue settlement work means an increase of Revenue. The enhanced assessment of each settlement means so much contribution from people's income to the Government exchequer. The people of Orissa make this contribution. Bengal is free from this liability.

"If the Government can afford to provide large sums for different branches of education in Bengal, notwithstanding that it has to make large provisions for unforeseen anarchism and sedition, I hope the request of the people of Orissa will not be considered unreasonable if they ask that the revision of settlement work might be spread over a few years so as to enable Government to make provision for education in the present budget with only a portion of the large amount allotted for the work.

"The reasons for the urgency of the measure are unknown to the people. The protection of the rights of the poor raiyats from the encroachment of oppressive zamindars cannot be any of those reasons; for we know that records-of-rights were made about ten years ago in Orissa, whereas in most parts of Bengal proper there has never been any record-of-rights. The records of Courts of law if examined will show that the relation between zamindars and raiyats in Bengal is more unfriendly than in Orissa. Under these circumstances is it any wonder if the people fail to see the justice of the provisions for education in Orissa in the present budget.

"There is a provision of Rs. 59,000 for 'Maintenance of records-of-rights in Orissa.' The work that is being done now is in the nature of an experiment. This experiment is expected to suggest the lines on which legislation is to be made for maintenance of records-of-rights.

"It is difficult for the people to understand why Orissa should have been selected as the field of experiment. Bengal, where the people are more advanced, better acquainted with the nature of their rights and better able to defend and define those rights, would have been a more suitable field for experiment. Experiment to be useful as guidance for the evolution of a scheme should not be made in a tract where the people are ignorant. Besides, what is the legal value of records made without the sanction of law? Moreover it is in contemplation to re-cast the scattered legislative enactments now constituting the land-law of Orissa and pass a consolidated Act defining the legal incidents of the several kinds of interest in land in Orissa. There was a Conference the other day on this subject. This change has been found necessary because the land-law of Bengal does not suit the conditions of Orissa. A change in the near future is before us. With this prospect of a change in the law, is it economical to hurry on the revision of records under a law which Government have found necessary to alter? What would be the value of these records if the contemplated Act is passed? Either the law will remain a deadletter or the records must be altered to comply with the new law.

"If twenty years hence the people are expected to contribute a portion of their income to the Government revenue, is it unjust and inequitable of the people to expect that a portion of the present revenue should be spent in providing education on lines which are calculated to compensate for the loss ahead? Is it fair and just that education should be postponed in order that saving might be made in the preparatory measures for the next revenue settlement? These are questions which naturally suggest themselves to the people. All I expect is that explanations on these points should be given if the Government do not see their way to transfer a portion of the amount allotted for these purposes for educational purposes.

"It is wise to feed the goose which lays golden eggs. Every schoolboy knows it is unwise to kill it: it is equally unwise to shut its growth The shepherd who invests in shearing tools all his funds and in the mean neglects the well-being of his sheep will not win the reputation of a wise shepherd. If the maintenance of records-of-rights in lands is necessary, have it by all means. But there is another record and a more valuable one. The temple of testify to the capabilities of the people prior to the days of British rule. The maintenance of this record is more valuable. A few thousand rupees spent on repairs to these edifices might preserve the handiwork, but the intellect which designed them and the hand which executed the design have disappeared. These monuments of past glory serve only the purpose of weeping willows under which the present generation might weep over their loss. The people of Orissa have a history worthy of any people in India. They have a glorious future in their unexploited natural resources. But these treasures lie concealed in the dark cells of ignorance. Let the light of education shine on those dark places. I hope Your Honour's name, which has been associated with progress in Bengal, will also be associated with progress in Orissa, and whatever value posterity might attach to record of land, it will be Your Honour's share to have maintained the records of a people's intellect.

"Increase of Salary of Advocate-General.—The budget provides for an increase to the salary of the Advocate-General. The present pay was found sufficient to secure the services of illustrious lawyers like the late Sir Charles Paul, Mr. Woodroffe and the Hon'ble Mr. S. P. Sinha. I have no doubt that there is reason for this increase of pay, but I hope it is not the intention of Government, as rumour has it, to bring out a lawyer from England for the post. We know that in Madras a Vakil was appointed to the post. It would be placing an undeserved discount on the erudition and experience of the Barristers and Vakils in Calcutta if the office were filled up by a gentleman from England.

"Fisheries.—A large sum has been set apart for Fisheries inquiries. It appears from the remarks of the Hon'ble Member who introduced the budget that it is in the contemplation of Government to leave the industry ultimately to private enterprise. If that is the object, it is desirable to avoid all measures which are likely to be misconstrued as attempts on the part of Government to turn it to an additional source of revenue to the prejudice of private rights.

"I don't know how the action of Government has been construed in Bengal, but there have been acts by Government officials in Orissa which have been construed as attempts to encroach upon long-enjoyed rights of fishery over natural waters.

"I find a provision for scholarship for the study of pisciculture in Europe and America. The study of an industry in a foreign country is useful to the country if the student on his return to India finds employment under private employers. Capital is shy of enterprise in this country. Government sent out students who returned as expert agriculturists but spent their time in presiding over Law Courts. It is far more economical to subsidize private enterprise in these matters. It ensures employment to the student on his return as an expert and Government has the satisfaction of developing a new industry at a small cost. There are estates with considerable fishery industry in Orissa. The owner of one estate was thinking of improving this industry. Gentlemen of this type ought to be induced to help Government in this matter. This procedure will ensure public confidence in the intention of Government, ensure employment to the student on his return to India and facilitate the dissemination of new information on the subject among the people.

"At page 14 of the budget the allotment under the head of Civil Works shows an increase in the cost of Establishment, whereas there is a decrease in the cost of Original Works and Repairs. The total cost of Original Works and Repairs in 1907-08 was Rs. 61,33,592. The revised estimate of 1908-09 gives the figures at Rs. 50,14,000 and the estimate for 1909-10 is Rs. 38,13,000. The cost of establishment during these years is Rs. 9,59,300, Rs. 10,20,000 and Rs. 11,61,406, respectively. Is the rise due solely to annual increments in the salary of the establishments?

"The note in the remarks column in page 29 of the budget shows that District Boards did not appropriate grants for primary schools. If this was due to the inability of the people to comply with the terms of the grant, it is desirable that the terms should be modified so as to suit the conditions of each with local officials of the Education Department.

"Famine Relief.—Famines cannot be altogether prevented, because man cannot control the clouds. The rigour of famine distress is felt by the population dependent on agriculture. The population of this class is very large. I believe about 85 per cent. of the population are dependent on their subsistence upon the produce of the land. This means that by far the major portion of the population depends for their means of subsistence on the uncertain mercies of the clouds above.

"The average cultivator is but a day-labourer. The area of his holding is barely sufficient in years of good crops to keep him alive. He has no capital. He is a labourer with this disavantage against him, that while the labourer who works for another gets his wages every day, the cultivator has to wait till the harvest for his wages; and when the harvest fails he loses his wages for the whole period of his labour.

"This is exactly the relative position of the two classes. It is a mistake to suppose that the average raiyat's condition is better than that of the day-labourer. It is desirable to relieve the pressure on land; to draft a portion of the cultivating classes to other pursuits of life which ensure a certain income. The development of industries is the only means of affecting this. In industry the burden of the loss, if there is any, is thrown on the Capitalist; the workmen are sure of their wages.

"Famines afford a favourable opportunity for drafting a portion of the cultivator class to other pursuits of life. In ordinary times the cultivator will not change his occupation. His ideas of caste system and his conservative turn of mind are against any change. But in times of adversity, these barriers to changes lose their strength. In times of famine even the conservatism of caste in matters of food is relaxed.

"Famine-relief labour is sometimes employed in works which are not in demand, whose utility is either doubtful or disproportionate to the money spent on it.

"My humble suggestion is that a portion of the famine-relief fund should be appropriated to teach people who depend on cultivation some handicraft which will secure to them a certain income as skilled labourers. It will require great tact on the part of those entrusted with the duty to induce the people to such a change, but I have no doubt tact and persuasion will succeed. The success might not be very encouraging at first; but the better condition of a few who adopt the change will be a powerful motive with their neighbours to follow their example.

"If the Government be disposed to adopt the principle and consider it worth their while to have my humble views on the details of the scheme, I shall not only be glad to discuss the details with officials appointed for the work, but shall be glad to place my time and such energies as nature has left in an old man at the disposal of Government as far as the working of the system is concerned in Orissa."

The Hon'ble BABU RADHA CHARAN PAL said:—"Your Honour, I must confess that I rise to speak on this occasion with some amount of trepidation. Your Honour's observations on the occasion of the introduction of the Budget are to us both a warning and a signal. I may venture to point out that under the existing system this is the only occasion when the non-official members of your Honour's Council have an opportunity of placing directly before the Head of the Government matters of general administration which deeply concern the people of the province. The proceedings of the Council, as now conducted, afford no scope to members to criticise any especial feature of the administration or to suggest modification in the light of popular views and, so far as this Council is concerned, Government would not only be kept ignorant of the currents which flow through the stream of Indian life but would miss an opportunity of explaining its policy, removing misapprehensions and of answering criticisms—an object which the Imperial Parliament had in view on the occasion of the passing of the Indian Councils Act of 1892. Both the Imperial and Provincial Governments have therefore allowed the requisite latitude of debate on the discussion of the Budget, and on the whole the debate has been more helpful than otherwise.

"If the discussion to-day were to be confined strictly to the Budget I should respectfully invite Your Honour's attention to the fact that the Budget is laid before the Council cut and dry, after it has been sanctioned by the Government of India, and it leaves no room for alteration of grants and no scope for real and useful criticism, inasmuch as all schemes and proposals involving new expenditure are first of all sanctioned and then included in the Budget. To promote useful discussions on the Budget itself, it is necessary that a monthly statement of the progress of expenditure and revenues by minor heads with explanation of increase and decrease under each head as well as an Appropriation Report should be prepared and circulated to the members and they should have an opportunity of scrutinising various proposals for increased expenditure in the light of public utility before inclusion in the Budget. I venture to hope that regulations under the new Council Bill when passed will provide for real and useful discussion of important public questions and greater control over the finances of the country. The time of the Hon'ble Council will not be taken up to discuss the policy of the Administration on the Budget day.

"When the Budget estimate was placed last year before the Council, it was expected to close with a balance of Rs. 13,90,000, which was reduced on revision to Rs. 8,77,900. Not only does this balance disappear in the current Budget, but it shows a deficit of nearly 17 lakhs, which is made good by a corresponding Imperial contribution to secure financial equilibrium. The estimate of receipts under certain heads appears to be rather optimistic; for instance under Stamps the total increase during the last five years commencing from 1904-05 has been 22 lakhs, giving an average increase of about 4½ lakhs a year. The increase of 8 lakhs in 1909-10 over the preceding year seems therefore to be too high. Similarly under Excise the estimate of last year was 175 lakhs, compared with the actual of 171 lakhs of the preceding year. In the revised estimate of the last year, it was reduced to 172 lakhs; but the Budget estimate of the current year is placed as 179 lakhs. This heavy increase of 7 lakhs in the year following one of distress and scarcity seems to be abnormal. Even these optimistic estimates are quite inadequate to keep pace with the growing and insistent demands of the province, which cannot, I am afraid, be met without substantial Imperial contribution. The public is grateful to Your Honour for the forcible representation made to the Supreme Government on the subject in your last Budget speech.

"The Corporation of Calcutta is deeply grateful to Government for the spontaneous offer to meet the cost of Government audit of Municipal accounts and the contribution to meet the increased cost of fringe-area drainage necessitated by the obstruction to the natural outfall of the city by Circular Canal. I am grateful to Government for making a representation to the Government of India for the investment of the 50 lakhs held in trust for the City Improvement Scheme, as suggested by some non-official Members including the representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and the Trades Association and I regret the Government did not sanction it. I believe I am correct in saying that the money is employed in loan works and that it has reduced the Government loan to that extent. May I hope that 3½ per cent. interest be credited to this Fund for the use of the Trust money.

"Salary of Ministerial Officers.—I find that the provision for increase of pay of ministerial officers is repeated in this year's Budget. I understand that the scheme has been partially given effect to in anticipation of the orders of the Government of India. The public would be glad to know whether the scale of salaries has been so revised, with special reference to the high and increasing cost of living, as to give substantial relief to a useful and hard-working body of underpaid officers. I venture to express the hope that there will be no longer any delay in giving complete effect to the scheme, and that the Budget provision will be fully utilised during the year.

"Probationary Deputy and Sub-Deputy Collectors and Assistant Surgeons.—A provision of Rs. 59,000 has been made for Additional Deputy Collectors for settlement duty. But there is a large and deserving class of Probationary Deputy and Sub-Deputy Collectors, who, I understand, have been in the probationary grade for more than a year, drawing only half the pay of their lowest grades. Probationary officers used formerly to be made sub. pro tem. in the lowest grade of the service after six months. The indefinite prolongation of the probationary period has been a source of great hardship, and I venture to express the hope that the provision of Rs. 50,000 will be so utilised as to remove the complaint.

"Our grateful thanks are due to Government for the provision for improving the pay and prospects of Civil Hospital Assistants. In this connection may I inquire whether the Government have come to any decision regarding the pay and prospects of that highly deserving class of public servants—the Civil Hospital Assistant Surgeons, whose petition has been under consideration of Government for more than a year, and to whose grievances I drew the attention of Government last year.

"Separation of Judicial and Executive functions.—It was about this time last year that the public were led to expect the introduction of the scheme of the separation of Executive and Judicial functions within the next twelve months. The year has rolled away and we do not find any provision in the present Budget to give effect to the scheme, which, it seems evident, is yet a long way off; and the expectations raised last year are giving place to disappointment. On behalf of my countrymen, I appeal to Your Honour to expedite the introduction of this much-needed reform.

"Court-fees.—Last year, I drew the attention of the Government to the anomaly in the imposition of court-fees prevailing in the two Courts of Small Causes, situated on either side of the Circular Road, the fee charged in the one case being 11 per cent., while in the other it is only 7½ per cent. on the amount sued. The Hon'ble Mr. Streatfeild stated on behalf of the Government that the matter was receiving consideration and some relief was hoped for. So far as I can gather this anomaly has not yet been removed. May I inquire whether the matter has arrived at the final stage for decision?

"I desire to avail myself of this opportunity to thank Government on behalf of the rate-payers of Calcutta for reducing the cost of appeals in municipal assessments. I prayed on behalf of the Corporation for the total abolition of the court-fees in Municipal assessment cases, which was in harmony with the practice which prevailed before 1901, but the Government does not propose to finally decide the matter until they have watched the effect of the reduction. I hope that the matter will not be lost sight of.

"Public Works Department.—A very large sum of money is annually spent through the agency of Public Works Department, and there seems to be a public impression that there is need for greater scrutiny and control over the expenditure with a view to prevent any possible waste or extravagance. I am sure the Government is alive to this. In this year's Budget I find about 33 lakhs have been provided for original and repair work and nearly 11½ lakhs for establishment. A provision of one-third of the sum alloted to original and repairs to meet the cost of construction establishment charges seems to be too high. I wish it could have been reduced.

"Police Court.—Last year I brought to the notice of Government the miserable condition of the Calcutta Police Court Building, consisting of dingy, dark and ill-ventilated rooms, unfit for use as public court rooms; and I suggested that an extension of the building was urgently required. In reply to my suggestion the Hon'ble Mr. Gait said that the estimate of 45 lakhs which had been submitted was too high, and that he could not possibly consider it unless it was reduced to a reasonable figure.

"I quite agree with the Hon'ble Mr. Gait that the estimate of 45 lakhs was out of all proportion to the requirements of the case; but I understand that it included both the police-station and the Police Court. I think the two should be separated. I fail to understand why another storey cannot be erected on the top of the existing building, which, I believe, is not more than 20 years old. The Police Court has no library of reference, and it should be provided with one as soon as possible.

"Since 1904-05 there has been a steady increase in the cost of the Calcutta Police Court, with the exception of a small saving of Rs. 9,000 this year due to change of officers. Formerly, there were only two stipendiary Magistrates, but within the last few years no less than two Magistrates have been added. This increase of expenditure would not have been necessary if the Honorary Presidency Magistrates had been entrusted, as in the past, with the disposal of a larger number of cases. The following figures show how the Honorary Magistrates have been slowly but surely deprived of their privileges:—

Stipendiary Magistrates ...	24,936	24,037	28,648	28,436
Honorary Magistrates ...	2,067	1,465	1,320	1,363
Total ...	27,003	25,502	29,968	29,799
Percentage of cases disposed of by Honorary Magistrates on total	7·7	5·8	4·4	4·6

"The Honorary Presidency Magistrates belong to a highly respectable and educated section of the community, both European and Indian, many of them being its honoured leaders. They have discharged their duties with credit to themselves and have earned the approbation of Government. It implies a reflection upon them, if any action on the part of the Government tends to differentiate their position and capacity from those of the Deputy Magistrates.

"Courts of Law.—A suggestion was made by me last year for the institution of Honorary Benches in the Small Cause Courts for the disposal of petty Civil suits. But the Hon'ble Mr. Streatfeild stated that the Government was not prepared at that time to express an opinion. I understand that this system is in vogue in some provinces of India and it may be introduced with advantage into Bengal. May I inquire whether the matter has since received the attention of Government and whether any definite pronouncement can shortly be expected?

"The cost of Law Courts has increased by about 9½ lakhs since 1904-05. But I am sorry to say that the facilities to obtain justice are by no means commensurate with the increase of cost. It not infrequently happens that a poor suitor finds it difficult to move the subordinates of the Court without being subjected to harassment and illegal exactions. This is a growing evil and calls for an early remedy.

"Education.—I observe with satisfaction that there has been a steady increase in the educational grant within the last few years, and though it now stands at 55½ lakhs of rupees, it is hardly adequate to meet the educational requirements of the country. The Director of Public Instruction in his last report lamented that, having reached a stage of educational advancement, it became necessary for want of funds to cry a sudden halt. This state of things is greatly to be deplored, and I hope that Your Honour's Government will before long be in a position to make an advance along the path of progress chalked out by the Director. Looking at the figures in the Budget I am struck with the disproportionate expenditure on inspection of schools compared with that on management. While the expenditure on primary and secondary education has increased from Rs. 4,85,000 to Rs. 7,44,000, that is, by 53 per cent., the cost of their inspection has increased from Rs. 2,49,000 to Rs. 7,17,000, that is, nearly three-fold. I hope, as funds permit, this disparity will be set right by the grant of larger funds to be spent on schools.

"I regret that a sum of not more than Rs. 61,000 could be allotted for Technical and Industrial schools. This meagre provision is not worthy of this great Province over which Your Honour rules.

"For years past Hon'ble Members in this Council have been asking for larger and larger funds for the development of Technical and Industrial education, and the whole country expects that the Government should give it a fair start. A great and laudable step was taken by Government in deputing the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming to make a survey of the industrial position and prospects in Bengal. The task was completed in a thorough and masterly manner, and in a spirit of sympathy with our needs and aspirations. But I am sorry to say that while Madras has already got a department of industries and the scheme formulated by Sir John Hewett is complete and awaiting the sanction of the Secretary of State, no provision has been made in our Budget to make a beginning for carrying out Mr. Cumming's recommendations.

"I find that a sum of 5 lakhs has been provided for experimental cultivation, which includes Rs. 75,000 for fittings and appliances of the Sabour Agricultural College. It would be interesting to know what actual expenditure is included in this sum for purely demonstration and experimental work. Agriculture is the most important industry in India, supporting nearly 70 per cent. of the people. The bulk of the Indian agriculturists are poor and illiterate, to whom a scientific and technical system of teaching imparted at a single place such as Sabour would not be of much use. What is required is simple and practical lessons in agriculture brought to their doors. For this purpose there should be a large number of travelling instructors who should travel from village to village, teaching the cultivators improved methods of agriculture, distributing select and improved varieties of seeds, teaching the use of manures and selling them at popular prices, organising exhibitions, demonstrating the use of improved agricultural implements, and rendering such assistance to the cultivators as would help to develop their industry. In short, it is necessary to have men trained in the simple principles and practice of agriculture, who will gladly come into contact with the people, and whose pay and prospects must be sufficiently attractive for zealous and efficient work.

"Inspection of factories—Septic tanks.—It is necessary to know what sum out of Rs. 50,000 allotted under the head 'Inspector of Factories' represents the cost of inspection of septic tank installations. The contamination of the water of the Hooghly by what is popularly known as liquid sewage is an outrage to the religious sentiments of the Hindu population of the riparian tracts. Since the effluents have been discharged into the Hooghly the health of the population of these tracts has suffered. The Hooghly is the only source of drinking-water supply, not only to the ten millions of the people of Calcutta, but also to the millions inhabiting both sides of the river. Many eminent medical men have expressed great doubts as to the purity of the effluents even after they have been sterilised and filtrated. For instance, Dr. Harrison of Lincoln said:—'A river receiving drainage and effluents from a large town could not with any degree of safety be used for domestic purposes. It is unwise and dangerous to take water from a source known to be polluted and liable to pollution, and trust to the purifying effects of filtration to render it safe for consumption.' Dr. Cook, the late Health Officer of Calcutta, raised his voice against the contamination of the source of water-supply of this city. The Sanitary Commissioner of Bengal in his report says that the bacteriological examination of several samples of effluents disclosed that they were not absolutely pure. I submit it is the duty of the Government, out of deference to the religious susceptibilities of the people no less than to the interests of sanitation, to prevent the discharge into the sacred waters of the Hooghly, and to devise some means of disposing of the matter either by burning it or by utilising it as manure, or in any other feasible way.

"Anti-malarial measures.—A sum of Rs. 10,000 has been provided for anti-malarial measures, which, I presume, arise out of the report of the Drainage Committee appointed by Government in 1906. It will be remembered that the Committee suggested systematic investigation and continuous research in small areas during fever seasons. The inquiry suggested had already been instituted, and I hope the result will be made public at an early date. I may be permitted to state that whatever may be the different causes of malaria, it has been established beyond doubt by the investigation of the Committee that the conditions most favourable to the generation of malaria, are defective drainage, bad drinking supply and the existence of thick jungles and a large number of insanitary tanks and pits impervious to the influence of the sun. In this connection the Committee recommended the creation of a special Engineering Division to prepare projects for the improvement of the drainage conditions of specified areas, where necessary. The public would like to know whether such a division has been created and what steps, if any, have been taken to remove the malarial conditions of our villages. A special grant of 4½ lakhs was generously granted by the Government of India for sanitary improvements last year and renewed for the currrent year. It is not clear from the Financial Statement whether the money was spent for the purpose for which it was especially intended; and whether the whole or any portion of it will be spent during the current year on the above objects.

"Health Resorts.—It is not clear from the Budget what sum was spent for improvement work in Frasergunge last year and what is proposed to be spent this year. From the Bengal Administration Report it appears that up to the end of 1907-08, a sum of Rs. 4,55,000 has been spent, and I believe the sum is considerably more if totalled up to date. A vast sum of money has been spent in Frasergunge at a time when the financial condition of the Province was not favourable and the prospect seemed to be far from cheering. Cholera and malaria are not absent from the place, and applications for building sites from European gentlemen have been withdrawn on account of uncertainty of steamer service and their unwillingness to spend the sums fixed by the Board of Revenue for construction of houses. I do not know whether the money spent on this island will be reproductive. Last year, and the year before last, I appealed for the improvement of Diamond Harbour. The Hon'ble Mr. Collin infomed the Council that a scheme for the construction of a dâk bungalow was shortly to be carried out. As yet nothing has been done to carry out the scheme. Diamond Harbour is an excellent place, close to Calcutta, exposed to sea-breezes, free from malaria, and is an excellent place for a sanitarium. When the Magrahat drainage scheme is completed and steps taken to fill up the dobas on the sides of the embankments, it will be an idea place for the establishment of a sanitarium, which the Maharajadhiraja of Burdwan has in view.

"Anarchy and sedition.—In the year of stress and strain it is a matter of supreme regret to us that anarchy and sedition have cost us nearly seven lakhs last year. That abominable crimes should darken the fair fame of our province, that boys and young men should forget the dictates of humanity and the precepts of religion, is to us a matter of deep and lasting regret and shame. I hope we have turned a corner and that the abnormal expenditure of last year will not be incurred again. But while I express my detestation and abhorrence of these crimes, I should be failing in my duty if I did not submit to Your Honour the prayer of the nation that the over-zealousness of the police resulting in such lamentable consequences of irritation and ill-feeling and even of oppression and waste of public money, as in the Midnapore case, should be suppressed. While on this subject, on behalf of my countrymen, I crave leave to submit that the gentlemen of our province, now unhappily in detention under an ancient regulation have been known to have lived an unblemished life, and one of them, Babu Kristo Kumar Mitra, the great and venerated Brahmo leader, has been the stern reprover of all outrages, and the prominent advocate of constitutional methods in the discussion of public questions. The deportation of men like him has created a painful impression. The Government must have got some materials upon which they acted, but they are all ex parte. My countrymen hope that these materials will be examined by the light of public opinion and that their detention will not be prolonged further on mere ex parte and unproved statements.

"I pray Your Honour will take into consideration the case of the two British subjects, who have been living in the territories under Your Honour's sway and make a recommendation for their release, and thereby emphasise the generosity and liberality of the Government in offering concession and conciliation to the subjects of the King-Emperor.

"Reform scheme.—SIR, this is the last time that the Budget is discussed in the old Council and under the old regulations. We stand at the threshold of a great constitutional reform which the country has welcomed with gratitude and enthusiasm. The Reform Scheme as originally formulated will stand forth as a great landmark in the history of our progress. If Lord Minto and Lord Morley have been the originators of the scheme, to you, Sir, will belong the unique honour of introducing it and of working it in the most advanced province of the Indian Empire. We in Bengal rejoice that it should be so, for we have keenly watched your career as a member of the Government of India and we have not failed to observe that Your Honour has taken a prominent part in the formulation of the scheme. You have already, with that prescience which characterises true statesmanship, sounded the note of change which ought to pervade the temper and attitude of the great and historic service to which you belong. As you rightly said 'the spirit of autocracy must give place to the arts of suasion and conciliation in the government of this great province.' Many have been the distinguished members of the service who consecrated their lives for the welfare of the great dependency of the British Empire and it is not too much to expect a chivalrous and large-hearted response from that glorious service. During the short period Sir, for which you have held the helm of affairs, you have given us abundant reasons to hope that the scheme will be worked with sympathy and liberality. May I venture to express the earnest hope that the spirit of conciliation and sympathy which distinguishes Your Honour and His Excellency the Viceroy and the Secretary of State will leaven the temper and attitude of the great official hierarchy, so that in all their dealings they will remember that the Indians, in the expressive words of Lord Morley, are 'the King's equal subjects.'

"Mr. Sinha's appointment.—Before I sit down, I cannot refrain from alluding to the appointment of our honourable and distinguished colleague, Mr. Sinha to the high position of Law Member of His Excellency the Viceroy's Council. It is an unique honour, which has evoked a universal chorus of gratitude to His Excellency the Viceroy and to that venerable and broad-hearted statesman at the helm of Indian affairs, who has so steadfastly stood by His Excellency the Viceroy in the period of transition of India. We rejoice that our Magna Charta, the gracious proclamation of our late beloved Queen Victoria the Good, that no subject of the British Crown will be debarred by reason of his race, colour and creed, from holding any high office of trust and responsibility—is vindicated and I beg leave to avail myself of this occasion to offer through you Honour the Nation's most heart-felt and most grateful thanks to His Majesty's Government."

The Hon'ble MR. LARMOUR said:—"Your Honour, I share with others the regret we feel that we are not able to congratulate the Government on a Prosperity Budget. I recognize also the fact that the time is inopportune to ask special favours when every rupee has to be carefully scrutinised before it is spent, and that only what is actually necessary can be provided for in the coming year, and I do most earnestly re-echo the hope expressed by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Budget that the troubles we are passing through may be only of a transitory nature, leading in the near future to the possibility of a Budget which shall be more satisfactory, in every respect, to all those who have the best interests of this great province of the Empire sincerely at heart.

"Naturally, Sir, the subject in which we, permanent dwellers in Calcutta, are keenly interested in is the long-looked for Improvement Scheme. To us, who are not behind the scenes, hope was beginning to turn into despair, and it seemed to us that the great project had been indefinitely put on the shelf, but now a faint glimmer of hopeful expectation has arisen from the information conveyed to us by a high authority in another place that the Bill which is to be eventually introduced in this Council is now having the careful attention of the Supreme Council, though our hopes are not unmixed with dismay when we learn that the Bill will contain no less than one hundred and ninety-one clauses. I fear, Sir, that few of us will survive the discussion of such a Bill, and that it will be the privilege of those who come after us to see it become law and to enjoy the blessings of a renovated Calcutta.

"In that new Calcutta and with the advantage of long years of previous experience, I have no doubt that the authority in whose hands it will then rest to regulate such affairs, ample facilities will be afforded and provision made to fight disease in all its forms and to aid the stricken. But for us of the present day the question is of the utmost importance, and it cannot be denied that in the Calcutta of to-day we are not sufficiently prepared or equipped to meet the extraordinary demands which arise from sudden outbreaks of virulent and fatal epidemics We note with gratitude that liberal grants have been made for Hospitals and Medical work generally, but the test as to the sufficiency of those grants in special cases comes when we are brought face to face with such an epidemic of small-pox as is now raging so violently in Calcutta and claiming so many victims daily. I trust, Sir, I may be pardoned if I take up the time of the Council by referring to this subject which is of the very greatest importance to the community at large, and which I do not approach from any hostile spirit or desire to cavil at what has been done, and done in the face of enormous difficulties. Until very lately the only institution in Calcutta where small-pox patients could be received was the Campbell Hospital. In that Hospital there are, I understand, four hundred and eighty beds. Of these, less than eighty are set apart for small-pox patients, and the resources of the Hospital were strained to their utmost extent. By doubling up two paying patients in one room and by erecting temporary sheds, as many as two hundred patients have been received at one time, but large numbers have had to be refused admission owing to there being no space available for them. Too much cannot be said in praise of the devotion of the Medical and Nursing Staff in their endeavours to alleviate the sufferings of those who have been stricken down by this, the most loathsome disease known to humanity, but their efforts must of necessity be limited, and it is horrible to think of the numbers who have had to suffer and die for want of proper and adequate means of treatment. I plead, Sir, that something material may be done so that the city shall always be prepared to fight this terrible disease effectually. We are told that epidemics occur only at stated periods, some say quinquennially. Late experience teaches us that they must be looked for almost annually. The argument is put forward that any special preparation made for small-pox treatment would be practically useless at other times. But, Sir, for what purpose does a country maintain a standing army? Will a wise Government or a wise General wait until the enemy is at the gates before they organise an army to meet that enemy? With a well-equipped and well-organized army, we are prepared to strike as soon as the enemy shows himself, and small-pox is a terrible enemy to meet. The better prepared we are to meet him the less chance will there be of his doing the awful havoc we read about almost daily. I would ask, Sir, if it could not be arranged to largely increase the permanent accommodation of the Campbell Hospital for small-pox patients and to provide a second permanent (not temporary) small-pox hospital, which would be of easy access to the northern portion of the city.

"In this connection I would draw attention to another serious danger. I know that segregation is not compulsory nor can we compel patients to go to a hospital. If all did go, moreover, it would be very little use, as there would not be sufficient space to accommodate them in existing circumstances. But, Sir, some effort might be made in this direction if the leaders of the Indian community would exert their influence with the more humble and ignorant among their fellow-countrymen to induce them to take more advantage of the means offered for fighting the disease and preventing its being communicated to others. In my own experience and among my own employees, I have known men attacked with the malady make straight for their native villages rather than go to the hospital, taking with them and disseminating infection wherever they go and in whatever sort of conveyance they may travel. Could not legislation be introduced to prevent people travelling by rail who are known to be suffering from small-pox? Any remedy that may be devised by the Government and any measures which might be introduced to fight this awful malady would, I am sure, be gladly welcomed and meet with the heartfelt gratitude of the whole community."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—"May it please Your Honour—It is a matter of congratulation that some of the questions raised on the occasion of the last Budget debate received kind consideration at the hands of the authorities, and we gratefully recognize, among other things,—that in framing the year's Budget four years' figures have been supplied for comparison; that the educational charges have been shown in greater detail and under intelligible heads (though many more might well have been added); that the long-lost privilege of District Judges to allow casual leave to the subordinate judiciary has been restored; that in separating the judicial cadre of East Bengal from ours, the needs of the services have been to some extent kept in view; that the question of raising the status and pay of our teachers and professors has been taken up in right earnest and is now before the Government of India, that provision has been made for the housing of Indian professors in the Presidency-town, where living is so dear; that a time-limit has been declared regarding the publication of Government educational works which will give some relief to private authors; and last, though not the least, that the official Gazette is to be supplied to non-official Members and possibly in time the Civil List and other official publications may also be supplied. The list might probably be considerably added to if a statement of Budget proposals and the action thereon were circulated, as I ventured to suggest should be done.

"With a downright Adversity Budget, without any margin of expansion except with special Imperial grants, little good would it do to dilate on schemes involving extra expenses, and the only useful function of the Budget critic would be to point to possible retrenchment and re-arrangement. But this is impossible in the absence of detailed departmental budgets, which members interested in particular departments have asked for in vain. The normal function of a rupee now-a-days must be to do the work of two, and without necessary details to work on in time, the lay financier must hesitate to rush in where life-long experts fear to tread. One cannot help remarking on the gloomy pall of an Imperial deficit overcasting Provincial resources, which require special augmenting and strengthening from year to year under the exigencies of a cast-iron Settlement System. Those, however, that have the not ill-founded impression that careful handling of the Provincial finances can to a certain extent and for the time being avert and counterbalance the effects of Imperial adversity, may be pardoned for asking, without quoting Madras precedents, if in the near past Provincial control and manipulation of finances have been uniformly on the right lines, and if so, why there has been this steady deterioration of the balance, though many of the causes so lucidly detailed by the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary on Friday before last are not of five years' standing. The earmarked fifty lakhs of rupees, which was trust money and should have been laid out on interest—the sanction of the Government of India would not have been wanting in better years and with the amount intact—was unwarrantably treated as part of the supposed-to-be-available cash balance, and in time the usual forgetfulness was induced and a part of the Trust money was swept away along with the real balance—even to the extent of the minimum working balance insisted on by the Secretary of State. It is not a cheery state of things to have been able to make the two ends barely meet out of a grudging Imperial dole in times of its own adversity, and gratitude for such relief has been properly expressed in this Council, and in the Imperial Council. Little sorrow and less surprise must be felt if for the time being we have lost caste in the Supreme Secretariat, for Provincial finances can hardly prosper during persistently successive 'one foot on the road and one foot on the chariot' régimes, that were commented on during the last Budget debate. We rejoice, Sir, that our kaleidoscopic Revenue administration is to be at an end for at least five years, and that the loose screws here, as everywhere else, will be tightened, under a policy of continuity, and that a firm and capable financial handling is to characterise the administration of Bengal, with one at the head of its affairs who knows Bengal and Bengal finances as thoroughly as he knows the finances of India and who has a due appreciation of all larger aspects. This is specially fortunate in view of the approaching Provincial Settlement when we hope to get back our own, and one is almost thankful that the Settlement is not immediately to be revised during a period of stress and strain, and with the memory of our financial feats still fresh in the Indian Secretariat. The cause of Bengal was powerfully and effectively pleaded in the Imperial Council, for which our thanks are due to Your Honour and the Hon'ble Mr. Slacke, and we hope to have better times when we have a rationally and sympathetically revised Settlement.

"The gloomy outlook all round, financial as well as political, very materially affects the interests of education. By the criminal folly of a few, which the community denounces and deplores, the cause of education, the sole salvation of our country, has been put back by many a year. And the difficulties have been seriously augmented by crippled Government resources. We gratefully recognise our rapid educational advance during the last five years, and we hope that when the clouds roll by and during the next five years, there will be still more marked advance, in spite of the prevailing gloom. But the advance by 95 per cent. which has brought up the total to no more than 55½ lakhs to meet the needs of a continent, is only an index of the apathy of those in authority during the years preceding the last five years, and marks the beginning of a new sympathetic era, for inauguration of which all honour is due to Sir Andrew Fraser, and which will be brighter and more fruitful under Your Honour's fostering care, that was watchful even when Your Honour was Finance Member. Let us hope, Sir, that under the new scheme now under the consideration of the Government of India, it will be possible to translate to their proper sphere of work, eminent and capable educationists who have received their training in England, who are doing their work thoroughly and worthily, and some of whose names are household words in the Educational and Scientific world. This would be a bare act of justice—a great encouragement to good and sound work, and would also be instrumental in giving appreciable relief to the worthy and hardworked Subordinate Service, whose claims and cause I have placed before Your Honour's Government through the Hon'ble the Judicial and General Secretary, and with the details of which representation I shall not burden the Budget debate, as I felt it my duty to do last year. Provisions have no doubt been made for strengthening the staffs of Government colleges; but if the realities of the situation are to be faced, much larger grants would be necessary to bring our colleges up to the proper University standard. How exacting that standard is and has to be under the law is well known to all; and if things are not yet quite correct in Government colleges, how can better or even as good things be expected in our private colleges with their slender and precarious means? Musalman, Hindoo and European Senators whom I have consulted all earnestly urge larger expenditure. We are supremely grateful to you, Sir, for appreciating the real state of our private colleges which Your Honour referred to with such effect in the Supreme Council the other day and I trust that means will soon be placed at your Honour's disposal for affording them the necessary relief, without which the very existence of some of them will be impossible. Some of our Government colleges are so manned that in the case of the Sanskrit College affiliation in M. A. for Sanskrit had to be withdrawn and no affiliation in History was possible in Patna, and the courses of studies in many another college had to be cramped and curtailed. The Madrassa affairs, again, are in a deplorable condition, as the Vice-Chancellor had occasion to point out in his last Convocation address. The grants that Your Honour has been good enough to provide in the case of the Sanskrit College and the Madrassa may bring them some relief for the time being, but the larger questions have soon to be taken up. Regarding the Presidency College, the idea of removing which has been definitely abandoned, the improvement in situ must be on a much larger scale, for any real good, and though the buildings cannot be immediately undertaken, as your Honour stated the other day, acquisition of more land ought not to be deferred, for land will become more and more valuable every day. If the Ranchi scheme, now indefinitely postponed, be finally abandoned, may not the Presidency College hope to benefit by the reversion of the munificence of the Maharajadhiraj of Burdwan who takes such warm interest in all public matters? In this connection I would invite Your Honour's attention to the suggestion of some eminent educationists to convert the Presidency College into a self-contained and self-governing Corporation, which may be well supplemented by the Hooghly College, within such easy reach of Calcutta. If this is done, a considerable portion of the Mooshin Fund would be free for concentration on the bettering of Arabic and Persian education in some given centre and greater attention may also be paid to muktabs. Creation of similar Corporations would be possible in the near future in the case of the Medical College and the Civil Engineering College, as it will soon be an accomplished fact in the case of the proposed University Law College. The Law College grant, by the way, is far too small for good work, and I hope the matter will be reconsidered in better years, and some assistance to deserving private Law Colleges will also be vouchsafed. These Corporations, when in full working order, would relieve the Government of much of the anxiety, though not of pecuniary responsibility in regard to higher education, and would enable the Government to cope more effectively with Primary and Secondary Education, or rather Secondary and Primary Education, to quote Mr. Küchler's order of precedence with which I am inclined to agree.

"Speaking of the Engineering College, there is a volume of opinion against its removal from the neighbourhood of Calcutta. Sir Oliver Lodge has been telling an appreciative audience of late that an Industrial and Scientific University cannot afford to be far away from factory chimneys; and though it may be too late to cancel the Ranchi Removal Scheme, against which some experts have always held, it is to be hoped that some Government Technical Institute will be maintained in the neighbourhood of our docks and mills and factories and our Electric installations somewhat on the lines of the model institutions that I tried to indicate last year. The National Council of Education and the Bengal Technical Institute, which are manfully exerting themselves amidst gathering gloom, have an important and assured place in our technological education, particularly if they can come together, and are doing useful work in this direction, and it is a matter of congratulation to those interested in their work that the maintenance of strict discipline on absolutely educational lines is firmly insisted on in these struggling institutions.

"The provision for training of teachers and gurus, which is fairly large, is a work in the right direction. Some provision has also been made for training of female teachers, which will demand expansion in the immediate future, as ardent and capable educationists like Mrs. P. K. Ray and Miss Dass, who have studied the subject here and in England, assure us with emphasis. So long as our means are strictly limited, teaching and turning out of capable teachers must be the bulk of our work in the domain of Primary Education, and, wherever we can afford it, these teachers ought to be better paid than they are at present. Building of guru-training schools, which somehow got shunted last year and for which provision has this year been made, is therefore a profitable investment, especially as we recognise that Primary Education on the extensive scale demanded by some cannot be undertaken for a long while to come. Why however 'buildings' come under the heading 'Education,' passes many of our comprehension, but that is a matter which I shall not now attempt to discuss. Filtration downwards which is the only feasible course under the circumstances will be possible and easy if we can get well-trained and capable teachers in abundance who, because of their training, will make teaching their life's work, and the University has recognised this by instituting a degree in teaching which is unfortunately not yet very largely sought for. The education of our females is the only domain of education in which, according to Mr Orange, money trouble is not a difficulty, and I trust that at least in this direction our progress in the near future will be marked, though our resources are small.

"In the important matter of training up of teachers, the contributions of the National Council of Education and the newly-started Frœbel Society are likely to be useful, and when, between the exertions of those private agencies and the University and the Government a fair supply of qualified teachers, whose continuous services can be had on reasonable terms, is ensured, the expansion of our educational work, especially secondary and primary, will be practically assured. In connection with the work of training, I find a grant for training of pleaders in survey work. Useful and important as that work undoubtedly is for facilitating partition proceedings, I hardly think that these charges should come under the heading 'Educational'; and I may be permitted to express a doubt as to whether under the new condition of things the Pleadership Examination, if it is to be continued on the present lines, had not best go to the Education Department under some control by the University. Speaking of Law Examinations, there is no apparent provision in the Budget for Law Scholarships in places like Cuttack, where Law classes have been abolished, the establishment of which scholarships has practically been promised as essential in the interest of the Law students of the affected localities, as well as for the success of the proposed Law College. I fully sympathise with the Hon'ble Mr. Dass in his appeal for larger educational grants for Orissa, and I hope that expansion will soon be possible. I regret to notice the omission of any provision for assisting deserving private Arts Schools, whose good work by way of supplementing the work of the Government School of Arts has been recognised, and whose struggles cannot last much longer unless substantial help, either from the Government or the public, be immediately forthcoming. Though the public may not be doing all that it could or should for educational advancement, it is interesting to note in Mr. Orange's recent report that out of 559 lakhs spent in British India on education in 1907, of which Government has information, only 296 lakhs were spent by the Government; and out of 401 lakhs similarly spent in 1902, Government spent 177 lakhs. The list of private educational endeavours here indicated is of course by no means complete.

"I shall now shortly refer once more to the disproportionate character of directing and inspecting charges to which reference has been incidentally made by the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal. The directing charges have risen from 68 thousand rupees in 1902 to a lakh and 12 thousand in 1909, and the inspection charges from 2 lakhs 60 thousand to 7 lakhs 18 thousand. Whatever the numerical strength of the inspecting agency may be—and some increase was no doubt necessary on account of the increase in the number of institutions affected—its efficiency compared to the older standard is seriously questioned by some who have the advantage of knowing both the standards. There is a growing feeling that the costs of inspection have been needlessly added to by duplication and by introduction of less efficient and more expensive elements for doing work which the more experienced and efficient and less costly units were so long doing quite satisfactorily; and that the latter still continues and must continue to do the real work, while the former merely helps in augmenting the costs. This feeling may not be entirely well grounded, but it is impossible not to think that we should be very much better off for more teachers and professors and better teachers and professors than for increase of the inspecting agency without appreciable increase in the inspectable commodity. The directing agency which has doubled in cost during the period I am speaking of, affects colleges and schools as well, but the inspecting agency, the cost of which has trebled, affects only the schools. And yet, in spite of increased expenditure, 'reports with regard to the quality of the men recruited as Sub-Inspectors are unfavourable, and doubt is thrown on the suitability of the present Deputy Inspectors for the responsible charge of the education of the district,' which probably betokens demands for more expenditure in this direction.

"The amounts affected by Inspection are as follows:—

(a)	Government Schools—General	...	...	...	12·89
(b)	Ditto Special	...	...	...	10·01
			Total	...	22·90

To control the work thus represented costs us 7 lakhs 18 thousand, plus, let us say, half the directing charges, or a sum of 66 thousand, which gives a total in round numbers of nearly eight lakhs, or, in other words, inspection costs about one-third of what teaching costs. I am willing to include in the latter item the grants-in-aid amounting to 11 lakhs, and even the grant in scholarships amounting to a lakh and 85 thousand, for a portion of the inspection works lies in this direction, which would bring up the figure to 35 lakhs and 75 thousand of which the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal does not take note. Even this makes the inspecting charges disproportionately large, and I have heard of instances in which the cost of travelling of the Inspectresses of Schools came up to many times the paltry grant made to an out-of-the-way girls' school, which the mere man of an Inspector might have comfortably taken in the course of his usual round without serious jeopardy to any interests. In Bengal there are 390 High Schools inspected by 12 Inspectors, giving an average of 32 schools to each Inspector in six Divisions. The sanctioned number of Inspectresses is two and the number of Inspectors is twelve for the six Divisions and one for European Schools, besides a number of Subordinate Inspectors and Inspectresses, which agency has a marked tendency to grow. An experienced European Inspector, however, writes:—

'Another clerk on Rs. 30 a month will greatly add to the working capacity and efficiency of Deputy Inspectors, and would be more beneficent to inspection work than an Additional Deputy Inspector, for what interferes with the proper discharge of their duties is the growing administrative work and not the growth of schools.'

"I do plead, therefore, that so long as our resources are not limitless, we should apply more to the work proper than to supervision, which is not unoften more fanciful than needful. And I would once again urge on the necessity of continuity in our professorial work, which often suffers by drafting of Inspectors from its ranks. So long as our resources are limited, by careful re-arrangement and anxious reorganization alone can the money's worth be fully secured, and this I hope will engage the attention of the Educational authorities in the near future. Unless some of the grants are immediately increased and new grants are made, some of our schools and colleges will be absolutely crippled and cease to exist, for the University regulations are inexorable. As Your Honour very forcefully pointed out the other day in the Supreme Council, we are insisting upon that in the case of private schools and colleges which the Government finds it difficult to provide in its own institutions. Our teachers and professors can for a while be trusted to do their work without overinspection, and let us not come to a stage when the Inspecting Agency will flourish in its glory and the inspectable institutions will be gradually attaining the vanishing point.

"As time will not allow a detailed examination of many other important subjects which might well claim our attention, I shall merely indicate very shortly some of the more pressing ones:—

(1) The grant for anti-malarial operations and jungle clearing, for which His Highness the Hon'ble the Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad pleaded so hard, is far too small.

(2) Grants for improvement of the Puri drainage and Puri Water-works last year are insufficient. Sanitation of important places of pilgrimage and health resorts like this and of sanitaria like Madhupur and Baidyanath ought to be a matter of Government concern. In the latter connection I would once more press upon the attention of Government whether the question of the Sonthal Parganas ceasing to be non-regulation districts ought not to be soon taken up.

"Speaking of matters connected with Orissa, in which I presume to take a good deal of interest even in the presence of the Hon'ble Member for Orissa, I may be permitted to remind Your Honour that the building of the Cuttack Courts, which, as Your Honour has seen, are in a perfectly miserable condition, should be taken up as soon as possible.

(3) The question of re-organization and strengthening of the ministerial department of the Original Side of the High Court is a pressing one. I do not know whether this will come into the larger question of ministerial re-organization for which budget provision has been made, and if not, the revision of the Original Side establishment cannot be further deferred.

(4) The Begua Hanna embankment and the Tolly's nala improvement questions, which have been indefinitely put off, ought to be brought to the fore without delay.

(5) The increase in the pay of the Advocate-General, which was largely due, I believe, to the work of the Eastern Bengal Government, ought not to be wholly or even largely borne by this Government. I desire to associate myself with every word that the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal has said about the appointment of our hon'ble colleague Mr S. P. Sinha to the high office of Law Member.

"I trust that the Government will not seriously think of renewing the experiment of bringing out an Advocate-General from England, to which reference has been made by the Hon'ble Mr. Madhu Sudan Das. I would remind the Government of the failure of such an experiment in Madras many years ago. Nor is it likely of course that the Madras experiment of appointing a Vakil as Advocate-General will soon find official favour in this country.

(6) There is no apparent provision for the separation of Judicial and Executive Services, though some provision has been made regarding the Council Reform Scheme, in connection with which it is to be hoped that better facilities will be afforded to non-official members.

(7) Necessity of bettering our Subordinate Judicial Service by providing a Munsif's grade on Rs 500 on the lines adopted in Eastern Bengal and by allowing officiating periods to count towards pension, which is now being allowed, I believe, even in Burma. Detailed enumeration of various questions affecting this service will take up a long time and may be considered out of place in this Council, and I have addressed the Hon'ble the Judicial Secretary separately on the subject, setting forth various aspects which, I hope, will receive attention in due time.

(8) Provision ought to be made for restoring the old scale of travelling allowance to our Sub-Deputy Collectors. I believe the Government of India allowed in 1907 an increased halting allowance at the rate of Rs. 3 a day, which the officers concerned were allowed to draw for four or five months, after which it was unaccountably reduced. These officers have to keep conveyances and more than one establishment and have to do much by the way of keeping up prestige which even better-paid officers can ill afford to do. As it is they cannot make the two ends meet on their meagre pay, and the restoration of the increased halting allowance is the least that can be done to give them relief in these hard times

(9) The bettering of the status of our Assistant Surgeons is no less needed than that of Civil Hospital Assistants that has been considerately provided for this year, and some hopes were held out last year for their betterment which have not been realized. In this connection I would repeat my last year's suggestion that non-official medical talent may well be availed of, at least in connection with some of the excellent cottage hospitals which Your Honour opened the other day.

(10) A portion of the property escheated to Government, which represents the earnings of unfortunates, ought to be devoted to the maintenance of Refuge Homes, which would be a great help to the Purity movement. Private and Missionary help would be forthcoming if the matter is taken up.

(11) In a recent resolution in the Calcutta Gazette we find that the Golden Crown is a small and ancient type of trawler, and is by no means adequate for the work she has to perform, viz., the exploitation of the Bay. The vesse lwas purchased last year before the Budget came up for consideration, and opposition to this excellent investment was withdrawn because it was pointed out that the purchase was already an accomplished fact and because great things were predicted. The extract from the resolution I have just read is a notable commentary on the situation, to which I have no desire to add. But unless it be quite clear that the concern can be run, either by the Government or even a private agency, on a strictly business-like basis with success, it is questionable whether the Budget allowance of this year would lead to any useful purpose, whether from a scientific or economic point of view.

(12) The Vice-Chancellor and his colleagues on the Syndicate are grateful to the Hon'ble the Home Member for more than once appreciatively referring to their difficult work, and we are also thankful that the Imperial Government has been able to make a small University grant. But the University stands in immediate need of help, both from Your Honour's Government and the Government of India, for acquiring the fish-market to the south of the Senate House, the existence of which forbade a late Vice-Chancellor's holding Saturday meetings in hot weather. It is not from the point of view of personal comfort or even sanitary consideration that the acquisition is needed. Sooner or later we must have this land, and later on we shall have to pay a good deal more. In the present state of financial difficulty a secured loan on a proper basis is the only solution, and I trust it will be possible to put it through before long.

"Important questions arise in connection with Excise Administration and the Municipal Administration of Calcutta. I shall not refer to these matters, as legislation is pending in connection with the former and legislation may soon be looked forward to in connection with the latter, on lines indicated by the Report of the Decentralization Commission, which we gratefully recognise are in accordance with Your Honour's own long-cherished views and to which effect is soon likely to be given. One of the incidental matters which engaged the attention of that Commission was the relationship between officials and non-officials in this country, for the Commission rightly considered that the excellence of such relations is one of the best assets of the Government. Those relations will assuredly be of the best during a régime inaugurated by the statesmanlike utterances that we had the honour and pleasure of listening to in this Chamber on the first day that Your Honour took your seat. Sincere and unstinted cordiality of the kind manifest on the Belvedere lawn, not many days ago, when junior University men were Your Honour's delighted guests, is never thrown away on a people proverbially thankful for the smallest of small mercies, and the regrettable episodes of the last twelve months, which were dimly foreseen when we were discussing our last Budget, will soon, let us hope, be things veritably and eternally of the past. Your Honour will soon be visiting a field of your early labours—Purulia; that, Sir, is a field where the foundation of your great and illustrious career was laid, truly broad-based upon the goodwill of a grateful people; for there under the sombre shadows around Saheb Band, Your Honour gave some of the first indications of life-long goodwill towards the people eventually entrusted to your care and guidance, when freely and without restraint you allowed your heartfelt and heart-winning sympathy to flow towards those that ordinarily would be nothing and nobodies to a powerful District Officer in their great and abiding grief. The memory of such striking co-mingling of feelings is bound to be ever dear and green in the hearts of all that know or hear."

The Hon'ble BABU GAJADHAR Prasad said:—"A year of a famine cannot be a year of 'Prosperity Budget.' The budget is, it must be admitted, characterised by exceptional clearness and lucidity, upon which I must congratulate the Financial Secretary. It is no easy task to prepare a budget when there is an increase of expenditure accompanied by a reduction of income. However, as matters stand, we must see how the money at the disposal of our Government can be best used.

"I cannot help expressing my sincere gratification at the increase in the expenditure on education. Within the last few years there has been a marked increment under this head, and this is wholly justifiable; indeed, I may go so far as to say that this is yet inadequate. Education needs much more than the sum which has been allotted to it. In this connection, I deem it my duty to speak a word or two about the grants-in-aid given by Government to the private colleges in Bihar. The existence of these colleges is essentially necessary to the education of the people of the province. Bihar, I understand, gets only Rs. 2,300 a year. What Bengal gets is hardly adequate to her needs; but what Bihar gets is utterly insufficient. Circumstances compel me to renew my appeal to your Honour's Government on behalf of the private colleges in Bihar. Bihar is doubtless a backward province, and it certainly deserves support from Government and sympathy from advanced Bengal. The Bihar National College deserves special consideration. Doctors P. K. Ray and P. Brühl say regarding this institution, in their inspection report, dated 14th November 1908 '.....there is great need of the college in Bankipore. The Government College alone cannot meet the demand for higher education there.....The college has, at present, a Government grant of Rs 200 per month. This is quite inadequate.' Mr. Earle, the Commissioner of Patna, has also strongly recommended an increase of the grant to this institution. I hope your Honour's Government will increase the grant. The Patna College is the only Government College in Bihar and Biharis expect that it will be affiliated up to the M. A. Standard in every subject as soon as practicable.

"Anarchism and State Prosecutions.—There is one item of expenditure, the necessity for which we all deeply deplore: I mean the expenditure on State prosecutions. Here the innocent and the guilty have been placed under the same category; both equally suffer for the fault of only the latter. But I do not know how it can be easily avoided. The people should co-operate with the Government in suppressing anarchism, which is fatal to all peace and prosperity in the country. Our countrymen will not, I hope, forget the lesson which this year's budget teaches them. The crime of anarchism must be rooted out in the best way possible.

"Agricultural and Famine.—I have to draw the special attention of your Honour's Government to the agricultural needs of the province under your Honour's charge. India was known to be the granary of the East, and Bengal was said to be the granary of India. But what is the fact to-day? Famine reigns rampant, and lakhs of people of our part of the country do not know what it is to have two meals a day. Everywhere we hear complaints of drought. Everywhere we see barren fields and ruined crops. Agriculture was the main source of our prosperity. If agriculture fails, all other avocations are directly or indirectly, but seriously, affected, and the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary is right when he says that the revenues of Government have been affected by the rise in the price of staple food-crops. No pains should be spared to make agriculture highly attractive. We are much obliged to Government for the establishment of the Agricultural College in our midst. The agricultural associations are useful institutions. But that is not enough to prevent famine. The most important question is—How should drought or the effect of drought be avoided? The effects of drought may be avoided by (a) a system of canal irrigation, (b) by a system of well irrigation. And drought may be prevented by (1) the preservation of forests, and (2) the planting of trees. The system of canal irrigation has already proved useful. It is certainly not unsuited to our soil and our climate. And what is more, the recent Revenue Report of the Public Works Department (Irrigation Branch) amply shows that it is not a losing concern. I do not hesitate therefore to plead for its extension. If this system of irrigation is extended, it will help the agriculturists to a great extent and will not be a burden to the financial resources of Government. Much of the unrest prevailing in the country would doubtless disappear if the agricultural condition of the country were considerably improved. As regards well irrigation, I have sometimes had to speak from my seat in this Council, but I venture again to commend it to your Honour's Government. With the help of water-lifting machines, well water can be very well utilised for irrigation purposes, and I feel sure Government will not be a loser. The next point to which I have to draw the attention of your Honour's Government is the planting of trees and the preservation of forests. It is, I believe, a settled theory that the preservation of forests helps the rains. The failure of rains has much to do with the failure of crops. It seems necessary, therefore to preserve the forests. The planting of trees, I respectfully submit, is necessitated by the circumstances of the present day. Many forests have been cut. In order to make up what we have lost, trees should be planted. Mr. J. H. Lea, our popular Collector of Patna, proposed in a speech which he delivered at Patna, that the 'Arbour Day' might be celebrated in India. I fully agree with him.

"There have been numerous complaints by many Indian thinkers regarding the use which is made of the Road-cess Fund and the Public Works Cess Fund. It is urged that these ought not to have been levied at all; these have been levied against the spirit of the Permanent Settlement; and now that they have been levied they ought to be applied to the removal of the needs of the landlord and the tenant. But be that as it may, I am humbly of opinion that a considerable portion of these Funds may reasonably be used for help to the agriculturists in irrigation matters. There are several District Board roads, which have to cross rivulets and have large bridges over them. Is it impracticable to have shutters in these bridges and thus to utilise these natural water-channels for irrigation purposes? All new bridges may have shutters, and the rivulets may, to some extent, serve the purposes of reservoirs and canals. Is it not also possible to use the Famine Relief Funds for helping irrigation? Is there any harm if irrigation works in place of roads are undertaken as relief-works, whenever there be any necessity for such relief? I beg respectfully to make these suggestions for your Honour's consideration. I may here note, it is not possible for an ordinary zamindar to establish any such irrigation system in his zamindari.

"Excise Bill.—The Excise Bill is pending before the Council. I am glad to be able to congratulate your Honour's Government upon the Bill which has been framed and introduced. Government has in this Bill recognised to some extent the well-known principle that in all matters relating to excise the voice of the people should always be respected. But the Bill does not go far enough in this direction. The 'Local Option' principle is one which deserves your Honour's consideration. The voice of the people should always be allowed to prevail in the matter of the location of shops. We are grateful to your Honour for the circular your Honour has issued, recognising such a principle.

"Jail.—The treatment of Hindu under-trial prisoners is, I humbly submit not quite satisfactory. They are provided with iron plates for taking their meals. I suggest that they may be given brass plates instead of iron ones. I think the difference in the cost will not be high. Hindus and Muhammadans may be separately seated at dinner times. A Brahmin prisoner or a Brahmin cook may be appointed to cook their food: the arrangement can be easily made, and I hope the Government will not fail to do it.

"Reform Scheme.—The Reform Scheme is, no doubt, an Imperial scheme, but your Honour's Government is so much concerned with it and your Honour has shown so much sympathy for it that I cannot resist the temptation of speaking a little about it. It is an unfortunate circumstance that there has been a strong opposition in England to the inclusion of clause 3 in the Bill. The Bill would lose much of its value if this clause were omitted therefrom. But we all fervently hope that Government will steadily and sympathetically work for the speedy introduction of the proposed reforms and will not allow the progress of the reforms to be hampered by the anarchical crimes of some foolish misguided youths who have adopted an attitude which is undoubtedly detrimental to the best interests of our motherland. All the leading men of our society should strive their best for the boycotting of all such men as have or as may be proved to have the least connection with any such revolutionary movement. It is a duty which we owe to ourselves, to our country, as also to the youngsters concerned.

"I believe I express the Bihar public opinion when I say that Bihar is very much indebted to Your Honour for the promptitude with which Your Honour's Government met the demand for a Lectureship in History at the Patna College. That Your Honour's Government has in spite of all financial difficulties been able to set apart a considerable sum of money for the establishment of a Law College at Patna, bears testimony to the interest which Your Honour's Government takes in the welfare of the Biharis. The abolition of the Audit fee and the Banking fee will be a great help to all local self-governing bodies and we are deeply grateful to Government for it. Your Honour's Budget speech in the Viceregal Council amply evidences your paternal care for the people committed to your charge. Your anxiety to satisfy the local needs of the people has raised high hopes in their minds and has already endeared you to them."

The Hon'ble the MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said:—"Your Honour, our funds are so limited, that I really hardly need to take up the time of the Council on any point in the Budget that was introduced not so very long ago by my hon'ble friend, the Financial Secretary.

"My first duty is a pleasant one, and that is to thank the Government for providing the sum of Rs. 40,000 for the Burdwan Central Hospital. It is an institution, Sir, that has been badly needed, and to me, personally, it is a matter of gratification to know that the scheme I launched about two years ago has begun to bear fruit, and that before very long we may hope to be able to boast that we have one of the best hospitals in Bengal.

"I now turn to a more important question, that of the Ranchi College Scheme. Knowing fully the financial difficulties that we are in at present, I cannot very well ask Your Honour's Government to provide for the carrying out of the Ranchi College in the immediate future, but that is no reason for thinking of abandoning the scheme altogether. The scheme, Sir, I may assure Your Honour, has the fullest sympathy of many people in Bengal, and who, I may say, have felt keenly disappointed that first of all the scheme should be discarded for a long time in the Secretariat of the India Government, and when it does receive the sanction of the Secretary of State in a modified form, and the India Government, it should have to be indefinitely postponed owing to the shortness of money. I only mention the Ranchi College Scheme, Sir, for Your Honour's consideration, and may, I hope, Sir, on behalf of my friends who are interested in this scheme and my humble self, that if the Government of India is able to make a further grant to the Bengal Government, that the Ranchi College Scheme will not be lost sight of.

"I now turn, Sir, to the provision made for the Fishery inquiries in Bengal. While fully concurring with my hon'ble friend, the Financial Secretary, that, later on, the Fishery inquiries ought to be taken up by private enterprise, I trust that the Government will be able to demonstrate to the public more fully in the future the results of the Fishery inquiries in Bengal, and convince the public of the useful utility of the large amount of public money being spent on this purpose. Being a member of the Committee of the Fishery Board, I have just come across some rules that have been framed and circulated amongst the members of the Committee, that tend to show that, for the improvement of the breed of fish in Bengal, there is a liklihood of an encroachment upon private fishery rights. If it is desirable to make pisiculture a popular industry, Sir, in Bengal, I trust Government will look into this matter carefully, and see that unnecessary official interference is not allowed over private fishery rights. With these few remarks, Sir, I have pleasure in supporting the Budget as it now stands."

The Hon'ble RAI KISHORI LAL GOSWAMI BAHADUR said:—"Your Honour.—The canons of debate over the Financial Statement which Your Honour, as President of this Council, laid down at our last sitting, and to which we all must respectfully submit, have considerably restricted the scope of discussion over the Financial Statement for the year that has just set in—a statement in which, with arduous care, the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary has managed to make the two ends meet. In a year of such exceptional financial stress, it will be futile to discuss important schemes or any ambitious programme of capital expenditure which a progressive administration would demand. I shall therefore be brief and confine my observations to what strictly comes within the four corners of the statement, so lucidly placed before us by the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary. I must, however, frankly confess at the outset to a slight sense of disappointment at the restraint imposed on the Budget debate, in that it has deprived the non-official members of an opportunity to present before Your Honour, in such methodical forms as each one is capable of, their criticisms on the administration of this Province, and to listen to such explanations as the official members might choose to offer in order to remove misconceptions or throw light on such administrative questions as are misunderstood or are not clear to public minds. I have advisedly used the word 'slight' in view of the increased facilities for effective debate and discussion in connection with the Financial Statement which form an important feature of the reformed proposals, enunciated and discussed in the Government of India's despatch to Lord Morley, dated the 1st October 1908, and published in the Blue Books on the subject—facilities, which God-willing, will be available to the Hon'ble Members when the next Provincial Budget will be introduced in the enlarged Council.

"We are grateful to the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary for the fuller information contained in his Financial Statement which has helped a better comprehension of several important items of expenditure. While presenting the Financial Statement at the last meeting of this Council, he alluded to the new features in his statement, and I therefore shall not repeat them. I, however, humbly believe that there still remains much to be desired in the way of elucidation of the Budget figures. I shall briefly submit my views to show in what respects still fuller information will prove of great assistance to the non-official members in understanding the expenditure side of the statement. With Your Honour's leave I shall repeat what I said last year on this point. 'A fuller and more specific information is needed to explain for what specific purposes the grants for Civil Works in charge of the Civil Officers and of the Public Works Department and for the larger items of non-recurring charges will be spent. The present Financial Statement, like those that have preceded it, omits to furnish sufficient clue by which the non-official members and the outside public can find out to what extent allotments made for useful public purposes in a year have not been wholly or partially utilised in the year, together with such explanations as would be deemed necessary, showing particularly how far the unexecuted portions of the works are covered by re-grants in the succeeding year.' Then again, I say, without meaning the slightest disrespect, there is an absence of method in the selection of the items of expenditure under the head 'Civil Works.' Referring to the detailed remarks on the Budget of the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary (paragraph 59), I find some building works or other works of like character in connection with Law Courts, Jails, Arts and other Colleges, Medical Institutions and Police are included under 'Civil Works'; while, on the other hand, charges for similar works are also included in other heads of expenditure. A scrutiny of the expenditure under the heads of 'Police' and 'Education' will make this point clear. In the former, Sir, there is not a single item of expenditure on account of building works of any kind for the accommodation of the Police or for Police Training Schools or for some other purpose connected with the Police force. Under the head 'Education' I find, that under sub-head 'Government Colleges,' a portion of the item of expenditure for Arts Colleges for boys represents provision for improvements of the Presidency College, Rs. 4,000 and Rs. 9,000, respectively, have been allotted for the improvements of the Sanskrit College and the Calcutta Madrassa—by these improvements, I presume, additions to the College buildings are meant (of course I speak subject to correction)—and Rs. 2,00,000 for Guru-training School buildings, besides, such portions of the expenditure under grants-in-aid as represent charges for school buildings. These should properly and consistently come under Civil Works, either in charge of Public Works Department or Civil Department. This anomaly must necessarily vitiate the calculation of percentages and amounts of increased expenditure under Police and Education as made by the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary at the time of the presentation of the Financial Statement. The Hon'ble the Financial Secretary has, in forcible language and with great earnestness, pointed to us the necessity for the exercise of caution and economy in the present state of the finance of the Province. It is hardly possible for the non-official members to submit proposals for retrenchment or economy, if they are not fully cognisant of the internal details of all new projects which of course will be initiated and finally disposed of by the Government. All new items in the Budget Estimate involving large expenditure or large increase of expenditure, such as, reorganization of a department, or considerable increase of staff of any branch of service or large constructive works, should be accompanied by such detailed explanation as would enable the non-official member to submit his suggestions in respect thereof in time to admit of an effectual consideration by the Government. I do not propose to labour this point any further, as drastic changes in the mode of preparation and presentation of the Financial Statement at different stages are in view as part of the great Reform Scheme.

"I shall now proceed to submit a few observations on some of the items of expenditure shown in Appendix B of the Financial Statement.

Land Revenue.—Under the sub-head 'Management of Government Estates,' Rs. 74,000 has been allotted for outlay on improvements, a portion of which represents expenses for Fraserganj reclamation works. It is, I tell you, Sir, extremely painful to me to speak disparagingly of anything which bears the honoured and beloved name of Sir Andrew Fraser. It is now proved beyond doubt that the reclamation works in Fraserganj have not been a financial success, and the idea of setting apart a portion of Fraserganj for the purpose of a sanitarium has not found favour with the general public. In these circumstances, the wasteful expenditure of public money for such reclamation works should be stopped.

"Stamps.—I have heard complaints of inconvenience from several persons for the discontinuance of the sale of one-anna and unified stamps through stamp vendors, giving them small discount on sales effected by them. An inquiry should be made to see if the revival of the discount system would conduce to public convenience.

"General Administration.—We are in the dark as to the efficacy of work done by the Controller of Office System. I humbly ask for a definite pronouncement, if the Government is satisfied that the work he is doing is commensurate with the expenses incurred on that account.

"Anarchy and Expenditure.—The Financial Statement reveals what a severe strain on the public purse has been caused by the small band of wicked Anarchists. I wish my countrymen to note particularly how much of public money, which otherwise would have served many beneficient purposes, has been spent for the suppression of the wicked movement towards anarchy and disorder. The expenses are spread over several heads—'Law,' 'Jails' and 'Police.' An examination of these will, I am sure, very much deepen the sense of abhorence created by their misdeeds. It is hoped that the extra expenditure under these heads, due to the suppression of anarchy and disorder, will not be repeated when anarchical crimes will be extirpated. May God speed the day.

"Police.—The two heads of expenditure in which the non-official members as also the outside public, take the keenest interest, are 'Police' and 'Education.' The real ratio between the expenditures under these two heads can be truly and correctly ascertained, if all expenses since the Partition of Bengal incurred for all building works in connection with Police and Education are relegated to the head 'Civil Works' and the receipts under those heads are respectively deducted from the total expenditures. Then a common basis will be established for purposes of comparison. Judged by this criterion, the increase of expenses under the head 'Police' will be found much larger than that under the head 'Education.' I have not omitted to note that a special recurring grant of 14½ lakhs has been made by the Government of India to give effect, so far as possible, to the recommendations of the Police Commission which have been approved by the India Government, nor have I overlooked the extraordinary expenditure required for the detection and suppression of anarchical crimes. We all welcome a reformed Police, but the goal seems to be yet far off and any sign of reform is hardly yet visible.

"Education.—(1) No provision has been made for carrying out any one of the many valuable recommendations made in the excellent report of the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming. Other Provinces, notably the United Provinces, Madras and Eastern Bengal and Assam, are taking practical steps to give effect to the proposals for the advancement of Technical and Industrial education and for the development of local industries. I most sincerely wish that the hopes of returning prosperity, so sanguinely looked for by the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary, will be fully realised so as to enable him, to make ample room for this purpose in the next Budget estimate.

(2) The scheme for an Arts College at Ranchi, after several vicissitudes of fortune, was given a definite but modest shape by the late Lieutenant-Governor with the concurrence of the Secretary of State. The strong popular opposition to the scheme which owed its origin to the fear that the Presidency College will cease to exist, has now given place, I must say in spite of the views of my hon'ble friend Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to popular approbation of the less ambitious scheme for establishing an Arts College in Ranchi for teaching up to the B. A. and B.. Sc. Standards. It is much to be regretted that after the foundation-stone of the College building was laid last year by Sir Andrew Fraser and having regard to the generous contributions which have been promised by my hon'ble friend the Maharajadhiraja of Burdwan and other noblemen of Bengal in support of that scheme on condition that the construction of the college building should be immediately taken in hand, no allotment has been made in the Budget estimate for the Ranchi College building. There is no necessity for what is called a Rajcoomar College in Bengal, but a model college in one of the healthiest parts of the country teaching up to the B. A. and B. Sc. Standards will be largely resorted to by boys belonging to the wealthy and well-to-do families of this Province including the sons of high Indian officials. I regret at the unsympathetic attitude of my friend to my right towards the Ranchi College Scheme, which springs from ignorance of the feelings of a large number of people—notably the well-to do landed community who have evinced their appreciation in the most tangible form of large subscriptions and the successful gentlemen belonging to the learned professions and also the high Indian officials whom exigencies of public service oblige them to shift from place to place, and therefore feel very much the necessity of placing their boys in such a residential College as has been proposed to be established in Ranchi or it may be my friend has been blinded by an overpowering love for the Presidency College and Colleges in Calcutta. Your Honour will during your visit to Ranchi a few days hence, see the large number of new houses built up and those that are under construction, which are intended mainly to help the owners of the houses to enable them to educate their boys in an atmosphere favourable to health, intellect and morals. I hope Sir, my friend's utterance will make the 'indefinite postponement' necessitated by financial stringency a postponement sine die.

(3) The grant of Rs. 80,000 allowed in three successive years to the struggling private colleges has been stopped this year. The sudden stoppage of this grant, the repetition of which the private colleges looked forward to, at all events for some years to come, will retard the progress of collegiate education as the new University Regulations have burdened them with obligations which they are unable to discharge without State help. However the announcement made by the Finance Member of the Government of India at the last Budget debate in the Viceroy's Council that a grant of Rs. 1,60,000 will be made to Bengal for University Education has inspired the hope that Your Honour will be able to satisfy the legitimate demand of the private colleges for State help. I am entirely at one with Mr. Küchler, the Director of Public Instruction, that schemes for educational improvement should proceed according to the following order of priority (i) Collegiate Education, (ii) Secondary Education, and (iii) Primary Education.

(4) Expenditure on inspection of schools is quite disproportionate to the expenditure on the schools themselves. The expenditure on this head might, in my humble judgment, have been reduced and the saving thus effected might have been diverted to the furtherance of Technical and Industrial education and the Ranchi College Scheme. Anyhow a beginning might have been made in these two directions.

(5) The provision of 2 lakhs for Guru-training school buildings seems to be unnecessary, for it is not proposed to have trained Gurus on an extensive scale as the state of the finances both Imperial and Provincial, has rendered the prospect of free and compulsory primary education, dim and distant. Besides, the present requirements for Guru-training school buildings might be met with a very moderate expenditure, as these schools might be located in hired buildings and chondimondops. Might it not be possible to divert a portion of this grant to the aforesaid two purposes for which no room has been made in the Budget? Those projects should have precedence over Guru-training school buildings. Educational expenditure owing to the exigencies of finance has been cut down in the same way as Civil Works expenditure, but in the opinion of the public, Education should occupy the foremost place in the Budget, and the expenditure should from year to year be on the ascending scale.

"Agriculture.—Agriculture should no longer be treated as a minor department, and the expenditure on Agricultural Department should not be lumped together under the sub-head 'Experimental Cultivation.' The charges for agricultural education ought properly to come under the head 'Education,' and the rest of the expenditure in connection with agriculture should be included in head (Scientific and Other Departments) under a distinctive sub-head, 'Agricultural Improvements.' The cost of direction and supervision should be separated from that of demonstration, improvements and experiments. A more adequate provision should have been made for a larger number of itinerant Agricultural Inspectors.

"Miscellaneous.—Out of Rs. 1,85,000 allotted for Special Commission inquiry, Rs. 1,65,000 represents the charges for the Fishery Inquiry. Exploitation of the sea-fisheries for the benefit of a country, the generality of the people of which eat fish, is undoubtedly desirable, but the result of the exploitation since the last monsoon hardly encourages one to persevere with it. In the year which has just set in, the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary has informed us that the anticipated sale-proceeds of fish which will be caught by the steam-trawler Golden Crown is Rs. 15,000. That keeps the enterprise very far from a commercial success. I, however, welcome the stimulus to private enterprise which will be afforded by the State Scholarships awarded to some Indian students for the study of Pisciculture in Europe and America. I shall ask Your Honour to seriously ponder over the situation and to decide whether further exploitation should be carried on with such a trawler as the Golden Crown.

"The remarks of the Fishery Adviser to the Bengal Government in his last report regarding the Golden Crown are rather disheartening. He said: 'It may not be amiss to remark here that the Golden Crown is a small and ancient type of trawler, and that her gear is by no means adequate for the work she has to perform, viz., the exploitation of the Bay.'

"Closing Balance.—The Hon'ble the Financial Secretary has explained that the causes which contributed to the gradual depletion of the closing balance, reducing 44 lakhs, being the closing balance of 1906-07, to zero in the estimate of the current year are—

(i) increased expenditure on Public Works;

(ii) growth of expenditure under the heads of Police and Education;

(iii) very heavy charges incurred in the payment of grain-compensation allowance; and, lastly,

(iv) short collections of Land Revenue and diminished Excise and Stamps Revenue owing to Agricultural depression.

"Is this depletion due to reckless expenditure and exceptional causes, such as Famine, Anarchy, etc., or is it due to a radical defect in the method of assignment of Provincial Revenues which are inadequate to cope with the progress of administrative reforms? Your Honour, who has won laurels in the domain of finance has, I am happy to find, made a careful survey of the whole situation and addressed a vigorous appeal in the Viceroy's Council for a revision of the Provincial settlement when the present financial stringency comes to an end. I trust Your Honour's appeal will be generously responded to by the India Government. It is indeed a serious state of affairs that a balance of 44 lakhs of rupees should be wiped out in three years and leave this Province in a state not very far removed from bankruptcy. To the complete absorption of the closing balance of 44 lakhs must be added the Imperial grant of 16 lakhs and 95 thousand to cover provincial deficit, making a total of close upon Rs. 61,00,000.

"Sir, before I resume my seat, I shall crave your indulgence to refer to two important extraneous matters. On behalf of the Association I have the honour to represent in this Council, I express our sincere administration of the high statesmanship which has dictated the appointment of the learned Advocate-General of Bengal, the Hon'ble Mr. S. P. Sinha, as the first Indian Law Member of the Council of the Viceroy and Governor General of India. In reply to the welcome accorded to Your Honour on the first day that you occupied the Presidential Chair of this Council, you made certain observations regarding the befitting attitude of the members of the Indian Civil Service towards the people of this country generally, and particularly towards their non-official colleagues in this Council, which have evoked the deepest gratitude of the people of this country and they are viewed by one and all of us as a very salubrious appendant to the noble message of our gracious Sovereign and the lofty principles of modern liberalism on which the Reform Scheme of Lord Morley and Lord Minto are based. In every honest Indian heart there will be a niche for both those noble Lords and they will occupy an abiding place of glory in the pages of the History of India."

THE Hon'ble MR. THOMSON said:—"The decrease in the navigation receipts from the Nadia rivers, referred to by the Hon'ble Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad, is mainly due to a reduction by half of the rates of tolls during the flood season, with effect from June, 1906; and also to short crops, and diversion of traffic to the railways. As regards improvement of the river channels, dredging in the Bhagirathi is being done solely as a sanitary measure, to increase the supply of drinking-water. The question of keeping open a channel connecting with the Ganges, and navigable for steamers throughout the year, has occupied the attention of Government for many years; but the natural conditions are such as to make it improbable that any efforts in this direction will ever prove permanently successful.

"The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari draws attention to the Begua Hanna embankment, and Tolly's Nala improvement. Plans and estimates have been prepared for constructing a weir across the Begua breach on the right bank of the Damoodar river, to regulate the flood discharge. The work will be very costly, and will require careful consideration before it is decided on. A project for the improvement of Tolly's Nala to form part of the steamer route from Khulna to Calcutta has been prepared and submitted to the Government of India.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Das remarks upon the rise in the cost of establishment under the head of Civil Works. The increase is chiefly due to increased salaries under the Re-organization Scheme sanctioned by the Secretary of State; to smaller contribution by the Government of India on account of Imperial Works; to the appointment of a Consulting Architect; and to additional Electrical establishment.

"The Hon'ble Babu Gajadhar Prasad pleads for the extension of irrigation. The Government is fully aware of the importance of this matter, and continues to give it most careful attention. The proposal to form reservoirs by putting shutters in road bridges is not practicable to any useful extent."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said:—"Sir, I have to offer a few observations on the remarks of the Hon'ble Members concerning the subjects belonging to the Judicial and General Departments. I take up first matters of the Judicial Department.

"Regarding the Presidency Honorary Magistrates, it is urged by the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal that they are being deprived of their privileges. Recently at the instance of the Chief Presidency Magistrate, an increase was made in the number of the Magistrates who are empowered to sit singly. There had been complaints against the delay in the disposal of cases by Honorary Benches.

"As regards the suggestion of the Hon'ble Member for constituting Honorary Benches in the Small Cause Courts, which was also made last year, Government has no pronouncement to make.

"The construction of new buildings for the Cuttack Civil Court, to which the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari has alluded, is estimated to cost a lakh and a half. Administrative approval has been given. Civil Court buildings are being renewed in three other districts at present.

"The same Hon'ble Member has urged the necessity for improving in two respects the Judicial Branch of the Provincial Civil Service. The Government of India have recently not approved the proposal to appoint a new grade of Munsifs on Rs. 500 in this Province. But as regards the other point on which that Service naturally lays much stress, the Secretary of State has recently sanctioned the proposal that Munsifs should be allowed to count as service qualifying for pension the periods, whether continuous or not, during which they may have held acting appointments.

"The increase of the pay of the Advocate-General is criticised by the Hon'ble Mr. Das, on the assumption that it is meant for the successor to the Hon'ble Mr. Sinha. As a matter of fact, the pay of Rs. 4,000 a month was sanctioned in May, 1908, by the Secretary of State for the case of the Hon'ble Mr. Sinha, who succeeded Mr. O'Kinealy.

"It has been suggested by the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari that the Pleadership Examination should be placed under the Education Department. I am afraid I fail to see that any advantage would be gained. The Education Department would have to constitute a Board of Examiners; and a Board of Examiners exists at present, consisting of not less than eight members, the President of which must always be a Judge of the High Court. Government is not aware of any dissatisfaction with the working of the Board, which was constituted twenty-five years ago.

"The Hon'ble Babu Gajadhar Prasad has suggested certain changes in the treatment of under-trial prisoners in jails. As regards the arrangements for the cooking of food by Brahmans and for the separation at meals of Hindus from Muhammadans, and high castes from low castes, the Jail Code lays down considerate instructions; and even allows a prisoner in certain cases to cook for himself, if the caste of the jail cook is not sufficiently high. No complaint has been received about the use of iron plates. If the Hon'ble Member will furnish me precise information concerning the cases which prompted his remarks, the Inspector-General of Prisons will be very pleased to make inquiries.

"An inquiry has been made by the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal regarding the court-fees of the Calcutta Small Cause Court. By a notification of the 24th October, 1908, some relief to suitors has been given, to take effect from the 1st April, 1909, at an annual estimated loss to Government of Rs. 13,000.

"I next turn to the General Department, which deals principally with educational matters. There is, however, an inquiry from the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal as to whether the sum of half a lakh provided in the Budget for inspection of factories is meant to cover inspection of septic-tank installations. The answer is that the charge is a medical charge, and that it will be met from the Medical Budget.

"The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari has drawn attention to the claims of the Provincial Educational Service. These were the subject of a careful inquiry by Mr. Earle, and last year proposals were submitted to the Government of India for the improvement of the pay and prospects of the Service. Government recognizes that the result of its action is eagerly awaited by the public generally, and especially by those interested in the progress of education.

"Three of the Hon'ble Members have complained that there is a disproportionate expenditure on the work of inspection of schools compared with the work of teaching. It is true that the cost of inspection has increased nearly three-fold in six years, but is still only 13 per cent. of the total Educational Budget. Leeway had to be made up under both heads, and we have now practically completed the scheme which we had for the improvement of inspection. The scheme for the improvement of secondary education at a recurring cost of many lakhs, which is a much larger matter, is still under discussion with the Government of India, who have quite recently approved generally of the principles of our scheme. The scheme for guru-training schools is for the improvement of teaching in primary schools.

"The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari has emphasized the difficulty and expense of bringing our colleges up to a proper University standard. Government appreciates the propriety of setting a good example in Government colleges and of giving assistance to private colleges. From time to time temporary appointments have been made in Government colleges on the lines of the permanent appointments proposed in Mr. Earle's scheme. It is a question of funds In response to our request to the Government of India to continue the allotment of liberal grants for the improvement of private colleges and for University reform generally, including University buildings, a sum of Rs. 1,60,000 has been allotted to this Province, after the present budget was framed; the details are not yet in our hands. We have recently passed orders on the recommendation of Mr. Küchler, until recently the Director of Public Instruction, for an increase of staff in the Sanskrit College and in the Patna College; and proposals for strengthening the staff of the Ravenshaw College and for giving further assistance to the Bihar National College are under consideration. The Hon'ble the Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad has drawn attention to the need for the improvement of the Calcutta Madrassa. Mr. Earle, when on special duty in 1908, drew up a scheme in consultation with a representative Committee. His proposals were nearly all accepted by Government, and are to be brought into effect as funds permit. The sum of Rs. 9,000 now allotted represents two-thirds of the amount which is required. The Hon'ble the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan and the Hon'ble Rai Kishori Lal Goswami Bahadur have called attention to the scheme for an Arts College at Ranchi. Government shares the regret of the Hon'ble Members that the condition laid down by the Government of India antecedent to the acceptance by this Government of the generous offer of one lakh made by the Hon'ble the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan and his friends, has not been fulfilled; but there is no danger that the scheme will be overlooked.

"Turning to the head of Technical Education, I may say in reply to the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari that the proposed removal of the Civil Engineering College from Sibpur has been accepted in principle by the Government of India. The Engineering College in all probability will continue to develop as it has done in the past. Two of the main proposals mentioned in the Industrial Report are no longer in the hands of this Government As regards instruction in Industrial Chemistry, the arrangements have been made, and we await the arrival of an expert whose selection is at present in the hands of the Secretary of State. Government desires some experience of these Industrial Chemistry classes before embarking on a larger scheme. The appointment of a Superintendent of Industries and Inspector of Technical and Industrial Schools is also before the Secretary of State. The Weaving Institute at Serampore was opened in January last; the future careers of those who are trained there will be watched with interest.

"The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari has complained that the Law College grant is too small. This Government has sanctioned an annual grant of Rs 3,500 for five years to the University Law College. The Patna Law College will require in its first year more than the Rs. 20,000 entered in the Budget, especially on account of the Library, and an endeavour will be made by Government to make up the deficiency. As regards law scholarships for Uriya students, six at Rs. 30 a month have been sanctioned, tenable at Patna or Calcutta. I regret to have to inform the Hon'ble Mr. Das that for the present, a separate Law College for Orissa is not justified, though Government sympathizes with the wish of Uriyas to study for the B. L. Examination without leaving Orissa. And as regards the training and examination in Surveying of pleaders, this matter has been under the examination of this Government in consultation with the Hon'ble the Judges of the High Court and with the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam. It is proposed to constitute a representative Board which would conduct examinations for the two provinces. Improved arrangements have also been made for imparting instruction in Surveying.

"The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari has noticed the omission of any grant to the private Schools of Art in Calcutta. These must, I am afraid, look to the public for assistance.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Das is under the impression that the fact that the District Boards did not appropriate all the grants for primary schools shows that there was an inability on the part of the people to comply with the terms of the grants, and he suggests an alteration of the terms. This is not the whole reason; the District Boards were asked in the latter half of the year to refund unexpended balances to meet other claims in the Department on account of primary education. The grants were for building model primary schools; and in many cases local contributions were not forthcoming. Government is not prepared on the experience gained to dispense with the local contribution.

"The same Hon'ble Member has put forward a representation for the training of female teachers in Orissa. Government in this matter, after careful consideration, has made a modest experimental start in Calcutta and in Patna. The case of Orissa will now be considered.

"In conclusion, Sir, there is one remark of the Hon'ble Mr. Das which I cannot allow to pass unchallenged: he suggests that Magistrates take a pleasure in disturbing on unintelligible grounds the harmonious working of girls' schools. The experience of the Hon'ble Member may have been unfortunate: but as a general statement for the whole Province, it is hardly fair, and does not agree with anything which I have ever heard or seen in district work."

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE said:—"SIR—The Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal refers to the provision of Rs. 50,000 which has been made for Additional Deputy Collectors for settlement duty, and expresses the hope that this will be so utilized as to reduce the period of probation of Deputy and Sub-Deputy Collectors. These gentlemen, as he observes, were formerly kept on probation for a period of six months, which has recently been extended to a year, during which period they receive a subsistence allowance, which is only half of the pay which they draw when finally appointed sub. pro tem. The extension of probation to a year took place after mature consideration, because young officers on their appointment have everything to learn; and unless they are given special training, they fail to obtain a comprehensive knowledge of their duties. After their year's probation, they are given appointments as fast as vacancies occur; and the only way to appoint them quicker, would be to recruit fewer of them, which, perhaps, the Hon'ble Member would not desire. The special provision of Rs. 50,000 is intended to provide for 10 Deputy Collectors and 30 Sub-Deputy Collectors; but these appointments can only be made when the Government of India sanction them. Should the Government of India do so, the officers at present on probation would, no doubt, benefit by, in the first instance, obtaining a majority of the new appointments.

"Reference has been made by the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to the scale of travelling allowance granted to Sub-Deputy Collectors. The Government of India at one time, about two years ago, allowed a daily rate of Rs 3 to be drawn by Sub-Deputy Collectors, but a short time after they withdrew the privilege and confined them to the ordinary rates of travelling allowance under the Civil Service Regulations. It must, however, be remembered that previous to 1907 Sub-Deputy Collectors drew no daily allowance, unless they travelled more than 15 miles a day. Now they draw it on the same conditions as other officers of similar standing. Under the rules they are entitled to from Re. 1 to Rs. 2-8, according to their rate of pay. So far Government has not before it sufficient materials to lead it to suppose this rate to be inadequate to meet their ordinary expenses.

"The question of the scheme of the separation of Executive and Judicial functions which has been referred to by the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal has not lain dormant. It has, however, become apparent that there are extensive difficulties, both legal and practical, and these are being solved in correspondence with the Government of India. If the solution should be satisfactory, extensive measures of preparation will still be required to give effect to the scheme, and expenditure on it could hardly be undertaken in the current year, even if the financial situation permitted.

"Referring to the observations of the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal on the necessity for improving the Calcutta Police Court building, I can only regret that improvement is blocked for the present by financial stringency. My predecessor, Mr. Gait, promised last year that, if the Chief Presidency Magistrate could suggest improvements on a reasonable scale, the matter would be sympathetically considered. These proposals have not yet been submitted in a form in which they can be dealt with by Government. But even if they had been, it must be admitted that funds could not be found to undertake them in the current year.

"Referring to the remarks made by the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal and other Hon'ble Members on Fraserganj, I would desire to correct the misapprehension, if in fact it exists, that Fraserganj was intended solely or even mainly as a health resort. The opportunity for establishing a health resort arose, because the island under reclamation had a sea frontage. Efforts were certainly made to popularise it by providing a rest bungalow and a golf course and by establishing a steamer service. These, however, only account for a total of rather less than Rs. 80,000 out of about Rs. 5,30,000 which was expended on the reclamation. The efforts have not been successful, owing to the difficulty of maintaining a steamer service and the future of the island as a health resort mainly depends on whether such a service can be run. For the present no further expenditure will be incurred in this direction. The remaining expenditure of 4½ lakhs is due to the reclamation of land for cultivation—an enterprise in which Government has not previously embarked on its own account, at least on such a scale but one, as the Council is aware, which has been extensively carried on by private capitalists in the Sundarbans.

"Upwards of 7,000 acres have been reclaimed and rendered fit for cultivation. Expenditure has practically come to an end, except, of course, on the recurring repairs to embankments. It is improbable that Government will continue to directly manage the reclaimed estate, and proposals for leasing it are under consideration.

"The Hon'ble Rai Kishori Lal Goswami Bahadur has suggested that provision should have been made for a larger number of itinerant Agricultural Inspectors. The itinerant Inspector shown in the Budget is a Provincial officer: he may be employed for the inspection of the Government farms, and suffices for that duty. As demonstration farms are multiplied, it will be necessary to employ other Inspectors. The Hon'ble Member may, however, be reminded that there are already six Agricultural Inspectors employed in Divisions under the Divisional Associations, as also three travelling Overseers, although these officers are of a lower rank than the Inspectors of the Provincial Service to whom the Hon'ble Member refers, and their business lies rather in advising members of the local Associations as to improvements in cultivation and in supervising district and private demonstration farms, and explaining their working to members of Associations and to the public. The facts however show that adequate steps have been taken to provide an inspecting agency intended to keep the department in touch with the public.

"I have to refer to the Fisheries inquiry, for which the allotment stands at Rs 1,65,000, on which some observations have been made by the Hon'ble Rai Kishori Lal Goswami Bahadur and the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari.

"I would note first that about half the expense is occasioned by the Golden Crown. Regarding the operations of this vessel, there appears to be a certain amount of misconception. Attention has been directed to the fact that she is of antiquated type, and less efficient than the most modern builds of trawlers, particularly in being able to shoot her nets only on one side. The misconception consists in supposing that Government would attempt in an experiment limited as to scope and time to prove by actual results that deep sea fishing pays. What has been attempted, is to ascertain what fish there are in the Bay, where they are to be found at particular seasons, whether they are acceptable to the market, and in what quantities they can be caught. If it were merely desired to show what could be made out of fishing, we should, of course, stick to the nearest rich ground, fish it as hard as possible, and try to show how much could be got from it. What has been done, is quite different, namely, to search the Bay up and down, trawling in every part of it where trawling is possible, and to chart and record the results. When this has been done for one or two seasons (it was proposed originally to carry on the experiment for about 18 months in all, but as a matter of fact our information is already, perhaps, sufficiently complete, as far as the Bengal portion of the waters is concerned, and it may be possible to sell, or at any rate to pay off, the trawler a good deal earlier), the public will have complete information as to the fish of the Bay, and the quantity which can be taken at a single haul. It will then rest with those who have the capital and enterprise to devise the best type of vessel for Indian waters, the way in which she should be manned, and the most economical manner of bringing the fish to market.

"Should the Fishery inquiry be further proceeded with, it will be in other and much less expensive directions, namely, as to the breeding and conservation of various types of fresh water fish, the improvement of curing and salting, the utilisation of bye-products.

"The Hon'ble the Maharajadhiraja of Burdwan complains of a tendency which he observes to interfere with private rights. I think that any apprehension as to harassing or irritating interference by Government might have been relieved by the mere fact that some tentative suggestions for restrictions on the wholesale depletion of fish in running rivers were first of all submitted to the Fishery Board for their opinion. It must also be remembered that if Mr. Gupta's inquiry proved anything, it was that to the unrestrained and reckless slaughter of fish of all kinds and all ages is due the very inferior condition of inland fisheries at this day; and that if a better return is to be obtained by fishermen and fishery-owners, it can only be by submitting to some degree of restraint and regulation as to the manner and the seasons in which the fish are killed. What such regulations should be is the function of this inquiry to determine; and whether they can be made acceptable to the people, is that of the Fishery Board.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Das also refers to some encroachment by Government on private fishery rights in Orissa. I am ignorant to what particular circumstances he refers, but I can declare with absolute assurance that Government has no more idea of attempting to deprive individuals of their rights in fisheries than of their lands and houses.

"I have listened with interest to the Hon'ble Mr. Das's observations on the desirability of increasing occupation in industrial pursuits, and reducing the pressure of the cultivating classes on the land. I believe that the Council will unanimously sympathise with Mr. Das's view, that the best hopes for improving the condition of the general body of the people lie in multiplying industrial occupations. But beyond this I can hardly follow him. When distress is upon us, we must employ the people in a manner which will give the most immediate relief, and at other times there is no Famine-relief Fund on which we can operate. Government has already made efforts in various directions to improve instruction in handicrafts by starting technical schools, and recently by establishing weaving schools. Improvement in this direction must, however, operate by the gradual withdrawal of a portion of the population from agricultural to industrial pursuits. This will inevitably occur when they find that skill in such pursuits is rewarded by a superior livelihood. If advantage were taken of a famine to force people into avocations repugnant to their caste feeling, the result would probably be the very opposite of what the Hon'ble Member contemplates, and the occupation forcibly adopted would become the most signal badge of degradation.

"The Hon'ble Babu Gajadhar Prasad's observations on the necessity of preservation of forests deserve serious consideration. It has been impressed on Government with increasing force that the forests of the country which are outside the operation of the forest laws are becoming so depleted that they can no longer supply local requirements.

"Over and above that it is now, as the Hon'ble Member says, a generally accepted theory that forest denudation prejudically affects the rainfall.

"If this view is gaining acceptance with the public, it may become possible to act; but hitherto the great obstacle to Government action has been the objection to any interference with private rights. If it becomes impressed on the public that these rights may soon become valueless owing to total exhaustion, Government may receive some support for conservative action. A Committee has already been examining the forest tracts in the west and south of the Province, and has made suggestions as to how the benefits of the forests may be secured to future generations of those entitled to them. These are under consideration at present, and meantime it may be hoped that public opinion on the subject will be gradually educated."

The Hon'ble MR. MACPHERSON said:—"I wish to offer some remarks with regard to the check in the growth of the Excise revenue of the Province which Hon'ble Members will have noticed but which has not, I think, been commented on. And if my remarks relate chiefly to revenue figures I hope that they will not be misunderstood to indicate that revenue is the chief subject of solicitude in excise administration.

"The principles of excise administration in India have been thoroughly discussed in recent years in the Indian Excise Committee's report and in the Government Resolutions published thereon. A Bill to amend the Bengal Excise Act is now before the Council. It has been circulated for public criticism, and the opinions received will be carefully considered by the Select Committee before the Council next meets. I hope to be excused, therefore, if, in this budget discussion, I confine myself chiefly to aspects of revenue.

"For nearly 20 years up to and including the year 1907-08 there has been a continuous increase of the Excise revenue broken only by a shrinkage of 6 lakhs in the receipts of the famine year 1897-98. During the five years ending 1907-08 there was an average annual increase of nearly 8 lakhs. A year ago, therefore, it appeared to be reasonable, to estimate that the excise revenue of 1908-09 would amount to 175 lakhs, or 4¼ lakhs in excess of 1907-08. This expectation, however, has not been realised and the Excise Commissioner's latest estimate of the total excise revenue of the Province for the year 1908-09 is that it has not exceeded 170 or 171 lakhs, i.e., he reckons that it has been practically the same as that of 1907-08.

"It is believed that there has been no falling off in the revenue from drugs. It is under the head of country-spirit that the revenue has diminished or remained stationary in important areas. I may remark that the revenue from country spirit is about 94 lakhs, or considerably more than half of the whole Excise revenue.

"The still-head duty on the country spirit was raised during the year in 11 districts, so the decrease of revenue in contract and central distillery districts was the result of diminished drinking. The causes of decreased consumption and decreased revenue will be analysed in the administration report for the year. But there can be little doubt that a main cause of decreased consumption is to be found in the high price of food-grains, which diminished the purchasing power of consumers. Such a decrease of consumption of country-spirit is a well known feature of a time of serious scarcity or high price of food-grains in this Province. And it is a satisfactory feature of hard times as showing self-restraint and self-denial.

"In Calcutta a large decrease in consumption of country-spirit is attributed to the increase of the duty, the reduction of issue strengths and the abolition of a number of shops—measures which were ordered by Government on the recommendation of the Committee which sat in Calcutta last year. It has been suggested on the other hand, that there has been an increase in consumption of imported liquors in Calcutta, but this suggestion has not been verified, and it may be mentioned that the number of licenses in Calcutta for sale of imported liquor, subsidiary to country spirit licenses, has been reduced from 94 to 60.

"In some of the Bihar and Chota Nagpur districts the failure of the mohua crop made reduction of out-still fees necessary last year.

"Complete figures for the new excise settlements are not yet available, but in the circumstances with which the new financial year has begun it appears to me that the estimate of 179 lakhs for the Excise revenue of 1909-10 has been pitched too high; and perhaps an estimate of 175 lakhs will be sufficiently sanguine.

"The Hon'ble Rai Kishori Lal Goswami Bahadur, suggests that an inquiry should be made to see if a revival of the system of allowing discount to stamp vendors on the sale of one-anna and half-anna unified stamps would conduce to the public convenience.

"The discount formerly allowed on sale of such stamps was stopped under the orders of the Government of India two year's ago. It was at the same time ordered that postal officers and licensed vendors of general stamps should always be required to keep a week's supply of one-anna and half-anna stamps for sale to the public. If stamp vendors do not confom to this rule, complaint should be made to the Collector of the district. The stamp vendors naturally grumbled two year's ago when they were deprived of their discount but the Board have not heard, I think, of any complaint made during the last two years by the public and no inquiry on the subject appears to be necessary."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said :—"Your Honour—The Hon'ble Rai Kishor Lal Goswami Bahadur, has asked whether Government is satisfied that the work done by the Controller of Office Systems is commensurate with the expense incurred on that account. Briefly put, his duties are to see that record-rooms are properly maintained, that the expenditure on forms and stationery is kept within due limits, and later on he will organize and supervise schools for the training of those who have been selected as probationary ministerial officers.

"That officer works directly under me, and I have no reason to think that the work he has done and is doing for Government and the High Court is not commensurate with the expense incurred.

"Concerning water-lifting machinery and its usefulness for irrigation, leave was given this last cold weather to make an experiment in Bihar, but sufficient time has not yet passed to enable me to form any idea of the value to be attached to the method employed.

"Turning to the remarks which the Hon'ble Mr. Das has made about the revision-settlement work now in progress in Orissa, I have been unable to find any authority for the assertion that the main object of the work in question is to reduce the costs of the next revenue settlement revision in Orissa.

"What were the objects of the revision work were clearly explained in the letter which was circulated last year to the Orissa Association with the draft Maintenance of Records Bill.

"The Hon'ble Member has urged that the revision work may be delayed and spread over a longer period than is at present contemplated. But the information at my disposal shows that the vast majority of the people of Orissa, viz., the tenants, neither wish for delay nor regard the work with other than friendly feelings, as they recognize the necessity of having their rights protected from oppressive zamindars. I would, with your permission, Sir, read the following extract from the last yearly report of the Director of Land Records :—

"The Settlement Officer writes as follows on this subject :—

'A large number of zamindars still regard the operations with some disfavour, specially those who are oppressive or grasping. The revision is on the other hand evidently welcomed by the tenants for the reasons given in the Director's Annual Report last year. This was strikingly shown during the past season's khanapuri operations in Cuttack. I have previously described how we were forced to select special areas in Cuttack in order that unnecessary harassment should not be caused to tenants holding lands in the flooded tracts. Thus in thana Tirtol certain areas in which considerable losses had occurred were excluded. When Mr. James, the Assistant Settlement Officer in charge, was inspecting the work in the adjoining protected area, a large number of tenants from the flooded portion came to him and begged that operations should start at once in their tract. They went so far as to deny loss of crops, and thereby ran the risk of losing the taccavi advances sanctioned by the Collector. The Chakla Kanungo happened to be with Mr. James at the time, and assured him there had been serious loss of crop and the latter did not therefore accede to the tenants' request.

'From time to time paragraphs appear in various papers purporting to be reports of meetings of landlords and tenants protesting against the revision operations. There is little doubt that the writers of these reports are entirely influenced by the landlord.'

"The Hon'ble Member, in making the request for delay, loses sight of the fact that delay will render the work more expensive, and as the requisite funds are provided from Provincial Revenues, further delay would lessen the resources available to Government for expenditure on other objects, and so would prevent Government rendering that assistance to education which the Hon'ble Member desires.

"Nor can I support the Hon'ble Member's plea for delay on the ground that the recasting of the local land law is under contemplation. It was the revision work that brought to light facts tending to show the need for remodelling the law. But even if it is decided to re-cast the law, such will not affect the essential portions of the record."

The Hon'ble MR. OLDHAM said:—"There is one feature, Sir, of the debate to-day which must, I think, have met with the warm approval of the great majority of the Members of this Council. I refer to the comparative brevity of the speeches, and the more concise manner in which on the whole their criticisms have been formulated by the non-official Members, which is due no doubt to the advice given by Your Honour at the last meeting. It is not a fact, as complained by one Hon'ble Member, that they have been in any way restrained from criticising the administration of the Province: it has merely been very properly pointed out that such criticisms should be confined to matters relevant to this Council, and be expressed at reasonable length. The result has been not only to expedite the proceedings of the Council to-day, but also to materially assist the official Members in their task of collecting the information required to enable them to reply to the various points raised. It will be agreed, I think, that the criticisms of the Hon'ble Members have gained in force by being more concisely expressed. Most of the questions raised have already been answered by the Hon'ble Members of the Board, etc., and my colleagues. There remain a few subjects which relate more particularly to the Departments under the Financial Secretary, and a few remarks regarding the form and contents of the Financial Statement itself, and the procedure of discussion, to which with your permission, Sir, I propose to refer.

"Before doing so, however, I would like to thank the Hon'ble Members for the sympathetic spirit in which they have received what is, for unavoidable reasons, a deficit budget, and for the general approval, which is shown by the few objections raised, of the manner in which we have decided to distribute the limited funds at our disposal. A Financial Secretary without a surplus to dispose of is like the mariner of old steering between Scylla and Charybdis. On the one hand, he has to face continually the displeasure of energetic and zealous Heads of Departments anxious to push forward schemes of development and improvement. He is regarded as an obstructionist and a miser because he is constantly cutting down expenditure. On the other hand, he has to endure the reproaches of Hon'ble Members because he does not provide for largely increased expenditure under other heads in which they are more particularly interested: he does not fulfil their ideal of a successful Financial Secretary who should distribute liberal grants from a large surplus. He is in fact nobody's friend.

"There are a few references to the form of the statement which call for notice. The Hon'ble Member who represents the University and the Hon'ble Rai Kishori Lal Goswami Bahadur are not yet satisfied with the amount of information supplied to enable Hon'ble Members to criticise the Budget. All I can say is that more information has been given than was ever supplied before; and I have done what was possible to meet the requests made by Hon'ble Members in this respect last year. During the last three years, moreover, unofficial meetings have been held beforehand, so as to enable the non-official Members to obtain any information they wanted, and that could be reasonably given. I have noticed, however, that even when full explanations have been given and information supplied at these unofficial meetings, exactly the same questions and demands for information are afterwards made in this Council.

"The Hon'ble Babu Rai Kishori Lal Goswami asks for information to show to what extent allotments made for useful public purposes in a year have not been wholly or partially utilised during the year, together with explanations showing how far the unexecuted portions of such works are covered by re-grants in succeeding years. The Hon'ble Member cannot realise what an expenditure of time and labour it would involve to give this information in respect of every single work. In the case of grants made to local bodies, we have not got the information. If the Hon'ble Member would apply in respect of any specific work or works, Government would gladly obtain the information for him; but it is wholly outside the scope of the Financial Statement to provide details of this nature. Under the head 'Civil Works,' the most important items only are separately mentioned in the Financial Statement. If the Hon'ble Member had asked me for a copy of the complete list prepared in the Public Works Department, I am sure the Hon'ble Mr. Thomson would have gladly supplied it. In paragraph 59 of the Financial Statement referred to by the Hon'ble Member, the works mentioned are works that are being carried out by the Public Works Department. Petty works of construction and repairs which are not executed by the Public Works Department, are shown under the departmental heads. The provision in the Education budget for improvements at the Presidency College, the Sanskrit College and the Calcutta Madrassa are not for buildings but for improvements in laboratories, etc., and for additional staff and establishment. The provision of 2 lakhs for Guru-training schools, similarly, is not shown under Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department, but under the departmental head 'Education,' as the school buildings in question are not being constructed by the Public Works Department officers, but under the supervision of officers of the Education Department.

"The Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal suggests that, to permit of useful discussions on the Budget, a monthly statement of the progress of expenditure and revenue by minor heads with explanation of any increase or decrease under each head as well as an appropriation report should be prepared and circulated to the Members. Even the Local Government does not receive such explanations. It would be quite impracticable to supply them to Members. The Accountant-General, Bengal, sends in manuscript to Government some five or six weeks after the close of the month to which the figures relate a monthly consolidated abstract of (a) receipts, and (b) expenditure, comparing the figures with those of the previous year. No explanations of increases or decreases are given in these abstracts; nor would it be possible without incommensurate labour to supply such explanations. An appropriation report on the civil accounts is received by Government about seven months after the close of the year. This report, however, does not show Provincial figures separately. Neither of these sets of accounts shows final figures. It has recently been decided that copies of the annual Appropriation Report will be sent to Hon'ble Members on their applying for them.

"The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari appears to be still under a misapprehension in regard to the grant of 50 lakhs for the Calcutta Improvement Scheme. He has spoken of this sum being 'unwarrantably treated as part of the supposed-to-be-available cash balance' and has said that part of it has been 'swept away along with the general balance,' etc., etc. In the consideration of our own financial position, this grant has always been left out of account, as has been repeatedly explained in this Council. If this money had been available for re-appropriation, there would have been no necessity for moving the Government of India for a special grant. What happened was that we overdrew our balance to the extent of about 8 lakhs only. The Government of India had in the middle of last year specially authorised us to overdraw our balance, as they recognised that the conditions of the year were extraordinary and that it was inevitable that we should overdraw. Perhaps the Hon'ble Member may understand the position if I speak of the Improvement Trust grant as a fixed deposit, and of our ordinary account as a current deposit account. We overdrew our current deposit account with the Government of India, with their permission and approval: we did not withdraw our fixed deposit. The Government of India have declined on principle to allow the 50 lakhs grant to be placed out at interest, and whether times be good or bad they will not consent to this being done.

"The Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal speaks of a deficit in the current budget of nearly 17 lakhs. If he will look at the Financial Statement, however, he will see that the deficit is Rs. 8,77,000. The same Member has made some comments on the estimate of receipts under the head Stamps and Excise. He points out that during the last five years the average increase of revenue under the head of Stamps has been about 4½ lakhs a year; but in this estimate he has included the year 1908-09 when the receipts were abnormally low. If he will look at the figures for the four years 1904-05 to 1907-08, he will find that the average increase during those years was a little over 7 lakhs per annum. The receipts during 1908-09 were admittedly abnormal. We expect, therefore, that during the current year there will be more than the normal increase as compared with the actuals of 1908-09. In other words, taking the two years 1908-09 and 1909-10 together we have estimated for a total increase during the two years of Rs 9,12,000, as against an average increase of Rs. 14,00,000 during each of the two preceding two-year periods. If the figures for Excise receipts are looked at in the same way, it will be clear that the estimate for the current year is justified by previous actuals.

"The same Hon'ble Member is correct in thinking that some provisional relief has been afforded to ministerial officers in anticipation of the final orders of the Secretary of State on the recommendations made by the Ministerial Officers' Salaries Committee. The scale of salaries has been revised with special reference to the increased cost of living, so as to give substantial relief to this indispensable class of officers. The proposals in question have been submitted by the Government of India to the Secretary of State; and this Government hopes that there will be little further delay in giving full effect to them.

"The Hon'ble the Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad and the Hon'ble Mr. Larmour have referred to the useful improvements that have been carried out at the Campbell Hospital, and the latter Member suggests that measures should be taken to increase the permanent accommodation for small-pox patients at that hospital and also to construct another small-pox hospital in the north of the city. The existing ward for small-pox patients at the Campbell Hospital has recently been enlarged and improved at a cost of Rs. 42,000. Owing to the large influx of patients due to the present unprecedentedly severe epidemic, temporary sheds have also been erected in the compound, and the plague ward is also being used for small-pox patients. Plans are now ready for a project which will largely increase the permanent accommodation at this hospital in more suitable buildings; and the work will be taken up as soon as funds can be provided. But the work cannot be put in hand until the present epidemic subsides, as some existing buildings have first to be removed. To meet the present emergency, steps were taken six weeks ago, in consultation with the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Major Vaughan, the Chairman and the Health Officer of the Corporation, to arrange for the construction of a temporary hospital at Tiljala at an estimated cost of Rs. 16,000, the charges being met by Government and the Corporation in equal shares. The necessity for a second permanent hospital for the northern portion of the city will receive due consideration, in consultation with the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals and the Medical Department of the Calcutta Corporation.

"In reference to Mr. Larmour's suggestion for legislation to prevent people travelling by rail who are known to be suffering from small-pox, I may mention that section 71 of the Indian Railways Act already provides for the case; and this section has been used in respect of persons suffering from plague.

"Three of the Hon'ble Members have referred to the question of measures for the prevention of malaria. This subject has received the constant attention of Government. At the last meeting of Council, I referred to the measures that were being taken for extending and popularising the use of quinine. One of the proposals made by the Drainage Committee was that a systematic inquiry should be made during the fever season into the prevalence of malaria, and as to the extent to which deaths reported from fever are in reality due to malaria and the conditions governing the distribution of the disease. Our proposals to give effect to these recommendations were accepted by the Government of India, and Captain W. H. C. Foster, I.M.S., an officer with special qualifications for this kind of work, was placed on special duty in July last with two Assistant Surgeons and six Hospital Assistants, to carry out such an inquiry. The period of Captain Foster's deputation expired on the 31st of March; and his report will be received almost immediately. Besides this measure, 17 itinerant Civil Hospital Assistants were deputed in June last to certain specified areas most infected with malaria in the districts of Murshidabad, Nadia, Khulna, Jessore and the 24-Parganas, to distribute medical aid to the people free of charge during the fever season. A report has recently been received from the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals which shows that these operations have been a success, and that the services of the Civil Hospital Assistants have been much appreciated by the people. The anti-malarial operations started in previous years were continued in the town of Ranaghat and in the North Barrackpore Municipality. In both cases the Sanitary Commissioner has been able to report that some success has been attained. Such operations are, however, even in small limited areas like these, very expensive, and it is clearly impracticable that they should be adopted all over the Province. The question of creating a special Engineering Division for the purpose of examining drainage conditions and preparing projects for the improvement of drainage is still under correspondence with the Government of India. Jungle clearing is a matter for the local authorities to deal with, and does not call for special grants from Government.

"The Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal refers to the question of septic tanks. The Inspector of Factories for whom the provision referred to provides, is the Inspector appointed under the Factories Act, and has nothing to do with the inspection of the septic tank installations. Government has decided, however, to appoint an Inspector of Septic Tank Installations, with a view to their more efficient working. In regard to the question of the contamination of the water of the Hooghly by the effluents, the Hon'ble Member is referred to the deliberations of the Committee that sat a little more than four years ago when Mr. Shirres was Secretary, to the conclusions of that Committee and to the orders of Government thereon. The Lieutenant-Governor then came to the conclusion that if certain conditions were complied with, there would no longer be any sanitary ground for opposing these installations. The whole subject, which is one of considerable difficulty, has again recently been under the consideration of Government, as I have already informed the Hon'ble Member. I also told him that I would be very pleased to show him all the correspondence and notes on the subject. But he has not availed of my offer. The Lieutenant-Governor contemplates appointing a small representative committee, on which the Mills as well as the Hindu population will be represented, to consider the most suitable method of dealing with the effluents. The Hon'ble Member makes a very serious allegation when he says that since the effluents have been discharged into the Hooghly the health of the population of these tracts has suffered. Such statements as this are likely to give rise to grave misunderstanding, and I think the Council will agree with me that they should not be made without full inquiry and consideration. The Sanitary Commissioner, who has been consulted by me, reports, on the contrary, that the general health of the riparian towns affected by the septic tank installations has considerably improved during the five years 1904-1908 as compared with the preceding five years 1899-1903, both on the Calcutta and on the Howrah side of the river. The mortality figures for the towns on the Calcutta side show a death-rate of 27·45 per mille as compared with 34·70 per mille; and the figures for the towns on the Howrah side, a death-rate of 36·85 as compared with 41·32.

"The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari refers to 'hopes held out' last year of bettering the status of the Assistant Surgeons' service. What I said last year was that memorials had been received from certain Assistant Surgeons 3 or 4 days before the Budget discussion, and that they would receive full consideration at the hands of Government. This consideration was given, and proposals were submitted to the Government of India in May last, recommending certain improvements in the pay and prospects of these officers. The Government of India, however, have not been able to accept our proposals. They have suggested a different way of dealing with the problem; and the whole question is now under discussion.

"The Hon'ble Bābu Radha Charan Pal has suggested Diamond Harbour as an excellent place for a sanitarium such as the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan has in view. The Hon'ble Member seems to have taken a particular fancy to Diamond Harbour, as he has referred to it for three years running as a desirable Health Resort. The scheme of the establishment of a sanitarium for the poorer classes, as sketched out by the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, has been referred to a special committee. I have been advised that Diamond Harbour would not be a suitable place for the kind of sanitarium intended. So far the choice has fallen upon Simultala. But it will be a long time before the scheme can be given effect to.

"The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari complains that the grants made by Government towards the Puri Drainage and Water-works scheme are insufficient. He says that the sanitation of important places of pilgrimage and health resorts like this ought to be a matter of Government concern. I consider this a most unreasonable complaint. Government has a year ago given a grant of ¾ths of a lakh towards the Drainage scheme, and has already, last year, paid one lakh towards the Water-works scheme; that is to say, in two years 1¾ lakhs have been given to this town alone, while hope has been held out of further assistance. This is, so far as I know, unprecedented generosity towards any one town; and on the face of it, it is surely conclusive evidence that Government regards the sanitation of the place as a matter of concern.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Graham has referred to the remarkable disparity between the total of the subscriptions from the European community and from the Indian communities towards the cost of the nursing arrangements at the two large hospitals in this city. Government has already referred to this matter in its Resolution of the 5th February on the report of the Nursing Arrangements Committee. The figures given in the Resolution for the three years 1905 to 1907 show that the proportion of subscriptions from the different communities is as stated by the Hon'ble Member. It has also been pointed out that in the Medical College and connected hospitals more than two-thirds of the patients are Indians. The Lieutenant-Governor has already expressed the hope that the Indian communities will heartily respond to an appeal for further subscriptions. It is understood that the General Committee of the Calcutta Hospital Nurses' Institute are taking steps to make a systematic appeal in this direction.

"Then there comes the Hon'ble Mr. Das' question in regard to feeder roads. The allotment of 2 lakhs is for feeder roads in all parts of the Province. It is a lump allotment, and no portion has yet been distributed. When the local officers require grants, they apply to Government: this provision is made to meet such applications.

"For the Hon'ble Mr. Larmour's information I may say that a draft Bill to give effect to the proposals for an Improvement Scheme for Calcutta was drawn up by this Government last year. The fact that it contained 191 clauses should satisfy the Hon'ble Member that it is a subject that cannot be disposed of with much haste.

"It is very gratifying to Government to hear from the lips of the Hon'ble Babu Gajadhar Prasad of the general satisfaction with which the recent orders in regard to the selection of the sites for liquor shops have been received by the public.

"When presenting the Financial Statement, I fully explained the untoward causes that had combined to deplete the Provincial balance. I am afraid from certain remarks that have fallen to-day, one or two of the Hon'ble Members have failed to understand those reasons. On that occasion I took the period of four years, 1906-07 to 1909-10, and I showed that within this period, owing to extraordinary circumstances, unforeseen charges for which no provision had been made in the Provincial Settlement, aggregating a little over 60 lakhs of rupees, had fallen upon our revenues; and I showed that this more than accounted for the depletion in the balance. Perhaps it will make it simpler for the Hon'ble Members if I confine attention to two years only, viz., 1908-09 and 1909-10. At the close of 1907-08 we had a balance of 21¼ lakhs. (I omit the 50 lakhs grant for the Calcutta Improvement Scheme altogether.) This is, therefore, what we started the year 1908-09 with. The Government of India have also given us an additional grant of Rs. 16,95,000. This makes a total, say, of 38¼ lakhs. Now, during the past year and the current year (taking the budget estimate as our guide for the current year) we shall have had to incur unforeseen and extraordinary charges that were not anticipated at the time of the last settlement, amounting to some 40½ lakhs. I shall explain what these are—Firstly there is the grain-compensation allowance which, we estimate, will amount to 10½ lakhs in 1908-09 and 9½ lakhs in 1909-10, or a total of 20 lakhs in the two years. Secondly, there are the charges for the relief of famine and distress, amounting to Rs. 2,62,000 in 1908-09 and Rs. 9,14,000 in 1909-10, or a total of Rs. 11,76,000. Thirdly, there are the extraordinary law charges and charges under Police and Jails due to the outbreak of anarchism and sedition which, during the year 1908-09 alone, I now estimate, will amount to 8½ or 9 lakhs. In addition to these extraordinary charges, we are confronted with an extraordinary loss of revenue under the heads Land-revenue, Stamps and Excise, aggregating 5¼ lakhs. The grand total of unforeseen charges and loss of revenue during this period will, therefore, amount to nearly 46 lakhs, as compared with the reduction in the balance of 38¼ lakhs. I do not think I can make these figures clearer. On the other hand, I think I may justly say that in these two years there has been no unnecessary expenditure permitted under any heads except perhaps for the Fisheries Inquiry and the grants given to local bodies to help them with various schemes of water-supply, sanitation, etc., such as 1¾ lakhs given to Puri, which, however, the Hon'ble Member opposite not only regards as legitimate but also wishes us to regard as inadequate.

"From the Financial Secretary's point of view, such complaints as have been heard to-day fall, broadly speaking, under two heads:—

(1) that the non-official Members of Council have insufficient opportunities of criticising the details of the budget and of helping to shape it before it finds its final form as passed by the Government of India; and

(2) that there will be no balance at the end of the year.

In regard to the first head, we expect, Sir, that before the next Financial Statement is presented to this Council, the new Reform scheme will have come into force, and the new principles and details of budget discussion been introduced; and these, it is hoped, will leave nothing further to be desired by the keenest Member. In regard to the second head, I can only say that we all pray that the monsoon rains may be full and seasonable; that trade and commerce may briskly revive; and that the foul disease of anarchism and sedition may be swept from off the face of the land, and peace and good-will restored."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"Gentlemen of the Council,—At the last meeting of the Council I made an appeal to Hon'ble Members to restrict the length of their speeches, and also to confine themselves, so far as might be possible, to matters directly arising out of the budget. That appeal has met with a ready and cordial response. I wish to associate myself with what has fallen from the Hon'ble Mr. Oldham on this matter. I desire to express my appreciation of the successful efforts which Hon'ble Members have made both to condense their remarks, and to confine them within the limits of the Financial Statement. It will be our duty to make such fitting return to them as we can, by according to their comments and suggestions the most attentive consideration in our power. Neither can I allow the occasion to pass without paying a tribute to the excellent sense and good temper which are manifest throughout the remarks of all the Hon'ble Members, notwithstanding that they were discussing a budget which, from causes beyond our control, presents little to attract the imagination or excite our enthusiasm. This is an excellent augury for the future. Hon'ble Members have wasted no time in crying over spilt milk, and have indulged in no recriminations in our adversity. There is all the more reason to hope that when better times return, and we have money to spend, they will prove themselves equal to the greater trials and temptations of prosperity. We shall do our utmost to place those temptations in their way.

"Before touching on one or two points of detail which have arisen in the remarks of Hon'ble Members, I should like to make two remarks of more general character.

"Two Hon'ble Members—the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal and the Hon'ble Rai Kishori Lal Goswami Bahadur—have expressed disappointment at the restrictions which they consider I have sought to impose on the debate on this occasion. Gentlemen, I do not wish my remarks to be taken in that light. I am well aware that the privilege of free discussion of the affairs of the Province is highly esteemed by the non-official Members of the Council; and during many years a long series of Hon'ble Members have struggled to discharge their duty in this respect with advantage both to the public and to the Government and at the cost of no small labour to themselves. If the present constitution were going to remain unaltered, I should not propose for a moment to modify the practice which has grown up in response to a general demand. My point is—and I endeavoured to make it clear when I addressed Council on the last occasion—that when the new constitution is introduced (as will be the case before long), it will be neither necessary nor even possible to concentrate this discussion on the single occasion of the budget. It will not be necessary, because the Hon'ble Members will in future enjoy many opportunities of raising discussions on matters of public interest, opportunities which are not at present allowed under the statute. Moreover, it will not be possible; because if the members of the enlarged Councils attempted to discuss the whole affairs of the Province at the same length and with the same disregard of logical connection as heretofore, the budget debate must be interminably prolonged, while the proceedings would be liable to be involved in very undesirable confusion.

"I thought it would be good discipline if we were to begin without delay to accustom ourselves to the greater regularity and stricter attention to relevance which will be inevitable under the new constitution. There has never been any intention to take away any privilege which Members now possess. On the contrary, a primary object of the reforms is to enlarge and not to contract the opportunities for public discussion.

"The other point to which I desire to refer is this. I observe that at least two Hon'ble Members—the Hon'ble Member for the University and the Hon'ble Kishori Lal Goswami—have divided their remarks into two parts. In the first part they have dealt in a more or less general way with the broader features of the budget; while in the latter they have discussed more briefly a number of detailed points under different headings.

"Now, Gentlemen, under the present system we have nothing that can be described as the Committee stage of the budget, such as exists in the House of Commons or the French Chamber of Deputies. But under the new system there will be an arrangement approximating to the Committee stage; and it occurs to me that it might tend to facilitate business if the discussion of details, i.e., points of relatively minor importance, were relegated to that stage, while the general debate might be reserved for the broader aspects of the budget as a whole. It seems to me that such a distribution of work would not only make the proceedings more orderly and businesslike, but that it would be more effective. For it is only at the Committee stage that any modifications of detail can really be introduced in the budget. At that stage it has not yet crystallized into its final form, and it will still be practicable to make minor modifications in it if such should commend themselves to the Council and the Government.

"Perhaps Hon'ble Members will kindly consider this suggestion at their leisure. There will be plenty of time before the new system comes into operation to let me know whether they think it feasible and likely to be beneficial.

"I will now refer to some of the remarks that have fallen from various Hon'ble Members to day. Most of those have been adequately replied to by the official Members of my Government, and I do not propose to touch upon them. But there are one or two which I desire to mention briefly.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Graham has asked for an expression of opinion in regard to the proposals that have recently been made public regarding the future of the Eastern Bengal State Railway.

"The Hon'ble Member may have noticed the reply which was given by the Hon'ble Mr. Harvey in the Imperial Council when a similar question was put to him by the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar. Mr. Harvey said that 'the relief from the necessity of providing funds annually for capital expenditure is the only attractive feature of the proposals, and we realize that there may be disadvantages which will more than counterbalance this'. These words exactly express my views. I may add that the relief from the liability to provide capital will only be obtained at the cost of paying more highly for it, and this extra cost will necessarily have to be borne in the long run by the trade carried by the railway.

"I am glad that Mr. Graham has referred to the cost of the nursing arrangements in the Calcutta hospitals. I quite agree with him that it is unreasonable to expect the European community to raise another Rs. 50,000 a year over and above what they contribute now for this purpose. The Indian public benefits from the services of the nurses at least as much as the Europeans, and I rather think in an even larger degree: and it is remarkable that a people whose large-hearted charity is one of their most honourable national characteristics should have failed so conspicuously to contribute their fair share in this particular case. I trust that the appeal which Mr. Graham has made, and with which I desire to associate myself, will not fall on deaf ears, and that this reproach may quickly become a thing of the past. In this connection I am glad to be able to announce that Dr. K. C. Bose, always foremost in well-doing, has already succeeded in obtaining annual subcriptions of Rs. 500 from some of his former patients for this object. Our acknowledgments are due to him and to the subscribers for their public spirit and I trust that their example will be largely followed.

"While on the subject of medical charity, I may mention that I have called for plans and estimates for a new small-pox block at the Campbell Hospital, and if the financial position should improve during the year, I will have it put in hand at once. I fear however that there is no likelihood of our constructing a second permanent hospital of this kind, as suggested by the Hon'ble Mr. Larmour.

"Several Hon'ble Members have repeated the annual inquiry as to the prospect of the Calcutta Improvement Scheme. Last Monday in the Imperial Council, Sir Harvey Adamson explained that the Bill was still with the Government of India, where it was undergoing examination. This was something of a disappointment to me, for I had hoped that it might by this time have reached the India Office, where it still has to run the gauntlet. Even as it is, however, I am still not without hopes that it may return to us in time for introduction next cold weather. In that event, it may form the piece de resistance of the first session of the reformed Council.

"The Hon'ble Maharajadhiraj of Burdwan and some other Members have referred with regret to the postponement of the Ranchi College, in which Sir Andrew Fraser took so great an interest. It is a matter of much regret to us that it has not been found possible to proceed with this scheme during the current year. But no funds were available, and the decision was inevitable. Meanwhile certain other considerations have been brought to my notice, and the project is being further examined. I am not yet in a position to announce what the final decision will be. But I shall take careful note of the vigorous defence of the scheme which has fallen from the Hon'ble Rai Kishori Lal Goswami Bahadur and the Maharajadhiraja.

"Several Hon'ble Members have referred to the Fisheries inquiry, and have intimated more or less clearly that they entertain doubts whether the expenditure incurred is jusified. I am inclined to share those doubts, but I do not like to draw back once we have set our hand to the plough. It is perfectly clear that Government is not justified in embarking on the business of supplying fish to the Calcutta market, especially at the cost of heavy net expenditure from public revenues. On the other hand, we are fully justified in inquiring, investigating, and making experiments for the purpose of developing the fish supply of the Province and in placing the results of our investigations freely at the disposal of the public. For these purposes we may quite fairly incur the unremunerative initial expenditure which private enterprise cannot be expected to defray. But as soon as this programme has been exhausted, it is our undoubted duty to stand aside, and leave the field open to the trade. We are at present only committed up till February of next year. In the meantime I have requested the Hon'ble Mr. Slacke to scrutinize carefully the work that has been done and the progress that has been made with a view to determine whether the time is approaching when the Government should retire from the business.

"I welcome the vigorous words in which the Hon'ble Rai Kishori Lal Goswami Bahadur, has drawn attention to the heavy expense in which this Province has been involved by the measures required for the repression of anarchical crime. That expense is by no means the greatest part of the evil which is caused by these misguided miscreants: but it is sufficiently serious, and I trust that the Hon'ble Member's words may bring home to some sections of the public how gravely they injure the best interests of their country when they refrain from co-operating vigorously with the authorities in stamping out this moral pestilence.

"I do not intend to discuss the question which has been raised by the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal in regard to the deportations. The Government has reasons for the action it has taken; and it would not be in the interest of the State to make them public.

"I wish to take this opportunity of making some remarks about a matter which has been much before the public of late, and which is of the greatest concern to the future administration of this Province—I mean the formation of Executive Councils for provinces under the administration of Lieutenant-Governors.

"My observations will be confined to this question in so far as it concerns Bengal, partly because it would be neither becoming nor useful for me to speak of provinces with which I have no first-hand acquaintance, and partly because, just as the present Councils in other provinces of Northern India and Burma differ from that of Bengal in size, composition and powers, so it may reasonably be anticipated that the Councils of the future will present similar variations.

"As regards Bengal, I venture to think that I may claim to speak with some degree of authority, by reason of my long service in this Province, and my prolonged association with the Local Government and the Bengal Legislative Council. It may also not be out of place to mention that, as a Member of the Viceroy's Executive Council, I have been associated with the inception and evolution of the present scheme of reform from the time when His Excellency the Viceroy sowed the first seed in the summer of 1906 down to the time when I left India last year.

"This last consideration is of special importance because these reforms are the paramount reason for the early creation of an Executive Council for Bengal, a measure which, in my judgment, is now a matter of pressing and urgent necessity.

"When the project enunciated by the Secretary of State shall have been brought into operation—and that will probably be before the next winter session—the Legislative Council will have been considerably more than doubled in numbers; it will have been vested with greatly enhanced powers for the discussion of the budget; for initiating debates on subjects of public interest and importance; for proposing resolutions, and for asking supplementary questions; and it will comprise a substantial majority of non-official Members.

"In these altered conditions, it is manifest to any one acquainted with the working of Indian Governments that the length of the Council sittings will be greatly prolonged. At a moderate estimate, the duration of the session will extend to the working days of an entire month in excess of what it amounts to now, not of course continuously but on the working of a twelvemonth. It is also certain that the preparation of work for the Council will occupy double or treble the time that it does at present. Moreover, in view of the fact that there will be a majority of non-officials, who must be convinced and cannot be outvoted by force of numbers, it will be necessary in future to devote much time and labour to preliminary negotiation and private discussions, in order that proposals brought forward by non-official members may be presented in a form in which they can be considered instead of being uncompromisingly rejected.

"To any one who realizes the burden of work which devolves on the head of the Bengal Government under present conditions, it will be manifest that the Lieutenant-Governor cannot undertake these additional duties without assistance. It will be impossible for him to do all that he does now, and, in addition, to sit for another month in Council, to spend another fortnight or three weeks in preparing himself for the debates, and to devote a further indefinite period to extra-parliamentary discussion of public questions with the non-official Members of the Council. Even if it were physically possible for him to undertake this work, there is much of it which, from its character, it is undesirable for him to take up. In the Imperial Council it has long been an accepted canon of procedure that the Viceroy shall not be called on to intervene in debate save in matters of real moment, and that questions of common controversy shall be dealt with by some appropriate member of his Executive Council. I do not seek to push this analogy too far: but it holds good in the Provincial Councils already to some extent, and it will assume vastly greater importance in the reformed conditions which are now imminent.

"The natural and appropriate solution of these difficulties is the creation of an Executive Council. A member of such a Council will be the colleague and not the mouthpiece of the Lieutenant-Governor. Though he will be in primary charge of his own portfolio, he will be required to possess a knowledge of the policy of the Government in every branch of the administration which no head of a department can acquire; he will share the responsibility for all acts of State in a degree which can never devolve upon a member of the Secretariat; and when it falls to him to announce the decision of Government on any matter, he will be able to speak as one having authority, and not as the scribes.

"There are other arguments that might be adduced in support of my contention, and it is the fact that some of them have weighed strongly with me in its favour. But certain of these are perhaps not very suitable for public discussion, and in any event I have probably said enough. More significant than any argument is the remarkable consensus of opinion in this Province in favour of the measure. As regards the official classes, I have consulted certain of the most experienced, responsible and highly placed members of my Government, and I have found them without exception of the same opinion as myself. To some of them, I should add, I am indebted for certain of the arguments which I have used to-day. As regards the Indian public it is unnecessary to say anything. All shades and sections of the community have joined in the prayer for the formation of an Executive Council in Bengal. In respect of the non-official European public, one might have been prepared for more hesitation: yet what do we find? There are five principal English papers published in Calcutta, the Englishman, the Statesman, the Daily News, the Empire and Capital: and out of these no less than four have voted decisively in favour of a Council: the Englishman alone holds out. I think it is not an unfair inference that fully four-fifths of informed European non-official opinion in the capital of the Province is prepared to support the view which has commended itself to the Secretary of State and the Government of India.

"For myself, I will merely say that if the measure should eventually become law, I shall lose no time in submitting proposals for the early formation of an Executive Council in Bengal, and I shall trust that this may be brought into being in time to share the labours which the new reforms will undoubtedly impose upon us.

"Gentlemen, I thank you for the patience with which you have listened to me, and I wish you all a pleasant holiday."

The Council was then adjourned sine die.

† The report is for the week ending the 3rd April 1909.

GENERAL SUMMARY.—Rain fell in almost all the districts of the Burdwan, Presidency and Orissa Divisions and also in Darjeeling, the Sonthal Parganas, Ranchi, Manbhum and Cooch Bihar. In Cooch Bihar the fall was 4·07 inches and in Nadia, Murshidabad, Jessore, Khulna, Darjeeling and Balasore, it was between 1 and 2·5 inches. In other districts from which the rainfall has been reported the fall was below an inch. Preparation of lands for the autumn crops continues and sowings have commenced in Nadia, Muzaffarpur, Monghyr and Cooch Bihar, but more rain is urgently needed both for ploughing and sowing. The planting of sugarcane is still going on in many districts. The harvesting of rabi crops is approaching completion. Prospects are poor in the unirrigated tracts of North Bihar. Standing crops are doing well in Orissa and Chota Nagpur. The price of common rice has risen in Burdwan, Patna, Gaya, Saran and Sambalpur and it has fallen in Nadia, Shahabad and Champaran. Cattle-disease is reported from Midnapore, Nadia, Murshidabad, Jessore, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Monghyr, Bhagalpur, Sambalpur, Ranchi, Palamau and Manbhum. Reports of insufficiency of fodder have again been received from Midnapore, Jessore, Khulna, Gaya, Champaran, Monghyr, Purnea and the Sonthal Parganas. The water-supply is yet scarce in parts of the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions and in North Bihar. Measures are being taken for the excavation of tanks and for the boring of wells in North Bihar. 1,854 persons were on test-works in Muzaffarpur and Bhagalpur. The famine relief-works in Darbhanga were attended by 60,606 persons. 27,838 persons were relieved gratuitously in Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Bhagalpur, Purnea and Palamau and 544 persons in Puri.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

The 13th April 1909.

No. 26Marine.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by section 6, sub-section (1), clause (p) of the Indian Ports Act, 1908 (XV of 1908), and with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to make the following rules in respect of "sleeping sickness" occurring on vessels arriving in the Port of Calcutta, or for the time being in that Port, in supersession of those sanctioned in the notification of this Department, No. 130Marine, dated the 31st October 1908:—

1. In these rules

(1) "Health Officer" means any person appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor either by name or by virtue of his office, to be Health Officer of a port, and includes any person appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor, either by name or by virtue of his office, to perform any of the duties of a Health Officer of a port;

(2) "Master," when used with reference to a vessel, means any person (except a pilot or harbour master) having for the time being charge or control of the vessel;

(3) "Port Officer" includes any person acting under the authority of the Lieutenant-Governor in charge of port discipline;

(4) "Sleeping sickness" includes the stage of the disease known as trypanosomiasis.

2. The master of every vessel arriving at the Pilot Station at the Sandheads from a port beyond India shall

(a) if the vessel has on board any person suffering or suspected to be suffering from sleeping sickness, or

(b) if any case or suspected case of sleeping sickness has occurred, or if any person has died or is suspected to have died from sleeping sickness on board within the twelve days immediately preceding the arrival of the vessel,

report every such case or death to the pilot at the earliest opportunity, and shall also comply, on arrival at the quarantine mooring at Garden Reach with such regulations as may be made by the Lieutenant-Governor, in regard to—

(i) stopping at a particular place,

(ii) refraining from communication with the shore, and

(iii) taking measures for giving effect to the present rules.

3. If the vessel be at anchor within port limits when such disease first breaks out or such death occurs, the master shall promptly give information to the Port Officer.

4. The pilot on receiving the report mentioned in rule 2 shall promptly report, from the Sandheads, if possible, or on arrival at Saugor Island, to the Port Officer and to the Health Officer the circumstances of the case brought to his notice.

5. Whenever the Health Officer receives the notice referred to in rule 4, he shall without unnecessary delay proceed on board and examine the vessel, and the Master shall give him every facility for the examination of the passengers and crew. The inspection by the Health Officer will ordinarily take place between sunrise and sunset.

6. On the completion of the inspection prescribed by rule 5, such of the passengers and crew as are found to be free from sleeping sickness shall be allowed to land.

7. If a case of sleeping sickness occurs on any vessel after she has entered dock or has been moored at a wharf, the Master shall forthwith cause information thereof to be given to the Dock Master or Superintendent of the Wharf, who shall communicate the information to the Health Officer and to the Superintendent of Police, and shall be responsible that the sick person shall be isolated as much as possible, and that free communication with the wharf is stopped until the Health Officer has inspected the vessel.

8. The Health Officer shall remove to the Campbell Hospital every person found on board suffering from, or suspected to be suffering from, sleeping sickness, and every such person shall be detained for observation and treatment in the said hospital and shall be isolated in such a manner as will prevent, as far as possible, the communication of the disease to other persons by the agency of biting flies, and shall continue to be so detained and isolated until a medical officer authorised on this behalf by the Lieutenant-Governor certifies that he is not suffering from sleeping sickness or that having suffered from the disease he has been cured:

Provided that in the case of a European suffering or suspected to be suffering from sleeping sickness, arrangements shall be made for his isolation and treatment at the Presidency General Hospital, Calcutta.

9. The Health Officer shall inform the Health Officer of the Calcutta Corporation in every case in which a person suffering or suspected to be suffering from sleeping sickness is removed under his orders to either of the hospitals referred to in rule 8, and in cases in which the disease has not been definitely diagnosed at the time of removal, shall also report to the Health Officer of the Corporation whether the diagnosis is confirmed or not.

10. All persons removed to either of the hospitals referred to in rules 8 and 9 shall obey and conform to the rules, regulations and orders for the time being in force at such hospital.

T. BUTLER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 13th April 1909.

No. 27 Marine.—In accordance with rule 2 of the rules sanctioned in the notification of this Department, No. 26Marine, of this date, the Lieutenant-Governor, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, is pleased to make the following regulations to be observed by Masters of vessels in the Port of Calcutta having on board any person suffering or suspected to be suffering from "sleeping sickness":—

1. If the number of deaths or cases of sleeping sickness does not exceed two, the vessel will not be prohibited from taking up the usual place of anchorage in the port, except that she may not enter the Docks without the written permission of the Port Health Officer and the passengers or crew not suspected of having sleeping sickness need not be detained on board pending the inspection of the Port Health Officer, but the Master of the vessel will be held responsible that no one of the passengers or crew having, or suspected of having, sleeping sickness is allowed to depart before inspection and shall also prevent the landing of infected bedding, clothes or other personal effects which he has reasonable cause to consider likely to be infected.

2. If the number of deaths within the previous twelve days has exceeded two, or the cases are, or have been during the previous twelve days, more numerous than two and when for other special reasons, further precautions may be deemed advisable, the Master shall hoist a signal which shall be during the day, flag L* of the commercial code at the main, and during the night two white lights one above the other and six feet apart at the fore. He shall not allow any of the passengers or crew to leave the vessel until the Port Health Officer has made his inspection.

* This is a square flag of yellow and black borne quarterly.

3. The Master of a vessel coming under these rules shall comply with all the directions which the Port Health Officer considers it necessary to give in respect to the disinfection of infected articles and of the infected parts of the vessel.

4. Nothing in these rules shall be deemed to prevent a vessel, whose master is unwilling to submit to the regulations, from proceeding to sea provided that there has been no communication between such vessel and the shore or with other vessels in the port.

5. If a death occurs on board a vessel after passing Saugor and the vessel is not reaching Calcutta the same day, the body shall, with the permission of the Magistrate of Diamond Harbour, be buried at that place; if the vessel is arriving at Calcutta the same day the body shall be kept on board until the Port Health Officer has made arrangements for burial or cremation on shore.

No 28Marine.—In exercise of the power conferred on him by section 51A of the Inland Steam-vessels Act, 1884 (VI of 1884) as amended by the Indian Steam-ships Law Amendment Act, 1890 (III of 1890), and with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to make the following rules to regulate the loading of cargo in inland steam-vessels carrying both passengers and cargo.

* * * * * * * * *

1. Stern wheel steam-vessels with a length of hull of less than 120 feet when carrying cargo on deck and passengers shall be fitted with—

(a) Shifting boards amidships in a fore and aft direction in way of, and height at least level with, the cargo.

(b) A substantial wire net or similar light division on the upper deck amidships in a fore and aft direction at least six feet high.

2. In all other Inland steam-vessels carrying both passengers and cargo, all cargo carried on deck shall be efficiently stowed to prevent it from shifting.

3. A space at least two feet six inches wide on each side of the cargo and within the bulwarks shall be kept clear as fore and aft passage-ways.

4. Any Owner or Master committing a breach of these rules shall be punished with fine which may extend to fifty rupees.

PUBLIC.

Simla, the 15th April 1909.

No. 1970.—The Governor General in Council directs that the following rules regarding the use of uniform by officers in civil employ shall be substituted for those published with the notification of the Government of India in the Home Department No. 2551, dated the 3rd September 1907 :—

Rules regarding the use of uniform by Officers in civil employ.

[These rules will not apply to officers holding political appointments, whose uniform will continue to be regulated by the orders issued in the Foreign Department.]

I.—The uniform to be worn by officers in civil employ will be that shown in the schedule appended to these rules.

II.—Civil officers who do not hold purely political appointments, but merely have some political work to do in addition to the ordinary duties of their office, are not entitled to wear political uniform.

III.—An officer is not entitled to continue to wear the uniform of an office which he has ceased to hold.

IV.—At Levées, Drawing Rooms and State ceremonials, officers of the Army in civil employ, for whom no political or special uniform is prescribed, shall wear the uniform of the Corps or Department to which they belong: and, on all occasions on which military mess dress is worn by officers in military employ, it may also be worn by military officers in civil employ. But when a military officer is appointed substantively to any civil office for which uniform is prescribed, he shall wear the uniform of that office.

V.—An officer appointed temporarily to an office, for which a uniform is prescribed, need not wear that uniform.

VI.—Retired civil officers, who, when last on duty in India, were entitled to wear uniform, will be permitted to wear their uniform at the Court of His Majesty the King-Emperor; such officers will, when living in India, be permitted to wear their uniform at Government Houses and on any occasion on which, before their retirement, they would have worn it.

VII.—Civil officers whose retirement is due to misconduct will not enjoy the privilege conferred by rule VI.

VIII.—Members of the Indian Civil Service, when on leave in England or otherwise present there during their service, will be permitted to wear their uniform at the Court of His Majesty the King-Emperor.

When attending Full Dress functions, such as Courts and State Balls, in England, officers entitled to wear uniform of the first and second classes described below, should wear breeches, hose and shoes, as described in the extract from the publication entitled "Dress worn at Court," Edition 1908, reprinted below, instead of trousers and boots.

The Yearly Examination of Candidates for fourth grade of Accountants.

The early Examination of candidates for fourth grade of Accountants, Public Works Department, will be held at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on Monday and Tuesday, the 7th and 8th June 1909, both days :—

SUBJECTS.

	Full marks.	Minimum pass marks.
Writing (neatness, clearness, and rapidity) ...	100	50
Dictation (spelling, punctuation, etc.) ...	100	50
Arithmetic (the whole)	240	160
Mensuration (a) (the whole)	60	30
Book-keeping (b), mercantile	100	50
Total ...	600	...

Minimum required in all papers collectively, 400.

(a) Todhunter's Mensuration for Beginners.
(b) " Book-keeping ", by Ball and Hamilton.
" Book-keeping," by double and single entry, by W. Inglis (Chambers's Educational Course).

1. The examination is held annually at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on the 1st Monday in June. The examination will be conducted, either at the College, or by an Examiner, Public Works Accounts (including Railway and Telegraph), in Bengal, Assam and Burma only. The examination will be ipso facto vitiated, if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed; but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements, in regard to the place and hour of examination, with the candidates.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination, even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship if he passes it; but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be eligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways.

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies, if such is pensionable by the British Government.

The candidate should apply to an Examiner of Public Works Accounts, not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination, and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates, and must be forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Examiner.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but none will be returned :—

(1) Certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior, or by the instructor under whom he has been educated, or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed, or to whom he may be well known. (This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediately preceding the application.)

(2) Certificate of age (baptismal or of birth) not required, if the candidate is already in permanent Government employ.

(3) Certificate that the application is in the candidate's handwriting.

NOTE.—A candidate already in Government service should, in like manner, submit his application, through his immediate official superior, to an Examiner of Accounts qualified to hold the particular examination, and should state whether he desires to be examined at the office of the Examiner of Accounts concerned or at the College.

It will rest with the Examiner of Accounts, to whom the candidate submits his application, to decide, on a consideration of the certificates submitted, whether the candidate should be allowed to appear for the examination, or whether his application should be rejected. The Examiner of Accounts will then forward to the Principal for registration the names of the accepted candidates. The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses, and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the College or at the office of the Examiner of Accounts. This statement, together with the fees, should be transmitted to the Principal not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of applications of candidates.

3. Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion, must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh fee and certificates.

5. If from any cause a candidate fails to appear for the examination, the fee paid will not be refunded.

6. Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department, but direct to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

7. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments, preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

8. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the 4th grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

9 Candidates for the 4th grade Accountantship examination, who are not Government servants and over 25 years of age, are allowed to appear at the examination at the Sibpur College centre only, but, even if successful, they are debarred from employment in the service of Government, and their names will be excluded from the list of passed candidates which is furnished to the Accountant General, Public Works Department.

10. Candidates over 25 years of age should apply in writing to the Principal of the Civil Engineering College not later than 30 days previous to the examination; the application to be accompanied by the fee of Rs. 10.

Advertisements.

LAND SALE NOTICES.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned plots of land, no longer required by Government, situated along the Sudamdih-Pathardih Link, Bengal-Nagpur Railway, in the district of Manbhum, will be put up to sale at 8 o'clock on Monday, the 7th June 1909, corresponding with the 24th Jaisto 1316 Fusli, at Jharia.

The purchasers of the several plots of land will be subject to the following conditions:—

1st.—The purchasers will have no power to make any excavations on the land nearer than 15 feet from the railway boundary, or to plough the land nearer than 3 feet from the same.

2nd.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount must be paid down at once.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount must be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale shall be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the lot again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

4th.—The plots of land will be sold revenue-free to the highest bidders.

5th.—The purchasers shall be put in possession on receipt by the Collector of the orders of the Commissioner confirming the sale.

THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS.

CALCUTTA, MADRAS, BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court.

The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt: and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—the Officer in charge, Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, Calcutta, or

the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or
the Superintendent, Government Central Press, Bombay, or
the Curator of Government Books, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Allahabad.

FORECAST OF THE RABI CROPS OF BENGAL, 1908-09.

THE following note is published for general information.

F. W. DUKE,

Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 13th April 1909.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

FORECAST OF THE Rabi CROPS OF BENGAL, 1908-09.

(On an average of the five years ending 1906-07, the area under summer rice, which is included in this forecast in the territory to which it relates, has represented some 0·2 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.)

Explanatory.—The present forecast deals with the estimates of the area and outturn of the different rabi crops excluding wheat, cotton, oilseeds and sugarcane for which separate forecasts are published. Of these the principal crops are summer rice, barley, gram and other food-crops (including oats, rahar, kalai, mung, peas, lentils, khesari, kurthi, buckwheat, cheena, potatoes, yams, melons and other vegetable crops). One-half of the rabi area of the Province is within the districts of the Patna and Tirhut Divisions, and of the rest, three-fifth is within the districts of the Bhagalpur and Presidency Divisions. In Burdwan, Orissa and Chota Nagpur Divisions the rabi crops are of minor importance.

Character of the season.—Sowings commenced in some districts as early as the latter part of September, but progress was retarded for want of sufficient moisture in the soil. The crops suffered from the absence of rain, especially in the unirrigated tracts of North Bihar. The rainfall received in the latter part of the month of January and in the beginning of February did much good to the crops but it was ill-distributed in Bihar, where the crop is most important. On the whole the season was unfavourable for the growth of the rabi crops in the Province.

Area sown.—The normal area under the different rabi crops in the Province dealt with in the forecast is now estimated at 7,929,300 acres. The area actually sown this year was 5,866,800 acres, i.e., 123,900 acres less than last year.

Outturn.—The estimated percentage outturn in the 19 districts where the crop is most important is as follows:—

Burdwan, 78; Shahabad, 77; Saran, 73; Gaya and Singhbhum, 72; the Sonthal Parganas, 71; Khulna, 70; Champaran, 67; Monghyr, 60; Patna, 59; Bhagalpur and Palamau, 56; Muzaffarpur, Nadia and Midnapore, 55; Murshidabad, 51; Jessore, 46; Purnea, 36; and Darbhanga, 25.

According to the District Officers' estimates the outturn of the various rabi crops of the Province amounts to 60 per cent. of a normal crop, against 70 per cent. estimated last year. I am inclined to think, however, that the estimates of the Bihar District Officers especially are pessimistic and I estimate the return for the whole Province at 70 per cent. of a normal crop, the same as last year. The summer rice crop is estimated at 74 per cent. of the normal, and the gross outturn of the crop for the Province works out to 805,200 cwts., as compared with 814,100 cwts. of last year.

The drought which continued up to December affected the sowing of the full normal area. The prospects were gloomy, but they have been improved by the recent rain. The decrease in the poppy cultivation is attributed to the high prices of food-grains, to great scarcity of water in certain tracts and to prevalence of malaria during the period of sowing.

MONTHLY WEATHER AND CROP REPORT OF BENGAL FOR MARCH 1909.

Character of the Rainfall.—The month was practically rainless. There were showers in parts of Orissa and Chota Nagpur and in Bankura, Midnapore, the 24-Parganas, Jessore and Khulna. The usual rainfall table is appended.

II. Progress of Agricultural operations.—Planting of the sugarcane crop and preparation of lands for the autumn crops continued, but cultivation was retarded in many districts for want of rain. Harvesting of rabi crops was in progress and pressing of sugarcane was almost completed. Mahua commenced falling in Hazaribagh, Palamau and Manbhum.

III. State of standing crops.—Boro paddy suffered in Midnapore and Howrah through want of rain and newly planted sugarcane and vegetables have been doing well in Orissa and Chota Nagpur.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn of harvests.—The outturn of rabi crops is poor in the unirrigated tracts of North Bihar. A crop 70 per cent. of the normal is estimated for the whole Province. The outturn of mahua was good.

V. Damage to crops.—There was no serious damage to standing crops. Some damage was done to mango and mahua blossoms by hailstorms in Ranchi.

VI. Condition of Agricultural stock.—The condition of agricultural stock was, on the whole, fair. Cattle-disease was reported from parts of Burdwan, Birbhum, Midnapore, Nadia, Murshidabad, Jessore, Patna, Gaya, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Monghyr, Purnea, Sambalpur and Chota Nagpur, Singhbhum excepted. The water-supply is scarce in many parts of North Bihar as well as in parts of Birbhum, Murshidabad, Jessore, Khulna, Gaya, Monghyr and the Sonthal Parganas. Measures are being taken for the excavation of tanks and the boring of wells in North Bihar for the supply of water to cattle.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—Fodder was reported to be insufficient in parts of Jessore, Khulna, Gaya, Champaran, Darbhanga, Monghyr, Purnea, the Sonthal Parganas and Cooch Bihar.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second fortnight of the month the price of common rice rose in 13 districts and fell in seven districts and remained stationary in the rest of the Province. It ranged from 8 seers in Howrah and Darjeeling to 15 seers in Angul. The prices of staple food-grains were generally cheaper than during the corresponding period of last year.

IX. Condition of the labouring classes and agricultural population.—Distress prevailed amongst the poorer classes in many parts of North Bihar owing to scarcity. Test-works continued in Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Bhagalpur and Purnea. Gratuitous relief was given in the districts of Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Bhagalpur, Purnea, Palamau and Puri. The number of persons on famine relief-works in Darbhanga tends to increase.

† The report is for the week ending the 10th April 1909.

GENERAL SUMMARY.—Good rain has fallen in all districts, except Palamau and Singhbhum. Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga and Purnea have been specially fortunate. The standing crops have been greatly benefited and agricultural operations are in full swing. Sowings of the autumn crops have commenced in many districts. The harvesting of boro páddy has commenced in Orissa and Midnapore. The outturn of Mahua is good. Mango crops in Purnea suffered from a storm. The price of rice has risen in Birbhum, Nadia, Jessore, Patna, Gaya, the Sonthal Parganas, Cuttack and Hazaribagh; it has fallen in Puri and Sambalpur. Cattle-disease is reported from Burdwan, Bankura, Midnapore, Nadia, Murshidabad, Jessore, Gaya, Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Monghyr, Bhagalpur, Purnea, Sambalpur and Chota Nagpur, Singhbhum excepted. The Collectors of Jessore, Khulna, Gaya and the Sonthal Parganas report insufficient fodder, and water is still scarce in parts of Birbhum, Murshidabad, Jessore, Khulna, and Gaya. The recent rain has greatly benefited North Bihar in this respect. Test-works in Muzaffarpur and Bhagalpur were attended by 3,006 persons and the famine reliefs in Darbhanga by 54,438. In Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Bhagalpur, Purnea, Palamau and Puri 31,391 people received gratuitous relief.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL AND IN EASTERN BENGAL AND ASSAM FOR THE MONTH OF FEBRUARY 1909.

THE month began with conditions rather unsettled owing to a shallow depression over Orissa, which was responsible for a limited amount of rain. This low pressure area, however, soon filled up and was succeeded by fine dry weather and cloudless skies. In the second week a disturbance from the Central Provinces affected the weather in South Bihar and Chota Nagpur, producing little else than a cold wave which gradually advanced into Eastern Bengal and Assam. This again was succeeded by cloudless skies and a general sub-normal temperature over the area under report.

On the 16th and 17th a little rain fell in Eastern Bengal, Assam, and Bihar, while the temperature rose somewhat. A rapid fall in the barometer occurred in the 21st associated with a very irregular pressure distribution over the two Provinces.

Showers were experienced in Eastern Bengal and Assam, and some thunderstorms accompanied by rain occurred during the last few days of the month.

The precipitation during the month was, on the whole, in defect, the shortage being most marked in the two Bengals, Assam, and Chota Nagpur. Each of these areas had only about one-fourth of the usual amount of rain. Cloud formation was normal and the temperature differed but little from its average value.

Summary of temperature.—The highest temperature observed was 96°·3 at Midnapore and the lowest 38°·8 was recorded at Motihari.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Provinces of Eastern Bengal and Assam and of Bengal for the month of February 1909:—

Meteorological Divisions.	Temperature.

Summary of rainfall.—The rainfall work of the Province has been placed in the hands of the Director of Agriculture, Bengal, and the usual data regarding the actual and normal rainfall during the month are published by that officer. A short table, however, is attached to this report, giving the rainfall recorded during the month at the head-quarters of the various districts of the Province.

Actual and average rainfall and departure from normal for the month of February 1909.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

No. 167 T.R.—The 22nd April 1909.—In exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (6) of section 190 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885 (VIII of 1885,) the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct that the following revised rule be substituted for rule 38A of the Rules under that Act, made by Notification No. 4606L R., dated the 24th November 1908 (published at page 1900, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 25th idem):—

Notification of incumbrances to landlord.

38A. (1) When a tenancy is held under a single landlord, or under two or more landlords having one common agent or common manager, such as is referred to in rule 25 (a), a copy of the instrument referred to in section 176 shall be served on such landlord or on such agent or manager as the case may be.

(2) When a tenancy is held under two or more landlords not having one common agent or common manager as aforesaid, a copy of the said instrument shall be served—

(a) if none of them have one common agent or common manager as aforesaid, then on each landlord, or

(b) if some of them have one common agent or common manager as aforesaid then on such agent or manager and also on each of the landlords who have no such agent or manager.

(3) The said copy or copies shall be served in the manner prescribed for the service of a summons on a defendant under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. V of 1908.

(4) The fee to be paid for such service shall be—

(i) in the cases referred to in sub-rule (1), one rupee; and

(ii) in the cases referred to in sub-rule (2), one rupee for the first copy of the instrument and four annas for each additional copy.

No. 184T.R.—The 23rd April 1909.—Mr. P. M. Robertson, Deputy Magistrate and Deputy Collector, employed as an Assistant Settlement Officer in the district of the Santhal Parganas, is allowed privilege leave, under article 260 of the Civil Service Regulations, for one month, with effect from the 14th April 1909. Santhal Pargs.

No. 175T.R.—The 22nd April 1909.—In exercise of the power conferred by clause (xx) of section 264 of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, 1908, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to prescribe the following rules as to the manner of service of notices, summonses and other processes (other than warrants against the person of judgment-debtors) issued under that Act:— Chota Nagpur.

1. The word "process," as used in these rules, means any notice, summons or other process issued under the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, 1908, other than a warrant against the person of a judgment-debtor.

2. Every process shall be served personally on the person to whom it is addressed.

3. Notwithstanding anything contained in rule 2,—

(a) if the person to whom any process is addressed has an agent empowered to accept service, or placed in charge of the management of his Zamindari business in connection with the landed property to which the suit or proceeding, in which the process is issued, relates, service of such process on such agent shall be sufficient; and

(b) if the person to whom any process is addressed cannot be found, and has no such agent as is referred to in clause (a), service of such process may be made on any adult male member of the family of such person who may be residing with him.

Explanation.—A servant is not a member of the family within the meaning of clause (b).

4. Service of a process shall be made by delivering or tendering a copy thereof, signed by the officer under whose authority the process is issued, or by some officer appointed by him in this behalf.

5. (1) When the serving officer delivers or tenders a copy of a process to any person referred to in rule 2 or rule 3, he—

(a) shall require the signature of such person to an acknowledgment of service endorsed on the original process, or, if such person be illiterate, shall take his thumb-impression instead of a signature; and

(b) shall require the signature of persons identifying the person on whom service was made, and of persons witnessing the delivery or tender of the process, to the said acknowledgment, or, if any of them be illiterate, shall take his thumb-impression instead of a signature.

6. Whenever a process has been served under rule 2 or rule 3, the serving officer—

(a) shall endorse or annex, or cause to be endorsed or annexed, on or to the original process, a return stating the time when and the manner in which the process was served and the names and addresses of the persons (if any) who identified the person served and witnessed the delivery or tender of the process, and

(b) shall require the signature of such identifiers and witnesses to the said return, or, if any such identifier or witness be illiterate, shall take his thumb-impression instead of a signature.

7. In either of the following cases, namely:—

(a) if any person on whom a process is served refuses to sign the acknowledgment, or

(b) if the serving officer, after using all due and reasonable diligence, cannot find the person to whom a process is addressed, and there is no such agent as is referred to in rule 3 to accept service thereof on behalf of the addressee, and no adult male member of his family on whom service can be made, the serving officer shall affix a copy of the process on the outer door or some other conspicuous part of the house in which the person to whom the process is addressed ordinarily resides or carries on business or personally works for gain, or of his Zamindari Cutcherry or Bhandar or farm-house (if any), and shall then return the original to the Court or officer by whom it was issued, with a report, endorsed thereon or annexed thereto, stating that he has so affixed the copy, the circumstances under which he did so, and the name and address of the person (if any) by whom the house, Cutcherry or Bhandar or farm-house was identified and in whose presence the copy was affixed.

8. When a process is returned under rule 7, the Court or officer by whom it was issued shall, if the return under that rule has not been verified by the affidavit of the serving officer, and may, if it has been so verified, examine the serving officer on oath, or cause him to be so examined by another Court, touching his proceedings, and may make such further inquiry in the matter as the Court or officer thinks fit; and shall either declare that the process has been duly served or order such service as it or he thinks fit.

9. (1) Where the Court or officer by whom a process was issued for service on any person is satisfied that there is reason to believe that such person is keeping out of the way for the purpose of avoiding service, or that for any other reason the process cannot be served in the ordinary way, the Court or officer shall order the process to be served by affixing a copy thereof in some conspicuous place in the Court or in the office of such officer, as the case may be, and also upon some conspicuous part of the house (if any) in which the said person is known to have last resided or carried on business or personally worked for gain, or in such other manner as the Court thinks fit.

(2) Service ordered under sub-rule (1) shall be as effectual as if it had been made on the said person personally.

(3) Whenever service is ordered under sub-rule (1), the Court or officer shall fix such time for the appearance of the said person as the case may require.

10. (1) A process may be sent, by the Court or officer by whom it is issued, either by one of its or his officers or by post, to any other Court or officer having jurisdiction under the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, 1908, in the place of residence of the person on whom the process is to be served.

(2) The Court or officer to whom a process is so sent shall, upon receipt thereof, proceed as if it had been issued by such Court or officer, and shall then return the process to the Court or officer by whom it was issued, together with the record (if any) made under this sub-rule.

11. Notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing rules, if the person to whom any process is addressed resides at a place in which the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, 1908, is not in force, the process shall be deemed to be fully served by properly addressing, pre-paying and posting by registered post a letter containing the process, and to have been served at the time at which the letter would be delivered in the ordinary course of post.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 120T.G.—The 24th April 1909.—The following rules for the award and tenure of the post graduate scholarships, established by the Government of Bengal for the encouragement of original research, are published for general information:—

POST GRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS, BENGAL.

(RULES.)

1. The Government of Bengal has established, until further orders, two post-graduate scholarships for the encouragement of original research. The value of each scholarship is Rs. 100 a month, and each is tenable for a maximum period of three years.

Government Notification No. 774, dated the 13th February 1900, (Modified by Government of Bengal, General Department No. 1467, dated 26th March 1907).

2. The Director of Public Instruction reserves to himself the right to award scholarships only when there are candidates who have high and special qualifications and who appear to be likely to conduct original research with success.

3. Ordinarily one scholarship will be awarded annually to a student who proposes to carry on original research in scientific subjects, including such branches as natural and physical science, chemistry, mathematical science, etc., and another scholarship will similarly be awarded for research in literary subjects, including such branches as languages, comparative philology, palæography, epigraphy, philosophy, history, archæology, anthropology, etc. But no application for a scholarship for research in a literary subject will be considered unless a candidate offers, who not only shows that he has the capacity for undertaking the research proposed but also makes it clear by the programme which he submits that he has thought out a definite course of inquiry. In the event of no suitable candidate for a literary research scholarship being forthcoming, both the scholarships may be awarded for scientific research, and vice versâ.

4. In February of each year elections will be made by the Director of Public Instruction who will communicate his nominations to Government.

5. Election will be made in the first instance for one year only, but a scholarship may be renewed from year to year, up to the limit of three years, on the Director of Public Instruction being satisfied that the candidate has throughout the year vigorously prosecuted original research in the subject which he selected.

6. Each candidate for a scholarship must submit his application,* through the head of the institution in which he read last, to the Director of Public Instruction in the month of January in each year, and must produce evidence of having passed the M. A. examination of the Calcutta University, or of having obtained some other equivalent or higher degree, such as that of Doctor in Medicine, or Doctor in Law, or Doctor in Science, or Master in Engineering of the Calcutta University, within three years previous to his application. He must state as definitely as possible the subject or part of a subject in which he intends, if elected to a scholarship, to carry on his original investigations. He must also indicate the institution in which he proposes to work; or if no institution is mentioned, the circumstances or conditions under which he proposes to work should be stated.

7. Scholarships may be held in any institution approved of by the Director of Public Instruction; or original work may be carried on under any other circumstances or conditions, subject to the previous approval of the Director of Public Instruction.

8. In January of each year each scholarship-holder must submit to the Director of Public Instruction a full report of the original work which he has done during the previous year. Such report may not necessarily contain any distinct advance or improvements in knowledge of any subject, but it must clearly show what attempts have been made by the scholar to advance the bounds of knowledge in the subject worked at.†

* Application Forms may be had from the Personal Assistant, Office of the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, Writers' Buildings, Calcutta.

† Results may not be obtained, but evidence of original research being carried on must be forthcoming.

9. The desirability of publishing any of the results of original research made by post-graduate scholars and the method of doing so will be decided, from time to time, by the Director of Public Instruction.

10. The Director of Public Instruction, however, reserves to himself the right of declaring that a scholar has forfeited his scholarship at any time during its tenure without giving previous notice. Failure to carry out any prescribed condition or to work to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Instruction shall be considered sufficient reason for forfeiture.

11. Scholarship-holders are forbidden to undertake any work, either paid or unpaid, except that of original research during their tenure of scholarship, and they will be required to devote their whole time to research.

12. Post-graduate scholars will be under the direct control of the Director of Public Instruction in all matters relating to their work, their discipline, etc. Their scholarship bills will be passed quarterly by him.

NOTIFICATION.

Dated Quetta, the 17th March 1909.

No. 997.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Foreign Department Notification No. 5041-I. C., dated the 20th December 1906, and Home Department Notification No 2256, dated the 22nd December 1906, and in supersession of the Regulations published with Notification No. 3581, dated the 11th August 1903, as subsequently amended, and all previous Notifications on the subject, the Hon'ble the Agent to the Governor-General and Chief Commissioner in Baluchistan is pleased to make the following temporary regulations under section 2, sub-section (1) and under section 2, sub-section (2), clause (b) of the Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897 :—

I.—Unless otherwise notified, the following will be the places of inspection, and, if necessary, segregation, in Baluchistan, for the period noted against each :—

(1) Sibi—15th October to 14th April, or such dates as may be notified by executive order.

(2) Hirok—15th April to 14th October, or such dates as may be notified by executive order.

II.—Passengers by rail from India, except such Government and Railway servant travelling on duty as are exempted, are forbidden to alight—

(1) (When the Inspection Camp is at Sibi) at any station between Templedera and Mithri both inclusive.

(2) (When the Camp is at Hirok) at any station between Templedera and Mach both inclusive.

NOTE.—Government and Railway servants although travelling on duty are not exempt from this restriction, unless they are in possession of certificates signed by a British Officer of their Department, that they have not visited a plague-infected place within the previous ten days.

III.—No railway tickets shall be issued, without the written authority of the Political Agent, Sibi, or of the Plague Inspecting Medical Officer, from any of the stations between Templedera and Mithri, both inclusive, whether the Camp is at Sibi or at Hirok, except to Sibi and beyond on the Harnai line or on the Mushkaf-Bolan line.

NOTE.—Officials of the Sibi Tahsil and of the Nasirabad subdivision travelling on duty who hold a certificate to this effect from the Political Agent in Sibi, are exempt from the provisions of this rule, as also the officials of His Highness the Khan of Kalat when covered by a certificate from the Political Agent in Kalat.

IV.—All passengers from India having tickets for Sibi or other stations on the Harnai line or on the Mushkaf-Bolan line, will be required to proceed to Sibi or Hirok, as the case may be, for medical inspection, before being allowed to proceed on their journey by railway or otherwise.

V.—When the Camp is at Hirok, passengers from Sibi and upwards must travel in the carriages to be attached to the train at Sibi for local traffic only. These passengers are free to alight at any station up to and including Mach.

VI.—The Medical Officer in Charge of the Plague Camp will allow due consideration to those passengers from India who are in possession of certificates signed by a British Officer, a 1st Class Magistrate or a Commissioned Medical Officer, that they have not visited a plague-infected place within the previous ten days. Such passengers when travelling third class, will usually be disinfected.

DECLARATION.

No. 252J.D.—The 23rd April 1909.—Whereas certain land was acquired by the Bengal Government under the provisions of Act I of 1894 and Act XVIII of 1885, for a public purpose, viz., for the support of the Sanctoria Branch of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway between miles 5, feet 2,220, and miles 6, feet 1,342, and whereas coal mines are situate under the said land, and whereas the Bengal Coal Company, Limited, have given notice to the Government of Bengal, in accordance with the provisions of Act XVIII of 1885, that the said Company intend to work the Dishergarh seam beneath the branch, and whereas the mines have been inspected by the officer appointed by the Bengal Government for the purpose under section 5 (1) of Act XVIII of 1885, and whereas it appears to the Bengal Government that the working out of the coal of the mines underlying the said land is likely to cause damage to the surface of the said land and to the works constructed thereon, and whereas the said Bengal Coal Company, Limited, have agreed not to work and get minerals underlying the land acquired for their siding, or underlying the land acquired for the branch or other lines with which the siding is connected or underlying the land of the branch or branches connecting the said siding with the main line, in such a manner as to injure or to endanger the safety of the undertaking or any part thereof, nor to claim any compensation for any restricted working:

Burdwan.

Now, therefore, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal is pleased to declare, under section 5, sub-section (2), clause (b) of the abovementioned Act, XVIII of 1885, that the working shall be carried on by the said Bengal Coal Company, Limited, in the manner and subject to the restrictions below specified, viz.—

Under the acquired land—

(a) Galleries shall be driven not more than 12 feet wide with centres not less than 72 feet apart forming solid pillars of coal not less than 60 feet square;

(b) The galleries shall not exceed 12 feet in height;

(c) Not less than 3 feet of roof coal shall be left unworked in the galleries;

(d) This declaration applies only to the Dishergarh seam. If it is desired to work coal from any other seam the working thereof must be the subject of a separate notice under section 4 of the Land Acquisition (Mines) Act, 1885; and that in all the above cases no further excavation shall be made in any of the galleries which already have been driven, the actual heights and widths of which have been carefully recorded on the plan marked LAMA. No. 1 signed by the Chief Inspector of Mines.

The plan referred to may be seen in the office of the Chief Inspector of Mines in India by the parties concerned.

DECLARATION.

No. 214J.D.—The 24th April 1909.—Whereas certain land was acquired by the Bengal Government, under the provisions of Act I of 1894 and Act XVIII of 1885, for a public purpose, viz., for portion of the Jeenagora Branch of the East Indian Railway which leaves the Jharia-Pathardih line at mile 176 feet 4,481, and whereas coal mines are situate under the said land, and whereas the Joyrampore Coal Company, Limited, have given notice to the Government of Bengal, in accordance with the provisions of Act XVIII of 1885, that the said Company intend to work the seam known as No. 10 seam, and whereas the mines have been inspected by the officer appointed by the Bengal Government for the purpose under section 5 (1) of Act XVIII of 1885, and whereas it appears to the Bengal Government that the working out of the coal of the mines underlying the said land is likely to cause damage to the surface of the said land and to the works constructed thereon, and whereas the said Joyrampore Coal Company have agreed not to work and get minerals underlying the land acquired for their siding, or underlying the land acquired for the branch or other lines with which the siding is connected or underlying the land of the branch or branches connecting the said siding with the main line, in such a manner as to injure or to endanger the safety of the undertaking or any part thereof, nor to claim any compensation for any restricted working:

Manbhum.

Now, therefore, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal is pleased to declare, under section 5, sub-section (2), clause (b) of the abovementioned Act XVIII of 1885, that the working shall be carried on by the said Joyrampore Coal Company, in the manner and subject to the restrictions below specified, viz.:—

(a) No gallery shall be driven and no coal shall be extracted in any place where the distance from the natural surface to the top of the gallery, if driven, is less than 50 feet.

(b) Where the distance from the natural surface to the top of the gallery, if driven, is 50 feet or more, galleries not exceeding 12 feet in width, by 12 feet in height, may be driven with centres, not less than 50 feet apart, forming pillars not less than 38 feet square, to be left unworked for the support of the acquired land.

(c) In all cases the mixed coal and shale lying above the true coal of the seam shall be left as a roof.

(d) Manholes not exceeding 6 feet in height by 3 feet in width by 4 feet in depth may be made where required by any rule made under the Indian Mines Act.

(e) The above restrictions apply to No. 10 seam only, and to the area edged with pink on the plan, and the Joyrampore Coal Company shall give notice under section IV of the Land Acquisition (Mines) Act, 1885, of their intention to work any other seam under such area or to work coal under any other area of acquired land; and that in all the above cases no further excavation shall be made in any of the galleries which already have been driven, the actual heights and widths of which have been carefully recorded on the plan marked L A M.A. No. 116 signed by the Chief Inspector of Mines.

The plan referred to may be seen in the Office of the Chief Inspector of Mines in India by the parties concerned.

The rules will be taken into consideration after the expiry of a month from the date of their publication in the Gazette, and the Lieutenant-Governor will be pleased to consider any suggestions or observations which may be made by any person concerning them within that period.

T. BUTLER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

CHAPTER I.

General Rules.

Certificates of competency granted to persons who pass requisite examinations.

1. Certificates of competency will be granted to those persons who pass the requisite examinations and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions. For this purpose Examiners have been appointed and arrangements have been made for holding the examinations periodically at the Port of Calcutta. The examinations will be held whenever necessary or at such other times as the Government may appoint.

Application how to be made.

2. The application for examination is to be made on Form Exn. 3, which must be filled up at the Port Office. The Form Exn. 3, properly filled in, together with the candidate's Indentures of Apprenticeship, testimonials, and discharges, must be lodged with the Port Officer not later than the day before the day of examination. As such testimonials may have to be verified before the candidate can be examined, it is desirable that they should be handed in together with the Form Exn. 3, as early as possible.

The Port Officer should be particularly careful to ascertain that there are no gaps in the candidate's service which are not properly accounted for before he is allowed up for examination.

How to apply in special cases.

3. In cases where the services of a candidate require verification, or where he is in doubt whether his service complies with the regulations, and wishes to submit his case for special consideration, all certificates, discharges and testimonials, together with the form of application* properly filled in, should be submitted to the Port Officer, who will either deal with the case or transmit it to the Government for decision.

Inquiries.

4. All other enquiry regarding examinations should be made and dealt with in the same way. The point on which information is sought should be clearly stated and certificates, discharges, testimonials, etc., should be forwarded when they are material to the enquiry.

Testimonials; shore service.

5. All candidates will be required to produce in addition to the official discharge certificates, testimonials as to their workshop service and as to their service at sea. The testimonials as to workshop service must be signed by the employer and must testify to the candidate's conduct and ability, and state what kind of work he was engaged on (e.g., fitting, erecting, etc.), and for how long.

Testimonials; sea service.

6. Testimonials as to service at sea must testify to the applicant's sobriety, experience, ability, and general good conduct for at least the last twelve months' service at sea preceding the date of application to be examined. They must be signed by the Master and Chief Engineer (or, in the case of testimonials to Chief Engineers, by the Master and Superintending Engineer), and must clearly state whether the applicant was on regular watch, and in regular charge of a watch on the main engines or boilers. It is desirable that testimonials of candidates should be endorsed by the Superintending Engineer. No time spent in clerical work will be allowed to count.

Penalty for misconduct.

7. Candidates who have neglected to join their vessels after having signed articles, or who have deserted their vessels after having joined, or who have been found guilty of gross misconduct on board, will be required to produce satisfactory proofs of two years' subsequent service and good conduct at sea, unless the Government, after having investigated the matter, should see fit to reduce the time.

Further as to testimonials.

8. In cases where a testimonial from the Chief Engineer, or from the Master, is for any sufficient reason not obtainable, one may be submitted from the Superintending Engineer in place of that of the Chief Engineer, and one from the Managing Owner or Secretary or Chairman of a large Company in place of that of the Master, but in every such instance the testimonial must declare that the facts stated are in accordance with the reports made by the Chief Engineer or the Master, as the case may be, or else that the facts are within the writer's personal knowledge.

Physical defects.

9. When a candidate is observed to be hard of hearing, or is labouring under any other obvious physical defect, the signatories of his testimonials are required to mention that defect specifically, and to state whether it in any way interfered with the efficiency of the candidate as an engineer on watch. When these modified testimonials are such as to completely satisfy the examiner that the defect is not such as to interfere with the efficient discharge of the applicant's duties as engineer, the examination is proceeded with; otherwise the case is referred to the Government. Candidates afflicted with nervous impediment in speech may write their answers to viva-voce questions.

Foreign Engineers' foreign service.

10. The testimonials of service of Foreign Engineers and of British Engineers serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified by the Port Officer, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the country to which the ship in which the candidate served belonged, or by some other recognized official authority of that country; or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient. Each case must be decided on its own merits; and if the sufficiency of the proofs given appears to be at all doubtful, the point must be referred to the Government.

Certificate as to age.

11. Should any doubt exist as to the age of a candidate he will be required to produce a Certificate of Birth or Baptism.

Foreign Engineers must know English.

12. Foreign Engineers must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British vessel.

Service must be verified.

13. Service which cannot be verified by proper entries in the Articles of the Ships in which the candidates have served cannot be counted.

Issue of certificate.

14. If the candidate passes he will receive a Form (Form Exn. 16) authorizing the Port Officer to whom it is addressed to issue the Certificate. The candidate's testimonials and other papers will be returned to him when the examination is finished. It is therefore important that the port at which the Certificate is to be issued should be the same on both the Form Exn. 16 and the form of application Exn. 3. If circumstances should make any alteration necessary, the Examiner should see that it is made in both forms; otherwise delay in the issue of the Certificate may by caused.

Service found to be insufficient.

15. If after a candidate has passed the examination it is discovered on further investigation that his services are insufficient to entitle him to receive a Certificate of the grade for which he has passed, the Certificate will not be granted to him; but if the Port Officer is satisfied that the error in the calculation of the candidate's services did not occur through any fault or wilful misrepresentation on his part, he may either have the fee returned to him or have it placed to his credit. Should his services entitle him to a Certificate of a lower grade, it may be granted to him, and the difference, if any, between the fee paid by him for the superior Certificate and the fee payable for the inferior Certificate will be returned to him or placed to his credit.

The Superior Certificate will not be granted until the candidate has performed the amount of service in which he was deficient, and has been re-examined in all the subjects unless the Government see fit to dispense with the re-examination.

Failure in examination.

16. If the candidate fails in practical knowledge he may not present himself for re-examination until he can produce proofs of three months' further service at sea, as Engineer on watch on the main engines or boilers, from the date of failure. If he fails in arithmetic, elementary questions, or drawing only, he may come up again at any time.

Fee must be paid first.

17. Candidates for examination, in making their application on the Form Exn. 3, will be required to pay the Examination fee before any step is taken towards inquiring into their services or testing their qualifications, &c. If the candidate is found not to be qualified, the fee will either be returned to him or placed to his credit until he is qualified.

Payment of fees.

18. The fee for examination must be paid to the Port Officer. In any case in which a candidate offers a gratuity to any other officer and in any place but in the Port Office, the candidate so offering a gratuity will be regarded as having committed an act of misconduct, and will be rejected, and not allowed to be examined for twelve months either at the Port where the offence was committed or at any other port.

Fees not returned on failure.

19. If a candidate fails in his examination, no part of the fee he has paid will be returned to him.

Table of fees.

20. The fees are as follows:—

	Rs.
Second Class Engineer's Certificate ..	15
First Class Engineer's Certificate ..	30
First Class Engineer's Certificate if the candidate holds a Second Class Certificate of Competency granted by the Board of Trade, or by the Government of a British possession under section 8 of the Merchant Shipping (Colonial) Act, 1869 ...	15

CHAPTER II.

Qualifications required for the various grades.

Second Class.

21. SECOND CLASS ENGINEER.—A candidate for a Second Class Engineer's Certificate must be 21 years of age;

(a) He must have served as an apprentice Engineer for four years in England or five years in India at least, and prove that during the period of his apprenticeship he has been employed on the making or repairing of steam engines, boilers, &c. Three years in England or four years in India of the apprentice time must have been passed in the fitting or erecting shops, or in both In calculating the four years in England or five years in India of artisan service, which are to constitute the required apprenticeship, which should not begin at an earlier age than 15, time spent at a technical school (recognised by the Port Officer as suitable) where there is an engineering laboratory, may be taken into account and accepted as equivalent to artisan service, at the ratio of three years in the technical school to two in artisan service, provided that the applicant was over 15 years of age, and can produce the Principal's Certificate for regular attendance and satisfactory progress, and provided also that in such case the other portion of the time was spent in the fitting or erecting shops of an engineer, as indicated above.

Time spent in a technical school cannot be accepted as equivalent to more than two years' artisan service, and time spent in foreign technical schools can in no circumstances be recognised.

Journeyman's time will be considered as equivalent to apprenticeship.

Every applicant must produce testimonials of ability as an engineer workman to the satisfaction of the Government.

If the candidate has not served for four years in England or five years in India as an apprentice Engineer, or as Journeyman, he will be required to have served, in lieu thereof, four years at sea as Engineer on regular watch on the main engines or boilers of a foreign-going steamer of not less than 66 nominal horse-power, or six years in a home-trade steamer of not less than 66 nominal horse-power.

(b) In addition to the apprenticeship as above described, or the alternative sea service, the applicant must have served one year at sea as Engineer on regular watch on the main engines or boilers of a foreign-going steamer of not less than 66 nominal horse-power, or eighteen months in a home-trade steamer of not less than 66 nominal horse-power.

(c) He must be able to give a satisfactory description of boilers, and the methods of staying them, together with the use and management of the different valves, cocks, pipes, and connexions.

(d) He must understand how to correct defects from accident, decay, &c, and the means of repairing such defects.

(e) He must understand the use of the water gauge, pressure gauge, barometer, thermometer, and salinometer, and the principles on which they are constructed.

(f) He must state the causes, effects, and usual remedies for incrustation and corrosion.

(g) He must be able to explain the method of testing and altering the setting of the slide valves, and method of testing the fairness of shafts and adjusting them.

In the case of England, "foreign going steamer" includes every steamer employed in trading or going between some place or places situate beyond the following limits, that is to say, the coasts of the United Kingdom, the Channel Islands and Isle of Man, and the Continent of Europe between the River Elbe and Brest, inclusive. "Home trade steamer" includes every steamer employed in trading or going within the following limits, that is to say, the United Kingdom, the Channel Islands and Isle of Man and the Continent of Europe between the River Elbe and Brest inclusive.

In the case of India, "foreign-going steamer" includes every steamer employed in trading between any port of the territories which are or may become vested in His Majesty by the Statutes 21 and 22 Vic., Cap. 106, entitled "An Act for the better government of India" and any port or place not in the said territories, nor on the Continent of India, nor in the Straits Settlements, nor in the Island of Ceylon. "Home-trade steamer" includes every steamer employed in trading between any ports of the said territories or between any port of the said territories and any port or place on the Continent of India or in the Straits Settlements or in the Island of Ceylon.

(h) He must be able to calculate the suitable working pressure for a steam-boiler of given dimensions, and the stress, per square inch, on crank and tunnel shafts when the necessary data are furnished.

(i) He must understand the construction of steering engines, evaporators, feed filters, and feed heaters.

(j) He must understand the construction of centrifugal, bucket, and plunger pumps, and the principle on which they act.

(k) He must be able to state how a temporary or permanent repair could be effected in case of derangement of a part of the machinery, or total breakdown.

(l) He must write a legible hand, and have a good knowledge of arithmetic up to and including vulgar and decimal fractions and square root. He must also understand the application of these rules to questions about safety valves, coal consumption, consumption of stores, capacities of tanks, bunkers, &c.

(m) He must be able to pass a creditable examination as to the various constructions of paddle and screw engines in general use, as to the details of the different working parts, external and internal, and the use of each part.

(n) He must possess a creditable knowledge of the prominent facts relating to combustion, heat and steam.

22. FIRST CLASS ENGINEER.—A candidate for a First Class Engineer's Certificate must be not less than 22 years of age. First Class.

In addition to the qualification required for a Second Class Engineer,

(a) He must—

(1) have served at sea for 12 months, with a Second Class Certificate of Competency or service as Senior Engineer in charge of a watch on the main engines or boilers of a foreign-going steam-ship of not less than 99 nominal horse power; or

(2) have served at sea for 18 months, with a Second Class Certificate of Competency, or service as First Engineer of a home-trade steamer of not less than 99 nominal horse-power; or 2 years as Second Engineer of a home-trade steamer of not less than 99 nominal horse power, with a Second Class Certificate of Competency, or service or

(3) have served 2½ years with a Second Class Certificate of Competency or service as third Engineer of a home-trade steamer of not less than 99 nominal horse-power, if during the whole of that period he has been the senior Engineer in charge of a watch on the main engines and boilers, or

(4) possess or be entitled to a First Class Certificate of service.

(b) He will be required to make an intelligible hand sketch, or a working drawing of some one or more of the principal parts of a steam-engine, and to mark in without a copy all the necessary dimensions in figures, so that the sketch or drawing could be worked from.*

(c) He must be able to take off and calculate indicator diagrams.

* See Appendix C.

(d) He must be able to calculate safety-valve pressures and the strength of the boilers shell, stays, and riveting.

(e) He must be able to state the general proportions borne by the principal parts of the machinery to each other, and to calculate the direct stress, the torsional stress, and the bending stress in round bars, and the direct stress and the bending stress in rectangular bars with given loads.

(f) He must be able to explain the method of testing and altering the setting of the slide valves, and to sketch about what difference any alteration in the slide valve will make in the indicator diagram, and also the method of testing the fairness of shafts and of adjusting them.

(g) He must be conversant with surface condensation, superheating, and the working of steam expansively.

(h) His knowledge of arithmetic must include the mensuration of superficies and solids and the extraction of the square and cube roots, and the application of these rules to questions relating to the power, duty and economy of engines and boilers, and to the stresses in rods, shafts and levers of the engine.

(i) He must understand the construction of, and be able to maintain in working condition, the auxiliary machinery which is placed under his charge, viz., refrigerating machinery, electric light engines and dynamos, electric motors fitted to ships' boats, hydraulic machinery, and the various descriptions of steering engines, etc.

Workshop service where engines are not made.

23. When the workshop service has been performed in a place where steam-engines are not made or repaired, and the class of work done is similar to that required in engine making, the service may be accepted with an additional year of qualifying service; that is, four years in England or five years in India of workshop service and two years in the engine-room (of which one year must have been at sea), or one year at engine fitting in a suitable marine engine workshop and one year at sea in the engine-room. The approval of the Port Officer must be obtained in every such case before the candidate is examined.

Workshop service other than fitting or erecting.

24. When the workshop service has been performed in a place where engines are made, and the department in which the applicant has been principally engaged is not "fitting" or "erecting," the case must be referred to the Government with a report upon the service performed. If the service be such as is useful training for an Engineer, the Port Officer may accept the service, but in every such case the applicant must prove additional engine-room or marine engine workshop service as required above.

Qualifying service defined.

25. In the case of candidates for First Class Certificates, qualifying service means service on regular watch as senior Engineer in charge of the main engines or boilers. During the whole of the period claimed, candidates must have been in possession of Second Class Certificates.

In the case of candidates for Second Class Certificates, qualifying service means service as Engineer on regular watch on the main engines or boilers. In no case will time spent in clerical work be allowed to count Foreign Engineers.

26. Foreign Engineers cannot be examined for a First Class Certificate unless they have performed the sea-service stated in rule 22, with the requisite British Certificate. The service may have been performed in foreign vessels if the candidate can produce satisfactory testimonials as to conduct and character, and is able to prove that the service has been in the required capacities, and that during the period of service he has held a British Certificate of Competency of the rank required by the Regulations. [See rule 10]

27. In all cases the candidates' names must have been duly entered on the ship's Articles as Engineers in their proper ratings. Names on articles.

28. Being on regular watch means being on watch for at least eight hours a day. Regular watch.

29. Only such service as gives the experience required to make a man thoroughly competent as a sea-going Engineer is accepted as qualifying service. Even for a Second Class Certificate the candidate must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiner that he is qualified by experience and knowledge to act as Chief Engineer in an under-powered steamer of 99 nominal horse-power on a voyage, say from India to Egypt, taking full responsibility for engines and boilers. Further as to qualifying service.

30. The sea service required by these Regulations is, unless otherwise stated, service performed in foreign-going ships. Sea service.

31. Service in the Home or Coasting Trade is regarded as being equivalent to two-thirds of the same period of time served in the Foreign Trade, except in the case of Indian Coasting Voyages extending beyond a distance of 500 miles from the port of departure in steam-ships commanded by Masters holding Foreign-going Certificates, when such service will count as foreign-voyages, and will be reckoned as full time; but the time spent in the port of departure or Home Port will not be allowed to count. In all cases the length of service is deemed to commence on the date of sailing from the port of departure or Home Port and to end on the date of arrival at the Home Port. Such service must be vouched for in the form laid down in Appendix G. Home-trade service.

32. Service as watch-keeper on a lake or river steamer of not less than 66 nominal horse-power may be accepted under the following conditions:— Lake or river service.

(a) the service will only count half as much as sea service, i.e., every two months of lake or river service is only equivalent to one month's sea service;

(b) candidates for second class certificates must prove in addition to the lake or river service, at least three months' qualifying service at sea in a steam-ship of not less than 66 nominal horse-power;

(c) candidates for first class certificates must prove, in addition to lake or river service in vessels of 99 nominal horse-power, at least six months' qualifying service at sea, with a Second Class Engineer's Certificate, in vessels of not less than 99 nominal horse-power.

33. Service performed on board auxiliary screw whalers and other vessels with auxiliary steam-power of not less than 66 nominal horse-power in the capacity of Engineer may be allowed to count towards qualifying candidates for examination for Second Class Engineers' Certificates of Competency to the extent of one-half the time the vessel is actually at sea. If the candidate is able to prove a larger amount of time under steam, he will be allowed to count the whole of such extended time. Service in auxiliary screw steam-ships.

34. Service in sea-going steam dredgers, fishing-boats or tug-boats and in sea-going pilot vessels when on their station, or when going to or returning from the same, may be accepted under the following conditions. Two months of such service is only equivalent to one month's qualifying service. Candidates for Second Class Certificates may perform all their sea service in sea-going steam dredgers, fishing-boats, tug-boats or pilot-vessels, but they must have been on regular watch on the main engines or boilers, and the vessels must not be less than 66 nominal horse-power. Candidates for First Class Certificates must have served in vessels of at least 99 nominal horse-power, and have been in charge of a watch on the main engines or boilers. They must, in addition, have served in a qualifying capacity for at least six months Service in dredgers, fishing boats, tug-boats or pilot vessels.

in a foreign-going cargo or passenger steam-ship, or nine months in a home-trade cargo or passenger steam-ship.

Service in yachts.

35. Service performed in steam yachts, either within or beyond home-trade limits, may be accepted as equivalent to two-thirds of the time performed in foreign-going trading vessels, provided that the candidate's name is entered on the vessel's Articles and that he can prove, to the satisfaction of the Port Officer, that the time claimed was actually served at sea.

Candidates for Second Class Certificates may perform all their service in yachts, but the candidate must have been on regular watch on the main engines or boilers, and the vessel must be of not less than 66 nominal horse-power.

Candidates for First Class Certificates must have served on vessels of not less than 99 nominal horse-power, and must have been in regular charge of the main engines or boilers In addition they must have served for at least three months in a qualifying capacity on board a foreign-going trading or passenger steam-ship. This additional service will, however, not be required in the case of a candidate who has served for 18 months as first engineer, or for 2 years as second engineer, of a steam yacht of the requisite power.

First class Certificate without Second.

36. The Government may see fit to allow an applicant who, in consequence of service abroad, has been unable to obtain a Second Class Certificate, to be examined for a First Class Certificate, although he has not obtained a Certificate of the lower grade, provided he is able to satisfy them as to the satisfactory character of his services. If any candidate who has not got a Second Class Certificate of Competency fails to pass the examination for the first Class Certificate, but passes that for the lower grade, he may be given a Second Class Certificate of Competency, but no part of the fee will be returned. A candidate who has been permitted to be examined for a First Class Certificate without first obtaining a Second Class Certificate of Competency or service and who fails in his examination in practical knowledge, may not be re-examined for a Certificate of the higher grade until he has served 3 months as watch-keeper with a Second Class Engineer's Certificate of Competency or service as required by the regulations. If the candidate fails altogether, i.e., both in the examination for the lower as well as for the higher grade of Certificate, he may be re-examined for a Second Class Certificate only, subject to the usual regulations relating to failure.

Certificates of service.

37. An officer who has attained the rank of Engineer Lieutenant or Engineer Sub-Lieutenant in His Majesty's Navy or the rank of Engineer or Assistant Engineer in the Indian Marine Service, is entitled without examination, if an Engineer Lieutenant or Engineer, to a Certificate of Service as First Class Engineer, and if an Engineer Sub-Lieutenant or Assistant Engineer, to a Certificate of Service as Second Class Engineer. These officers may be examined for a Certificate of Competency on the same conditions as Engineers of the Mercantile Marine.

An officer who has attained the rank of Chief Artificer Engineer in His Majesty's Navy is also entitled without examination to a Certificate of Service as Second Class Engineer.

Examination of engine-room Artificers.

38. Artificer Engineers, Chief Engine-room Artificers, and Engine-room Artificers in the Royal Navy, may be examined for Certificates of Competency on the same conditions as Engineers of the Mercantile Marine.

Application by Naval Officers.

39. The Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty have directed that applications from officers of the Navy for Certificates of Service or for permission to be examined for Certificates of Competency must, in the case of officers on the active list, be made through the Commanding Officer to the Secretary to the Admiralty, and in the case of officers on half pay or who have retired, direct to the Secretary to the Admiralty, who in either case will forward the applications to the Board of Trade.

Masters and Mates' Examination in steam.

40. Particulars of the examination of Masters and Mates in steam will be found in Appendix E.

Certificates.

41. The term Certificate in these Regulations means a Certificate issued by the Board of Trade or by a British Possession under the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act.

CHAPTER III.

Conduct of the Examinations.

Commencement and duration of Examinations.

42. The examinations will commence early in the forenoon, and will be continued from day to day until all the candidates whose names appear upon the Examiner's list on the day of examination are examined.

Candidates to be punctual.

43. Candidates are required to appear at the examination room punctually at the time appointed.

Tables cleared.

44. Before commencing the examination, the tables and desks must be cleared of all scraps of paper or books that are not used in the examination, and care should be taken that the candidates do not bring into the examination room any book or paper.

Strangers not admitted.

45. No persons will be allowed in the rooms during the examinations other than those whose duties require them to be present.

No instructors will be allowed on the premises.

Blotting paper.

46. A sheet of blotting paper will be issued to each candidate with the first examination paper, and it must be returned to the Examiner when the last paper is completed each day. The Examiner will be careful to see that the blotting paper has not been used by the candidate in solving his problems, or for conveying information to other candidates.

All work to be shown.

47. No candidate will be allowed to work out his problems on a slate or on waste paper or to write on the blotting paper supplied for his use in the examination. Violation of this rule will subject the candidate to all the penalties of a failure.

Additional sheets of paper will be supplied by the Examiner if required, but they must be attached to, and form part, of the examination papers.

Books and papers strictly forbidden.

48. All books necessary for the use of candidates under examination will be provided by the Government, and candidates are prohibited from bringing into the examination room books or papers of any kind whatever. The slightest infringement of this regulation will subject the offender to all the penalties of a failure, and he will not be allowed to present himself for re-examination for a period of three months.

Drawing instruments.

49. Candidates for First Class Certificates have to pass an examination in rough working drawing, which may, in the candidate's option, be either hand sketches clearly dimensioned and complete in the necessary views and sections, or drawings to a scale. Drawing boards and T squares will be provided by the Government, but the applicants will have to bring with them any drawing instruments they may require.

Candidates' places.

50. Candidates should be so placed as to prevent one copying from another, and no communication whatever between the candidates should be allowed.

Penalty for copying, &c.

51. In the event of any candidate being discovered referring to any book or paper, or copying from another, or affording any assistance or giving any information to another, or communicating in any way with another, during the time of examination, or copying any part of the problems for the purpose of taking them out of the examination rooms, he will subject himself to all the penalties of a failure, and will not be allowed to be examined for a period of six months.

Leaving room or building.

52. No candidate may leave the examination room without permission and without giving up the paper on which he is engaged. Under no circumstances will the same paper be returned to him, but the examiner may substitute other data, or another question.

Injury to books.

53. If a candidate defaces, blots, writes in or otherwise injures any book or form belonging to the Government, his papers will be retained until he has replaced the damaged book or document. He will not be allowed to remove the damaged book or document, and will be subjected to all the penalties of a failure.

Silence.

54. Perfect silence is to be preserved in the examination room.

Penalty for breach of rules.

55. Any candidate violating any of the regulations or being guilty of insolence to the Examiner, or of disorderly or improper conduct in or about the room, will render himself liable to the postponement of his examination, or, in the event of his having passed, to the detention of his Certificate for such period as the Government may direct.

Order of examinations.

56. The examination of candidates for Second Class Certificates consists of three parts: arithmetic, elementary questions, and viva voce; and that of candidates for First Class Certificates of four parts: arithmetic, drawing, elementary questions, and vive voce (see paragraphs 21 and 22).

Arithmetic.

57. When the number of marks obtained in arithmetic amounts to 28, that is, two-thirds of the maximum, the candidate passes in arithmetic.

If the marks obtained amount to 21, but not to 28, and if the applicant has had long sea experience, his testimonials should be taken into account, and his examination continued, if deemed advisable by the Examiner, and he may be passed or failed having due regard to his practical knowledge, and to whether he is being examined for second class or first class.

Elementary questions.

58. All engineer applicants presenting themselves for examination will be required to give written answers to ten questions selected from Elementary Questions shown in Appendix B. These questions are intended to furnish a record to some extent of the candidate's knowledge at the time of his examination, and also to induce the candidates to pay more attention to their handwriting and spelling.

Examiners will require all candidates to fill up a form, Exn. 15*b*,* and they will forward it to the Port Officer, together with the report of the examination.

The questions for both classes of engineers will be taken from the same series of Elementary Questions; and candidates for first class certificates are expected to show their superiority by giving answers more complete than those of the other candidates.

Viva voce.

59. Having regard to the fact that when the verbal examination is held, the candidate has already passed in arithmetic, and if a first class candidate in drawing, and has also written answers to the elementary questions, the Examiners will deal with practical rather than theoretical questions in this division of the examination; and no candidate should be failed without having been well cross-questioned on the points for which failure takes place.

Moreover in cases where the Examiner approves of the elementary paper but fails the candidate for lack of practical knowlege or for elementary, a written account of the points failed in must be forwarded to the Port Officer with the elementary papers and the report Exn. 15.

The elementary questions to be answered on Form Exn. 15*b are good starting points in viva voce examinations. With the candidates' written answers before the Examiner, the same question can be put in a way requiring an answer in another form. Each question may be developed into several according to the circumstances of the case, e.g.—

1. What is made of? Of what parts does it consist?

* See Appendix A.

2. What is its use?
3. What attention does it require at sea?
4. What attention does it require in port?
5. When it becomes defective, what is it that principally goes wrong with it?
6. How is it repaired?
7. What alteration may prevent a recurrence of the defect?

It is considered of great importance that engineers presenting themselves for examination should have an extensive knowledge of the particulars of actual casualties which have occurred at sea and be able to state how these might have been prevented, and how remedied. Sometimes an engineer presents himself, who has had no personal experience of any defects, and who can tell nothing about casualties to machinery which have occurred in the experience of others: such candidates should be closely questioned as to their knowledge of boiler and engine construction and the repairs of same.

The management of engines and boilers at sea, the duties of the engineer on watch, the work to be done to the engines, boilers, and auxiliary machinery in port, and the periodical examinations of the working parts, form part of the viva voce examination.

Reports of examinations.

60. Reports of examinations on the form Exn. 15, together with the Examination Papers, should be forwarded to the Port Officer immediately the examinations are completed.

General.

61. Certificates of Competency shall be made and issued by the Government in the forms hereunto annexed.

62. Every Certificate of Competency shall be made in duplicate, and one copy shall be delivered to the person entitled to the Certificate, and the other shall be kept and recorded by the Port Officer of Calcutta.

63. No application from the holder of a certificate granted by the Government of any other British Possession or by the Board of Trade to be examined for a certificate of the same legal value shall be entertained.

APPENDIX A.

FORM EXN. 15*b*.

Form to be filled up by all candidates at the commencement of the examination.

Port _____	Class for which examined _____
Date _____	Candidate's name _____

A. Where and how long did you serve in works at the making or repairing of engines and boilers?

B. How long and in what capacity did you serve in works on shore other than at the making or repairing of engines and boilers?

C. How long have you served in the engine-room at sea, and in what capacities.

D. With what descriptions of engines have you served at sea? What sizes were the engines?

E. With what descriptions of boilers have you served at sea?

F. What engine defects or defects to auxiliary machinery have come under your notice; what caused these defects, and how were they remedied? Give the names of the steamers for verification.

G. What boiler defects have come under your notice; what caused these defects, and how were they remedied? Give the names of the steamers for verification.

APPENDIX B.

ELEMENTARY QUESTIONS.

1.

What parts of an engine are generary made of wrought iron?

2.

What parts of an engine are generally made of cast iron?

3.

For what parts of an engine is steel sometimes used?

4.

What parts of an engine are generally made of brass or gun-metal?

5.

Where is "white metal" sometimes used? On account of what property possessed by it, is it adopted? What objection is there to its more general use?

6.

For what parts is Muntz metal sometimes used? Is it malleable? For what properties is it valued?

7.

What difference is there in the composition of cast iron, of wrought iron, and of steel?

8.

How can cast iron, wrought iron, and steel be distinguished from each other?

9.

What are the different properties of cast iron, of wrought iron, and of steel?

10.

What is meant by the terms "breaking stress," "proof stress," "safe working stress?"

11.

What is the cohesive strength, or breaking stress, of good ordinary wrought iron?

12.

Tempering steel: how is it done, and in what order do the colours come?

13.

What is case-hardening?

14.

Which of the common metals or alloys can be forged, and which of them are brittle or "short?"

15.

What is meant by "welding?" Which of the common metals can be welded?

16.

The expansion of metals by heat: give examples of this in the engine and in the boiler.

17.

In the construction of steel cylindrical marine boilers for what parts have the plates to be worked hot? What precautionary treatment of these plates is afterwards necessary?

18.

In what parts of cylindrical marine boilers is the strongest riveting employed? In which of the shell seams is it most necessary?

19.

What is "caulking," and how are seams prepared for caulking?

20.

Describe the different ways of fastening the ends of the main stays of a boiler. What are the merits of, or objections to, the different plans?

21.

What stress per square inch is allowed on boiler stays?

22.

Describe a riveted stay, and state where such stays are commonly used.

23.

Where are thin plates to be looked for in a boiler as it wears, and how is the thinness to be detected?

24.

How are boiler tubes fixed? What are "stay tubes," and how are they secured?

25.

Where is it generally that boiler tubes leak? How is this defect repaired? What are the causes of this leaking?

26.

What are the causes of cracked tube plates? Where are the cracks situated? How are they repaired?

27.

What is the difference between a "dry uptake" and a "wet uptake"? Which requires most repair? Why? Where have you seen a wet uptake?

28.

What is a superheater? What is its construction? What valves are on it? There is sometimes a gauge glass on it: what is that for? Are superheaters now in general use?

29.

What parts of a marine multitubular boiler are first injured by shortness of water?

30.

Where are angle irons sometimes used in the construction of a boiler, and where are flanged plates used?

31.

Priming; to what causes is it attributed? What means are applied to prevent it? What evils may be produced by it?

32.

Funnel draught; what makes it? What checks it?

33.

Flame sometimes seen at the top of the funnel; what causes this appearance? Is it beneficial or is it detrimental? Why so?

34.

A blast pipe: what is its construction? Where is it placed? For what is it used?

35.

How many bottom blow-off cocks are generally fitted to each boiler, and why are they so fitted?

36.

Blow-off cocks are sometimes fitted with a spanner guard? For what purpose is this? Describe how the guard is formed.

37.

Water-gauge test-cocks; where are they placed? At what heights? Must the cocks themselves be at those heights? What provision is made for cleaning these cocks, should they ever become choked? When there are no test-cocks, how is the height of the water ascertained?

38.

What is a dead-weight safety valve? Of what are the rubbing surfaces formed? How is a lock-up valve arranged to admit of lifting it or of turning it round, and to prevent adding to the weight?

39.

About what area of safety valve is now required by the Board of Trade? What is the effect of suddenly opening a safety valve when steam is up? To about what extent do safety valves rise when blowing off without being eased by hand?

40.

Spring-loaded safety valves: what advantages have they that are not possessed by dead-weight valves? What are the disadvantages, if any, as compared with dead-weight valves?

41.

Of what pieces does a glass water gauge mounting consist? How does it act? Where is it placed? At what height? Is it liable to derangement? How is its working tested?

42.

Glass water gauges have sometimes pipe connections top and bottom: what is the object of this arrangement? Should there be cocks at the extremities of these pipes? Why? or why not?

43.

Describe a Bourdon steam gauge. Some gauges have an inverted syphon pipe below them; what is its use?

44.

Why is a small cock sometimes put on the pipe leading to a steam gauge? Where should it be placed, and what error might be made by omitting to use it?

45.

Do steam gauges indicate the total pressure of the steam, or only a portion of that pressure? What is the pressure measured from?

46.

What is meant by the salting of the boiler? How is this prevented? What is the density of ordinary sea water? How is the density ascertained? What is the difference between the formation of scale and the salting of the boiler? What is the maximum density at which boilers should be worked at sea? In the event of condenser tubes leaking, what is the minimum density at which boilers should be worked? Give your reasons.

47.

Scum cocks and pipes; how are they arranged? Where are they placed? At what height in the boiler? When are they used? When must they be shut? Neglect of these cocks lead to what dangers.

48.

Scale; of what does it consist? Where is it most objectionable? How is it removed? How is its formation prevented? What evil effects are produced by it?

49.

What is a Salinometer? Of what does it consist? How does it act? How is it graduated? Can it be used at any temperature indiscriminately?

50.

What harm may be done through the check valve of one of a set of boilers being defective while under way? How would you work to avoid this harm?

51.

How is the leak from a split tube stopped in a boiler at sea? Describe the operation.

52.

What is the use of dampers? Where are they fitted? When should they be used?

53.

When there are no dampers fitted, what is used instead? What evil to the boiler is sometimes attributed to this? When the heating surfaces are clean, does this occur?

54.

Describe the piston of a steam cylinder, with its different rings and their uses. There are generally round pieces let in flush on one side of a pistion; what are they? How are these pieces fixed?

55.

Cylinder drain cocks; what is their use? There is sometimes a valve upon each cock; what purpose does it serve?

56.

Cylinder escape valves; of what do they consist? How protected? How regulated? When are they most needed? To what danger do they expose the engineer? What precaution is sometimes used to obviate this danger?

57.

What is a compound engine? What different kinds are there for screw steamers, in respect to the number and arrangement of their cranks and cylinders? What is a triple expansion engine?

58.

What is link motion? What are some of its advantages? In modern engines for the screw propeller, when there is no link motion, what takes its place?

59.

What is a separate expansion valve? Why is it not fitted to all engines? What effect has an expansion valve upon the starting and upon the reversing of the engine?

60.

What arrangement is applied to reduce the friction of a slide valve? To what is the friction due?

61.

Describe a loose eccentric; how does it act? In what engines are the loose eccentrics still employed?

62.

What is the travel of the eccentric rod? How is it measured on the eccentric? What is the travel on the slide valve when the link motion is in mid gear, and the engine still moving?

63.

What are "double beat valves"? What objections are here to their use?

64.

What is a circulating pump? Is it always worked by the main engine? Give an example from your last steamer of the three water temperatures generally noted by careful engineers.

65.

An air valve is sometimes fitted to a circulating reciprocating pump; what purpose does it serve?

66.

What is the difference between a bucket air-pump, a piston air-pump, and a plunger air-pump?

67.

Are double-acting air-pumps made with plungers, with pistons, or with bucket? Describe the construction and action of circulating pumps.

68.

What is an air-pump trunk? When is it necessary? How is it attached to the bucket? Centrifugal pumps: describe their construction and mode of working.

69.

What class of air-pump requires both foot and delivery valves, and in what other class can either of these valves be in some cases dispensed with?

70.

What are marine governors? What is their general construction? How do they act?

71.

With a surface condenser and a single acting air-pump, what is the effect of a leaky foot valve, and what is the effect of a leaky bucket when there is also a foot valve?

72.

Where is the air-pump pet cock or valve placed? How does it act? What is its object? Does it, in every case, reduce the effective capacity of the pump? Is it equally applicable to double-acting pumps?

73.

At what temperature is the hot well worked? What is the effect of higher temperatures? What is the effect of lower temperatures? What limits the lowness of temperature? Has a very low temperature any disadvantages?

74.

Bilge injection with jet condenser; what are the fittings required? When is it used? What precautions are necessary in using it?

75.

When surface condensers are used, what takes the place of the bilge injection? To what is the connection made? How is its valve formed? Why is this necessary?

76.

What are the practical guides to the proper amount of opening of the inlet valve for the circulating pump?

77.

Feed-pump pet-cock or valve: where is it placed? What is its use? How does it act? Is it always a necessary fitting?

78.

What are some of the ways of fastening the ends of surface condenser tubes? About what size and about what thickness are condenser tubes? What parts of a surface condenser are made of brass?

79.

What is a blow-through valve or cock? To what is it attached? There is sometimes a valve which, when opened, admits steam from the slide valve casing to the exhaust port: what is its use? To which cylinder is it fitted?

80.

What are snifting valves? Why are they generally omitted now?

81.

What connexions are generally fitted to the donkey pump and to what services can it be applied?

82.

When the engines are stopped in harbour with steam up, what are to be shut and what are to be opened?

83.

How is an engine heated up before starting? What precautionary examinations are made before starting?

84.

What is an interceptor or catch-water? Where is it fixed, what is its construction, how does it act, and what attention does it require?

85.

Describe an air-pump bucket, with its valve or valves and its packing. Of what are the valves generally made?

86.

Of what materials are air-pump rods made? Why?

87.

What is the racing of the engine? When does it occur? What danger attaches to it? What is done to prevent it?

88

When under way, when the air-pump bucket is at the top of its stroke, at what height is the water in the condenser?

89.

What is meant by the "pitch" of a screw propeller? How is it measured?

90.

Explain the difference between a "right hand" and a "left hand" propeller, and state how each of them revolves?

91.

What is the slip of a screw propeller? How is its amount expressed in figures?

92.

Which of the valves about engines and boilers have to be worked by hand, which of them are self-acting, and which are worked by the motion of the engine?

93.

Why is soda sometimes put into a boiler, and how is it put in when under way? What is the kind of soda used?

94.

Tallow cups for cylinders were sometimes made with two small cocks, or with only one small cock, or with one large hollow plug cock, or with one small cock and a valve: which of these is suitable for a high-pressure cylinder, and which for the cylinder of a condensing engine? Describe how the cup with only one small cock is used. What is now generally used instead of these? How has this change come about?

95.

Does a cylinder escape valve, self-acting, allow all the water to escape? If not, how much is left in the cylinder?

96.

What is a "Steam Lubricator" (sometimes called an Impermeator)? Explain its action? To what part of the engine is it connected? Will throwing cold water over it make it work faster or slower? Describe the one used in your last steamer?

97.

A common paddle wheel: of what is the centre made? Of what are the arms formed? What is the form of the bolts which attach the floats to the arms? How are the arms attached to the centres?

98.

Why have some paddle wheels one or more cast-iron floats in each wheel? With what engines are these most required? At what part of the circumference are they placed?

99.

Why are paddle wheel floats sometimes made of different breadths in the same wheel? With what description of engine is this most needed? Where are the broad floats placed and where are the narrow floats placed in the circumference of the wheel?

100.

What difference is there between a radial paddle wheel and one with feathering floats? What is the object of feathering floats? Are all the eccentric rods attached in the same way, and are they all of the same form?

101.

Whereabout is the centre of the eccentric of a paddle wheel with feathering floats placed? In that case are the feathering levers on the striking face or on the back of the float? When the paddle shaft has an outer bearing, how is the eccentric made?

102.

Of what materials are the working surfaces of a paddle wheel with feathering floats? How are they lubricated?

103.

What is a "Disconnecting Paddle Engine?" At what place is the disconnecting effected? How is it accomplished? In which of the cranks of a disconnecting engine are the crank pins fixed?

104.

Is link motion valve gear or the loose eccentric generally used for disconnecting paddle engines? For what steamers are disconnecting paddle engines frequently employed?

105.

What are expansion joints? Where are they necessary? What attention do they require? Of what should the working surfaces be made?

106.

What omission in the construction of expansion joints may lead to a serious accident when steam is first applied? How is this prevented in the construction of a steam trunnion pipe for an oscillating engine?

107.

Describe an oil cup with a syphon worsted? How is the worsted arranged? How is it cleaned? How far down the tube does it extend?

108.

Describe a thrust bearing; which of the surfaces wears? Why is there sometimes a number of oil tubes for one thrust bearing?

109.

What parts of a screw shaft are generally covered with brass? Why is this necessary? About what thickness is the brass?

110.

What is the stern tube or screw shaft pipe? Why is a pipe of such a length required? Of what is it made? How is it fixed at each end?

111.

What is a lignum vitæ bearing? How is the wood fitted? Where is such a bearing generally used.

112.

How is a screw propeller fixed on the shaft? What means are used to prevent its getting loose at sea?

113.

Where are sluice valves placed? What large sluice valve is there in almost all screw steamers? From what position should this valve be worked? Why so? What attention should it receive?

114.

With a condensing engine, what valves or cocks are on the skin of the ship in the engine-room and in the stokehole?

115.

What are the necessary fittings of a marine boiler?

116.

With a surface condensing engine, what cocks or valves are opened some time before the engine is started so as to be ready for starting whenever the order is given?

117.

What is a steam jacket? What cocks are on it? In what engines are jackets most generally used? Do they require to be felted?

118.

What parts of an engine or its fittings should be felted or otherwise protected from radiation?

119.

What are the small cylinders sometimes fitted on the slide valve casing cover of vertical engines? Explain their action. To what are they connected by a pipe? Why?

120.

Name the principal pipes in connection with the engines and boilers of a steamer, and state to what the ends of these pipes are connected?

121.

Through what cocks or valves, pipes and chambers does the water pass on its way from the sea inlet rose plate to the water space of the boiler, with a jet condenser?

122.

Through what cocks or valves, pipe and chambers does the circulating water of a surface condenser pass?

123.

Through what cocks or valves, pipes and chambers does the steam pass from the boiler until it is in the form of water in the hot well?

124.

Name the pieces of the engine through which the pressure of the steam is transmitted from the piston to the screw propeller? Name them in the order in which they act?

125.

What is an air vessel? How does it act? At what parts of an engine or of its fittings are air vessels generally applied?

126.

What is the construction of a mudbox? Where should madboxes be placed? Why are they necessary? How should the space be divided by the rose plate, and why?

127.

What is a trunk engine? Why has it fallen into disuse?

128.

What is an oscillating engine? For what steamers are oscillating engines generally adopted? Why? How is the steam conveyed to and from the slide valve casing?

129.

Of what parts does the valve motion gear of an oscillating engine consist?

130.

For what have geared engines sometimes been used? Of what were the cogs of the large wheel made?

131.

At what part of a screw steamer is the pressure that propels it applied to the hull?

132.

At what part of a paddle steamer is the pressure that propels it applied to the hull?

133.

About how much fuel per indicated horse-power per hour is required by modern steam engines, common, compound, and triple expansion?

134.

What is the explanation of the economy of the surface condenser?

135.

What is the construction of a surface condenser? Of what are its tubes made? How are they fixed? How are they kept tight? What is done with a split tube?

136.

Where do surface condensers foul? How are they cleaned?

137.

What non-conducting substances are employed to prevent radiation, and how are they applied?

138.

In the construction of smoke-box doors and of dry uptakes, what provision is made to lessen the amount of radiation?

139.

How can the formation of black smoke be prevented? Describe smoke-preventing apparatus?

140.

What is meant by "circulation" in a boiler, and what are the results of defective circulation?

141.

What means are sometimes adopted to improve the circulation in a boiler?

142.

By what arrangement is the circulation promoted in a "hay-stack" boiler?

143.

Describe a ship's side air-pump discharge valve; in what respects does it sometimes differ from a common stop valve, and what attention does it require?

144.

What is the construction of a feed escape valve, to what is its discharge connected, and how is its loading regulated? Where should the escaping water flow?

145.

When there is no feed escape valve, what is the arrangement of the feed valves or cocks?

146.

What is the measure of a horse-power? How is indicated horse-power ascertained?

147.

Has "nominal horse-power" a fixed meaning? What is the use of this expression? What is generally taken as the measure of one horse-power nominal?

148.

What is "back pressure" in a cylinder? About how much is it in each of the cylinders in your last steamer? Is excessive cushioning ever a trouble under certain conditions in modern engines? Say when and why and in which cylinder this occurs?

149.

What is meant by "speed of piston?" About how much is the speed of piston in modern marine engines?

150.

What is "atmospheric pressure?" What is its average amount? What instrument tells this amount?

151.

What is "gross pressure" or "absolute pressure?" What pressure is it that is shown by the steam gauge?

152.

What is meant by "cutting off" steam? How is it done? What part of the valve regulates the cut off?

153.

What is a piston slide valve? Describe its construction? Why are they frequently employed in place of the common slide valve? Have they any disadvantages compared with a common slide valve? If so, name them.

154.

What fixes the time of closing the exhaust? After the exhaust is closed and before the port opens for steam, what becomes of the steam that is in the cylinder?

155.

What is the "lead" of the valve? What is its object? About what amount is it?

156.

What is the "cover" or "lap" of the valve? What is its object? About what proportion of the stroke of the valve is it made?

157.

What is the "exhaust cover" of a side valve? What is its effect upon cushioning and upon exhaust?

158.

What is "minus cover" or "minus lap" on the exhaust? What is its effect upon the exhaust and upon cushioning?

159.

What is "cushioning" or "compression" in a steam cylinder? How is it affected by the amount of cover or of minus cover there may be upon the exhaust? How is it affected by the exhaust pressure?

160.

What is "mean effective pressure"? How is its amount ascertained?

161.

What is a dial vacuum gauge? What is its construction? For what is it used? About what amount should it show when the engine is working all right? What effect has the variations it indicates on the performance of the engine?

162.

Does the vacuum gauge enable you to tell what pressure there is in the condenser, or must you have recourse also to the barometer to arrive at that? How would you ascertain the actual amount of back pressure there is in the condenser?

163.

What is a barometer? What is its construction? Is a barometer sometimes used instead of a vacuum gauge? In what respect does the weather barometer differ from the vacuum gauge barometer?

164.

The common vacuum gauge and the common steam gauge: in which of them are the graduations marked from atmospheric pressure? Does either of them tell what is the true actual pressure in the boiler or in the condenser?

165.

Do steam and vacuum gauges vary with the variations of the weather barometer? When the weather barometer varies from 29 to 31, how much will the vacuum gauge vary, and how will that affect the working of the engine? Why?

166.

167.

From what depth will a pump draw water? Is there any limit? Why?

168.

What is vacuum? Can vacuum move a piston? When the temperature of the water in the condenser is 212° Fahrenheit, what is the greatest degree of vacuum there can then be in the condenser?

169.

What is a thermometer? What is its construction? What is the property of matter that is the principle of its construction? What temperatures are regularly noted by careful engineers?

170.

What is the temperature of (1) melting ice, (2) boiling water, (3) steam about 60 lbs. pressure by the steam gauge, (4) steam about 100 lbs. and (5) steam about 150 lbs., (6) smoke in the funnel, (7) water in the hot well?

171.

What is meant by the "conduction" of heat? Give examples of it in the boiler and in the engine.

172.

What is meant by the "convection" of heat? Give examples of it in the boiler and in the engine.

173.

What is meant by "radiation" of heat? Give examples of it in the boiler and in the engine.

174.

Which is convection, which is radiation, and which is conduction in the following cases?:—(1) Heat from the glowing fuel to the furnace crown. (2) Heat passing from one side of the furnace crown plate to the other. (3) Heat-passing from the steam pipes in the engine-room. (4) The heat of evaporation.

175.

What are the effective heating surfaces of a marine boiler?

176.

What parts of a marine engine are exposed to danger when the temperature is below freezing point?

177.

What precautions are necessary in cold climates when the temperature is below freezing point?

178.

State as many ways as you can by which a boiler might not get its full feed. A boiler, or one of a set of boilers, gets short of water although the feed valve is open its proper amount: to what causes might this be due?

179.

Of what are furnace bars generally made? About what thickness are they at the top? About what space is between them? Are the bars put further apart for Newcastle than for Welsh coal?

180.

Which burns faster—Newcastle coal or Welsh coal? Which is the flaming coal? Which makes most smoke?

181.

182.

About how many tons of steam coal will be burnt per day with good triple expansion engines to drive an ordinary steamer of 40 feet beam 10 knots an hour by steam alone? On what grounds do you say so? What percentage more coal would be required to propel the same steamer one knot faster?

183.

About how many tons of steam coal will be burnt per day, with a good triple expansion engine, surface condensers the low pressure cylinder 60 inches diameter, doing average work? On what grounds do you say so?

184.

A pair of inverted cylinder direct acting engines, there is a liner half an inch thick between the ahead eccentric rod and the eccentric strap; in overhauling the engine this piece is lost and forgotten; what difference will its omission make in the working of the engine, on the admission, on the cut off, and on the exhaust of the steam? Which will take place earlier and which later, distinguishing between the up stroke and the down stroke?

185.

In a pair of inverted cylinder direct acting engines driving a right-hand screw: on which of the crosshead guide bars is the pressure greatest in the up stroke, and on which in the down stroke?

186.

A screw propeller is getting loose, it has a little play on the shaft, sideways on the key or feather: how will this show in the engine-room?

187.

How would you prove whether the centre line of the trunnions of an oscillating cylinder be fair with the centre line of the main shaft ?

188.

How can the fairness of a line of screw shafting be tested without lifting the shafts ?

189.

Where are steel forgings generally used in marine engines ?

190.

What is the composition of nickel-steel ? Where is it sometimes used in engines and boilers ?

191.

How is forced draught generated on board ship and supplied to boiler-furnaces ? Is the air heated before delivery ? If so, how ?

192.

What is "induced" draught ? Compare the merits of "forced" and of "induced" draughts.

193.

How is the intensity of forced or induced draught measured ? What is the usual pressure employed in the mercantile marine ?

194.

An explosive gas is liberated from bunker coal. Usually in well ventilated bunkers this gas escapes into the atmosphere without doing harm. In ill-ventilated bunkers the gas after mixing with a certain proportion of common air has been known to explode when a naked light has been brought in contact with it. What is the composition of the gas ? Where is it found, in bunkers, 'tween decks, pockets, and coal shoots ? How may it be got rid of as soon as it evolves from the coal ? How many cubic feet of air to one of the gas forms a violent explosive mixture ?

195.

A lighted lamp or candle has sometimes been lowered into an apparently empty paraffin tank and produced in explosion resulting in injury to the person holding the light. What did the tank probably contain, and what produced the explosion ?

196.

In vessels carrying coal-cargoes it has been observed that, generally speaking, the gas which escapes from the body of the coal is found more abundantly at the forward end of the hold than at the after end. Why should this be so ?

197.

In recently opened ballast tanks, double-bottoms, and boilers, a light lowered into either has sometimes been extinguished. What would, in all probability, cause this ?

198.

In double-bottom steamers where does the bilge water lie, and where are the roses of the bilge pipe fitted ?

199.

200.

Why, especially in vessels carrying cargoes liable to shift, should engine bilge suctions be fitted to both wings of the bilge ?

201.

202.

If the engine bilge pumps get choked and water accumulates in the stokehold bilges, what effect does the water have upon the bilge boards and stokehold plates, when the ship is rolling violently ?

203.

In a triple-expansion engine, what spare gear do you consider necessary in the case of a foreign-going ship ? Also what stores would you provide for a voyage to New Zealand ?

204.

205.

Does the pressure on the thrust-collars vary with the horse-power, or with the speed of the ship, or how ?

206.

If the holding-down bolts of a thrust-bearing should become slack, what effect would it have upon the working of the engines ?

207.

In an engine with three cranks, which of the three is subject to the greatest torsional stress (1) in going ahead (2) in going astern ?

208.

Is it usual to make the crank shaft of a triple or quadruple expansion engine in one piece ? And is the diameter of the shaft uniform from end to end ? Give your reasons for the practice which obtains ?

209.

In a "built" crank shaft how are the webs rigidly secured to the pins and to the body of the shaft ?

210.

There are various descriptions of donkey engines in use on board ship for pumping purposes. Some pumps are fitted with escape-valves, some are not. Why should this be ?

211.

Explain the function of an air-vessel fitted to a feed pump. Make rough hand sketches of (1) a satisfactory vessel, (2) an unsatisfactory vessel, where, say, the air-spring has been destroyed by carelessness, or has never been properly provided ?

212.

Should cocks or escape-valves be fitted to air-vessels ? Why, or why not ?

213.

Where, by preference, should the escape valve of a feed pump be placed ? Why ?

214.

Scum cocks are sometimes fitted to boiler shells at a height convenient for Engineers to manipulate when standing in the stokehold ; the scum pipes in such cases are led upward, inside the boiler, to a little above the combustion chamber tops. What danger may arise from this arrangement ?

215.

Cocks for testing the water level of boilers are sometimes fitted within reach of the engineer who is standing in the stokehold. These may have internal pipes leading upward and terminating at various levels. Under what circumstances may these become misleading ?

216.

Why should the pipe which leads from the bottom of the water-gauge column to the bottom of the boiler-front, or back, be covered with non-conducting material? Why also should it never have lengthy horizontal bends?

217.

218.

Why, even with the best of water-gauges, is it advisable to occasionally use the drain-cock?

219.

Steam loops have sometimes been inadvertently made in the length of piping leading from the top of the water-gauge column to the top of the boiler. Roughly sketch such a loop and explain the danger arising from its existence?

220.

Describe your method of thoroughly testing the water-gauge system to satisfy yourself that all the cocks and pipes are clear. Your answer can be written on a supplementary sheet of foolscap, which the examiner will hand you. Hand sketches, mere lines indicating pipes and circles indicating cocks, should be made. Identify the cocks and pipes by letters or numerals.

221.

Describe the construction of a water-tube boiler, mentioning the type selected.

222.

In a water-tube boiler, how is an economiser fitted, and what is its duty?

223.

224.

The pressure of the steam in water-tube boilers is sometimes greater than at the engines. Why is this, and what percentage above the engine-pressure does it amount to? How is this difference of pressure maintained?

225.

Describe any automatic method of feeding water-tube boilers. Of what material are the tubes made?

226.

Describe the construction of any steam turbine you are acquainted with, which is used on board ship. How is the expansion of steam effected? How many propeller shafts are employed, and how many propellers?

227.

Is the same power in a steam turbine available to go astern as to go ahead?

228.

Of what material are the propellers made in a steam turbine?

229.

How many pounds of coal per indicated horse-power per hour are burnt with this type of engine? Name the type of boiler in use.

230.

Describe one of the several classes of refrigerating machinery in use on board ship. Several types exist, one being more economical than the rest. Which is it?

231.

Describe the defects to which the selected type is subject. How are the defects overcome?

232.

How frequently are the parts opened out for examination? Name the parts.

233.

How frequently are the condensers of refrigerating plants opened for examination? How frequently are the coils tested by hydraulic pressure? On which side of the coil is corrosion most commonly found? Why should this be so?

234.

Where ammonia is used in refrigerating machinery should the machinery by preference be isolated? Why? In reply give what information you possess bearing on the matter, naming the ships for purposes of identification.

235.

Explain how the ammonia is removed from the tubes in which it is supplied, and how passed into the refrigerating machine.

236.

What objection is there to the presence of water in the ammonia?

237.

Describe the ammonia process of refrigeration.

238.

Of what material are the parts made which are in contact with the ammonia?

239.

Are escape-valves fitted to the compressors of ammonia machines?

240.

What is the maximum pressure found in the compressors of ammonia machines?

241.

What kind of pressure and other gauges are used in ammonia machines?

242.

Explain how carbolic acid is removed from the tubes in which it is supplied, and how passed into the refrigerating machine.

243.

What objection is there to the presence of water in the carbonic acid?

244.

Describe the carbonic acid process of refrigeration.

245.

Of what material are the parts made which are in contact with the carbonic acid?

246.

Are escape-valves fitted to the compressors of carbonic acid machines?

247.

What is the maximum pressure found in the compressor of carbonic acid machines?

248.

What kind of pressure and other gauges are used in carbonic acid machines?

249.

In which type of machine is brine used? What is its density? Where does it circulate?

250.

Are fans for circulating air used in any of these processes? If so, why are they necessary?

251.

What means are in some cases employed for ascertaining the temperatures of refrigerating chambers without entering them?

252.

What effect may the swabbing of the compressor-piston rods have upon the working of refrigerating machinery?

253.

What is a rectifier? Explain its use.

254.

Describe the cold-air process of refrigeration.

255.

Of what material are the air suction and delivery valves of a cold-air machine made? How are the valves kept on their seats?

256.

How many compressors are there to a cold-air machine?

257.

What is the duty of the expansion cylinder of a cold-air machine?

258.

What objection is there to the presence of moisture in the air passed through the cold-air machine?

259.

How is water to some extent removed from the air? What is the minimum temperature of the air?

260.

What is the maximum pressure found in the compressors of cold-air machines?

261.

What kind of pressure and other gauges are used in cold-air machines?

262.

In refrigerating engines generally, where is the exhaust steam led?

263.

Cold-air chambers on board ship are insulated. How, and why?

264.

Is it prudent to allow the wires of an electric circuit to pass through the insulation? Explain fully.

265.

Describe the construction of a feed water-heater and give the name of its manufacturer.

266.

267.

Describe any well-known independent feed pumps.

268.

Are independent feed pumps automatic in their action? Explain the action.

269.

What advantage, if any, have independent feed pumps over feed pumps worked by the main engines?

270.

To about what temperature is the feed water raised by passing through a feed-heater?

271.

What fittings are usually placed on a feed-heater? Why are they necessary?

272.

Describe the construction of a feed filter, enumeratin gits valves and cocks.

273.

How can the filter be cleaned ? and what ingredients are generally removed when cleaning takes place ?

274.

What is the intercepting material in a filter made of ? How is it fitted ?

275.

Describe an evaporator, and mention the type.

276.

What fittings are necessary with evaporators ?

277.

How is the brine got rid of in an evaporator ?

278.

How may the evaporator coils be cleaned ?

279.

What is a dynamo ? Describe its various parts ? For what is it used ?

280.

In what respect does an electric motor differ from a dynamo ? Where are electric motors sometimes used on board ship ?

281.

Describe a system of electric lighting employed on board ship ?

282.

How is the position of a fault in the electric circuit discovered ?

283.

What is "sparking," and may it under some circumstances (naming them) be a danger ?

284.

What is "short-circuiting," and to what evil may it give rise ?

285.

What means are employed to prevent any part of the circuit becoming overheated ?

286.

Describe the features of an arc lamp.

287.

Describe the construction of a glow-lamp.

288.

What is the usual candle-power of the small glow-lamps in general use on board ship ?

289.

Define the following terms :—Amperè, volt, ohm, watt. What is the measure of an electrical horse-power ?

290.

Explain the uses of switches, brushes, commutators, cutouts, field-magnets, armatures and resistance-coils.

291.

Why is it desirable to fit a dynamo in a cool place on board ship ?

292.

What undesirable effect will ultimately occur to an electric wire, whose sectional area is constantly diminishing, say, through corrosion ?

293.

What danger might arise from leading electric wires through coal bunkers ?

294.

Is it better to lead electric wires, above or below side-scuttles ? Why ?

295.

What instruments are used on board ship to ascertain the strength of an electric current ?

296.

Many ocean-going steamers are fitted with hydraulic cranes, &c. Where do they obtain their power ? How is the hydraulic pressure kept at a relatively constant amount ?

297.

Is any difficulty experienced in working hydraulic cranes in frosty weather ? If so, why ?

298.

Describe any steam steering gear you are acquainted with.

299.

When the helm is put hard over and the ship is going full speed ahead, what prevents the rudder returning to the amidship position ?

300.

In the case of a steamship under way, does the officer, or man manipulating the steam steering wheel, overcome any resistance exerted by the rudder.

301.

Explain clearly what is being done by a helmsman manipulating the wheel of a steam steering engine.

302.

Is there any difference between the amount of horse-power required to put a helm hard over, in a given time when the vessel is going full speed ahead, and when she is going full speed astern ? This question refers to the case of a steamer fitted with one rudder only, and demands a more complete answer than merely "yes" or "no."

303.

What precautions should be taken before removing a manhole-door of a steam-boiler ? In the absence of such precautions what casualties might occur ?

304.

Describe the chief features of the engine-governor fitted to a steamer you have served in. Describe its action. Give the maker's name and name of ship.

NOTE.—The following six questions refer to oil-motors, fitted to launches which carry passengers :—

305.

Name the principal parts of an oil motor, and briefly state their functions. Give the name of the makers of the motor.

306.

What kind of oil is usually employed in oil motors ? What is its flashpoint ? What is its specific gravity ? What is its calorific power ? What precautions are taken in its storage to guard the public against casualty by fire or explosion ?

307.

How many cylinders are generally used in oil motors ? What kind of pistons are fitted ? How frequently (measured in revolutions) is explosion per cylinder effected ? How is explosion in the cylinder carried out ?

308.

Describe how an oil motor is started. If starting prove difficult, where would you chiefly look for defects? How is piston speed modified? How is the speed of vessel varied? How is reversing effected?

309.

Before examining an oil motor with a naked light, what steps should be taken for safety's sake?

310.

How frequently should an oil motor, working 12 hours a day, be opened up for examination, cleaned and its parts readjusted? What difficulty arises when the internal parts become foul with carbonized oil?

NOTE.—Questions should be read in the light of their context. Thus the "sparking" referred to in question 283 relates to the sparking in an electric lighting circuit on board ship. See question 281.

APPENDIX C.

EXAMINATION IN ROUGH WORKING DRAWING FOR A FIRST CLASS ENGINEER'S CERTIFICATE OF COMPETENCY (FORM EXN. 17).

1. The regulations in regard to the qualifications of a candidate for a first class engineer's certificate of competency specify that—

> "He must be able to make rough working drawings of the different parts of the engines and boilers.
> "He must be able to state the general proportions borne by the principal parts of the machinery to each other."

2. In accordance with these clauses, a candidate for a first class certificate is required to make a rough working drawing of the parts specified as on page 66. An engineer who has been some years in charge of marine engines and boilers ought to have familiarly in his mind the general construction of at least one set of engines and boilers, say that set he was last with. Fine drawing is not expected, and in the proportions of the parts a wide margin will be allowed absurd dimensions will be failure in practical knowledge.

3. The drawing must, however, be practically a working drawing, giving a sufficient number of views to show the parts fully—sections, plans, or elevations, just as the candidate would require to be supplied to him if he had to make the parts to the design of another person.

4. A clear hand sketch showing the construction completely and fully dimensioned will be accepted if the candidate prefers this alternative.

5. A portion only of the parts specified may be accepted in place of the whole, if that portion is sufficient to show that the candidate has a good practical idea of the construction of the parts, and a fair notion of their general proportions or dimensions.

6. Candidates are hereby cautioned not to put on paper what they have not fully considered, and deliberately intend to be understood, as their statement of what they know about the construction of any part required.

7. The statements given in by a candidate may be in themselves, apparently, of little importance, but a sample material from which the state of the candidate's knowledge of engines and boilers is to be inferred, every detail which is glaringly inconsistent with a sound knowledge of the use of the part, or in which an essential consideration has evidently been overlooked, is an important element in the description which the candidate is given of his own qualifications.

8. The candidate is advised not to being more than he can clearly finish in the time allowed. An important object in this part of the examination is to ascertain whether the candidate can be trusted to mark all necessary dimensions upon a sketch or a drawing. The test of this is, practically, the making of the part from the sketch without having to supply additional dimensions, and without measuring the drawing. To prove this ability the candidate must fully dimension the parts shown in his sketch or drawing, notwithstanding that the parts may be correctly drawn to scale. A drawing is fully dimensioned when no part of it is left to the option of the party who is to work to the drawing.

9. To prevent misunderstanding, however, when the candidate has been led into showing more of the details than he has time fully to finish, he should name, in the statement on the other side, the particular parts which he has fully dimensioned.

10. All dimensions should have lines and darts, to indicate distinctly the points between which the dimensions are given.

11. Beware of writing cross dimensions upon centre lines, or upon longitudinal dimension lines. This is not an order but a recommendation.

12. The candidate is not expected to design anything; he has merely to sketch or draw a something with which he is expected to be already familiar. At the same time he should call attention to any defect in the design of the article or apparatus. Omission to do so will imply want of practical knowledge.

13. Pencil in nothing after half-past 3; all the dimensions, the figures and the darts must be inked in; employ the remaining time in examining the drawing and in inking in any figures which may have been before overlooked, and in checking the dimensions.

14. Make sure that you will have sufficient room on the drawing sheet to show all the necessary views. You can have another sheet of drawing paper if necessary. All the paper used must be forwarded with the drawing.

APPENDIX D.

READING THE WATER-GAUGES.

NOTWITHSTANDING that the reading of the water-gauge is made a special feature in the examination of engineers, many boiler casualties result from the engineer of the watch either not understanding the construction of the water-gauge fittings or not satisfying himself by actual trials that the cocks, pipes, &c., are clear.

In one case, two furnace crowns came down in a steamer that was just starting on a voyage. The engineers were satisfied that there was plenty of water in the boiler because the water-gauge showed full glass, and they called the attention of a Board of Trade Surveyor to this fact as being conclusive evidence that the casualty could not have resulted from shortness of water. On examination of the fittings, however, it was found that the cock between the boiler and the steam pipe leading to the gauge was shut, having been carelessly left in that position on the previous day when the mountings were overhauled for survey. Directly the cock was opened the water disappeared from the gauge-glass, and the second engineer admitted that he had blown down the boiler in order to lower the water level, as the glass was full.

Many steamers have had their furnaces brought down at sea in a similar manner to the above through what the engineers of the watch have called "false water in the glass," and which on examination has been found to result from the top communication being choked.

These casualties resulted from what, to say the least, was bad management, not false water.

Unless a candidate under examination is able to prove that he understands how to verify the indications of the water-gauge, he should not be passed in practical knowledge, and, as failure in practical knowledge involves the candidate going to sea for another three months before being eligible for re-examination, the examiner should explain to such candidate his error, after failing him in order to prevent further casualties resulting from his want of knowledge on this subject.

The sketches, Figures 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, Plate I, represent the usual methods of attaching water-gauge mountings to marine boilers. The important features in each gauge and the method of verifying its indications are dealt with separately in the following remarks:—

Plate I.

In this case the water gauge cocks are attached direct to the boiler, and the accuracy of the gauge when the boiler is under steam can be tested as follows:—

First.—Let B remain open, then close cock D and open cock E, and if steam issues it proves that cock B and the passage through the top fitting and gauge glass are clear. If no steam or water issues, either cock B or the passage through the top fitting and gauge glass is choked and the gauge cannot act properly until the obstruction is removed.

Second.—Close cock B and open D and E, and if water issues, cock D is clear. If no water or steam issues, either cock D or the passage from the boiler through the lower fitting is choked and must be cleared before the gauge can act properly.

REFERRING TO FIGURE 2 ONLY.

In this case the gauge cocks are attached to a bent pipe of comparatively large diameter (at least 3 inches in the bore), the upper end of which communicates with the steam space, and the lower end with the water space of the boiler. Owing to the bore of the pipe being large it is not liable to become choked or stopped under the ordinary conditions of working. The water-gauge is, therefore, in practically the same condition as if it were attached direct to the boiler, as in Figure 1. This gauge, when at work, is tested in precisely the same manner as the one shown in figure 1.

Screw plugs are inserted at PP and QQ, by the removal of which the apertures in the pipe can be cleared, if necessary, by the insertion of a wire or rod when steam is down.

REFERRING TO FIGURE 3 ONLY.

In this gauge there is an open communication from A to C through the column Y, and in order to "blow through the glass" it is only necessary to shut cocks D and B alternately, keeping E open. But to "blow through the water-gauge," including the pipes H and I, it is necessary, after blowing through the glass as described above, to shut A and C alternately, at the same time keeping B, D and E open for such time as will ensure the complete discharge of the contents of the gauge and its connections When B, D and C are clear and A choked, the steam lodging in the glass and in the pipe I leading from column Y to A becomes condensed, and the water flowing through C to take its place rises in column Y and in the glass to a level above that of the water in the boiler. In other words, the gauge shows a false level. If now E be opened and water is blown out, then on E being again closed the water in the gauge will rise higher than before and be still further misleading. On the other hand, when B, D and A are clear and C choked, the water, if any, in the glass is trapped and no longer rises and falls with the water in the boiler or with the motion of the vessel; it, however, slowly rises in the glass owing to the condensation of the steam in the upper part of the gauge until such time as E is opened, when the whole of the water in the glass is blown out, and on E being closed the glass does not show any water notwithstanding that the water in the boiler may be at the proper level. When the test cocks TTT are attached to column Y, as shown in Figure 3, they cease to be reliable when either cock A or C or the pipe in connection therewith is choked, or nearly choked.

REFERRING TO FIGURE 4 ONLY.

Sometimes the water-gauge fittings are arranged as shown in Figures 4 and 5, with no passage up the column, the central portion (N) of the column being simply a pillar or connecting piece of any convenient section between the upper and lower portions to which the cocks B and D are attached.

By this arrangement double communications are obviated and there is no need for what is known as "double shut off" in testing the accuracy of the gauge. When, however, the gauges are constructed in this manner the cocks B and D are unreliable as test cocks in the event of there being no glass in the gauge. This feature should be carefully noted. Moreover, when in working condition the reduction of pressure in the glass which arises when E is opened causes the water in pipe H to rise above its normal level. This objectionable feature should also be noted.

REFERRING TO FIGURE 5 ONLY.

Sometimes there is a bend, L, in the steam pipe I leading from cock A to cock B. This has occasionally escaped observation when new boilers have been fitted on board ship. In most cases this bend arises from the pipe being led in an abnormal direction to escape other pipes, beams or fittings near the smoke-box. With such a bend the condensed steam collects in the pipe and falls to the bottom of the bend, and in time it completely fills the pipe from J to K. The steam from K down to the level of the water in the glass is thereby trapped and, as condensation proceeds, leads to a reduction of pressure in the pipe below that of the boiler and an equivalent rise of the water in the bend and also in the gauge-glass. When the vessel is quiescent the water in the gauge-glass increases in height until cock E is opened or until the pressure in the boiler is so much in excess of that in the lower part of pipe I as to cause the water in the bend to be blown into the gauge-glass. In either case instantaneous change of water level ensues.

In the ordinary course of working the phenomenon described above is more or less modified by the presence of air in the upper part of the gauge and by the rise and fall of the water in the boiler and gauge-glass arising from the rolling or pitching motions of the vessel.

OTHER SPECIAL POINTS TO BE NOTED.

When the cocks A and C are omitted, as in figure 2, it is owing to the bore of the stand pipe being sufficiently large to enable it to be regarded as part of the boiler. Such pipes require, however, to be examined and cleared at intervals by passing a rod through the holes provided for the purpose at PP and QQ.

Cocks at A and C are not necessary for the testing of gauges arranged as shown in Figures 4 and 5. Examiners ought, however, to make sure that candidates are aware of the impossibility of testing the reliability of the indications of water-gauges arranged as in Figure 3 when the cocks A and C are absent and of the effect which the choking of cock A or C or pipe H or I has on the indications of the test-cocks T T T attached to column Y.

Probably more than half the steamers afloat are fitted with water-guages as shown in Figures 3 and 4, and it is therefore specially important that engineer candidates should thoroughly understand their construction, the principle on which they act, and the steps which must be taken to keep them in an efficient condition.

When fitting a gauge-glass into its place it is specially important that it should not be placed so high as to prevent a clearing rod being inserted at G, figures 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5. This defect, especially if it occurs in a water-gauge attached to a boiler subject to priming, permits a rapid accumulation of scum around the top of the glass and results in the choking of the orifice leading from cock B to the gauge-glass in each of the figures.

When a gauge-glass is too short or is placed either too high or too low in the fittings, it is also liable to become choked by the packing material being forced over its ends by the glands whilst being screwed up.

The use of unsuitable or insecure internal pipes in connection with either the ordinary gauge-glass cocks of the description shown in Figure 1, or with test-cocks which are joined to the boiler itself, should also be carefully guarded against.

Boiler casualties have resulted from the cocks B and D having the parts wrongly placed as shown in Figure 6, Plate II. In one case of that kind which forms the subject of Report No. 208 under the Boiler Explosions Acts, the engineer in testing the water-gauge omitted to see that the passages in the cocks B and D were clear when the handles were in their proper working position. This effect could easily have been discovered if proper attention had been paid to the condition of the cocks. A defect of this nature may be due to faulty construction originally, or to the handle of the cock having been overstrained, and the neck twisted. Whether the passages in the plugs are fair and clear can, however, be verified in a few minutes. As an illustration, the water cock D, Figure 6, Plate II, can be verified by blowing through E with B shut and then moving the handle of D to one side until it is just closed, and then to the other side until it is again just closed; the proper working position of the handle is about equally distant from each of the above positions. The other cocks can be verified in the same manner.

Another serious casualty occurred through the handle of the cock A, Figure 3, having been twisted from its original position relatively to the orifice of the cock, resulting in the cock being shut when apparently open.

When a water-gauge, that is clear in all its parts, has been thoroughly blown through, the water in the glass rises above the level at which it formerly stood, immediately the drain cock E is closed, but if left undisturbed for a time it gradually falls to its former position. The amount of rise which occurs on these occasions depends chiefly on the temperature of the contents of the boiler and on the length of the pipes by which column Y is connected top and bottom to the boiler, but in cases where the gauge is of the description illustrated in Figures 3, 4 and 5, it amounts in high pressure boilers to about 4 inches, while the time occupied by the water in returning to its former level ranges from 30 to 40 minutes. The cause of this rise is twofold, namely (a) the displacement of the comparatively cold water in pipe H by hotter and proportionately lighter water from the boiler, and (b) a slight condensation of the steam and a corresponding fractional reduction of pressure in pipe I. The cause of the gradual subsidence of the water in the glass to its former level is also of a dual character, namely (a) the cooling of the water in pipe H, and (b) the diminution in the condensation of steam in pipe I owing to the collection therein of air released from the steam condensed.

These results will, however, be somewhat modified if the water in the boiler is of higher density than in pipe H, and this will nearly always be the case owing to the condensation of the steam in the glass and upper fittings of the water-gauge, causing the water in the lower part to be fresher than that in the boiler.

The examiner should impress upon candidates the necessity for periodically blowing through the water-gauge on each boiler (no matter what the form may be) in a systematic and thorough manner, and, in cases where a boiler is fitted with two water-gauges, of keeping both in constant use; finally, he should further impress upon them the necessity for keeping the water-gauges well lighted, clean, and in all respects efficient.

APPENDIX E.

EXAMINATION OF MASTERS AND MATES IN STEAM.

These examinations are provided for the purpose of giving Masters and Mates who are possessed of Certificates of Competency an opportunity of undergoing a voluntary examination as to their practical knowledge of the use and working of the steam-engine. The examiners are appointed by Government.

The examination is open to any person who holds a Certificate of any grade in the Foreign or Home trade or as Master of his own pleasure yacht. Candidates should fill up the form of application, Form Exn. 2, at the Port Office, pay the fee of Rs. 15, and deposit their Certificates with the Port Officer, who will inform the applicant when and where to attend to be examined. If the candidate fails to pass his Certificate will be at once returned to him.

If he passes, the report (Exn. 15) will be sent to the Port Officer, and the Certificate, together with the Form Exn. 2, will be sent to the Government; the words "Certified to have passed in steam," with the date and place of examination, will then be entered on the Certificate and its counterpart, and the Certificate will be sent to the Superintendent of the Mercantile Marine Office of the port named in the Form Exn. 2, and be delivered to the candidate in the usual manner.

If a candidate fails, he may not present himself for re-examination until the expiration of three months from the date of failure.

The examination is for the most part viva voce, and extends to a general knowledge of the practical use and working of the steam engine, and of the various valves, fittings, and pieces of machinery connected with it; and of the way in which electric lighting is carried out on board ship. Theoretical questions on calculations of horse-power or areas of cylinders and valves or any of the more difficult questions relating to steam-engines and boilers will not be asked.

Examiners are to satisfy themselves that the candidates know the names and understand the uses of the various parts of engines and boilers, and their connecting pipes, valves, cocks, &c. Practical knowledge, as distinguished from theories and abstruse calculations, is to be the test of the candidate's fitness to have his Certificate endorsed.

The examiner should arrange to conduct part of the examination in the engine-room of a steamship, unless from circumstances he finds it impossible to do so; but in the event of the candidate passing, the examiner should state in writing what circumstances prevented a visit to an engine-room. If an opportunity offer, the candidate should be permitted, under the guidance of the examiner, to start and stop the engine of some vessel which may have her steam up.

The examiner, in sending in his report of the examination, should state whether the examination has been held.

Candidates will be required to give written answers to sixteen out of twenty questions taken from the Elementary Questions printed in Appendix B. These questions will be altered from time to time without notice. The twenty questions are not to be difficult, theoretical, or book question, but are to be such as any man of ordinary capacity, who has any practical knowledge of the use and working of the steam-engine, ought to answer.

If a candidate refers to any book or paper or memorandum, or obtains information from another candidate during the examination, he will be treated as having failed, will forfeit his fee, and will not be allowed to be re-examined for a period of three months.

The examiners will report in the case of failure, the nature of the question or questions that decided the failure, or the point in the management of the engine in which the candidate was deficient.

There is nothing in the regulations requiring that applicants for the voluntary examination shall have served on board steamships; all that is required is that they shall have a practical knowledge of the use and working of the steam-engine. Examiners will not fail to appreciate the fact that practical knowledge is best gained in the engine-room; and the examination of an officer who does not produce official evidence of service in steamships, and of experience of engines, must necessarily be more searching than in the case of one who produces evidence of such service and experience.

Examiners will require all candidates to fill up a Form Exn. 15 (b), and they will forward it to the Port Officer with the report of the examination.

Masters and Mates may cancel questions A, B, and C, but they should fill up the form for questions D, E, F, and G, as evidence of their practical knowledge.

A candidate for this examination is required to have a thorough grasp of the construction of the steam-engine and boiler, to enable him, in the first place, to understand the nature and importance of any defect which may be reported to him by the Chief Engineer, and so that he may work in harmony with him in affording time and facilities for disconnexions, inspections, adjustments, and repairs.

To have a looking-on knowledge of what the principal repairs are about engines and boilers and pipes, and how these repairs are accomplished.

To be able to form an independent opinion as to a breakdown, and the consequent propriety or impropriety of proceeding under steam with temporarily repaired or defective machinery.

To understand how to estimate approximately the reduction of fuel required for reduced speed, and consequently to sanction such reduction of speed as may seem to him to be warranted by the report of the Chief Engineer, and to satisfy himself before leaving port that there is sufficient coal for the voyage.

To have an intelligent grasp of the general run of pipes and connexions in the engine-room, the marking of cocks, the opening and closing of cocks and valves, how mistakes of importance may be made in the confusion of an accident and how best to guard against such mistakes.

To be capable of being left in charge of the feeding of a set of boilers, to understand the working of the water-gauge, and to be able to guard against being misled by false indications of the gauge glass.

To understand about blowing down and surfacing, the reasons for doing so, and the danger which may result from the neglect of these under certain circumstances.

A master or mate presenting himself for examination in steam must be understood to have made up for his want of practical experience by reading up about the steam-engine. He ought, therefore, to show that he has given his mind to intelligently understanding the rationale of the action of the steam-engine. Under this head he should, therefore, be able to state approximately the quantity of heat required in the formation of steam, the remarkable relation of "latent" heat to "sensible" heat, how much steam can be raised by the combustion of one pound of coal, what horse-power measure is, what indicated horse-power is, what is the action of the slide-valve, the course of the steam through the engine, and the advantage of working expansively, and how the expansive action is shown by the indicator diagram. To know the uses of the various parts of the engines and dynamos used for electric lighting, and how they and the cables are fitted in the hull; how wires are jointed, insulated, and cased; why it is desirable that they should be led along places which are dry and accessible; what is "sparking" and what are the causes which produce it; what is its danger in coal bunkers and petroleum-carrying steamers; what are the uses of switches and cut-outs, and why is it so important to prevent short-circuiting taking place.

The candidate has to answer in writing 16 out of 20 questions selected from the Elementary Questions (see Appendix B).

Selections for this examination are given on the alphabetic sheet for "Steam." Generally, these answers are given by candidates as learned by rote from a book; the candidate should therefore be asked such viva voce questions as will necessitate his giving his answers in different words, so as to discover whether he has the root of the matter in him.

The principal part of the viva voce is the examination on board a steamer, preferably one with which he is unacquainted. He is told to look about and try to find out the run of the machinery without the assistance of anyone; the examiner to be in the engine-room to see that this independent examination is properly carried out. When the candidate reports that he thinks he knows the whole arrangement of the machinery, the Examiner will then question him on the uses of the parts, get him to point out the different cylinders, pumps valves, condenser, &c.; also the dynamo, its field-magnets, armature, commutators, brushes, cables, &c. He must show that he understands the run of the pipes in the bilges, not necessarily that he has gone over every one of them, but he ought to be directed to trace, at least, one important range of pipes and to thoroughly satisfy the examiner that he could be safely trusted to manipulate the valves or cocks in connexion therewith. It will not often be practicable for the candidate to be asked to actually work engines under steam, but he must satisfy the examiner that he knows how to do so, and that he is aware what precautions have to be taken in regard to water in the cylinder, &c. It is most important that a candidate should show that, in the event of an accident depriving him of the assistance of engineers, he knows what to do to safely take his vessel to an anchorage, or to stop the engines and proceed under sail alone.

The examination of a mate in steam is the same as that of a master. The knowledge required has no reference to the mate's position. A mate may be examined, but such examination implies that the mate will one day be a master, when the possession of the knowledge will be an advantage to him in the discharge of his duties as master.

NOTIFICATION.

THE following rule, having been framed by the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, is published for general information:—

By order of the High Court,

A. W. WATSON,
Offg. Registrar.

HIGH COURT,
ENGLISH DEPARTMENT (CIVIL).
The 22nd April 1909.

AFTER rule 4, Chapter I, page 2 of the High Court's General Rules and Circular Orders, Civil (volume I), insert the following:—

Pleadings, etc.

4A. All pleadings, applications, and petitions, of whatsoever nature, filed in the course of civil judicial proceedings, shall be written in a legible hand, or type-written, on foolscap watermarked plain demi paper, one side only of the paper being used, and a quarter-margin, together with some space at the top and bottom of each sheet, being allowed.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT, BENGAL.

Subordinate Educational Service.

The 20th April 1909.—Miss Ada E. Stocker, Assistant Head Mistress, Dow Hill Girls' School, Kurseong (class II), is allowed leave, under article 337 of the Civil Service Regulations, for six months from 16th April 1909, or such subsequent date on which she may avail herself of it.

Babu Braja Ballav Ghosh, Head Clerk, office of the Inspector of Schools, Orissa Division (class IV), was absent on leave, under article 260 of the Civil Service Regulations, for three days from 29th March 1909.

The following temporary arrangement is sanctioned for the office of the Inspector of Schools, Orissa Division, with effect from 29th March 1909, in place of Babu Braja Ballav Ghosh.

Babu Ram Krishna Rao, a clerk in the office of the Inspector of Schools, Orissa Division (class II of the Lower Subordinate Educational Service), is appointed to act as Head Clerk in the same office and in the Subordinate Educational Service.

Babu Bhubaneswar Sanyal (class VII) retained a lien on his appointment as Sub-Inspector of Schools, Hazaribagh, for the period of five years from 27th May 1904 during which he was permitted to work in the Revenue Department.

This cancels the orders granting Babu Bhubaneswar Sanyal leave for the period in question.

The 21st April 1909.—Mr. Ellis Samuel (class VI), who has joined an appointment in the Police Department, is permitted to retain a lien on his appointment in class VI of the Subordinate Educational Service, as an Assistant in the office of the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, for a period of nine months from 1st April 1909.

The following arrangements are sanctioned consequent on the appointment of Babu Rasik Kanta Ganguli, a Sub-Inspector of Schools in the district of Midnapore, to act as an Additional Deputy Inspector of Schools, Midnapore :—

(1) Babu Mahendra Nath Ray, Assistant Sub-Inspector of Schools, Contai (class III of the Lower Subordinate Educational Service), to act as Sub-Inspector of Schools, Contai Circle Midnapore, and in class VIII of the Subordinate Educational Service, with effect from 31st March 1909, vice Babu Rasik Kanta Ganguli.

Maulvi Mahammad Saleh, temporary Sub-Inspector of Schools, Pataspur Circle, in the district of Midnapore (temporarily in class VIII), was on leave, under article 260 of the Civil Service Regulations, for 15 days from 15th November 1908.

The 22nd April 1909.—The following confirmations are sanctioned :—

(1) Maulvi Abdul Aziz is confirmed as a Sub-Inspector of Schools in the district of Jessore and in class VIII of the Subordinate Educational Service, with effect from 3rd August 1908.

(2) Maulvi Ohiluddin Ahmed is confirmed as a Sub-Inspector of Schools, in the district of Murshidabad and in class VIII of the Subordinate Educational Service, with effect from 6th August 1908.

(3) Maulvi Abdul Aziz is confirmed as a Sub-Inspector of Schools, Calcutta, and in class VIII of the Subordinate Educational Service, with effect from 1st August 1908.

The 23rd April 1909.—Maulvi Mahammad Yusuf, Assistant Master, Matihari Zilla School, class II of the Lower Subordinate Educational Service, is appointed to act as a Sub-Inspector of Schools in the Gaya district, vice Maulvi Mahammad Hafizulla.

Maulvi Mahammad Yusuf is also appointed to act in the Subordinate Educational Service, in the resulting vacancy consequent on the deputation of Maulvi Mahammad Hashim of Calcutta Madrasa, class VIII of the Subordinate Educational Service, to Patna Training College.

Babu Radha Charan Das, Sub-Inspector of Schools, Orissa Tributary Mahals (class VII), acted as Deputy Inspector of Schools, Eastern Garjat States on his own pay for one month and 15 days from 28th October 1908, vice Babu Divya Sinha Misra, on leave. Babu Radha Charan Das remained in charge of the current duties of his own office.

The 24th April 1909.—Babu Raj Kumar Chanda, an Assistant Master in the Bhagalpur Zilla School (class VIII), was absent on leave, under article 339 of the Civil Service Regulations, for 20 days from 21st January 1909.

Mr. Lhakhahpa Dhundup, Drawing and Surveying Master, Darjeeling High School (class VIII), was absent on leave, under article 339 of the Civil Service Regulations, for one day, viz., 1st September 1908.

Babu Surendra Mohan Guha, a clerk in the office of the Inspector of Schools, Patna Division (class I of the Lower Subordinate Educational Service), is appointed substantively pro tempore to be Head Clerk in the same office, and in class VIII of the Subordinate Educational Service, with effect from 15th April 1909, vice Babu Girish Chandra Nandi, on deputation to the office of the Director of Public Instruction, Eastern Bengal and Assam.

H. R. JAMES,
Offg. Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

Sheriff's Office, the 7th April 1909.

NOTICE is hereby given that the second Criminal Sessions of the year 1909 of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, for the Town of Calcutta and Factory of Fort William, and the places subordinate thereto, will be held at the Court-house, in the Town of Calcutta, on Monday, the Third day of May next, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, and thenceforward from day to day until the said Sessions be over. And it is hereby proclaimed that all persons who are to prosecute any of the prisoners to be brought up for trial at the said Sessions be present then and there to prosecute.

B. HEATON.
Principal, Civil Engineering College.

The Yearly Examination of Candidates for fourth grade of Accountants.

The early Examination of candidates for fourth grade of Accountants, Public Works Department, will be held at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on Monday and Tuesday, the 7th and 8th June 1909, both days :—

SUBJECTS.

	Full marks.	Minimum pass marks.
Writing (neatness, clearness, and rapidity) ...	100	50
Dictation (spelling, punctuation, etc.) ...	100	50
Arithmetic (the whole)	240	160
Mensuration (a) (the whole)	60	30
Book-keeping (b), mercantile	100	50
Total ...	600	...

Minimum required in all papers collectively, 400.

(a) Todhunter's Mensuration for Beginners.
(b) " Book-keeping " by Ball and Hamilton.
" Book-keeping," by double and single entry, by W. Inglis (Chambers's Educational Course).

1. The examination is held annually at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on the 1st Monday in June. The examination will be conducted, either at the College, or by an Examiner, Public Works Accounts (including Railway and Telegraph), in Bengal, Assam and Burma only. The examination will be ipso facto vitiated, if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed; but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements, in regard to the place and hour of examination, with the candidates.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination, even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship if he passes it; but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be eligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways.

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies, if such is pensionable by the British Government.

The candidate should apply to an Examiner of Public Works Accounts, not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination, and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates, and must be forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Examiner.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but none will be returned :—

(1) Certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior, or by the instructor under whom he has been educated, or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed, or to whom he may be well known. (This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediately preceding the application.)

(2) Certificate of age (baptismal or of birth) not required, if the candidate is already in permanent Government employ.

(3) Certificate that the application is in the candidate's handwriting.

NOTE.—A candidate already in Government service should, in like manner, submit his application, through his immediate official superior, to an Examiner of Accounts qualified to hold the particular examination, and should state whether he desires to be examined at the office of the Examiner of Accounts concerned or at the College.

It will rest with the Examiner of Accounts, to whom the candidate submits his application, to decide, on a consideration of the certificates submitted, whether the candidate should be allowed to appear for the examination, or whether his application should be rejected. The Examiner of Accounts will then forward to the Principal for registration the names of the accepted candidates. The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses, and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the College or at the office of the Examiner of Accounts. This statement, together with the fees, should be transmitted to the Principal not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of applications of candidates.

3 Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion, must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh fee and certificates.

5. If from any cause a candidate fails to appear for the examination, the fee paid will not be refunded.

6. Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department, but direct to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

7. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments, preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

8. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the 4th grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

9 Candidates for the 4th grade Accountantship examination, who are not Government servants and over 25 years of age, are allowed to appear at the examination at the Sibpur College centre only, but, even if successful, they are debarred from employment in the service of Government, and their names will be excluded from the list of passed candidates which is furnished to the Accountant General, Public Works Department.

10. Candidates over 25 years of age should apply in writing to the Principal of the Civil Engineering College not later than 30 days previous to the examination; the application to be accompanied by the fee of Rs. 10.

Every applicant for admission to the College must produce with his application for admission a medical certificate in the prescribed form signed within one month of its submission by a Civil Surgeon or by the resident Medical Officer in charge of the College. No other form will be accepted. If the report is unsatisfactory, the application will be rejected.

Applicants wishing to obtain a certificate from the College resident Medical Officer should present themselves at the Dispensary at the Civil Engineering College on Wednesdays and Saturdays between the hours of 7 and 10 A.M.

Special students include the sons of professional men (Engineers), owners of landed or mineral property, and others who wish to receive training in connection with engineering business or the development of the country and its resources.

They are not eligible for any posts guaranteed to regular students, for scholarships or prizes, and shall in no case be transferred to the list of regular students.

Special students are admitted to the 1st, 2nd, 3rd or 4th year of the College course at the discretion of the Principal. They shall have, as nearly as possible, the same educational qualifications as regular students and no limits of age are imposed.

Special students are required to submit a certificate of good character on admission and must apply before July 1st. Their applications must be accompanied by—

(1) a satisfactory proof of their educational attainments;
(2) a full statement as to why the candidate is seeking admission as a special student;
(3) a statement of the course of study the candidate wishes to follow.

Special students taking the regular course are required to appear at the ordinary College examinations, and, if eligible, at the University examinations also.

The tuition fees for special students are payable for 12 months each session at the following rates:—

Intermediate Course in Engineering (first two years), Rs. 15 monthly.
Graduate Course in Engineering (last two years), Rs. 20 ,,

A candidate for admission as a special student is not required to submit a medical certificate.
